Bar Owners Envision Pacific Street Carnival for the Fall

By Ken Claude
Montrose Voice editor

The proposed Pacific Street Carnival, AIDS Foundation funding and the Marion Pantzer Reward Fund were the major topics of the monthly meeting of the Houston Organization of Bar Owners (HOBO).

This month's regular meeting of the gay club owners and their managers was held at the Exile, 1011 Bell, in downtown Houston.

The Pacific Street Carnival, originally conceived as a bar-sponsored spring event, has been delayed until fall because of the time necessary to obtain city permits, they said. Charles Armstrong, representing Caven Enterprises clubs, envisioned the carnival to be structured similar to Razzle Dazzle Dallas, a popular annual event in Dallas with food, beverages, booths and nationally-recognized entertainment.

Armstrong suggested that such a Houston event have its profits going to community charities.

The carnival would be staged in the Pacific-Grant-Stanford Streets area.

Frank Campesi and Dale McGee were guests at the HOBO meeting representing the AIDS Foundation of Houston and pleaded their case for help in the group's funding.

"Due to the current economic downturn, United Way has advised that there will not be any additional funding for the Foundation," Campesi said. He added that the foundation, which in the past has had to rely almost totally on donations from the gay community, is down to approximately 30 days supply and urged individual bars to continue to support the foundation with fundraisers if at all possible.

He stated that even at $300,000 per year, the foundation could not meet present needs, and $450,000 would meet the bare minimum in a no-frills budget, and added that a monthly calendar of fundraising events would be published. Corporate donors are also being solicited outside of the gay community.

With the arrest of the police say was responsible for the shooting death of "Just" Marion and Lynn's owner Marion Pantzer, HOBO discussed possible alternatives for the reward fund that now totals over $6000. It was agreed that $1000 of that would be set aside for a reward fund for the gunman's accomplice, said to be still at large.

HOBO decided to donate $1000 to the 100 Club and put the remaining funds in the bank to accrue interest and to be used for other rewards as the need arises.

HOBO also reported to its Houston members on the just-completed meeting of the Bar Owners Association of Texas, a statewide association of gay club owners. At the meeting in Dallas the week before, the AIDS epidemic was a major topic, along with the issue that B.O.A.T. needed new members and funds to continue its lobbying efforts at the state Capitol in Austin.

B.O.A.T.'s Austin lobbyist, Betty Naylor, was recently paid from borrowed funds, it was reported.

Finances Limit GPC Run-Off Participation

By Connie Woods
Montrose Voice Reporter

Suggesting that the Houston Gay Political Caucus limits its participation in the primary run-off elections to heavy usage of the phone banks, President Annise Parker pointed out that the caucus should not go further in debt to spend more than $2500 in mailings.

"We (the board) decided we were not going to accrue any further debts than already made," she told the membership Wednesday night. She suggested that the membership get heavily involved in the phone banks before the election rather than spending several thousands of dollars for mailings.

The six GPC-endorsed candidates are seeking positions which are county-wide. Ray Hill, another board member, said that sending mailings only to the Montrose area would represent only one-third of the voting population. The mailing list includes some 11,000 voters in the county.

Vice President David Fowler told the membership, "We have no money. We have spent money that we didn't have. If anyone wants to doante the money, fine. But we don't have the money for mailouts."

Board member Cicely Wynne agreed with the speakers. "We are drained. It was a miracle that we got out the last mailout. We have drained our advertisers and we need to find new resources," she said.

Although postcards would be less expensive to send, the general consensus of the membership agreed that a mailout of a single sheet of paper, folded and stapled, would better serve the purpose. In the final vote, the motion carried to send the single, folded sheets to as many members as the GPC could afford.

Jim Owens, the newly elected board member for seat No. 3, made a point of the GPC financial situation in his campaign speech during the meeting. "It is harder and harder to raise the money we need. We need tighter cost control . . . innovative fundraising," he explained.

Owens and opponent Joe Wilson faced a close election for the vacated seat as the first vote ended in an 18 to 18 tie. The second vote gave the board seat to Owens by a vote of 19 to 18.

During the initial introduction of the candidates, Parker pointed out, "It's great that we have two good candidates to run for this board position."

In other election business, Joe Thornton, the Republican committee chairperson, asked for the endorsement by the caucus of John Thomas Henderson of Austin for the Texas Railroad Commissioner position. The caucus voted to endorse the candidate for the Republican run-off.

In other business, Parker announced the budget for the 1986 Gay Pride Spotts

Park Rally. She said the budget had been set for $11,000 to include the firework display. Money is to be raised through drink sales and donations the night of the event, she said.

The meeting opened with special guest speaker Carol Brown, assistant chief of branch services for the Houston Public Library. "We have some good news and some bad news," she told the caucus members.

"The good news is that we have finally accepted the gift of the Central Church of Christ facilities at 4100 Montrose. The bad news is the reduced budget of the city (for library services)," she said.

