'AH, WILDERNESS' OPENING NIGHT IS WEDNESDAY

Red Masque Polishes Term's First Play

"Where's that dastard amber? Tie her off there and raise the teaser. That's swell, Bill. Try a jack on those legs. We can use a good strip, and then be ready to fly."

That was some of the language being used in the auditorium this week as the "Ah! Wilderness" production crew put on the finishing touches for an opening night, Wednesday.

The language is just the usual parlance of the theater folk, and you can be assured that no insinuations were meant. A teaser, for instance, is a curtain, and a leg is a piece of canvas. It doesn't make sense, but Director L. Standlee Mitchell's swears that his staff were speaking of the stage and nothing else.

Joe Potter, business manager of the Red Masque Players, said that the club now has some real troupers. Tomorrow the entire production staff and cast are planning an all-day workout. The girls are going to

University Loaned Army Basic Trainer

Dean Dupre this week was notified by Army authorities of the allotment of an Army training plane, type PT-3, to the university for use on the ground. The release of the plane to the school has been made in response to a request filed by Dean Dupre some time ago.

According to information received by the Dean, the plane is of a type used in the regular Army training schools. A number have been withdrawn from service, however, and are being distributed to schools offering the C.A.B. program.

The plane will be flown from Love Field, Dallas, by an Army pilot. All expenses of the flight and for the return of the pilot will be paid by the university, and it will be necessary for the school to provide a hangar for the ship on its arrival.

According to the Dean only a few technicalities of acceptance by the school are necessary before delivery of the plane will be made.

Buckaroos To Have Initiation Sunday

Formal initiation of Buckaroo members will be held at 4 p.m. Sunday at the home of Dorothy Dailey, vice-president, 4428 North Rose-neath.

All new members are requested to ride at 3 or 4 p.m. today at the Palace stables, Ruth Crawford, president announced. A mock initiation will be held following the ride.

Frances Evans and Frances Lee Smith were elected to represent the club in the Student Assembly.

Student Assembly Elects Officers At First Meeting

Meeting for the first time during the present term, the Student Assembly, presided over by Tom Yerxa, vice-president of the Student Association, Wednesday night elected P. J. Sterne vice-chairman, Gene Cuny, secretary, Billy Miller, clerk, and Joe Potter, sergeant-at-arms.

Inaugurated during the spring term of last year by resolution of the Student Council, the Student Assembly is composed of two assemblymen from each section of each class, and two members from each recognized club on the campus.

Explaining the purpose of the organization to new members Wednesday night, Yerxa said that the body was expected to act as a lower house of wider representation in assisting the Student Council in the conduct of student affairs.

It is expected that the body, as it allows representation to all clubs, will have a much larger field from which to draw knowledge and experience of student activities, thereby solving one of the problems of the

Drill Unit Sets Meeting Hours Twice Weekly

Whether the University shall have a naval R.O.T.C. unit depends on the interest shown by the men students in the voluntary drill unit, Captain Archie W. French stated Friday.

There must be at least fifty in the organization to satisfy government requirements, he said.

There will be a voluntary drill meeting Wednesday at 8 a.m. in Room 104-C.

Drill sessions will be held by the University of Houston volunteer unit at 8 a.m. each Friday and Monday, beginning November 1, it was decided this week.

The unit is under the direction of Captain Archie W. French. Uniforms will not be available but students having them are permitted to wear them. No army rifles will be furnished, but there is a possibility of target rifles being obtained later, Captain French said.

FORMER EDITOR RETURNED TO OLD POSITION

Policy Of Issue Editor To Be Kept

Louise Pridgen, senior, was elected this week by members of the journalism department to the position of editor of the Cougar for the current semester. Also elected at the meeting was Phil Henderson, who will serve as advertising manager.

The Cougar, instituting a new policy this semester, will have each week an issue editor selected from the editorial board. This issue editor will serve as an assistant to the editor. According to the faculty sponsor and members of the department, this policy will tend to point out the members best qualified for the higher editorial positions. Any interested student who has the time to devote to the job is eligible to serve on the board.

