Rally Tonight Will Close Student Drive

Plans For Tonight Same As Original; Parade Time 8:30

The all-student rally, climaxing the undergraduate building fund drive, postponed from Monday will be held beginning at 8:30 p. m. today, according to announcement of Dean N. K. Dupre.

In general, plans announced for the Monday rally will be in effect tonight, Wilbur Smith, Student Association president announced. Final details of the parade, however, will be announced in classes today.

Committees To Meet

All committees working in the building fund campaign will meet in the old auditorium at 6:30 p. m., Smith said, and each is urged to have all donations forms and envelopes properly filled out.

Cars for the parade which will go to the new University site for the rally are to be parked on Austin street as directed.

Students who do not have transportation to the grounds are to meet at the Austin street entrance and notify T. W. Pearson.

If possible, students are requested to decorate cars with crepe paper.

The parade will assemble at 8:30 p. m. and proceed down Holman to Main street, then to Preston avenue, across on Preston to Fannin street and south to Leeland.

University Singers Stress Activity In Membership Drive

The University Singers is one of the most active organizations on the campus, according to members of the choral group.

This organization has perhaps done more to advertise the University than any other group, members also note.

The club is now making plans for a membership drive to enlist more University students and also students who will enter the University next year. Ruth Nell Minster, president, is in charge of the drive.

The Singers were organized in 1935 for the purpose of representing the University as guests of clubs and business organizations.

Demand for their services has steadily grown. This year the Singers have sung at several Daughters of the American Revolution meetings, have appeared on two radio programs, given a Christmas cantata at Bering Memorial church, appeared at concerts of the Houston Symphony orchestra, and furnished music at the Independence Day celebration at San Jacinto Battleground.

Their music will be featured this year at the University of Houston graduation exercises.

Request for organization of the Singers came from the student body because of interest developed through efforts of the late Rev. Carol S. Vance, James Willett, president of

Balloting On Officers For 1938-39 School Year To Be In Conservatory

Election of Student association officers for the 1938-39 school year will be held Wednesday night in the conservatory, J. Wilbur Smith, president, announced.

All other candidates for Association officers are urged to submit their applications immediately to Dean N. K. Dupre. Unless there are other nominees there will be no election, Smith said.

If there is no election, the Student

Kemmerer Says U. Meets Youth Needs

Dr. W. W. Kemmerer, University vice president declared in a speech to the Houston Advertising Club Tuesday that the University of Houston was founded for the purpose of meeting the modern training needs of youth in a large city.

"There are 30,000 young men and women in the city of Houston between the ages of 18 and 25. The greater majority of these," the speaker said, "denied training beyond high school because of lack of means or opportunity, are getting small jobs and just drifting along in the best way they can, often with little hope of advancement."

The vice president asked for both moral and financial support in the current drive for one million dollars with which to build and equip the first four units in the permanent university building program. He issued an invitation to all of his hearers who were not in favor of the project to call upon him and discuss the proposition.

The speech was broadcast over radio station KTRH.

George P. Kelley To Give Dinner For Campaign Workers

"I have always had an especial interest in education because I did not have many years of school myself."

This statement by George P. Kelley, local restaurant man, explained his donation to the interest of the University building fund campaign of a 1000-pound Hereford that won the reserved grand champion award at the Houston Fat Stock Show.

At the time of his purchase of the prize steer, Mr. Kelley announced that he had bought the animal in the interest of the University of Houston.

Group chairmen and team captains of C. A. Pickett's downtown division of this $1,000,000 building fund campaign will be guests of Kelley at 7 p. m. Monday at a dinner at Kelley's Texas Avenue dinner hall. Invitations have been issued to 250 men.

The dinner, arranged as a down-

Social Calendar Lists Many Affairs

Remainder of the spring term will be crowded with social activities, according to the University social calendar compiled this week.

In addition to private events University organizations have scheduled the following dates.

April 28—High School Senior Reception, City Auditorium.

