My Dear Mrs. Goeth:

Numerous "things" have occupied my time since leaving Austin, which will explain my seeming indifference in not sooner writing to express to you my deep appreciation of your faithful cooperation while we had headquarters in Austin. You will never be able to realize to the fullest extent the great comfort you were. Mrs. League and I always felt that when "Mrs. Goeth" had charge of anything it would go and without any prompting or even suggestions on our part. If only I could multiply you by the dozens!

Someone kindly mailed me an Austin American which contained your picture and that of Mrs. Gay. We do not love that picture of you at all; and we never did love the Austin American; now we love it less than ever because it fails to show in her proper light the woman we really and truly do love.

My mother is making me a visit, and you can appreciate how I am enjoying her, and, incidentally, resting up some from the strain of that legislative work. But I must rouse myself soon and plunge anew into the strain of stirring up the organizations to money raising. That ever persisting strain which invariably stalks side by side with the other strains, and then asserts individual attention for long periods! But I must keep equal to it, and happily, else our cause perishes.

With affectionate regards, in which Mrs. League joins, I am,

Always loyally yours,

President.
