Clements proposes UH repair fund

By BRIAN FORD
Staff Writer for The Cougar

Governor Bill Clements submitted a proposal Thursday for emergency appropriation of $450,000 to repair the UH Architecture Building, which was damaged by fire on Dec. 1, 1978.

William Jenkins dean of architecture said he did not know about the appropriation but added "I think that's just great" upon receiving the information.

More than $100,000 worth of property at the Architecture Building was destroyed in the fire. Approximately $15,000 worth of student's property was also destroyed in addition.

Cathy Vanya, the secretary to UH controller Jim Bishop, said UH carried up to $100,000 of insurance for the Architecture Building. She said Morrison did not know how the appropriations bill would affect the fire insurance claim.

Samar Khan, a fourth-year architecture major who said he lost more than $500 in personal property, said he also did not know about the appropriation bill.

Khan, an international student, said he has had problems raising enough money for tuition due to his financial losses. Khan said UH has offered no official compensation to him or other architecture students who lost property in the fire. The architecture department arranged discount rates of materials bought at the UH bookstore for students who incurred damages, he added.

Khan said UH insurance covered the personal property of instructors in the Architecture Building but not the personal property of students. Khan said he had no bad feelings against UH for not compensating for his loss but added, "I feel that the university should pay for some of the cost because the instructors encouraged us to leave our equipment in the building."

Khan said although he works on campus at KUHT-TV, the problem of recovering losses is especially difficult for international students since by law they are prohibited from working off campus.

Jenkins said he was working with UH alumni to raise money to help compensate for the student losses.

State Sen. Chet Brooks, D-Pasadena, introduced the bill asking for emergency appropriations for fire damage to the Architecture Building on Feb. 6. Brooks worked with Dr. Allen Commander, UH vice president for Public Affairs on drafting the bill.

President requests more faculty funds

By SUSIE MAAS
Staff Writer for The Cougar

Philip G. Hoffman, president of UH System, appeared before the Senate Finance Committee in Austin asking for an increase in the allotment for faculty salaries.

Hoffman said faculty salaries are being "victimized by cumulative effects of several biennial of inadequate funding by the legislature combined with our recent inflationary economic pattern."

Philip G. Hoffman

Hoffman's request to the committee included all areas of the UH System. He directed attention, to the three areas he considered to be the most important for receiving an increase. Those areas include faculty salaries, library and organized research.

He said the salaries for teachers of higher education are less in Texas than the average for the entire nation.

For the past two years the annual increase in faculty salaries has been 3.4 percent. A 5.1 percent increase has been recommended by the Legislative Budget Board for the next two years.

"This 5.1 percent figure," Hoffman said, "is itself a reduction from the 11.9 percent for fiscal year 1980 and 6.4 percent for fiscal year 1981 recommended by the Faculty Salary Formula Advisory Committee of the Coordinating Board. And is less than the subsequent 6.4 percent recommended for each year of the biennium, which emerged from the Coordinating Board as the minimally acceptable figure," he added.

Hoffman said low-funding of faculty salaries makes it difficult to compete in the national market to obtain prospective faculty. It also, creates job dissatisfaction and a loss of faculty moral. It is also impossible to reward meritorious individuals and to correct internal inequities, he said.

As for library funds, Hoffman said, the cost of books and periodicals has risen drastically.

"Annual price increases were 17.5 percent for United States periodicals and 11.6 percent for hardcover books," he said.

Hoffman said the problem was greater because of the fact that three of the UH campuses are relatively new, and a library for each needs to contain adequate resources. He said the funding for research has suffered because of a misconception of the role of research in university education.

Hoffman added that each dollar the state was willing to put forth for research would allow $10 of support from the federal government and private sectors.

Hoffman told the committee that the recommended funding had been cut to less than one quarter of the original request.

Mini-bus catches fire

This Mini-bus was destroyed by fire yesterday in rush hour traffic on Cullen St. at Holman. Five people were in the bus when the fire started but escaped without injury along with driver A.A. Adams. A HouTrain official at the scene described the bus as a "total waste."

Complaints on food services discussed

By DENNIS PORTERFIELD
Staff Writer for The Cougar

The Foods Committee of the University Center Policy Board discussed Thursday policy changes made by Mannings Food Service concerning student complaints submitted to the committee last week.

Melvin Busby, director of food services for Mannings, officially answered all complaints and explained methods by which food services are being resolved, Scott Curtis, chair of the Foods Committee, said.

Problem areas discussed concerned catering on campus, upgrading the service in the Coffeehouse, personnel problems and basic student complaints with food services on campus.

A survey is currently being done to find out if a need exists to increase the Coffeehouse hours for serving until 11:30 and closing at 11:45 p.m. and will be submitted to the board.

The proposal for upgrading the Coffeehouse services, including a new lunchtime service, must be submitted to the board by next Thursday. Advertising for the Coffeehouse in the library vending machine area was also discussed, due to the high level of student traffic.

The committee requested a written catering agreement to prevent misunderstandings and errors in service, which was a major complaint submitted to the board, from the Mannings Food Service.