May 1—Houstonian club Coffee, home of Mrs. N. R. Lewis, 1214 Kenwood.

May 7—Squires' Dance, Junior League.

May 10-11—Senior Class Play, San Jacinto Auditorium.

May 13—Houstonian club, Sport Dance, Girls' Gym.

May 14—Sophomore Class Party.

Students Speak On Air in Fund Drive

Address And "Spot" Announcements Over Local Stations To Aid Campaign

Preliminary to the opening of the downtown drive to raise $100,000 of the University of Houston $1,000,000 building fund, a speaking campaign in the interest of the drive will begin at 4 p. m. today over radio station KTRH.

Dr. E. E. Oberholtzer, superintendent of Houston schools and University president, will deliver a 15-minute address. "Spot" announcements of fifty to one hundred words

Senior Class Play Schedule Changed

Date of the presentation of "Pair of Sixes," first senior class play to be produced at the University of Houston, has been changed from May 11-12 to May 10-11.

Reason for the change in dates was difficulty in securing use of the new San Jacinto auditorium, where the play will be produced.

Members of the cast have been rehearsing every night from 9:30 to 12:30 p. m. and are now ready to begin work on the second act.

Construction of the two sets, office and home, will begin Monday.

The cast for the 3-act comedy by Edward Peples includes James Julian, G. B. Nettleton; Wilbur Smith, T. B. Jones; Henry Pecore, Krème; Tallulah Hinds, Sally Parker; George Chaisson, T. J. Vanderholt; Jack Palmer, Tony ToJer; Frank Walker, Applegate; C. W. Gunstream, office boy; Joe Potter, shipping clerk; Evelyn Nicol, Mrs. G. B. Nettleton; Alberine Allen, Florence Cole; Vera Mae Loughridge, Coddles.

Dance Will Follow Coronation Of High School Queen

First rehearsal for the eleventh annual University of Houston reception for high school seniors will be held at 7:30 p. m. Tuesday in the old auditorium, Mrs. Pearl C. Bender, program chairman, announced.

All participants have been urged to be present. Second rehearsal is scheduled for 10 a. m. Thursday, April 28, in the city auditorium.

Classes To Be Dismissed

No classes in the University will meet after 3 p. m. on the day of the reception, April 28, Mrs. Bender said.

Tickets for the pageant and dance which will follow will be distributed Monday, Mrs. Bender announced, and distribution will be under the direction of Wilbur Smith, Student Association president. Tickets are free to students and will admit one student and "date."

Selection of the high school queen for which honor representatives from seven Houston schools will compete.

The May Fete feature of the reception will include parades by University of Houston students and high school seniors, the selection of the high school queen, a solo dance by Marion Miller of the Kotchetovsky school of dancing, and the presentation of the reception queen by Wilbur Smith.

William Buschardt will announce the pageant.

University President E. E. Oberholtzer will make the welcome address. He will be introduced by Dr.

Dr. R. W. Baldwin Praises University At Realtors' Meet

Dr. Ray W. Baldwin, director of business administration, told the Houston Real Estate Board at a luncheon Tuesday, that if the University were not in operation, Houston students attending out-of-town colleges would spend outside of the city over $615,000 annually.

Dr. Baldwin stated that from the questionnaires answered last winter, the 1650 students of the educational institution spend an aggregate sum of $1,208,000 annually in the city of Houston. He said this amount was divided into the following groups: $331,000 for food, which would support six grocery stores; $198,000 for clothing which should support several merchandise stores; $362,000 for tuition and rent, which the professor said "would keep a fairly good size realty agency going;" and $228,000 for transportation, which would purchase 1,140,000 gallons of gasoline or more a year.

He said that the University of Houston already has a larger enrollment than Rice Institute and with the new building program, should compare with large colleges throughout the South.

The speaker declared that if Houston was to become a world metropolis, it must have an adequate number of trained men.

