

NOMINATIONS ARE IN ORDER FOR EDITORS

Students Must Submit
Candidates' Names
To Committee

Nominations for editor of the Cougar and assistant editor and business manager of the annual for next year will be taken today until 6:15 p. m., at which time the Student Council will meet to approve qualifications of nominees. Douglas Carter and Algerine Allen head the nominating committee, assisted by Joe Camp and Roy Much. All nominations should be turned in to this committee.

Those students who are eligible to run in the election will be posted on the bulletin board until next Friday, at which time the election will be held under the direction of the council in front of the conservatory from 4 until 9.

Jane Rogers, assistant editor of the Cougar, has been nominated as the staff nominee for editor of the Cougar. Jack Palmer has been nominated to run as staff nominee for the Houstonian.

To be editor of the Cougar, one must have had a staff position for one year; must have had at least the first year journalism course with the second in progress; must have a C average; and must carry two or more courses.

Assistant editor and business manager of the annual must be of Junior or Senior standing; must have had previous experience; must have attended the University one year preceding the election; must be in good standing; and must be carrying at least three courses.

University Annual Will Be Distributed Last Week of School

The Houstonian, University of Houston annual, will be ready for distribution the last week of school, according to Douglas Carter, editor. Publication and binding of the book is well under way.

Due to tardiness in arrival of important copy, the official deadline for Student Annual sales has been re-established several times. However, the late registration of copy has made the 1937 Houstonian, the most current and timely publication of its type in the history of the University. Cost for the publication has exceeded $1,000.

PWA APPROVES U. APPLICATION FOR BUILDINGS

School Board Must Begin Building
Before Jan. 1

Application for aid in constructing permanent buildings for the University of Houston has been approved by the Public Works Administration, according to unofficial report received from Washington, May 4th.

The Houston School Board, which administers the affairs of the City University put in application for aid. Chairman E. D. Shepherd stated Tuesday "that the board has no official response."

The University will be required to put the entire amount of the cost of the building on deposit in a Houston bank, because of the change in set-up for aid to public institutions. The PWA will refund to the University the amount it will spend for payrolls during construction.

Because of the terms under the University gift site at Calhoun road, St. Bernard St., and North MacGregor drive, the school board will have to begin building before January 1, 1938.

It is the plan of the school board to deposit $165,000 for the first building, and complete this project before beginning the second. It will cost about $135,000. Cash for the first project is on hand now, University officials said. Of this amount $100,000 is in University fund and $65,000 has been loaned from a local bank. If the government aids in the labor nothing will stand in the way of erecting the first building, according to the University heads.

Library Refunds To Be Made Soon

Dr. C. F. Hiller, University bursar, asks that students see him during the week beginning May 31 about refunds for library and laboratory fees. Personal application is necessary to receive these refunds.

The student has only to sign the list that will be in Dr. Hiller's possession to receive the money.

"It is important to both the students and the office that this matter be attended to promptly," stated Dr. Hiller. "The office will appreciate the students' co-operation."

Director of Social Security Board Urges Student Application for Numbers

"College students who plan to enter industrial and commercial employment for the first time this summer should apply now for Social Security account numbers," Oscar M. Powell, regional director of the Social Security Board, said today.

"Many young men and women will be graduated from colleges within the next week or two and will take regular employment. Some not graduating this year will work during the vacation period and others will be employed part time. As monthly retirement benefits, payable at age 65, are determined solely on the basis

National Dramatic Society Enact Sparkling Comedy As Last Show

Actors Enjoy Tasty Chicken—
Endure After-Dinner Speeches

To the succulent crunch of a tasty chicken dinner and amid the aimless chatter of obnoxious after-dinner orators, the Red Masque Players enjoyed their fourth annual post-theatrical season banquet last night at Le Blanc's. Wilbur Smith and Algerine Allen, presidents of the Red Masque Players and National Collegiate Dramatic Society, respectively, officiated as masters of ceremonies.

About fifty members of both the Red Masque Players and the N. C. D. S. were present. Awards were presented by Mr. L. Standlee Mitchell to members of the organization for outstanding work.

Mavis Anderson was presented a cup for the highest honors. Red Masque pins were presented to Edythe Reddick, Jimmie Julian, Hoga Walter, Miriam Smith, Nat Davis, and Carl Lieb.

CAREFREE PLAY CLIMAXES STUDY SCIENCE CLASS

Climaxing a season of serious study with an afternoon of carefree play, the biology students and former students of Mr. Lyle T. Hooker will hold an outing at Galveston. The group will meet at 3 p. m. on west beach about five miles from the west end of the seawall.