The committee further requested for assurance from Busby that this division of Mannings not be used as a training ground for management personnel, Curtis said.

A motion was passed to call for a special meeting of the Foods Committee to discuss the overall food service at UH, with both Busby and Fred L. Drake, vice chancellor of Finance and Operations, to be present.

"We want both parties present to make major changes, and discuss options and methods for change, to improve food service here at the university," Curtis said.

The next scheduled meeting of the Foods Committee will be from 4:30 to 5:30 p.m., Feb. 22 in the Baltic room, UC Underground.

Pain-reliever major cause in suicides

Most doctors, including those at the UH Health Center, prescribe Darvon to their patients for pain. But according to Health Education and Welfare Secretary Joseph A. Califano Jr., propoxyphene—the key ingredient in the popular prescription pain-reliever, is second to barbiturates as the prescription drug most often associated with suicides.

"Propoxyphene, the third most frequently prescribed pain-reliever, is generally not dangerous when taken as directed." "But," Califano added,

"the drug has been implicated in some accidental deaths, particularly when mixed with alcohol or tranquilizers. It's also addictive, although it is not as addictive as heroin or morphine."

According to UH Health Center pharmacist Karen Koi, "Darvon has been used for many, many years. The doctors here prescribe it but not very frequently. They mainly use it for pain and menstrual cramps."

"It like any other drug, has its place, but naturally there's the potential for abuse. I can vouch for the drug being addictive.

Califano ordered a hearing for April 6 to discuss whether the Food and Drug Administration should take steps to limit the availability of the drug. He said the FDA would recommend by June 1, whether propoxyphene should be placed under more stringent government rules that would limit its use.

Propoxyphene is also sold as propoxyphene napsylate and under the names of Darvon Compound and Darvocet N, Califano said.

Students need to take role in shaping policy

Many students harbor an apparent feeling of helplessness when dealing with the bureaucracy at UH. Bookstore prices go up; financial aid becomes more of a hassle; changing academic requirements add an additional semester to a four-year study plan.

In the movie "Network," frustrated people were told to run to their windows and shout, "I'm mad as hell and I'm not going to take it any more." Many students would like to do the same thing, but don't know where to go to yell.

There are a lot of things going on at UH which are changing all the time; take a look at the parking situation, for example. There is always someone who is causing and shaping those changes, and in many cases those people are faculty and administrators.

To keep from getting left out, students need to get a piece of the action. If left to someone else, students likely will find themselves on the losing end of the stick.

There are many committees and boards set up at UH to provide organized input into important areas of university life. Students' Association is responsible for placing students on these committees; if you're mad as hell about something, call them.

Currently, SA is trying to find students to serve on campus boards which oversee such areas as the University Center, the residence halls, academics, handicapped student services and teaching awards. And we need to have students on those committees.

If you're mad as hell, don't take it anymore. Do something about it.

Food for political thought

The Democratic Party is a conglomeration of many differing ideologies. One of these factions, the Democratic Socialists, will open their Houston convention tonight at the Continuing Education Center.

This faction represents the far left wing of the Democratic Party. One of its leaders, author Michael Harrington, will keynote the conference.

We encourage politically minded students to check out the speeches. The conference will be an example of applied political theory, and whether or not students agree with the ideas being espoused, there will be much material for critical analysis and thought.

The conference will begin at 8 p.m. tonight. Give your mind a challenge and check it out.

Commentary:

Higher mortgage ceiling needed

By BILL JACKSON

It is with a great deal of alarm and shock that I read comments in the Feb. 7 issue of The Daily Cougar under the headline of TexPIRG pertaining to Senate Bill 134 which is currently being considered in committee.

The general comments and tone of this column point to the total lack of understanding by the writer of this article as to what SB 134 is intended to do. The writer of this article states "This bill, part of the cave-in on inflation to large firms we mentioned last week, will permit Texas savings and loan associations to raise mortgage loan rates from 10 to 12 percent." The writer further indicates later on in the article that a two percent increase would raise the total cost of a $50,000 house by an additional $27,000. What the writer does not understand is that the bill raising the usury limit to 12 percent would not necessarily mean that rates will jump to 12 percent. The statutory limit in our constitution is just that—a "limit" or a "ceiling"—and it does not mean that rates will automatically reach that level. It is worthy to note that the present ceiling of 10 percent was established over 30 years ago and it has been only recently that rates began approaching this ceiling. If the writer's logics were true, why did mortgage loan rates not immediately jump to 10 percent when the ceiling was first initiated? Furthermore, he is assuming that current rates are 10 percent. The present usury limit of 10 percent is what has caused a housing crunch in the state of Texas today, because in actuality, mortgage lenders throughout the United States are only considering mortgage loans if they can receive a yield of at least 10 1/2 percent to 10 5/8 percent. Increasing the usury limit would enable lenders in the state of Texas to resume making mortgage loans.