"An industry," he said, "locates where there are technically trained town division "get together," will be in the interest of the campaign which opens May 2. Plans for raising the division quota of $1,000,000 will be outlined by Mr. Pickett, the vice chairman, Loran L. Adkins and Fisher D. Adams, and the five district chairmen, Dr. Wilmer M. Stevenson, Charles G. Heyne, Vincent Chiodo, Lewis Cutrer, and H. Dick Golding.

"I know that the University of Houston offers training to Houston boys that they could not get in any other way than by working and attending classes in spare hours," Mr. Kelley said.

"Such students deserve the buildings that have been planned for them and I'm glad to do all that I can to help the good work. It's an opportunity for me personally and for all of Houston to help build the University's first home."

Charles Hurlock, Sr., who was chairman of the program, declared that "we are going to have one of the largest cultural cities in the United States—not now, but later on when our educational institutions are extended."

"Etiquette"

An Editorial

There isn't any course offered in this university that uses a text book titled "Etiquette" by Emily Post, but there should be from all appearances Friday night.

We all know better but some of us didn't do better.

There is a time and a place for all things, even times when we are privileged to take "walks." But what is the purpose of walking out on some thing that is for our own benefit? The speakers aren't paid for their work, in fact they are and were literally talking their heads off for a new building for us.

As the old saying goes "don't bite the hand that feed you."

CAMPUS CHATTER

If the Freshmen don't reach their goal of $6300 in the building fund drive, it won't be the fault of team captains Nicosia, Allen, Campbell, Carter and Pearson who have added cigars to their campaign equipment and, by the way, their president looks like an orator in the making, judging from recent assembly appearances. An editorial bouquet to all those who let us in on a good feature story, including Roscoe Tully, Foster Montgomery, et al., and apologies to Meyer Wagner for using a not-too well-done story with his by-line . . . also thanks to Della Belle Collier, Louis Shepard, and Frank Mahr for assistance in the art and circulation departments respectively . . . it is this kind of help that makes us feel worthwhile.

Weather man please note: the 'false alarm' rally last week seems to have made students about twice

Rally—

Turning east on Leeland, the group will go to St. Bernard street.

Students are urged to regard parking regulations on the campus. A barrier will be placed in the center of the space to be used, and student officers will be on hand to direct the arrangement of automobiles.

Program Listed

Program is in charge of the Student Association, freshman, and sophomore classes, and will feature a torchlight parade, bonfire, songs, and yells, led by cheer-leaders, Joe Camp, Della Belle Collier, Walton Fleming, June Carter, and Dorothy Hohl.

Speakers will include Roy Hofheinz, alumni drive chairman, and C. A. Pickett, downtown division chairman.

Members of student organizations this week have banded in an effort to make the rally the biggest student demonstration ever held in Houston. Some 200 torches for the torchlight parade have been made by Bill O'Conner, freshman.

Committee reports of workers in the fund campaign were made at meetings Wednesday night.

Freshmen Report $1,000

Freshman committees, with a $6,300 goal of a total $15,000 to be raised by undergraduates, reported pledges in excess of $1,000, making the highest donation report.

The student fund drive was opened Monday with an all-University assembly in San Jacinto auditorium when bad weather prevented the scheduled celebration on the new campus site.

Guests of the evening were alumni drive leaders, sponsors of the undergraduate campaign, Mayor R. H. Fonville, and school officials.

The success or failure of the student drive will to a large extent determine the success or failure of the progress of education in Houston, County Judge Roy Hofheinz, alumni drive chairman, said.

Houston's first citizen, Mayor R. H. Fonville, opened the program with best wishes for the success of the student campaign.

Dr. E. E. Oberholtzer, University president, and University Vice President W. W. Kemmerer, Pat Foley, alumni president, all class presidents, and Dean N. K. Dupre spoke briefly.

J. Wilbur Smith, Student Association president, presided, and introduced the speakers.

The total cost per year for tuition, room and board at Harding College is but $200.

as anxious to have the demonstration.