After several negotiations, the city and John Hanson had come to terms concerning the facilities at that location. Ray Baily, an architect, will design the new facilities. She suggested an opening by 1988 of the new library branch.

Brown pointed out to the group that under the new budget cutback planned by the City of Houston that all branches would have a cut in staff as well as hours and resources.

The caucus emphasized its need for volunteers to work the phone bank for the run-off. Anyone interested in volunteering should call the GPC office between 4:00 p.m. and 6:00 p.m. during the week to sign up with Pat Gandy, the new GPC office staff person.

A Memorable Memorial Weekend

By Mark Orion

For Friday, May 23, through Thursday, May 29, 1986.

ARIES—Slow down this week. You move too fast. A sense of urgency permeates everything you do. That's a good thing for taking care of business, but it's bad when it makes you miss life's beautiful details. Watch out!

TAURUS—Work, work, work. Doesn't anyone want to come out and play with the bull? Maybe someone at work would be interested, and they're just waiting for you to make the first move. Surprise the both of you by inviting that one out for show and tell!

GEMINI—Don't get greedy. You want more than cake with icing, more than that someone can deliver right now, so pull back and do some serious thinking. What's most important to you? What is this marvellous thing called imagination? What's what?

CANCER—You will feel more like a Scorpio than a Cancer this Memorial weekend: mysterious and wanting to get to the bottom of things. Your energy is concentrated on something of great importance to you, and you lose no detail. You might even want to seek out a Scorpio friend. Get into it!

LEO—Your life is changing—of course, it always is, but now is one of those times when change is beautifully constant and spontaneous. Your level of desire and desirability is at a high peak, and there's the real possibility that hard times are no longer. Not bad.

VIRGO—Whoever needs help should apply to their nearest Virgo. The bonds of friendship are strong, tied lovingly tighter as you are able to extend yourself and give those you love exactly what they need. Boy, you've got a way about you!

LIBRA—You sure know how to make things work. Especially yourself. Anything that requires sustained effort and concentration is right up your alley. Check in with your closest one from time to time; you may be on separate paths this Memorial weekend. Remember.

SCORPIO—Nice strokes, easy moves make for a grand time for Memorial Weekend. Someone special could find your behavior irresistible, so be ready for heavy come-ons. If you're ready, it'll flow.

SAGITTARIUS—Be conservative. Be cautious. Don't rock the boat. Things are a bit shaky now, especially at work and on the money front, so life will require a lot of care to keep things on an even keel. You can do it. Give a little overtime. Keep plugging at it.

CAPRICORN—Exploring the many realms and levels of the masculine and the feminine is one of the very best things. You've got the inside track on a lot of info that others miss out on. Pay special attention to those realizations now.

AQUARIUS—Acting irrationally and unconsciously with little regard for the consequences can be fun—in selected moments. But if you overdo it so that your life or your future is affected it is stupid. Look around you.

PISCES—So much to do. So much to see. It's a very active weekend indeed, and you won't be alone for a minute. You and one close to you are inseparable.

Houstonians to Compete in Gay Games II

With the deadline for entries to Gay Games II rapidly approaching, MSA Houston has registered 40 athletes in bowling, billiards, basketball, swimming and diving, and wrestling. In addition, a softball team is being assembled through the Montrose Softball League.

Gay Games II, with its theme of "Triumph in '86," is to be staged in San Francisco August 9-17 and is a "gay olympics," although a judge has barred the group from using the word "olympics."

San Francisco was also host for the first Gay Games. The event was organized by Dr. Tom Waddell.

MSA will put individuals from various cities together to form teams, if necessary, so that anyone who wants to compete will have the opportunity to be a part of the events of Gay Games II.

Anyone interested in competing who does not have a team or who desires more information can contact Nick Escobedo at 777-1823.

MAN TO MAN

Secrets Among Men

Stepping Off the Treadmill

By Dr. Ken Druck
and James C. Simmons

This is the fourth of a five-part series. This chapter suggests ways to balance work and leisure activities.

Men who drive themselves to exhaustion always have a thousand and one excuses as to why they must keep running on their treadmills. "I can't let up now, not after all these years."

Or: "It'll just be another few years. Then everything will be all right, and I'll start to live."

Or: "What would I do with myself? My work has been my whole life."

For these men, it usually takes a crisis with their health or their mate to convince them that their work priorities are not the only ones which need attention. And even then they step off the treadmill reluctantly.

Mark, a salesman for a computer company in Los Angeles, is one who made the decision to ease off earlier than most. "Last year I turned 35, and it scared me a little bit. I decided to make it my push year—you know, working 60 to 70 hours a week. It was like running in a marathon. Well, I found out that I could do it. I raked in over $75,000 in commissions and got a bonus.