If, as the writer indicates, the "dream is fading for millions of Americans" to purchase houses, I would invite him to take a survey of any lending institution in the city of Houston to see how many are presently not making any mortgage loans, since they cannot receive an appropriate yield on their money. In fact, the dire necessity to either eliminate the usury limit or raise it to a respectable level, is indicated by the fact that tens of millions of dollars are leaving the city of Houston and the state of Texas for investment in mortgage loans in California and Colorado where the lenders can obtain a rate that is consistent with the overall level of mortgages throughout the country.

The writer further states that "millions of others have been stopped during the past 12 years, because mortgage rates have tripled, an increase well ahead of the cost of living, which has doubled." I do not know where the writer gets his information about mortgage rates tripling in the past 12 years. If the rate had tripled, then he is indicating that mortgage loan rates in 1967 were 3 1/3 percent. According to my remembrance, mortgage loan rates during the period of 1966 to 1967 ranged from 6 1/2 percent to 6 3/4 percent. Therefore, given that level and the 10 percent to 10 1/2 percent level prevalent today, you can see that mortgage rates have only increased approximately 50 percent, whereas the cost of living has doubled.

The writer should realize that money is a commodity just as apples, oranges and automobiles are a commodity and that we cannot see a doubling in the cost of other commodities without somewhat of a corresponding increase in the cost of money.

Taking the writer's position of stopping SB 134 will surely assure our city and our state of decline in activity of development and ability to purchase homes, and will enable only those people who have the necessary cash to purchase a home outright without a loan, to have the American dream of their own home.

Touche again, Mr. Larks

To the Editor:

And to Jack Larks in particular, RE: attitude at UH. Touche! You are exactly the type of individual for which my comments are intended. Quote Mr. Larks "...it cost about $240 to construct and maintain one ground level parking space. That's 24 terms at $10 each just to stay even, whereas resurfacing and restriping must be done at least every six years—..."

First—there are three terms in a year. By your own figures there is an indicated profit from parking fees.

Second—you ignore the fact that there are more parking stickers sold than there are parking spaces.

Third—when was the last time any student parking was constructed anyway.

Fourth—since when does the fact that another school screws it's students on parking provide justification for UH to do the same.

Fifth—you also ignore all the parking spaces that have been eliminated and not replaced in recent years.

The problem appears to me to be one of attitude. The attitude prevalent on this campus is that the student is at best a necessary evil. This is reinforced with "The student is guaranteed nothing." The school is responsible for collecting money; nothing more, nothing less. Period. All other responsibilities are on the student, i.e. finding a place to park, school property on school property (HPE uniform theft), getting a good teacher, computer time, etc., etc.

Now Mr. Larks, can you expect anyone to believe that "constructive solutions" offered by students would not be met with exactly the same hostile attitude as requests for help of complaints? Are you going to work to change the school motto "We are not responsible" or are you going to remain part of the problem?

new Summary Students nominate faculty for award

WASHINGTON (AP) —The Carter administration is urging Congress to move quickly to establish new national parks, wildlife refuges, wild and scenic rivers and forest areas in Alaska.

Interior Secretary Cecil D. Andrus, in testimony before the House Interior and Insular Affairs Committee, implored lawmakers to make good on the promise of legislation aimed at preserving large chunks of federally owned land in Alaska as wilderness territory.

WASHINGTON (AP) —With no draft to induce young Americans to join the Army National Guard and Reserve, enlistments in these second-line-of-defense forces continue to decline.

The Pentagon's latest manpower report shows membership in the National Guard and Reserve dropped by 18,500 last year, continuing a trend that set in with the termination of the draft in 1973.

Although military officials have been unable to reverse the trend, they haven't given up trying. Defense Department officials are expressing hope that a system of bonuses and other moves will succeed in attracting new men and women into the National Guard and Reserve ranks over the next couple of years.

The October-December manpower report, issued late Tuesday, shows the Army National Guard lost 14,500 and the Reserve 4,000 personnel during 1978.

VIGO, Spain (AP)—A French cargo ship sank in a storm 50 miles off this northwestern Spanish port and seven of 28 crew members were rescued, seven drowned and 14 were missing.

The 13,000-ton Francois Vielt sank Wednesday.

UH students have the chance to voice their nominations for the Master Teaching Award. The award is presented annually to a member of the faculty in the Humanities and Fine Arts Department. The recipient receives $500 added to their salary base.

The criteria used by the award committee are:

1) The recipient must be in at least the third year of full-time faculty service at UH.

2) The award is to be presented on the basis of undergraduate and/or graduate teaching excellence over a period of years rather than current year's performance alone.

3) The committee seeks, but is not limited to, nominations from faculty, students, and alumni.

4) The committee may use, but is not limited to, student, peer and alumni evaluations.

The committee is composed of last year's recipient of the award, Kay Gupton, assistant professor of Pathology and Audiology; the chair of the three standing committees (undergraduate studies, graduate studies and personnel) William Hawes of the communications department, Anthony Collins of the drama department, and Donald Quataert, associate professor of history; and four department chairs selected by the dean. These are Sidney Berger, Drama Department, George Bunker, Art Department, John McNamara, English Department, and M.G. Yoes, Philosophy Department. The Secretary of the Faculty, James Tinsley, professor of history, will chair the committee.