Miss Pridgen, an English major, is now beginning her fourth year at the University of Houston. She served as Cougar editor in 1938. A sophomore student, Phil Henderson transferred this semester from Southern Methodist University.

Band Rehearsals Called By King

Rehearsals of the University band, under the direction of Mr. Bruce Spencer King, will begin Monday at 5 p.m. in the Tower music studio. Further information regarding the rehearsal hours can be obtained from Mr. Murray A. Miller in the office.

All students interested in the band or glee club are requested to leave their names in the office or telephone Mr. King at his home. "The glee clubs are coming along fine, but more men are needed," Mr. King said.

Announcement was made this week of the voice classes conducted by Mr. King. He was a guest singer Tuesday at the public school teacher's regular institute and also at the meeting of the Federated Women's clubs. He presented and accompanied one of his pupils, Antoinette Doss, who sang arias from "Rigoletto" and "Mignon."

"TEXAS? A WONDERFUL PLACE" SAYS WELLES

Cougar Reporter Interviews "Man From Mars"—Herewith Close-up Collegiate Impressions of Youthful Multiple Genius

By King Stewart

The first thing which impresses you about Orson Welles is his physical size. From his picture and voice over the radio you would imagine him to be a short man, but he is immense, over six feet, with complete control over his facial expression.

After the lecture I went back stage at the Scottish Rite Cathedral. The usual number of autograph hounds were there. Mr. Welles answered every question asked. He did not refuse to talk to anyone. A young girl asked for his autograph. Her pen leaked badly, and Mr. Welles used a kind lady's Kleenex. However, the ink stayed on his hands the rest of the evening. The lady kept the Kleenex as a souvenir.

There were numerous questions fired at him. He was never ill at ease. It would seem rather difficult to find a question which would stump the man. He seems to understand the very question you ask before you finish. The questions for the most part were common questions which any celebrity would be asked—music? "Brahms, Beethoven, and Bach." Favorite actor? "John Barrymore—the greatest actor the American theater has produced." Texas? "A wonderful place; more talent than will ever be exposed." Hollywood? "All the talent is at the bottom with very few men of talent at the top." "Citizen Kane," his new picture? "I like it."

He works an average of eighteen hours a day. "There is no place in any profession for one who will not work," Mr. Welles said. "If I did not work eighteen hours a day, I could not exist."

His attitude is so complacent that you feel your conversation bores him, but he compliments you by listening to every word with understanding. He is deeply interested in politics, but offers solutions to no current problems. "We must reflect life as it is, and by trying to understand it, can accomplish the greatest good."

GO TO THE POLLS

In the past the COUGAR has often and wearily exhorted the students of the university to VOTE, VOTE, VOTE, in the student elections.

We do now again urge you most seriously, if you are eligible to vote, and many of us are, exercise that right.

Tuesday, November 5 will probably be one of the most important, if not the most important, national election in the history of the country.

The editors, of course, have their preferences, but the Cougar in its collective self is neutral. Its duty therefore is discharged in the repetition of the plea that as Americans, we will not relax that "eternal vigilance" that is the "price of liberty."

Again, vote Tuesday.

Now that we have shown the situation in purest pessimism, we must announce that we don't know how the problem is to be solved.

But—we do have a splendid Student Council, and a brand new, freshly christened Student Assembly. Both are brim full of ideals, starry visions, and ambition.

We hereby leave the matter to them.

WANTED—ONE SOLUTION

It is a maxim that all good is achieved only by the assumption also of a considerable number of tribulations.

No informed person in the state will dispute the fact of the extraordinary growth of the University of Houston. But, likewise, no informed student of the University will dispute the fact that this very growth has made the conduct of a normal collegiate life on the campus increasingly difficult.

In the "old days" when we were located in San Jacinto High School, and the Day School was still only a rarely discussed poor relation of the Night School, the problem of co-ordination of the two sections of the university was nly a misty, rumbling threat in the future.

Now 2600 students are crowded into class rooms and labs designed to accomodate about one third this total. By the process of dividing classes into Evening and Day sections, scheduled from nine in the morning until nine at night, the threat has become reality.