"Later my company offered me a regional sales rep position. You know what? I turned them down. I could have done it. But I decided that it wasn't what I wanted. I just didn't want the big office, secretaries and the extra bucks. I realized that I wanted to enjoy life more than I had been. . . . Now I have more time. . . . Sometimes I feel guilty, like I should be out there hustling up business for 60 hours each week like I used to do. My best friend even thinks I blew it. But I discovered that it was not what I really wanted."

Let's decide that we do not want to wait to be hit by a crisis before we change. Here are several suggestions that may prove useful.

□ We can change our non-work activities

Let's schedule in time for a walk through the park, a bike ride in the country, reading a novel, an evening class in painting, or anything that requires slow and easy participation. We can lean down hard on ourselves to follow through on these "time-outs" from our regular routine after work or on weekends.

□ We must get away from the telephone

Workaholics are most often slaves to the telephone because it allows them to maintain contact with office from home or elsewhere. Cordless telephones and computers may serve the same function. If we are sincere about learning how to relax, then we are going to have to cut the cord, so to speak. We can use a telephone answering device or service to field our calls. When we go on vacation, we can stay at a lodge or hotel without telephones in its rooms.

And we can let the telephone ring without picking it up. Remember—other people can and will learn to deal with matters after we are gone from this earth. We are dispensable. And even if we are not, most business can wait. We will never learn this until we experience it. So, painful as it may be at first, let's get lost!

□ We can make special agreements with myself for rewards

Let's allow ourselves special time off for an extra effort put in at work. We can set up our own reward system for the good work we do by paying ourselves off with something very personal and enriching. Let's treat ourselves to that weekend excursion, day off in the middle of the week, time spent with an old buddy, or dream vacation with our close friend.

The trick here is always to pay up. There are so many times when we put in the work and postpone the rewards. Let's not cheat ourselves. Let's keep that contract we make with No. 1. We deserve it!

□ We can keep anti-anxiety focus cards handy

One method many men have found is extremely effective in making changes is to prepare a set of 3-by-5 "focus cards."

These cards serve as reminders about the positive attitudes and behaviors that they are actively working to incorporate into their workstyle.

Well-placed focus cards with simple messages can do a world of good. Some suggested messages are: "Relax," "I can't be everything to everybody," "I have accomplished enough for today," "Work can wait," "People will still love me if I'm not perfect," and "Breathe easier." If used faithfully, these cards will help to replace such counterproductive, anxiety-provoking messages as: "I am not doing enough," "Make me better and faster," "Hurry up, you're behind," and "Push harder, harder and harder."

□ We can learn to enjoy leisure time

Too many of us think of "leisure" as the negative of work and not as its true opposite, something positively defined in itself. Let's widen our cultural and intellectual horizons—the areas where there is no immediate tangible payoff, no bottom line.

We can learn to balance times of activity with times of rest through passive action. Passive action means that we become actively receptive, receiving rather than giving our energy. Being passive is difficult for many men because they perceive it as time wasted. But learning to take something back from the world after putting out so much all day restores the necessary balance we need to work effectively. Well-spent passive time off the job can make us more productive and creative on the job.

Here are some examples of things to do:

1. We can treat ourselves to a delicious, healthful gourmet dinner. Let's pick a restaurant with mood music in the background, soft light and a leisurely pace. We will do everything at one-half or one-quarter speed. Let's chew our food slowly, savor each bite and rest between each course. Spend at least two hours eating dinner.

2. We can go for a one-hour deep-muscle massage. Then we will close our eyes and simply yield ourselves up to the massage. We will let all the tension flow out of our body. We will rest, relax and enjoy ourselves.

3. For a change of pace, let's set aside 30 minutes in which we do absolutely nothing. We will stop all activity and just be. We may find ourselves squirming uncomfortably the first few minutes. But we will stick with it. We will keep our mind from focusing on business. We will clear our mind of all thoughts. Or if that is not possible, we will just focus our imagination on a peaceful scene, such as a meadow full of wildflowers.

4. We can go for a long walk. In this time we will allow the world to make an impression on our senses without trying to make something of the experience. Many people do this while jogging, biking or sailing.

□ Being our own man at work

Being your own man at work means doing what gives us pride and pleasure as well as profit. It means that we have our individuality, as well as our mutuality, as a member of the work team. We are attuned to our own thoughts and feelings about what is happening at work and express them effectively through the appropriate channels.

We may or may not be our own boss, but we are unmistakably our own man at work. In other words, we are taken seriously by others. We, in turn, take other people seriously. We arrive for work with a positive mental attitude, focusing on present tasks without interruptions from past fears and future anxieties. We balance our desire for excellence with a high regard and appreciation for the process, or means, by which it is achieved.

After doing all we can to assure the best product or service, we acknowledge ourselves and others who have contributed and then call it a day. We leave work feeling exerted yet invigorated.