Tinsley said the committee received between 10 and 15 nominations last year. These came mostly from faculty, though some were from students, he said. Student evaluations forms were also taken into consideration.

Tinsley said he wants to see students become more involved in the decision. "We're anxious to have students in the humanities and fine arts make nominations," Tinsley said, "I hope it will also be an incentive to improve teaching in the college."

The committee will take about a month to review the nominations before informing Dean Guilds of the recipient. The winner will be announced at commencement exercises in May.

The idea for the Master Teaching Award originated with Dean John Guilds, who last year presented the idea to the faculty of Humanities and Fine Arts.

Any students interested in nominating a faculty member are asked to contact Dr. Tinsley or send the nomination to him at the History Department. Members of the award committee are not eligible for the award. Deadline is March 1.

Klan offers aid to New Orleans

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—The Ku Klux Klans will patrol New Orleans for Mardi Gras if city policemen follow through on strike threats, a Klan leader has warned, although he said, "Most of our people will not be armed."

The 30 to 40 "citizen patrols" would not make arrests unless they see someone being attacked, said David Duke, leader of a small faction called the Knights of the Ku Klux Klan. Otherwise, he said, patrols will call the police station if they spot lawbreakers.

Prospective witness shot

SOUTH PADRE ISLAND, Texas (AP)—A prospective prosecution witness in the upcoming kidnapping trial of a Pasadena doctor was shot in the face Thursday as he was getting into his car to leave home, police said.

John Hensley, 40, was in critical condition Thursday afternoon, said officials at Valley Community Hospital in nearby Brownsville.

Police later arrested S.J. Wilborn, 56, of Pasadena, and charged him with attempted murder. Bond was set at $100,000. He was arrested shortly after the shooting near the causeway linking this South Texas resort island to the mainland, police said.

Hensley is married to the former wife of Dr. A.H. "Archie" Burkhalter, a physician indicted for allegedly kidnapping his former wife from here in October.

Burkhalter allegedly entered his ex-wife's apartment, sedated her and took her to a Pasadena hospital he owns, according to prosecutors.

Port Isabel Justice of the Peace Bud Emmons said the red Cadillac that Wilborn was driving at the time of his arrest had the back seat removed. The car was equipped with lush carpeting that ran through the trunk. Emmons also said holes cut in the trunk could allow a person to lay prone in the trunk and shoot from the back.

A second man, Scott Minnick, also from Pasadena, was arrested Thursday afternoon near Refugio, north of Corpus Christi, and charged with attempted murder, police said.

Minnick was arrested in a white Cadillac registered to the Pasadena hospital that Burkhalter owns. His bond was set at $100,000.

Burkhalter was released under $100,000 bond, Morris $10,000.

Burkhalter earlier had stood trial three times before being acquitted on a charge of arranging the Dec. 9, 1966 murder of Dr. Robert Pendleton, a partner in the ownership of the Pasadena Memorial Hospital, then known as Red Bluff Hospital.

Chances are, UH baseball really good

By JIM MOLONY
Sports Writer for The Cougar

The Houston Cougars open their 1979 baseball season Sunday against St. Mary's and UH head coach Rolan Walton is looking for a good season out of his charges.

"We ought to be good," the Coog coach said. "We weren't bad last year. But this year's team could be potentially better."

The Cougars do have the potential to improve on last year's 11-7 conference record. The 1978 team also went on to finish second in the conference post season tournament while the final polls placed them 13th nationally. Still, Walton feels this year's team could surpass last year's.

"We have more depth this year, especially at pitcher. We're gonna miss Billy Blum's nine straight wins, but we have a chance to be a better team due to the depth we have," Walton said. Billy Blum, the ace of last year's staff, was lost to graduation. Walton will be counting on Tom Lukish to replace Blum as staff supreme. Lukish was second behind Blum on last year's staff with a 9-5 record. The junior righthander will pitch Sunday's opening game for the Cougars.

"He's my number one pitcher," Walton said, "Jimmie Cherry is number two right now, and the rest of the guys are pretty close. They're all pitching well right now, so we'll have to wait and see who's after Lukish and Cherry in the rotation. But right now I'd say Lukish and Cherry have the edge."

Walton plans to use a four man rotation during the conference season, but he may go to five. "I may use a different starter for the Tuesday game," he said. The Cougars are long on starting pitchers to choose from. Junior transfer Mark Krampitz transferred to UH from Ranger Junior College, where he was the Most Valuable Player in the Junior College World Series last year. Also on hand for mound duty is another junior college transfer, junior David Minielly from Blinn. Minielly is a knuckleball pitcher and Walton feels he may be a big help. "He can pitch all day, I may even start him a few games," Walton said. Although primarily a relief pitcher, Minielly will start at third base in Sunday's game. John Shannon and Alec McCulloch return from last year's staff, and freshman Brent Bentley is expected to help out.

Jay Beard, the conference's third leading hitter last year with a .337 average returns to play left field. Beard moves over from center field to fill the place of Donny Lopez, who graduated. In center, junior transfer Rusty Snyder will start. Snyder, Walton says, "is the fastest man on the team. He's been clocked at 4.5 in the 40." Snyder comes to UH from Seminole Junior College in Oklahoma. Last year's conference tournament Most Valuable player, Donnie Randell will start in right field.