Club officers are finding it extremely hard to persuade day members to attend evening meetings of their group, and for the working members, day meetings are potently impossible. The classes, except the Seniors, have two sets of officers, who must meet together for any co-operative effort of the class.

All of which leads up to the point that we are becoming rapidly two schools, in thought, in actions and character, and in fact.

Clubs

SPEAKERS HAVE PROGRAMS
The Speakers Forum and the Speakers Club are names chosen recently by two sections of Mr. Harvey Harris's speech classes.

In programs last week Vivienne Haubelt, Vincent Hailey, Cruz Lopez, Emily Charlton, Frank Silver, and Alpha Chelf participated for the Forum; and, Inez, Schumacher, Bill Fullick, took part in discussions in the Club.

MCCOY WILL SPEAK

Mr. Val Jean McCoy will be one of the leaders of a panel discussion at the City Federation of Women's clubs Monday. His subject is "Defense."

SOCIAL SCIENCE CLASSES HAVE GUESTS

Dr. Worth M. Tippy and Miss Muriel Lester, widely known members of the Christian Mission, addressed the combined social science classes this week on the general subject "How can we create a more desirable social order."

FENCING CLUB ELECTS

The Fencing club has elected the following officers: John Taub, president; Patsy Adams, vice-president; Patricia Soule, secretary; Frances O'Donnell, treasurer; and John Kosut and Loyd Porter, sergeants-at-arms.

All members of the club are urged to attend an important meeting to be held Tuesday, November 5. Ratification of the constitution will be taken up at this meeting.

Any student in the University is eligible for membership and all new members are welcomed by the club. Only members of the club, however, will be allowed to use the equipment.

CHEMICAL AFFILIATION SOUGHT

Application will be made next week for a student affiliate chapter of the American Chemical Society, according to W. Blewett Chanault, Jr. The application must be signed by at least twelve students and by two faculty members who are affiliated with the American Chemical Society.

Faculty sponsors of the organization will be Dr. G. W. Drake and Mr. E. P. Doremus. Student organizer is M. A. Westbrook.

B.S.U. ISSUES PAPER

The first issue of the Bystander, University B.S.U. publication was distributed Sunday in local Baptist churches. The circulation was determined by the number of college students attending. Issue dates will be second and fourth weeks of each month.

Mary Alice Jefferis is editor.

PRE-LAW STUDIES BRIEFING

A short lecture on fundamental principles of briefing as applied to the student, lawyer, and pre-law undergraduate were discussed at the Pre-Law club meeting this week.

Latin-American Group Jeppesen To Head

Donald Jeppesen was named president of the Institute of Latin-American Relations at a meeting Wednesday night. Other officers elected were J. Cruz Lopez, vice-president; Annie Laurie Fowler, secretary-treasurer; P. J. Sterne and John Graf, assemblymen.

Survey of—STUDENT OPINION

This is the last poll that is to be conducted on the presidential election. The Survey has conducted two previous polls on students' preferences in this vital problem confronting the mass of American people today.

The Survey questioned 42 students. The result:

Roosevelt .....72 per cent
Willkie .....28 per cent

This is a gain of one percentage point for President Roosevelt over last week's poll. We invite you to compare Harris county's final tabulation with our prediction.

It's about time, if you haven't already, to check into this "low-slope collar idea" of ours. It's designed to carry a big-knot tie and it's the perfect casual shirt fashion for campus or town. The Bi-Angle Stay is an ingenious device that keeps the collar points from curling or flipping up, which has always been a problem with spread collars. Available in solid color or striped oxfords; iridescent or canyon hue broad-cloths.

150 Students Are Furnished Jobs By U. Service

"Approximately 150 students have been placed in jobs during the past twelve months through the Student Employment Service," Mr. M. A. Miller, personnel director, stated Thursday.

Three hundred and seventy students have filed for jobs through this office with experience varying all the way from lawyers to filling station "grease monkeys." The ages of the applicants ranged from 16 to 33.