Our excitement at what is to come in our time away from the workplace makes itself felt as we leave the office. The evening, or weekend, we have planned is evenly balanced between passive action and play and activities. If we are returning home to relationships, we do so feeling ready for making contact, prepared to represent our needs and open to the needs of others.

Dr. Didato's Personality Quiz

Are You a Thrill-Seeker?

By Salvatore V. Didato, Ph.D.
News America Syndicate
Special to the Montrose Voice

The cliché, truth is stranger than fiction, tells it best. A few years ago Brent Hansen pushed his hang glider off a cliff and promptly crashed to earth 600 feet below. After several days near death under intensive care, he was discharged and soon returned to his favorite sport—hang gliding.

Why do some people take chances? Humans, it seems, have an insatiable urge for thrills, which exists in degrees for all persons from a high wire artist to a child on a skateboard. Professor Marvin Zuckerman, psychologist at the University of Delaware, calls this trait "sensation seeking." After some 30 years of study, he concludes that it is a universal and probably inherited characteristic.

To test your thrill-seeking tendencies, try this short adapted version of a test used by Zuckerman in his research. Rate each item ahead on a scale of 1 to 3: 1 disagree, 2 agree, 3 agree strongly.

1. I get a kick out of fast rides at the amusement park.
2. On a hot day I like jumping into the ocean or a cold pool.
3. I enjoy spicy foods.
4. I would like work that entails a lot of travel.
5. I enjoy bright, rather than soft, colors.
6. In school I would prefer a class discussion to a lecture.
7. I get bored seeing the same familiar faces.
8. I prefer people who are emotionally expressive even if they are somewhat eccentric or unstable.

□ Score

Add up all your points and use this as a guide:

20-24 points—You are a high thrill seeker.

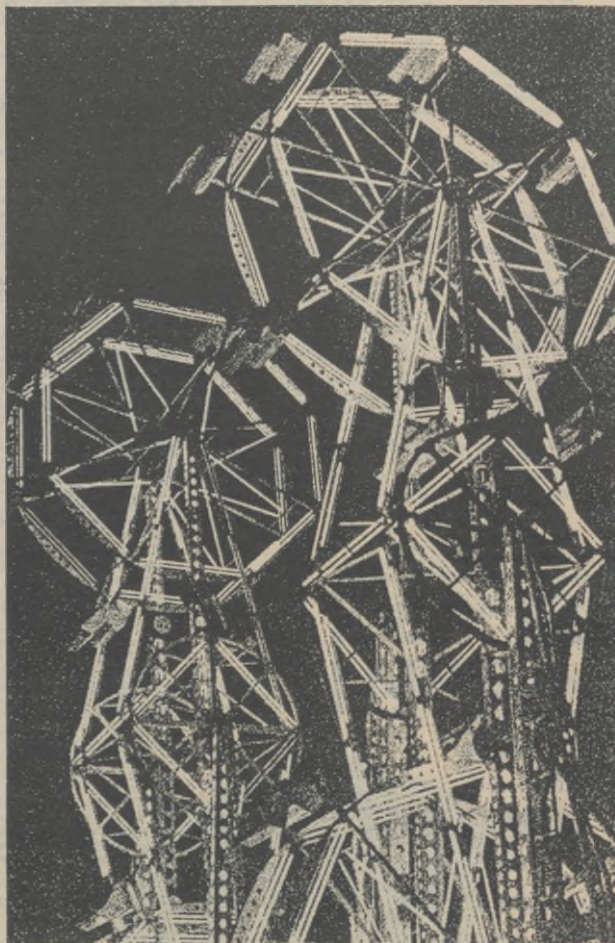

14-19 points—You have about average needs for thrills and new sensations.

8-13 points—You are conservative and less of a risker than most people.

□ Explanation

Most thrill seekers tend to strongly agree with the statements. Zuckerman concludes that high and low scorers differ in four main ways. High scorers have more:

1. Thrill and adventure needs. They seek new sensations through risky actions like driving fast, skiing, sky diving, etc. (items 1 and 2).

Humans, it seems, have an insatiable urge for thrills, which exist in degrees for all persons

2. Experience and excitement needs. They rev themselves up by adopting non-conventional lifestyles, trying exotic foods and traveling (items 3 and 4).

□ What makes people crave thrills?

Professor Frank Farley of the University of Wisconsin at Madison, writing in the journal Psychology Today, reports experiments which show that males predominate on a trait of thrill seeking.

Thrill seekers have a physical need to maintain a high arousal level in their nervous systems. Sometimes called "adrenalin junkies," they choose to be hyped up rather than calm. Their placid opposites, on the other hand, are bored with unusually low levels of arousal and are responsive to much less mental or physical stimulation.

Compared with low thrill seekers, high thrill seekers tend to enter the helping professions such as medicine, social service and teaching. Such types also are prone to fall in love with high thrill seekers like themselves.

3. Disinhibition. They tend to be expressive, bold and uninhibited. They are more outgoing, they like to drink and enjoy experimenting both socially and sexually (items 5 and 6).