About seventy-five students are expected to attend. Parents of the students have been extended a special invitation to be present.

Each couple must bring their own lunch. Although the affair is limited to students of the biology classes, it is not a sponsored affair. Most of the couples will probably come to Galveston anyway, stated the committee, and the meeting place would make it convenient for them to all have a more enjoyable time.

The biologists will entertain themselves by going swimming, playing games, studying the animal and mineral structure along the beach.

Students Apply For Transcripts

Students wanting transcripts or certificates at the close of school make applications immediately with Mrs. Pearl Bender or some member of the office. DO NOT make your applications with Mrs. Pearl McMullen.

No applications for the delivery of these transcripts for June 5 will be taken after May 31.

"I wish to announce to the seniors graduating in June or August that there will be a meeting at Miller Memorial Theatre in Hermann Park, Friday evening, May 28, at 6:30, for the purpose of practicing for the Graduation Program," stated N. K. Dupre, dean. "Since caps and gowns will be issued at this time for the Baccalaureate service and Graduation exercises, full directions for the program given, and places in the line of march assigned, this meeting must be made compulsory. Please be on time.

"The Baccalaureate service will be held in the First Christian Church, 1503 Main, at 10:45 a. m. Sunday, May 30.

"Graduation exercises will be held at 6:30 p. m. Tuesday, June 1, at Miller Memorial Open Air Theatre in Hermann Park.

"The senior breakfast will be held at the Carolina Pines, at 8:30 Sunday morning, May 30. Class dues receipts will serve as tickets for this occasion. Reservations must be made in the office."

Professor Halden Will Resume Work At U. of H. Monday

Professor Leon G. Halden, chairman of the social science department of the University of Houston, will return to his government classes Monday, according to Mrs. Pearl C. Bender, registrar.

The University granted Professor Halden a two weeks leave of absence on May 8 to permit him to accept the invitation of the office of education of the Department of Interior to lecture in several southern states.

Mr. Halden, who is a recognized authority in the field of government and the author of several text books on politics and governmental problems, was invited to speak to the Atlanta Public Forum, which was to be the headquarters for his tour.

The University received a short communication from Mr. Halden stating that he had arrived safely and had addressed the student body of the University of Georgia.

Mrs. Halden accompanied the professor on the tour, the itinerary of which had not been definitely arranged when they left.

DAVIS' PLAY FEATURES LEAD "SISSIFIED" BOY

Writer Hails Actors;
Terms Production
One of Best

By Harry Johnston

"Apron Strings," written by Dorance Davis, directed by L. S. Mitchell, and enacted by the Red Masque cast of the National Collegiate Dramatic Society, brought to an end a successful dramatic season Wednesday and Thursday nights of this week in the San Jacinto auditorium.

The play itself, a sparkling comedy, stands far above any Ringmaster Mitchell has picked out for production this year. The story centers around a pampered, sissified young man who all his life has lived according to the instructions of his mother. When she dies, she leaves him a trunk full of letters telling him what to do under any and all conditions.

He marries, but his wife leaves him two weeks later because he hasn't kissed her yet. Mainly due to the efforts of his lawyer, the young man forgets his mother's instructions one night and becomes intoxicated. In this condition his wife finds him, is overjoyed, and they effect a reconciliation for the happy ending.

Stillman Taylor captured acting honors in the role of Daniel Curtis, the young man who was tied to his mother's apron strings. He was handicapped in the first two acts mainly due to the poor performance of Mavis Anderson, who repeatedly gave him the wrong cues, but by the third act he had come into his own. His portrayal of a person under the influence was the best I've seen at the San Jacinto auditorium yet.

Evidently, Miss Anderson's acting has been effected by her award as

All Freshmen and Sophomore students who are taking three or more courses with the exception of those who entered in January of this year are required to take the co-operative test again.

This test will be given on Monday and Tuesday in four periods. Students may select any two periods of the four. Monday there will be one at four and one at seven with the same hours for Tuesday.

ALUMNI CHALLENGE ENDOWMENT

State-supported colleges and universities flourish—wealthy individuals and foundations skyrocket their growth with gifts of large sums of money. They are heavily endowed.

When the University of Houston is situated on its own campus, the question of endowment is inevitable. While, though, up to this point, the main topic of discussion has been the future of the University, no mention has been made of such an accumulation of funds.