Most Cougar fans have been wondering who will fill the place of Steve Kovar and Gary Weiss, gone to graduation. Walton feels he has found the answer in Terry Byrum and Kevin Munro. Byrum, last year's designated hitter, is expected to replace Weiss at second. As a freshman last year, Byrum belted six home runs while hoisting a .291 average. Munro, a transfer from Notre Dame, is being counted on to handle the other side of the keystone. Senior Bobby Hollas returns to start at first base. Hollas hit .304 last year (.311 in SWC) while also being called on for some relief pitching stints. Minielly will get pressure at third base from sophomores Mike Breslin and Rusty Kennedy. Jeff Copeland will handle the catching chores. Copeland, along with Hollas and Beard will be the Cougar tri-captains for the season. The designated hitter spot will be handled by three veterans. Big Alvin Ruben will be the left handed DH, along with Robbie Von Tungeln. Mark Alexander will be the right handed DH. Walton plans to start Lukish and Krampitz in Sunday's doubleheader, with Cherry to pitch on Tuesday. Game time for Sunday's first game is 1 p.m.

SWC Indoor Championship

Cougars seek third straight title

FORT WORTH (AP)—The Houston Cougars have enough firepower to capture their third consecutive Southwest Conference Indoor Track and Field title Friday night. The analysis comes straight from the top—Houston coach Tom Tellez.

"We will be tough," admitted Tellez, candidly.

He hastened to add: "I think Arkansas and Texas A&M will be tough, too, and it will be close. Of course, you never can count out Baylor."

"I don't know about Texas because I have not seen them at any of the meets. Arkansas is very good. They didn't have any men for the field events last year. Now, they do, and they finished with 66 points last year."

A record crowd of 10,000 is expected in the Tarrant County Convention Center. The preliminaries begin at 1:30 p.m. today with the finals starting at 6:30 p.m. A snow storm held down the crowd last year.

Houston nudged Baylor 93-87 for the title and Baylor coach Clyde Hart says it should be close again.

"This league has improved tremendously over the past year because this season it will be a five-team race, instead of a three-team race as in years past," Hart said. "I look for Arkansas, Houston, Texas A&M Texas and Baylor as the contenders with Rice given an outside shot."

Tellez has two excellent hurdlers in Charles Whigham, a transfer from Texas Southern, and Jeff Marino. They finished 1-2 in a recent Oklahoma City meet in the 60-yard hurdles.

The Cougars return two of the eight individual champions—Brett Dames, who established a record 16-7 leap in the pole vault and Mark Baughman, who has been over 60-feet in the shot put.

This is the sixth year for the meet and Baylor has never finished lower than second.

"This year's meet, by far, will be our toughest challenge we've ever had to either finish first or second," Hart said.

Of course, one of the premier events will be the 60-yard dash with Texas A&M football star Curtis Dickey the prime attraction.

Arkansas will be tough in the distance events with the likes of Pat Vaughn and Mike Clark.

UH hopes to be a step ahead for title

Weekend sports action

Men's basketball

The men's basketball team play the Arkansas Razorbacks at 7:30 p.m. Saturday in Fayetteville, Ark.

UH has never won in Arkansas' Barnhill Field House.

Ladies' basketball

The women's basketball team faces North Texas State at 7:30 p.m. Saturday in Denton, Tex.

The women are coming off of a 91-67 loss to Tyler Junior College Monday night in Tyler.

The Cougs had defeated Tyler earlier in the year by three points here. Tyler went into the contest ranked second nationally in junior college rankings.

The Cougs are now 14-10 overall.

Men's swimming

The men's swim team faces Texas A&M 7 p.m. today at College Station.

UH will shoot for their third win in a row, after taking two meets from Tulane and Louisiana State last weekend.

The women's swim team is idle this weekend.

Men's tennis

The UH men's tennis team opens NCAA competition tomorrow in San Antonio against second ranked Trinity University.

The Cougars, ranked eighth in the pre-season polls, lost to Trinity in team competition last year.

"This is a very important match," Lee Merry, UH tennis coach said. "I think we'll come out with some very good wins. There'll be some really close matches."

The Cougs are 2-0 in competition this year, having beaten McNeese State 9-0 and North-eastern Louisiana State University 5-0 in the Lamar Team Tournament. The finals, pitting UH against Texas A&M, were rained out and have yet to be rescheduled.

Lacrosse

The UH Lacrosse team faces its first college division opponent of the season, Louisiana State University, this Saturday in Baton Rouge, La.

It is the second game of the season for the Cougs,ng lost to the Houston Lacrosse Club last Sunday.

Tryouts

The British Columbia Lions of the Canadian Football League are holding a tryout camp at Rice University at noon, Feb. 17 and 18.

Santana gives Coliseum crowd its due

By JOHN ATKINSON
Amusements Writer for The Cougar

Devadip Carlos Santana is at the summit of the rock guitar, and has reigned near that dizzy height for quite some time.