4. Boredom susceptibility. They have low tolerance and more dislike for boring company and constant and predictable situations. They often befriend offbeat and eccentric personality types (items 7 and 8).

'What It's Like to Win'

By Glen Webber

(Editor's note: Glen Webber won the Mr. Venture Contest two weeks ago and is in Chicago this weekend representing the club at the Mr. International Leather Contest, a popular annual event to America's gay leather community. Webber asked if he could write a first-hand report of his feelings on the night he won the Houston contest.)

It was an exciting contest. Sixteen handsome men, lined up the stairs, waiting for the announcement of who would be Mr. Venture-N 1986. Since there was no clear-cut winner, it was anyone's guess who would come out on top.

Contest-wise, this was as fun as it was exciting, and as fair as it could possibly be. The owners of the bar went to great lengths to produce a contest in which anyone could enter and have an equal chance at winning.

This was also a leather contest. Leather seems to have a bad name among many Houston men. For whatever reason, there seems to exist misunderstandings about what leather is and stands for. Perhaps this contest would clear up some of those misconceptions, and at the end of registration 16 men had signed up.

In the rehearsal the night before, we all had the opportunity to meet for the first time, and the pressure was on. Here were an attractive group of men, I think an older group as far as contests go. The first thing we did was draw numbers for our respective positions in the line-up. I drew number nine. I didn't know if that was a good omen, but everyone has their own ideas about what is the best position in the line up.

As we walked on stage, it was hard to imagine the next night the bar would be packed. It was. The contest brought out a large crowd, an attractive crowd of leathermen. It was apparent they were ready for a good contest.

The first category was swimsuit. Swimsuits don't hide that much, and I think it was the hardest category to go through, but it felt great to walk across the stage with the crowd cheering. I was more excited than nervous, though, and glad the next category would be casual wear.

Boots Adams, our very capable MC, asked us questions during this category. The crowd was responsive, and the contestants held up to the mounting pressure.

The third category was leather, much anticipated and very well received. On this night, there could be no doubt that leather was alive and well in Houston, Texas. The question we had to answer in this category was "What does leather in 1986 mean to you?" I don't know what the other men said, but I know we had to answer what we felt. It was up to the audience and judges to determine who was sincere and who wasn't.

Glen Webber, Mr. Venture 1986

The wait for the announcement of the winners seemed to go on forever, and certainly by this time the pressure was intense. When we were lined up on the steps, we realized that at this time, it could be anyone's contest. I had at least hoped to place, so when the first and second runner ups were announced, I looked at the group to figure out who would be number one. I wanted it to be me—after all, I did enter with the idea of winning.

It was very thrilling to hear number nine called, and the reality really didn't sink in until I was handed the trophy. I was very proud to be there with Skip and Louis, the two runners up, and proud to be in a contest where our personalities were just as important as our looks. I think the best aspect of this was that everyone had an equal chance at winning.

It takes a lot of courage to enter a contest. The best advice I can give anyone is to be true to your style, be comfortable with yourself—be yourself. You literally have to bare yourself in front of people you probably know. And although winning feels good, being able to face the crowd with pride and confidence feels great. The real winners were the men who entered with me and I share my trophy with them.

As you read this, I will be in Chicago as a contestant in the Mr. International Leather 1986 event. Mary's has a contestant going to Chicago as well, and I know we will both show them true Houston spirit.

The Medicine Chest

Headaches and UTI's

A Weekly Health Column sponsored by the Montrose Clinic, this column is for you, the Voice reader. But the only way we can answer your questions is if we know what they are. Please send your anonymous questions to:

The Medicine Chest
c/o The Montrose Voice
408 Avondale
Houston, TX 77006

The other day I had a really bad headache. How do I know if this is a normal headache or if there is something seriously wrong?

Headaches are very common in adults. The vast majority are caused by muscle tension, migraines or a combination of both. You may treat these with aspirin or an aspirin substitute. Only about 10% of all headaches are a result of an underlying physical problem. You should consult a doctor if:

- you have a sudden severe burning, stabbing, bursting, or boring type of head pain;
- you have pain in a specific location;
- you have headaches that are present when you wake up but get better during the day;

- a headache wakes you up;
- a headache is compounded by fever and/or a stiff neck; or
- a headache is accompanied by double vision, weakness, or a numbness, or tingling in the arms or legs.

What is a UTI?

A UTI is a urinary tract infection. It involves the kidneys or bladder. The symptoms of a minor bladder infection are:

- discomfort or burning with urination;
  - sense of urgent need to urinate; or
  - discomfort in the lower abdomen.
- The symptoms of a kidney infection are:
- fever or chills; or
  - pain in the upper back or side.

Antibiotics are necessary to cure either form of UTI. Call a doctor as soon as you suspect a UTI. Delaying treatment will only cause the symptoms and infection to worsen. In the meantime, drink plenty of liquids, especially water and cranberry juice.