With approaching commencement exercises, this is a particularly timely subject. Within a few weeks a large group of students will have completed their course of study and will be ready to join the ranks of alumni.

An active alumni association is a means of obtaining funds to further the progress of an educational institution. Before any individual or foundation will recognize and contribute to a school, the worthiness of the college must be proven. Only the alumni through their interest and effort can establish this fact.

Educational institutions are founded to fulfill the demands of ambitious youth. The University occupies a unique position in regard to its plan of operation. Its accomplishments are commendable and immeasurable. This school has opened its doors of learning to a group who otherwise would be unable to pursue study in their chosen field of endeavor. A large percentage of the University student body are employed and are attending college in an effort to prepare themselves for advancement in their particular business or to fit themselves for a position in a different type of work.

Students who have taken advantage of the opportunities offered by the University should be eager to express their appreciation. They came to the University seeking knowledge—now the University must look to them for assistance. Why not organize an ACTIVE alumni association—not only would the school profit from this, but students would gleam a certain amount of pleasure through continuing association with their former classmates.

COURAGE OR INSANITY?

Carmen Stone

Explosions! Crashes! Collisions! The fatal weapons of death are wielded against us every day. We know how and why they occur, yet we, daring Americans and citizens of other countries, keep on supporting them.

I have in mind the terrible disaster of the Hindenberg that happened two weeks ago. Approximately fifty lives were lost, others are dying, still others will never be normal human beings again, yet when the second Hindenberg is completed and starts on its first voyage, it will be filled to capacity with passengers. Of course, it is possible that a similar disaster will never happen to the Hindenberg the second time, but we have no assurance.

In a recent scientific calculation it was estimated that within the next few years the larger percentage of people will be insane. Will it be courageous or insane passengers that will board the air liners and steam liners for a happy voyage? Personally, I admire them. Most of us are prone to be adventurous, but when our lives are at stake only those with a daring courage get on board.

If we don't realize it already we will be made to realize that there is a Supernatural Power that is greater than the greatest of men. He knows the whys of all disasters and when we give him full recognition and consideration I think our adventures will be successful. These weapons of death seem unjust, but who are we to judge?

Away With Books
 And Off—
 To Bay Party

Day school students last Friday declared a holiday, discarded their books and pencils, and trekked down to the Red Bluff bay home of Ruth Nell Minster for their annual May-day.

For the past three years the picnic has been the highlight of the General College social season and the affair Friday took a back-seat to neither of the two that have been held before.

There was food enough for a crowd twice the size of the General College student body. There was a softball game that included even professors Hiller, Miller and Johnston. There was horse-shoe pitching and card-playing. The sensational new game of Fiddlestix came in for its share of glory. Swimming, the old standby, attracted the majority.

Of course, red bugs and sun-burned backs must be mentioned, but they were overlooked in the din—last Friday, anyway.

The picnic broke up about 6 in the evening, and the majority returned in time for the Cougar Collegian dance. It was a day that will long be remembered by day school students.

JUST FIFTY FOLDS

Get a large sheet of tissue paper (which, as a rule, is about 1-1000 inch in thickness) and fold it once. The thickness of the paper is now 1-500 inch. Two or more folds and the thickness is increased to 1-125 of an inch. Another fold and you have 1-62 inch and now the folds become too hard to manage.

But let us imagine, for the sake of argument, that you have folded the paper ten times. It is now about one inch thick and if the sheet of paper was originally 32 inches square it is now down to one inch square. A cubic inch of paper is not foldable, of course, but—for the sake of more argument—let us continue with more imaginative folds.

After the 20th fold, the paper will be about 90 feet thick, and after the 24th fold it will be taller than the Empire State Building, and so on.

That piece of tissue paper folded 53 times would equal the distance from the earth to the sun, a matter of 93,000,000 miles.

To end here with a one-inch square piece of paper, we would have to start with a sheet, 2,480,000 square miles, which takes in most of the United States and a large part of Canada as well.

PUZZLE

In a certain village all Blackfeet Indians tell lies. All Crows tell the truth. Three Indians came before the Crow Chief. The chief asked the first who he was. He muttered something the chief couldn't hear. The second Indian told the chief the first one said, "I am a Blackfoot." The third said the second was a Crow. Of the three Indians, who and how many were Blackfeet or Crows?

MIND IN THE GUTTER

One of the greatest engineering feats in the world is the sewers of Paris. An idea of what the 700 miles of underground passage is like was given in Les Miserables by Victor Hugo, when his immortal character, Jean Val Jean, escaped from his captors. Today, tourists may travel far beneath Paris in boats. It is indeed a thrill to glide over the black swirling waters, which for hundreds of years have been intermingled with the history of France.