Carlos, in concert Wednesday in the Coliseum, has not accomplished this by crass sensationalism or strange stage antics. He has single-handedly carved for himself a niche in rock history by being a good and original guitarist, and it is with this in mind that we confront his latest Santana band chapter.

The word is rock. Less than at any other time during the band's history, the greater emphasis is on rock roots than the Latin percussion roots which have always distinguished Santana's music from the mainstream.

The set began with Buddy Holly's "Well Alright" from the latest LP Inner Secrets which is served best by the live performance. The similarities between his and the old Blind Faith version are many, but it was a good set opener.

Gabor Szabo's "Gypsy Queen" took off from the end of "Black Magic Woman" like an ICBM and, along with "Europa" was the most steaming music of the concert. The Devadip devoted "Europa" to Earl Campbell, which naturally got a big round of applause from the hyped-up, doped-up crowd.

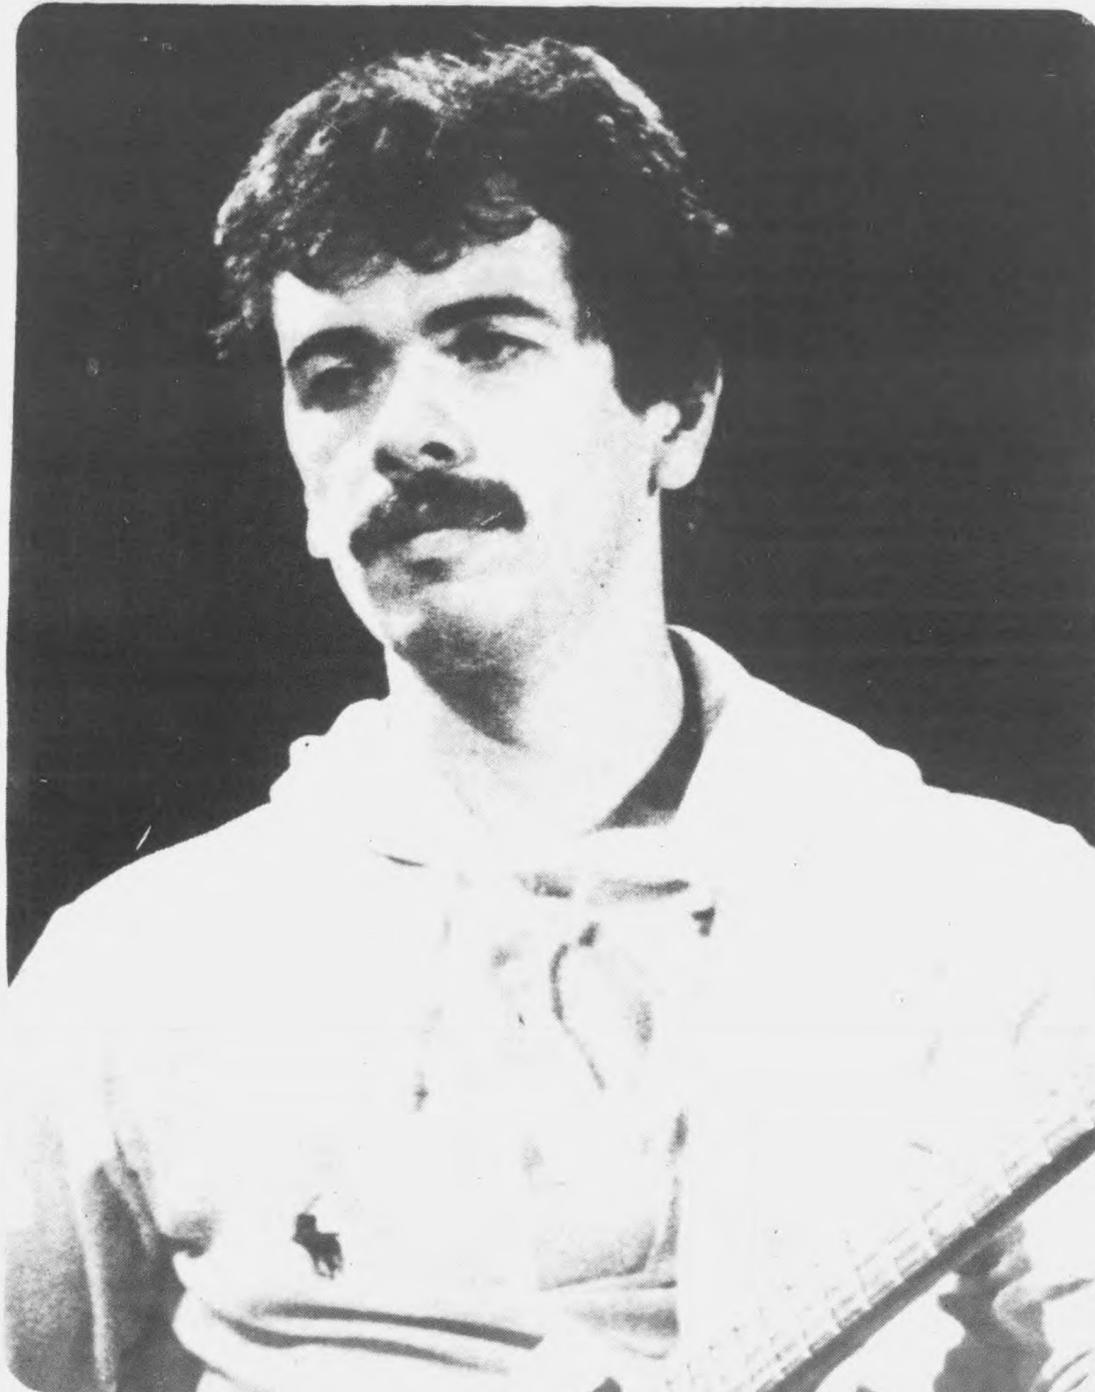

From the new album, the band did the sure-fire crowd pleasers "Move On" and "One Chain Don't Make No Prison," both funky pop tunes bearing the stamp of the band's latest production team, Dennis Lambert and Brian Potter. The performance suffered on these numbers only because the material is intrinsically weaker.

Rod Argent's "She's Not There" got a good workout as did "No One to Depend On" from Santana's third album.

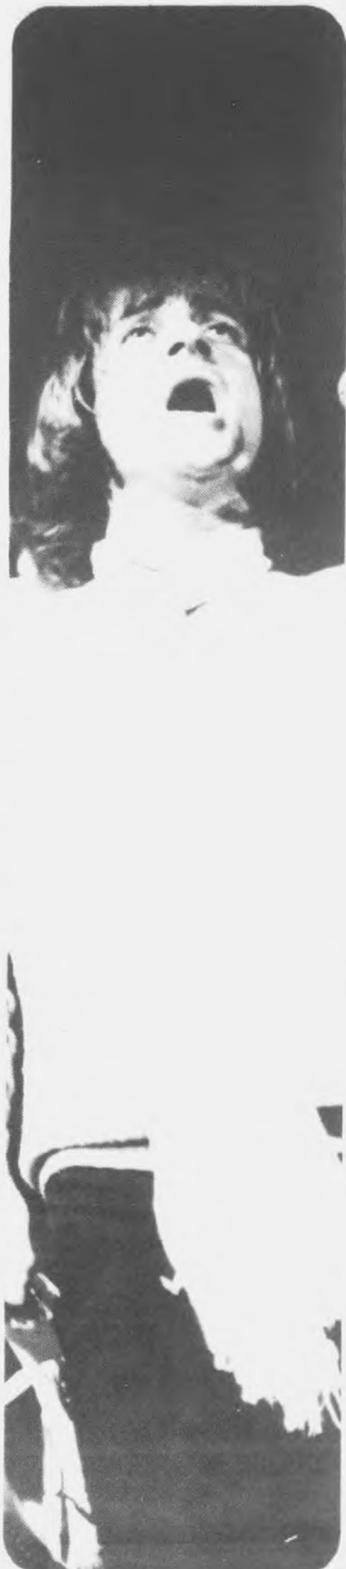

The encores provided the greatest solo space for the band members. Bassist David Margen and drummer Graham Lear both got space in "Soul Sacrifice" (which has sounded better) and Armando Peraza (timbales) performed strongly throughout. "Evil Ways" brought the curtain down on the night's festivities, and was quite appropriate as a finishing encore since it made the whole ride possible for Sri Chinmoy's best known disciple.