To prevent UTI's, always drink plenty of fluids, and make sure you empty your bladder after intercourse.

'Ain't Misbehavin'' is Vampy, not Campy

By Bill O'Rourke
Montrose Voice Theater Critic

Ain't Misbehavin' (TUTS at the Music Hall) is a sultry, smokey and, yes, sexy cabaret show.

This is a revue of Fats Waller's music. Don't expect a plot or many spoken words. Do expect vampy but not campy, toe-tapping tunes. This is the blues side of the big jazz sound.

Don't expect a large gospel influence, either. This isn't all Loungin' at the Waldorf, but it is all understated.

It's a little adrift in the huge sea of the Music Hall. Sit close or don't go at all, even as silky smooth as this show is. One can easily understand why producer Frank Young wants a permanent home for TUTS, which is only two-thirds this size.

The cast, all imported, makes the music feel tailor-made for them.

Ken Prymus, a lovably big, bluff man, played the Lion in The Wiz. He has the feel of a bold, brave teddy bear. Even during his cut-down song, "Your Feet's Too Big," you'd love to know him personally.

Suave Andre de Shields was the title character in The Wiz. He has a second-act solo dance in a song about a mile-long marijuana joint. His body flows bonelessly, gracefully along the stage.

From back where I was sitting, the ladies, though flawless, were just a little interchangeable. Still, I loved them all—Gail Boggs, Debra Byrd and Armelia McQueen (whom you will remember from last season's Cabin in the Sky).

Just thinking back on this evening, with its wonderfully evocative Richard Maltby Jr. direction, makes me feel like I'm high, sitting in a smoky bar around 3:00 a.m. with a scotch and soda in my hand and the piano player smiling and winking at me 'cause he sees my hunky-stud boyfriend come walking through the door behind me.

Andre de Shields and Armelia McQueen

(These people put four hyphens in "Honeysuckle-Rose.")

Do go, but if you have to sit very far back, pay a visit to Showtix first.

□ Notes

I really expected The Best Little Whorehouse in Texas to be extended through this weekend. I really enjoyed it, but I won't tell you how much. It's no good my lordling it over those unfortunate enough never to have seen this show on stage. . . .

Manchester is currently hosting England's first-ever production of Pacific Overtures, which Houston saw last fall at Stages.

In London, Cameron Mackintosh will probably stage the first Follies sometime soon. TUTS has definitely scheduled Follies for next Spring.

Meanwhile in New York, one of the leading off-Broadway comedies is about nuns—a bogus benefit variety show put on by the "Little Sisters of Hoboken (aka the Little Hobos)", Nunsense. In Houston, the leading late night comedy is about a nun, too—Sister Mary Ignatius.

And some people don't think Houston's in the running! . . .

What do Stage's Talley and Son and TUTS' Ain't Misbehavin' have in common? Each is the 100th production of its respective theater! . . .

The A.D. Players start their tour of Europe this week. They'll be taking their Christian repertoire to Germany, Switzerland, Scotland and England. . . .

The Alley's dynamite Orphans, which would have closed Sunday, has been extended through June 8. . . .

To make up for losing Big River (and how!), PACE will be ending this season with Ben Vereen in Pippin! As if that weren't enough, they'll be bringing Cats to Houston in October! . . .

Jim Siedow, an actor/director whose work is often seen at Theater Suburbia, is acting in The Texas Chainsaw Massacre II, currently shooting in Austin. . . .

The Moody Gallery is showing works by George Green through June 14. . . .

Classes: U. St. Thomas (non-credit); Screenwriting (begins 5/26), adult acting (5/27), and teenage acting (6/10); 522-7911 x305. . . .

This is the third and final call for nominations for my Best of the Season column. If you want your voice heard, get a letter telling me about your favorite actor, actress, production, etc. into the VOICE offices by noon June 6. . . .

Good reading for you

from

A · L · Y · S · O · N PUBLICATIONS

COWBOY BLUES, by Stephen Lewis, $7.00. Jake Lieberman is a gay detective in the typical California tradition. When a 45-year-old cowboy comes into his office to report that his younger partner is missing, Jake's first impulse is to gently explain to the guy that he's been dumped. But soon is investigation shows that Andy Jones's disappearance is only part of a much wider scheme. The only question is: Will Jake live to uncover it all?

SAFESTUD

The safesex chronicles of Max Exander.

SAFESTUD: The safesex chronicles of Max Exander, by Max Exander, $7.00. Max Exander's first reaction to the idea of safe sex is disappointment. But with time, he finds that the change from his old habits can be invigorating in unexpected ways.

THE TWO OF US, by Larry J. Uhrig, $7.00. A practical handbook about how to make a gay or lesbian relationship work, with special emphasis on the religious aspects of gay unions.