Names we haven't seen in Chatter: Florence Albrecht, Jon Brooke, Mack Lee, Violette Nannos.

All of you swing fans are going to get a treat next Friday when Glen Gray and the Casa Loma orchestra opens at the Met pitcher show for a week's engagement. They'll come directly from a fraternity dance at University of Texas . . . Then too, it is rumored that Tommy Dorsey is going to wield the baton over his musical aggregation at the Rice Roof sometime this summer.

Our fair-haired boy, Jack Palmer, is getting the runaround from his lady friend—she seems to be a little too popular . . . J. K. Matheny still plays up to Mary Jane Merrill . . . Too bad she's engaged.

Non-college girls are less expensive than their collegiate sisters, contends Frank Mahr. Guess he's trying to pave the way for future dates with the high school variety . . . June Carter evidently heard the adage that "absence makes the heart grow fonder" or "distance lends enchantment" judging by the distance she puts between herself and her date while sitting in a car.

Kitty Lou Dawson takes her thrills where she finds them, or did she make the long trek down to Galveston with Dalton Daily, ex-boyfriend, so she could hold hands on a roller coaster . . . and while we're on the subject of amusement devices, Mickey Sloan has Cap Pierce et al on the merry-go-round.

Maude Ellen Bradborn and Thurston Schwing are both out for Robert "Kid" Knapp. But Casanova can't seem to see anyone but Frances Stevens, who, incidentally, is another reason why so many boys stag.

Edwin "Red" Stockwell, the big anti at the initial freshman meeting, has been converted. It seems that the constant dissenter has become the most active member of the freshman fund drive. He has already exceeded his quota and is still out for blood. Last time we mentioned you it was skunkweed, now it's orchids to you, Ed . . . and our freshman beauty, Carmelita Lansford, seems not to have come through as she might have on the fund drive . . . she's still our personal nomination for one of the most capable drive workers, if she'd turn on the personality . . . seriously, though laurel wreaths to all the workers, especially the volunteers who weren't even signed on committees.

Poet's Corner

By George Chiasson

I DO NOT UNDERSTAND ME
 I own no thoughts but those of you,
 Your face confronts me through the day,
 My dreams are yours—yet when we meet
 I want to look the other way.

I'd like to place my hand in yours,
 To feel your presence by my side,
 Yet when you're near I lose my voice
 And hide behind my foolish pride.

For hour on hour I think of things
 To say to you when we're together
 Then stammer out some silly phrase
 About the strangeness of the weather.

I've called some others fools, and now
 I find that all I really am
 For building all my hopes on you . . .
 Knowing you don't care a damn!

GENEROSITY

Riches are sometimes forced upon us mortals and many of us grieve because of it for hath the Lord not said, "Lay not up for yourselves treasures on earth" because the "deceitfulness of riches chokes the world."

Because of Christ's teachings rich men have given their wealth to the poor and to worthy causes so that they could be received into the kingdom of heaven. And if ever two people deserved to be received they are Mr. and Mrs. Cullen. These generous people have gained material wealth and have sought better conditions in various fields with it, instead of hoarding it, for money is a curse if one lets it master him mentally and spiritually.

The generous gift to our University is only ONE of the many untold gifts this couple have showered upon the poor and underprivileged. But none was received with more gratitude and appreciation than the one to our University. It will live long in the memories of students of the year 1937-38, and the students who, from now on, will receive benefits from their contribution.

MEETING CRISIS

There are three wrong ways to meet a crisis. One is to fail to see it. The second is to see it and fear it. The third is to be so custom-bound and habit-ridden that we cannot change our ways and meet the strange new demands that are made upon us.

There is one absolutely foolish way; that is, to rush blindly "where angels fear to tread." This is probably the most dangerous of them all.

But there is also just one right way to meet a crisis, and it appears to be a middle course using the best features of all these other ways.