Last year, 1017 persons undertook this trip, which starts at the Place De La Concarde and finishes below Madeline church.

Producers Offer
 Radio Conductor
 Cinema Contract

Andre Kostelanetz, conductor of the Chesterfield Broadcasts over CBS, Wednesdays, at 9:00 p. m., E.D.S.T., has been engaged by Paramount Pictures to do the concert sequences in ARTISTS AND MODELS, the 1937 version of the all-star line-up featuring Jack Benny, Burns and Allen and other outstanding radio personalities.

Counting upon Kostelanetz' versatile abilities, this new picture, to be released early in the fall, will provide the famed Chesterfield conductor with an important role... a real sustaining part instead of a short feature bit.

The idea is current in Hollywood that Paramount will spare no effort to capture the coveted annual awards of the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences given to actors, directors, pictures and musicians, and many of their hopes are pinned on ARTISTS AND MODELS.

As usual, Mr. Kostelanetz went to Hollywood by plane, following a Chesterfield broadcast. He will remain there less than a week, crowding all the scenes in which he appears into 6 "shooting" days, and returning in time to conduct the program on the following week. The spring series of Chesterfield programs is starring Lily Pons, lovely coloratura soprano, accompanied by the Chesterfield chorus.

Society

Jane Jennings was honored with a dinner part at the main dining room of the Rice Hotel on Wednesday evening, in celebration of her birthday.

Those included in the group were Mitchell Cantrell, Jerry Bentley, Greer Hubbard, Kathryn Greer, and Ralph Pierce.

The table was centered with joanna hill roses on a background of sweet peas and larkspurs.

Captain and Mrs. Archie W. French, assisted by Mrs. Pearl McMullen, entertained with an open house Tuesday, honoring the spring and summer graduates.

Queen Anne's lace in a silver bowl formed the centerpiece of the table, and white tapers in silver candlesticks added to the decoration.

Dorothy French, aided by Wilma Humphrey, served the refreshments.

Honoring Don K. Miller, treasurer, the Squires gave a progressive dinner beginning at LeBlanc's Cafe, Saturday night. All of the members and their dates joined in wishing Miller "a very happy birthday."

Following the dinner, Mrs. A. D. Kerr, mother of Mr. Miller, had a very unique birthday party suitable for the occasion. Members of the club were entertained by Mr. Kerr, a capable amateur magician.

There will be a meeting of the club Sunday at 7 p. m. at the home of Robert Howard, 3317 Underwood Boulevard.

CAMPUS CHATTER

By Harry Johnston

We dusted off our dictionary and deciphered Alexander Gardner's obdurate opus last week, and—bah jove!—now we quite agree that Alexander is the wittiest young chap in these heah parts!

If you'll brush up on your memory, you'll note that Alexander's ditty came some five weeks after this column exposed the real truth behind the Beau Ugly contest. Alexander HAD to wait that long before publishing an answer. Why? He was saving enough to purchase a copy of Zwyleski Kastarasky's "What to Do When Attacked by a Superior," from which he obtained the piece he published last Friday under the Owl Gardner head, simply substituting our name. And he actually terms himself a writer!

Mrs. E. E. Oberholter, a very gracious lady, took Dr. Hiller down a couple of notches at the Soph banquet the other night. . . . She was the final speaker and began with: "I've enjoyed the speeches so much, especially Dr. Hiller's. He's so child-like!" . . . We talked with Mrs. E. E. at the Cougar ollegian dance Friday night, and she, for one, is desirous of having weekly dances at the U. of H. . . . Here's hoping she does something about it. . . . Incidentally, that Soph banquet was one of the most enjoyable we ever attended. . . . It was run through very quickly and there was never a dull moment. Probably the most redeeming feature was that speakers were limited to five minutes. . . . Mrs. Stafford and Miss Pennybacker were late. Hope they'll remember that the next time we show up late to class. . . . And they forgot us when they passed out the cocktail forks. But we can take it. . . . Roger Jeffery, as master of ceremonies, gave full credit to Vivian Kissen. But went on to say that she got him out of his sickbed forty times that day. "And if you've ever had to get up forty times in one day," he added—the crowd roared—"to answer the telephone," Rog concluded.