DANCER DAWKINS AND THE CALIFORNIA KID, by Willyce Kim, $6.00. In Bangor, Maine, Little Willie Gutherie renames herself The California Kid, stocks up on Rubbles Dubble bubble gum and her father's best Havana cigars and heads west. "Willyce Kim has created a wonderful, rip-roaring Western lesbian adventure that left me warm, tickled and hoping she writes a dozen more. I loved it," writes Judy Grahn.

MURDER IS MURDER IS MURDER, by Samuel M. Steward, $7.00. This unusual mystery sends Gertrude Stein and Alice B. Toklas sleuthing through the French countryside, attempting to solve the mysterious disappearance of a man who is their neighbor and the father of their handsome deaf-mute gardener. A new and very different treat from the author of the Phil Andros stories.

STOLEN MOMENTS, by John Preston, $5.00. Who says heroes can't be gay? In the fourth of the "Mission of Alex Kane" series, Kane and his partner Danny Fortelli head for Houston. There, they take on a media baron who is intent on using homophobia to build his tabloid's circulation.

Also available: Sweet Dreams, Golden Years and Deadly Lies; each starring Alex and Danny, $5.00 each.

EIGHT DAYS A WEEK, by Larry Duplechan, $7.00. Johnnie Ray Rousseau is a 22-year-old black gay pop singer whose day starts at 11 pm. Keith Keller is a white banker with a 10 o'clock bedtime — and muscles to die for. This story of their love affair is one of the most engrossing — and funniest — you'll ever read.

THE MOVIE LOVER, by Richard Friedel, $6.95. Burton Raider's problems begin in high school when he realizes he's in love with his friend Roman. As he gets older, the problems increase — and so does the humor of his situation, in what Christopher Street calls "the funniest gay novel of the year."

MURDER IS MURDER IS MURDER, by Samuel M. Steward, $7.00. This unusual mystery sends Gertrude Stein and Alice B. Toklas sleuthing through the French countryside, attempting to solve the mysterious disappearance of a man who is their neighbor and the father of their handsome deaf-mute gardener. A new and very different treat from the author of the Phil Andros stories.

THE LIONS' DEN, by Larry Howard, $8.00. As a closeted college professor, Daniel has resigned himself to a life of loneliness. He even fights off the advances of a gay student, Matthew Reid — for a time. Finally, however, he decides to risk all in order to be faithful to himself.

HOT LIVING: Erotic stories about safe sex, edited by John Preston, $8.00. The AIDS crisis has closed off some forms of sexual activity for health-conscious gay men, but it has also encouraged many men to look for new forms of sexual expression. Here, over a dozen of today's most popular gay writers erotically describe those new possibilities.

STUD, by Phil Andros, with an introduction by John Preston, $6.95. Phil Andros is a hustler with a conscience, pursuing every form of sex — including affection — without apology.

THE PEARL BASTARD, by Lillian Halegua, $4.00. Frankie is fifteen when she leaves her large, suffocating Catholic family in the inner city for Montauk, work, and the sea. This story of her sudden entry into a harsh maturity is told with a simplicity of style reminiscent of The Color Purple.

MEDITERRANEO, by Tony Patrioli, $12.50. Through some 46 photos, Italian photographer Tony Patrioli explores the homo-erotic territory in which, since the beginning of time, adolescent boys have discovered sex. (Oversize paperback)

ONE TEENAGER IN TEN: Writings by gay and lesbian youth, edited by Ann Heron, $4.00. Twenty-eight young people from all over the US and Canada, mostly in high school, share their coming-out experiences.

IN THE TENT, by David Rees, $6.00. Seventeen-year-old Tim realizes that he is attracted to his classmate Aaron, but, still caught up in the guilt of a Catholic upbringing, he has no idea what to do about it. Then in the middle of a camping trip, a storm traps the two of them in a tent with two other boys, and the issues can no longer be avoided.

J.O.E.

The Society of J.O.E. is a private organization which hosts a safe sex erotic encounter group three nights a week. Admission is limited to members. Because visual stimulation among members is part of the atmosphere, there are physical (and mental) conditions which must be met to be a member.

PHYSICAL: You must be reasonably attractive. You must not be excessively overweight. You must not be elderly.

MENTAL: You must be an out-of-the-closet gay male—an open gay community member. You must be self-confident about your sexuality.

Now here's what J.O.E. is! In the past 2 months, J.O.E. has signed up over 100 members. At J.O.E. meetings, you'll find an erotic atmosphere, you find attractive gay men, and you'll find strictly Safe Sex—in only one form, which you should be able to guess from our initials. At J.O.E., you'll find gay men celebrating gay male sexual camaraderie. And you'll find no closets.

Let us put it this way: If you know what J.O.E. is, you'll probably enjoy J.O.E. If you are not sure, you might enjoy a J.O.E. meeting. But if it all seems a little weird to you, you definitely would not enjoy J.O.E.