Students applying for jobs have expressed preferences for engineering, secretarial, and salesmanship jobs. Of the 59 on file for engineering jobs, some have had experience in oil fields, drafting, surveying, shop work, rod men, or machinists assistants. Twenty-three of the 52 students applying for sales service are girls. Registered for general office work are 30 boys and 48 girls, all with some secretarial or office experience. The girls have asked for jobs as typists.

Applying for accounting jobs are 17 boys, most of whom have had experience as payroll clerks, time-keepers, bookkeepers, or calculating machine operators.

Mr. Miller said that there were three types of students who apply for jobs; namely, graduate students, students now in school, prospective students. Calls are constantly coming in for student workers from machine shops, local merchandising stores, and many of our larger corporations.

"The personnel office is anxious to have all students desiring work to register, as this is the only means whereby we know who want and need work," Mr. Miller added.

Manfredini To Serve In Speakers Bureau

Dr. James Manfredini of the department of Latin American studies has been appointed to the speakers bureau of the National Council of Jewish Women.

Dr. Manfredini will speak to various groups over the state during the coming year on topics related to Latin-American relations.

In the same section is Dr. W. W. Jackson, president of the University of San Antonio, and Dr. Ray K. Daily, president of the Board of Trustees of the University. Dr. Daily will head the section on public health work.

Institute Plans Election Debate

The Institute of Public Affairs Tuesday night will sponsor a student discussion of topics relating to the election.

The round-table will begin only one hour after the close of the polls, at 8 o'clock in room 188-Science.

Jack Valenti and P. J. Sterne will defend the policies of President Roosevelt, while Ray Campbell and Halbert Berry will speak in behalf of Wendell Willkie. Alex Murrelle, chairman of the Institute, will act as moderator for the group.

A forum will be held after each speaker has exhausted his time and questions from the floor will be welcome, said Murrelle.

Delayed Directories Go On Sale Today

University directories were to be on sale this morning in the Cullen building in a special booth set up by the Cougar Collegians, according to Elizabeth Carlon, president.

Delay at the printers kept the books from going on sale earlier this week as it was announced, Miss Carlon said.

UHSE Field Trip Set For Sunday

Plans were being completed today for a field trip Sunday to the Baytown refinery by members of the University of Houston Society of Engineers. The trip is an activity of the day division but will be attended by other members of the society, President Joe Homer said. The group was to meet at 9 a.m. Sunday at the corner of St. Bernard and Polk streets. Transportation was to be provided for all members.

The club will meet Monday to complete arrangements for a barbecue to be held November 16. All regular meetings of the group will be on alternate Monday nights, it was decided this week. It was also voted to invite members of the aeronautics classes to join the club.

Assemblymen from the U.H.S.E., named this week, are Conrad Schoppe, from the night division, and Arthur Poxon, from the day group. Mr. Frank Hangs was named sponsor.

Daasch's Students Will Enter Contest

Students of Mr. Francis J. Daasch's engineering 231 class are eligible for $100 in prizes to be given by the Texas Steel Casting Company, whose plant was visited this week by the class.

Officials of the company have donated a group of three prizes to be given to students making the trip—a first prize of 50 dollars, second of 35 dollars, and third of fifteen dollars.

Students will compile from their notes an article telling of their experiences and observations at the plant. Reports must be submitted to the concern before December 1.

The class in its study of the manufacture of metal goods has made several trips to industrial plants in the Houston area.

UNIVERSITY GETS BOOK

The University recently received the book "Mineral Map of Europe," compiled by Theron Wasson and presented to the University by M. M. Kornfeld.

Mr. Kornfeld in a letter to Mr. Leon G. Halden praised the progress of the University and expressed the hope that his gift would be useful to students.

Clubs Must Reserve Annual Space Soon

All clubs are asked to decide at their next meetings whether they will reserve space in the Houstonian, Editor Billy Miller said today.

Miller also said that subscriptions are still being accepted in the financial office, and reminded students of the November 16 picture deadline.

At a meeting this week the art work and theme of the annual were discussed. Yearbook officers will receive 1941 covers in the near future, Miller said.