Eddie Money opened the set with the kind of excitement that the fans have come to expect from him. He has some of the greatest moves in rock, and besides being charismatic and singing pretty well, he plays passible sax. "Two Tickets to Paradise" was the highlight of his set.

Sad Cafe was the initial offering of the evening.

Newest Eastwood is 'sooooo' dumb

By H.N. GRAHAM

Amusements Writer for The Cougar

EVERY WHICH WAY BUT LOOSE
Director: James Fargo; A Malposo production; A Warner Brothers, release.

It's hard to dislike the sheer joy in stupidity Clint Eastwood's new movie, "Every Which Way But Loose," takes, but at the same time it's hard to critically approve of a movie that is SOOO dumb.

Eastwood set out to make a comedy that pokes fun at the male macho myth that's grown up around him, and a lot of it works.

In the film, Eastwood portrays a trucker who's into bare-knuckled boxing and country and western music. He meets a singer (Sondra Locke, who seems to be making a career out of working with Eastwood) and, when she disappears, he takes off with his two best friends to find her.

One of his friends is a dim-witted mechanic, the other an orangutan he won as stakes in a fight. Eastwood making one of this trucker's best friends an ape is a good indication of the humor in the film.

The film doesn't have any overall rhythm, and that's about the only thing you can fault it with. It meanders along, doing about what it wanted to do, for all the world as if Eastwood got some of his friends together and said, "Let's make a movie," and then did.

There's also two subplots grafted on, one concerning a motorcycle gang that is chasing Eastwood to get revenge for beating up one of their own (who had it coming); the other concerning two cops who are chasing him to get him back for beating one of them up (he had it coming).