"Cheap publicity," Don Miller, the treasurer, terms recent Cougar opinions of his activities in the Squires. He further says the Squires was organized as a social club because the University needed one. We asked him if a membership of twenty-five members was the type club needed, for which he had no answer. We like you fine, personally, Don, but your defense smells bad. . . . They tell us the Dot Hester-Bob Holberg affair is just about smasher. Too bad. . . . It's Fiddlestix now, and what a game! There was a set at the day school bay party last Friday, with everyone crowding around to play. Bucky McDaniel and your scribbler have put in many hours sprawled over those sticks. . . . Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Dean—She used to be Juanita Dickinson—are looking pert since their recent hook-up. . . . Another couple who took the vows: M. J. Barnett and Ada Dickey. Best wishes!

Stop everything—Larry Stephens had a package of cigarettes the other day. Really! Louise must have got her bracelets. . . . Jack Palmer is another photographer. He's got the bug. . . . Jimmy Allbritton, the gent Gaynelle Furley will wed, is one of the cafe Allbrittons, and will open one of his own when the wedding bells ring. . . . Lois Fuller, former University student, informs us she's slipping. We feel for you, Lois. . . . Harry Botts and Frances LeBlanc have worked up a case. . . . The reason the soph banquet was transferred to the Plaza Hotel at the last minute, dear readers, was simply because Mary Catherine Bruhl didn't like the piano at Ye Old College Inn. Tut, tut. . . . Jesse Bullock went to a dance the other night—believe it or not, as Mr. Ripley would say. . . . Ann Murray is going steady with some guy who, they tell us, isn't on the rolls of the University. . . . So Gustav Japhet steps up in defense of the Squires. At the Collegian knee-knocker he flicked the ash off his cigarette, managed a pale smile, rambled on for fifteen minutes, and said NOTHING.

Personally, we don't think much of these people who smile and gush and coo at you, then turn around and stick the well-known gig in your back. Do you? . . . Dan Miller's going to Paris this summer and Indian the next. . . . What's happened to Horace Spain? One of the most playful last year, we seldom ever see him this year, and never at a dance. . . . That party of aMrgery Schumann's last night was a whiz-bang, take it from us. . . . The day schoolers showed us Monday night at Lubbock Field that perhaps our write-ups of their games are just a bit unjust. But then, again, it was their best game of the year, even though they didn't come out with the high score. . . . In case you might wonder, Al Gardner goes through the Roseland door on business, not to see what color the girls are. . . . When will Nelda Eaves announce her engagement to Joe Morris? . . . Prof. Talley didn't make that trip to Austin last week-end after all. A faculty meeting intervened. Perhaps this week. . . . Betty Martin's showing everybody that engagement ring from Warren Rich. The big jump'll take place next fall. . . . And but three or four months ago, Betty and Bob Stafford were to become Mr. and Mrs. Ha! . . . Al Aron and Bessie Lewis say it's not true that they'll be engaged soon. Now, let us tell a little bed-time story.

the best actress in the recent Inter-collegiate contest. Wednesday night her performance was inferior to many acted by players considered of much less ability. Several times she seemed to lapse into her part of Rose Delaune in "The River."

The girl's parents, John Olwell and Mrs. Olwell, were well portrayed by Nat Davis and Edythe Reddick. Mr. Davis as the gum-chewing father was particularly effective. Eugene Snapp as the lawyer closed his dramatic career with a satisfactory performance. His appearance wasn't exactly what would be expected of a brilliant lawyer who had a yen for wine, women and song, but his interpretation of the role made up for that fault. Another who wrote finis to her Red Masque efforts, Sally Powers, had a minor part as the wise-cracking Inez Wakefield, but she did well. Miriam Smith donned the same old maid's clothes she's used on several other occasions and enacted the role of Hester, the maid.

The entire play took place in the Olwell living room, and the set was one of the most attractive of any play this year or last. Set-designer, Robert Talley, with the assistance of Carl Lieb, did himself proud.

Aesculopian Is Name Chosen For P. E. And H. E. Organization

Aesculopians, the official name chosen by the Health and Physical Education organization, met Monday, May 17. E. A. Snapp, president, appointed Marguerite Brown chairman of a committee to select a symbol for the Aesculopian pins.

A program to be given in the near future and several social events were the main topics of discussion at the meeting.

Sponsors of the club include those instructors in the fields of Health and Education, namely, Miss Virginia Clampitt, Miss Helen Byington and Mr. Archie W. French. Honorary sponsor is Miss Irene Speiss, graduate of the University of Houston and an interested follower of the activities of the club.

The next meeting of the club will be May 26 in the cafeteria.