MEETINGS

Friday Night, beginning 10pm (no admission after 1am)

Sunday Night, beginning 8pm (no admission after 9pm)

Monday Night, beginning 8pm (no admission after 9pm)

For the address and more information call 520-0206. Membership fee is $1. Dues per visit are $5.

PHONE SEX

Our service connects guys 24 hrs. a day. No models or scripts. Hot live action. Call now. (415) 346-8747.

Don't take those pictures of your boyfriend to the drug store. Bring them to Henry's 1-Hour Photo, 428 Westheimer, for confidential photo developing and printing. We promise Big, Bright and Beautiful Prints... as clear and sharp as possible.

OUR POLICY on Sexually-Explicit Advertising: The Montrose Voice does not believe that humans engaging in consenting sexual acts with one another is immoral. Our readers are encouraged to advertise here to seek relationships, encounters, adventures, etc. All advertising should, however, not contain language that would offend an unsuspecting reader.

A CLASSIFIED AFFAIR?

John Preston and Frederick Brandt can show you how to have active fun or play passive games with the personal ads. In their book, "Classified Affairs," they'll tell you how to write an ad that really stands out, what to expect when you place or respond to an ad, and even what all those funny little abbreviations mean. Send $8 to "Classified Affairs," Alyson Pub. Dept. P-5, 40 Plympton, St. Boston, MA 02118. (Also included will be a coupon for $5 off on your next Personals in your choice of 25 gay publications, including the Montrose Voice.)

PLAY SAFE

Safe sex is fun, erotic. Play safe, for your sake, for your partner's sake.

Montrose Soap

Memorable Memorial Memories to be Made

By the staff of the Montrose Voice

Many items appear in Soap out of commercial consideration

Many activities this Memorial Weekend are for the benefit of the AIDS Foundation. On Sunday, it's the Diana's "Aloha Shamrock" party 1pm to 6pm at the Shamrock Hilton. Then that night it's the second annual Encore Party at 9pm at Numbers.

And it continues Monday. The 3 P's Party at Marys starts 3pm. Then, at 8:30 Monday Night, it's serious: The "Celebration of Life" candlelight vigil on the steps of City Hall. (Similar vigils will be taking place elsewhere around the country and the world.)

It's "proclamation season" in Houston. The Colt 45's received Mayor Kathy's proclamation for May 9 and 10 being designated Colt 45 Inc. of Houston Days. And Monday, May 19, was designated AIDS Foundation Houston Volunteer Appreciation Day. Councilmember George Greanias was on hand for both presentations.

That volunteer appreciation party for the AIDS Foundation was held at Fonda San Miguel Monday and was fun! Good times, great food donated by local eateries, and such a fine group of caring people.

Mother Tia is said to have sandblasted Maria's face—and rather cheaply at that—at the Ripcord last week.

K.J.'s out on Airline has a BBQ and volleyball games again this Sunday, starting 3pm. Then, later that night, their famous lip sync contest.

Dickie of Mary's: You must remember to load the camera before taking photos. ... Ah, speaking of photos, Remember Henry's One Hour Photos on Whitney right behind Michael's on Westheimer. They now have all their equipment fine tuned and humming perfectly to give you big, bright and beautiful prints—in one hour.

Best of luck to Jerry Wieburg and Glen Webber at the Mr. International Leather Contest in Chicago.

Birthdays, birthdays: Happy 21st to Donna Lynn Coburn from Louise at Kwik Wash. Happy B'day to Steve Meert (Outlaws) from the Daniels Distillery in Tennessee. And last but not least, the 3 P's: Patti, Pickles and Pearl.

The Ranch's Becky and Betsy tell us that everyone is equally welcome at the new Ranch—where now there is no cover. As they say, it's the Cool Home of Hot Country.

Who is it this week? Mary's customer of the week? It's Fred Eckhoff. Way to go Fred.

Curtis Dickson receives proclamation from Councilmember George Greanias

Sure it is! Anything you say.

And on Wednesday night, Gary of the Ripcord and Pickles of Marys come face to face over the pool table at Mary's. It should be a rat comb duel at 10 paces!

The Ripcord has a large economy bar of Ivory soap for Ron's mouth during pool tournaments. Also Gary has given a new definition to the word "foul" with Ron running a close second. Rick was seen making himself a new sandbox outside the Ripcord just in case he couldn't make it in time.

The Venture N's bare chest night is packing them in on Wednesdays, beginning at 8pm. No shirt gets you happy hour prices and who knows—maybe a knight to remember.

Well, movie nights are back at Mary's. A popular tradition lives on at the Montrose institution, "Sweet Dreams." Patsy, you never looked lovelier. Movies are scheduled every two weeks on the patio, naturally.

Don't be a memory this Memorial Day Weekend. Don't drink and drive. But if you do get carried away, call a cab. We want you to be here to read us next week.