It is sometimes wise not to see a crisis too clearly. A molehill, in that way, may become a mountain. It is sometimes wise to fear it, because fear arouses the caution that guards against foolish risk. It is also wise at times to use our customs and habits to steady us in choosing our solution.

But the foolish method also has its influence. It is from this "blind" enthusiasm that, being blinded to the present dangers, we can see ahead to the future and create vision.

The University of Houston, at this time, has a greater supply of vision than of tradition, and that is an advantage in this time of rapid change, but is also makes the practice of caution important. "Choose the middle course," says the voice of common sense.

BUILDERS OF DREAMS

Fancy the emotions of Galileo when, first raising the newly constructed telescope to the heavens, he saw fulfilled the great prophecy of Copernicus, and beheld the planet Venus, crescent like the moon. It was such another moment as that when the immortal printers of Metz and Strasbourg received the first copy of the Bible into their hands—the work of their divine art; like that, when Columbus, through the gray dawn of the 12th of October, 1492, beheld the shores of San Salvador; like that when the law of gravitation first revealed itself to the intellect of Newton; like that when Franklin saw, by the stiffening fibres of the hempen cord of his kite, that he held the lightning within his grasp; like that when Leverrier received from Berlin the tidings that he predicted planet was found.

But all these great men cannot have felt greater emotion than the founders of our own UNIVERSITY OF HOUSTON.

After planning, working and striving for all the things a modern university should have, they now see their dreams and plans becoming fulfilled. Their cups must be brimming over with happiness and they must surely feel that their work has not been in vain.

To these great people—for great they are to have endured for years the hardship of inadequacy—we, the student body, should look up to for examples of fortitude, determination and will power.

CLUBS

Most club activity this week has been concentrated on the student building fund campaign, with some organizations making arrangements for events on their spring social calendars.

RADIO CLUB

Setting aside the usual semi-weekly programs the Radio club is writing "spots" announcements to be used on local radio stations during the remainder of the building drive.

"As this is an important feature of radio work," H. W. Harris, sponsor, said. "Students will be given opportunity to study and write short announcements during the campaign, thus aiding the drive and studying an important phase of radio at the same time."

CAMERA CLUB

Bernard Green, president of the Camera club, announced today that a field trip to Galveston is being planned for members of the club. The trip, which will enable the group to get some unusual snapshots to be entered in the contest being sponsored by the club, will be made some time during the next two weeks.

The snapshot contest is being extended until the first week of May, according to Edward DeYoung. All students wishing to participate are urged to turn in their snapshots immediately.

All members who wish to make the trip to Galveston are requested to make reservations with some officer of the club as soon as possible.

ENGLISH CLUB

The English club cake-walk dance will be postponed because of events crowding the activity schedule, it has been announced.

FENCING CLUB

A social to be sponsored by the University fencing club at which all fencing clubs in this area would be guests was suggested at the semi-weekly meeting of the organization Tuesday by Instructor Rodner. Members of the club approved the suggestion.

An instruction period followed, and future activities were discussed.

Membership in the club is still open to University students.

HOUSTONIAN CLUB

Mrs. N. R. Lewis will entertain Houstonian members and clubs pledges May 1, at 9 a. m. in her home, 1214 Kenwood, with a coffee.

A round table discussion will follow and suggestions will be made for the sport dance to be given May 13, in the gym.

The newly elected secretary who will take office next term is Louise Standley.

ENGINEERING SOCIETY

P. V. Pennybacker's lecture on bridge construction will be given April 27 at 7:30 instead of the proposed time at 7:30 tonight.

The speech was postponed due to the University parade tonight.

Mr. Pennybacker, a well known engineer, will lecture on beams and construction of our modern bridges; he will also display some slides.

Mr. Pennybacker a prominent engineer who has studied in Europe as well as the United States; he has lectured to students at L. S. U. and many other universities.

Only engineers students and a few students interested in bridge and construction materials will be permitted to attend the lecture.