They don't amount to much, though, even if it was fun to see Big Bad Clint face off against all 20 of the cyclists.

All in all, a fun but very dumb movie that could have been less loose.

MURDER BY DEATH

Director: Herbert Ross; writer: Neil Simon; 1977; at 1 p.m. in the Pacific Room, UC, and at 7:30 p.m. in Agnes Arnold Auditorium I.

"Murder By Death" is an unconnected series of gags by Neil Simon about the overly-convoluted mysteries of the 30's. Some of them are quite funny, but there was no sense of overall point, only of disassociated thrills.

trying to create a mystery that will stump them all.

He succeeds. What in the hell is Truman Capote doing in this mess, and where did he get the idea he could act?

It might have been a good idea for a movie if any effort had been made by Simon to develop a careful, solid plot. Simon, however, thought it was enough to create his caricatures of the great fictional detectives of the past; he never bothered to do anything with them, except gather them in one spot.

There are sporadic things to laugh at in "Murder By Death," but they're thin laughs, and very few.

SA awaits action on facilities board

By MARK POWER
Staff Writer for The Cougar

UH Students' Association is awaiting action by Chancellor Barry Munitz on a bill which would establish a Grounds and Facilities Planning Board.

Scott Curtis, SA director of Student Life and co-author of the bill, said the purpose of the bill is to establish "user input" concerning UH Central Campus grounds and facilities.

"We are recognizing the total absence of avenues for student and faculty input about our campus, specifically the maintenance of landscapes across the campus," Curtis said.

The bill would establish an advising, planning and support agency responsible to the chancellor and the Board of Regents. It would have the power to make recommendations on any and all areas of facilities planning.

Included in the proposed responsibilities of the board is the power to comment on all recommendations for approval and/or modifications of all fund requests dealing with capital improvements.

Curtis said students and faculty would have benefitted by existence of this kind of support agency, if they had been able to give input to a new residence hall proposed to be built near the intersection of Cullen Boulevard and Wheeler Avenue.

"In October we heard rumors that a new residence hall was to be built—and we realize the situation was that the regents saw an opportunity for funding and went after it. But a student was not appointed to the Project Planning Commission on the project due to lack of coordination until several months after major decisions had already been made," Curtis said.

Curtis maintains that the proposed board would solve the problem of creative and productive input by providing a permanent channel for user input. He described users as "anyone who actively uses UH facilities, primarily but not restricted to students and faculty."

Members of the board include the director of Facilities Planning and Construction with term of office for the length of their employment at UH; two faculty members nominated for two year staggered terms by the Faculty Senate; three student members appointed through the regular SA appointment process; and two non-voting ex-officio members (vice chancellor for Finance and Operations, and the director of the Physical Plant.)

The bill stipulates the board will meet a minimum of nine times during the regular academic year at a time and place designated by the board. The bill also places responsibility of providing a secretary to record and distribute minutes with the director of Facilities and Planning.

Munitz had the bill in his office shortly after it was approved at the Dec. 4 meeting of the UHSA Senate, according to Curtis. SA has talked to several students interested in serving on the board, but SA is waiting action by Munitz before proceeding with any applications for the student positions, he said.

Government to seek re-trial of Flood on criminal bribery; perjury charges

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Justice Department announced today that it will seek to re-try Rep. Daniel J. Flood, D-Pa. on bribery and perjury charges. Flood's first trial ended in a hung jury on Feb. 3. According to jurors, only one member of the jury held out for acquittal on all 11 counts.

The Justice Department said it had notified Flood's attorney, Axel Kleiboemer.

Justice Department spokesman

Terry Adamson said that the decision to seek a new trial was not related to a jury-tampering investigation in the case.

The lone juror who held out for acquittal, William Cash, had claimed he received confidential information in the case, according to reports from other jurors. Cash later said his claim to have information favorable to Flood from a secret source was "all a joke."

Flood was accused of taking more than $50,000 in payoffs in return for his influence as chair of a congressional subcommittee on health, education and welfare which reviews hundreds of millions of dollars in appropriations each year.

Americans plan to flee Iran

TEHRAN, Iran (AP)—The U.S. Embassy admitted today it cannot protect American lives in Tehran and announced plans for emergency evacuation flights Saturday. Heavy fighting continued in Tabriz and a second embassy, this time the Moroccan one, was invaded by armed civilians, it was reported.

Iranian journalists reported hundreds killed in factional fighting Tuesday and Wednesday in Tabriz, a city in northwest Iran. Radio Tehran said 42 persons were killed in three southern cities Wednesday as the new government installed by Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini's revolution struggled to establish control over the country.

Moroccan Ambassador El Ghali Benhima said about 50 gunmen loyal to Khomeini took over the embassy grounds and searched his residence looking for armed agents of SAVAK, the old regime's secret police.

"They were very polite, very correct and well-behaved. No one was hurt and there was no damage," Benhima said. He said the search yielded nothing.

Pro-Khomeini Iranians have staged demonstrations at the embassy to protest King Hassan's decision to give refuge to the shah.