OUR MODERN FADS! ARE WE CIVILIZED?

Pointed teeth, birth control, no birth control, petticoats with lace trimming showing, rings in our noses, kitchens in front of the house, these are a few of the fads and problems that confront our intelligence and opinions at the present moment. Nice, even, teeth have been the cry of dentists and females since the beginning of time, yet suggestions are being made today that we have our teeth filed to a point.

We must have birth control, cry the rulers of our great nations—the census is lamenting because we don't have enough children coming in to fill our schools, etc. Mother spent both time and money to carefully cover her petticoat, but the latest fashion in evening dress today shows the petticoat hanging below the dress.

I think we'll need the ring in our noses to ward off the lousy smell of some of our modern fads. Someone said we're living in a period of adjustment. Adjustment for better or for worse? Just as we girls get our straps adjusted and the boys their suspenders, time marches on and we have to unstrap again. Could it be that we aren't civilized yet? Will Japan or China have to send missionaries to us?

Louise Standley Heads Committee

Louise Standley was appointed chairman of the nominating committee for the new fall term officers of the Houstonian Club. Betty Martin, vice president, took charge of the meeting held Wednesday when Marie Fuqua, president, was unable to attend.

Students Touch-up General Education With Examinations

Day school sophomores put the near finishing touches to their two year general education when they were subjected yesterday and today to comprehensive examinations covering the four general subjects prescribed in the day school curriculum. The courses covered included Physical Science, Biological Science, Language and Fine Arts and Social Science.

Sophomore classes were suspended for the two days the tests were given.

Monday and Tuesday, both the freshmen and sophomores will take the Co-operative tests which are a part of a state-wide testing program. Classes will be held as usual, except during the time the examinations are in progress.

The gym is getting rather dead, along with the rest of the school, and there is a good reason for that, anyway. It first became noticeable when the administration put a ban on basketball, and is steadily on the increase. The barring of the court games which was expected to bring droves of girl gymnasts into the gym, instead, caused many of the male students to forsake this once popular spot. Seems about time for some constructive action on the matter. . . . Wish these gym assistants would have the ping pong equipment ready at 4 o'clock instead of at 6. . . . Power of the press: A good example of the value of newspaper training is Paul de Kruif, who writes books about scientists which read much better than most popular novels. His newspaper training has enabled him to present what otherwise would be dry material in a fashion that is easily understood and intensely interesting. . . . And things we can't understand: The failure of the students to take advantage of the swimming pool being open on Tuesdays and Thursdays from 4:30 until 7:00. Only regular customer we know of is GUY HAMILTON, who must have some sense after all (surprise!) . . . It gets tiresome after so long a time. I mean this Beau Ugly feud between GARDNER and JOHNSTON. They're both friends of ours, so this is meant, not as a dirty crack, but rather as a tip. . . . Tops among nicknames: we think that of "Senator" for P. S. REED. "The gentleman from Texas has the floor" (we hope). . . . "SLEEPY" GARCIA thinks "DEEZY" DEAN is a good pitcher, too. . . . The COUGAR COLLEGIANS' DANCE was the most enjoyable of the year for us, because it was fairly well attended but not too crowded. . . . People who get written up in columns are quick to show their anger and correspondingly slow with their gratitude. Those who are thoughtful enough to thank us will be remembered by us. . . . Well, there goes the bell, ending this round, for which we thank the powers that be.

SOFTBALL

Playing their first game under the captainship of Harry Montgomery and Willie Bringhurst and showing vast improvement over their play of late, the General College softball club Monday night at Lubbock Field played the Shell Oilers to a 3-3 dead lock. It was the club's third tie game of the season as against four defeats.

Frank Abbott was on the mound for the University ten and deserved to win the game. He allowed but five hits and was very tight in the pinches. Faulty fielding support kept him from bagging his first victory of the season.

The University was the first to score, when Co-Captain Willie Bringhurst strode up to the plate in the second and knocked a screaming liner to deep left center that was out of reach of the fielders. It was good for four bases. Shell tied the count when they scored a marker in the fourth, then took a two-run lead in the next inning. The University club scored two runs their half of the final frame to tie the game up.

Bringhurst was the hitting star of the contest, connecting for a single besides his four-bagger in three tries at the plate. If there was a fielding star it was Ted O'Leary, big left fielder. In the final stanza he caught a fly off the bat of a Shell man and made a perfect peg to bag a runner off first and stave off a last inning rally by the Shell club that looked for a while as if it would be enough to over-take the University boys.