Mrs. N. R. Lewis Guest Speaker At Soroptimist Club

Mrs. N. R. Lewis was guest of the Soroptimist club at the Women's Federation club house Monday when she gave a lecture and dramatic interpretation.

Topic of Monday's lecture was "Susan And God," play by Rachel Carothers, current Broadway hit starring Gertrude Lawrence.

This is the second of a series of dramatic interpretations by Mrs. Lewis, the first being one of "You Cant Take It With You."

Students Reluctant To Reveal "Past"

Dr. C. F. Hiller is showing off his legal talent this week by cross-examining his English students on their "past."

The Doctor issued orders last Tuesday to each of his enrollees to bring to class a brief biography of himself (or herself).

Now it appears that the Doctor is about the only one who is anxious to have his previous experiences bared.

the 1935 University senior class, and C. B. Doolan, 1938 senior president, and first president of the Singers.

An annual custom of singing Christmas carols was inaugurated by Mrs. Pearle Martin, now director of the music department of the University of Southern California.

"The University of Houston could produce a choral organization second to none in the United States, capable of demanding the co-operation of every musically talented individual in the University," C. B. Doolan said.

Doolan announced that it has been decided to include the glee club in the curricula of the University, possibly at some hour between the Day and Evening branches of the school, and with one class on Saturday. The new course in music is expected to be included in the 1938 fall curriculum, he said.

Hunt, S. W. Henderson, Leon G. Halden, and W. Oscar Neuhaus.

Harvey W. Harris, chairman of the public and radio speakers arrangement committee, said that so far every speaking day given the University has been filled either by students, members of the faculty or prominent Houstonians.

Mrs. Soule Guest Of International Good Will Group

Mrs. Floy Soule of the University faculty, as wife of the honorary vice-consul of Ecuador, was one of the honorees at a social event Wednesday at which the International Good Will committee of the City Federation of Women's clubs were hostesses at the Federation clubhouse.

In the receiving line, in addition to Mrs. Soule were wives of consular representatives in Houston: Mrs. Espallat from Santo Domingo, Mrs. Ouang from China, Mrs. Hollub from Czechoslovakia, Mrs. T. L. Evans, Mrs. Heald, and Mrs. St. John Garwood.

Kemmerer To Speak At Hamilton Junior Hi

Dr. W. W. Kemmerer, vice president of the University of Houston, was guest speaker Wednesday at a meeting of parents at Alexander Hamilton Junior high school.

Dr. Kemmerer's talk included pointers on how parents may direct the preparation of their sons and daughters for a college career.

A. C. Fry, assistant principal, was in charge of the program.

Aesculapians Honor First Anniversary

The first anniversary of the Aesculapian club will be observed with the first formal initiation of club members from 5 to 7:30 p. m. Sunday, at the home of Dorothy French, 2203 Devonshire Lane.

The initiation ritual will be similar to those held by medical organizations. Colors of black and white will predominate, and all candidates for initiation will wear the chosen colors.

Miss Marie Jacobson, public health instructor, will be made co-sponsor of the club at the Sunday program. Capt. A. W. French is sponsor.

U. Co-ed Named Longview Princess

Fanny Schlom, University student, will represent the Houston Lions club as princess to the East Texas chamber of commerce convention in Longview Monday.

The Houston delegation will leave by special bus at 6:30 a. m. Monday and will return to Houston at 7 p. m. Tuesday.

Reception—

University Royalty

Louise Campbell and C. B. Doolan will reign as queen and king of the University.

Senior class princesses and escorts are Gaynelle Furley, Bill Becker; Tallulah Hinds, Marvin Ammons; Elizabeth Miller, Robert Fields; Lolita Woods, P. L. Cooper.

Marguerite Scelles will represent the junior class as duchess and will be escorted by Clem Baldwin, duke. Junior maids are Jerry Bentley, Grace Dustin, Vera Mae Loughridge, and Dorothy Spates.

The sophomore class will be represented by Dorothy Hohl, duchess, and Tom Yerxa, duke. Dorothy Bradshaw and Christine Martin are maids.

Representing the freshman class as duchess and duke will be Frances Stephens and Henry Taub. Mickey Marsh and Eleanor Miller will be freshman maids.

SPORT BRIEFS

By Ralph Disque

Some 217,000 fans turned out to witness the gala opening of major league baseball Wednesday, and they were treated to some thrilling mid-season tilts.

Arky Waughtn of Pittsburgh supplied a whirlwind finish to the Pirate-Cardinal opener at St. Louis. Pittsburgh, trailing by a 3 to 2 count in the ninth, found Vaughn up with a man on base. He poled a long home run to bring the Pirates a 4-3 win.

It was a somewhat sad beginning for the St. Louis fans, who were shocked by the news of "Dizzy" Dean's trade to Chicago on the previous day. Many Houston baseball followers string along with the Cards year after year, but "Dizzy" will probably take along most of his supporters as he moves over to the Cubs.

Rice Goes to Kansas

Rice's high class track squad will be after laurels at the Kansas Relays in Lawrence, Kansas, this week-end.

Last Saturday, the Owls were victorious in the most exciting track meet seen here in many years. The Owl mile relay team nosed out the L. S. U. team in the final event of the day, to cop the meet. Rice totaled 59 points while Texas and L. S. U. were right behind with 57 and 54 respectively.

Frank Church, L. S. U.'s middle distance runner, and Fred Wolcott, Rice hurdler, were the outstanding performers of the day.

Wolcott promises to endanger a few of the records in his specialties tomorrow. Rice will rule slight favorite to cop the team title.

Next week the Rice cindermen will journey to the annual Drake Relays.

Derby Time Soon

Derby time is rapidly approaching once more. On May 7 the country's outstanding 3-year old thoroughbreds will face the starter in America's most famous horse race, the Kentucky Derby.

The "nags" are working daily on the Louisville racing strip in an effort to be in top condition on Derby day. Stagehand, Nedyar, Menow, and Laurin are early line favorites.

Autos Warm Up

While the horses are warming up in Kentucky, over in Indiana at the famous Indianapolis auto racing plant each day now may be heard the whine and roar of the monsters of the auto world as they tune up for the annual Memorial day 500-mile automobile classic.

About a week before starting time the drivers will make an attempt to qualify for the long grind, with the 20 fastest cars to start.

Cowboy O'Rourke and Ray Changelon who did some midget racing in Houston this spring are in Indianapolis to try their hand with the big jobs.

Always Champs

It would certainly surprise Houston wrestling fans to see a champion lose his crown in a match here. Throughout the past two years championship bouts have been staged here at the rate of about six a year, and not once has the champ suffered a setback.

Bussey Here

Young Bussey was in from school over the week-end to watch the L. S. U. track team and take inventory of things in general.

After hearing a number of Rice's most ardent standbys cry about the way L. S. U. lucked out over Rice last fall, Young assured him that there would be no room for doubt about this season. The Louisiana star declares that the Tigers will win by three or more touchdowns this fall when the Owls go over to Baton Rouge.

Girls desiring to enter the University tennis tournament are urged to sign up immediately.

U. Softball Club To Meet Hughes Team

The University softball team will open the season play at 3 p. m. Sunday in a game with the Hughes Tool team.

Edward DeYoung, manager, announced that all members of the team would meet preceding the game in front of the Hughes Tool company, and urged all members to be present.

Physics Class Visits Deepwater Plant

Members of E. W. Schuhmann's physics class made a field trip to the light and power plant at Deepwater. Under the direction of about 150 students inspected the giant turbines and generators.

Pairings will be made and play started on Monday.

Hughes vs. U. of H.

Manager De Young, of the University softball team has carded a game with the Hughes Tool team for Sunday.

The game will be at 2:30 p. m., but the site is still undecided. All players are asked to get in touch with Eddie before Sunday.
