

THE SOUTHERN CONSERVATIVE

—To Plead for a Return of Constitutional Government—

Vol. 11

FORT WORTH, TEXAS, MAY, 1960

No. 5

Washington Has Swapped the American Constitution for the Marx Manifesto

THE TRAGEDY OF KOREA ADDS ANOTHER CHAPTER TO OUR SICKENING RECORD

The full story of the fall of Korea is not available because of the restricted and slanted nature of all information furnished by regular communications media and because Washington "diplomats" don't let the people in on the tricky little games they play. The full facts will be revealed only after determined American patriots have dug them out one by one.

Meantime, Syngman Rhee, one of this country's good friends and a dedicated anti-Communist has been forced out of office and his downfall has been approved by the State Department and by administration sentiment in Washington. This leaves us with the unbroken and sickening record of invariably taking sides with pro-Communist forces in any conflict involving the advance of the Soviet menace.

For any human with half a brain cell knows that the uprising of college students in Korea was generated from Moscow just as each and every similar demonstration on a university campus anywhere in the world is inspired and directed by Soviet strategy.

Our alleged excuse for turning against Rhee was, of all things, because of a rigged election in that country in which it was charged that ballot boxes were stuffed in the case of vice presidential candidate Lee Ki-Poong, protege of Rhee, and who committed suicide after the abdication of Rhee, along with his entire family.

Since when have we become so self-righteous about crooked elections? And how much static do we get from the State Department over elections involving United States Senators who achieve their high office by means of stuffed ballot boxes?

In this country when a candidate maneuvers his way into high office by means of dead men's ballots and gets caught in the act, he does not commit suicide in shame and atonement for his crime. He just laughs it off and runs for President.

So why should we get virtuous and go overboard because an election in Korea was not "free"? And why, in view of this lordly attitude, should the President of the United States agree to make a friendly visit to Russia where any one even suggesting a "free" election would be lined up against the wall and shot? Or to Paris to take part in a diplomatic crap game where the dice are loaded in favor of Khrushchev, the world's most deadly opponent of "free" elections?

The whole situation in Korea smells to high heaven and makes thoughtful Americans wonder if the last remaining anti-Communist head of an Asian State, Chiang Kai-Shek, is also slated for the skids and if Formosa, too, in the immortal words of Owen Lattimore, will be allowed to fall to the Communists without letting it be known that she was pushed.

House investigators in Washington have revealed that the Army has squandered $100,000 by shipping 30,000 foot lockers to an air base in Germany which had only ordered 300. Congressman Jamie L. Whitten of Mississippi revealed this inexcusable blunder to his colleagues in the House but the fact that Army bureaucrats had accidentally added a couple of ciphers to the order didn't create a ripple among the lawmakers who are used to seeing billions of dollars thrown away without lifting an eyebrow. After all, what is a measly $100,000 of taxpayers' money to slap-happy spenders in Congress?

To politicians in the Executive and Legislative departments of the Federal Government: "Your actions indicate that you are firmly convinced that the funds which are supposed to be—but are not—reposing in the Federal Treasury in Washington belong to you. Well, we have news for you, little buddies. This money is not yours. It belongs to the taxpayers who sweated to earn it and from whom it has been legally extorted. So why don't you try and keep your little hot hands off of it except for the actual expenses of administering legitimate functions of government as authorized by the Constitution?"

The oath to uphold the Constitution taken by those elected or appointed to office in the Executive, Legislative or Judicial branches of the Federal government is now nothing but hollow mockery. It is no longer considered binding on our public servants the majority of whom are convinced that they have outgrown the basic document on which this great Republic was founded. A careful and unbiased review of official actions of the White House, the Congress and the Supreme Court will reveal that the Constitution is currently relegated to the ignominious status of "an outworn relic of horse and buggy days" to which a former President consigned it. In its place stands Karl Marx' Manifesto which serves as the lodestar pointing the way for executive agreements, legislative action and judicial decisions which control the destiny of 180,000,000 sovereign citizens whose ancestors shed their blood to insure them the rights and freedoms which are being taken away and to guard against the tragic fate of a Collectivist State such as that under which they now exist.

A half century ago when the notorious Socialist, Eugene V. Debs, was in his prime the philosophy of government for which he stood was the brunt of endless jokes and represented the lowest type of ideological thinking of which the human mind was capable.

The political degenerates who clustered around him and who plugged for government control of industry, regulation of hours and wages, redistribution of the wealth of the nation, confiscation of private property through graduated tax levies, social security of the individual through a dole from the Federal government, social equality of the races through forced integration and all the other insidious proposals of the warped and twisted mind of Karl Marx, were held in such universal contempt that their public activities were restricted to the Lower East Side of New York.

In this disreputable area these ideological bums were permitted to mount a soap box and spout forth their foul proposals for a vile system of government in which the individual would become a mere cog in the vast machinery of State and a powerful centralized government would supervise and regulate the most intimate and personal affairs of the citizen just as a shepherd watches and directs the movements of his flock.

Today, to the eternal shame of the American people and those they have sent to Washington to represent them, every major policy of government which Eugene V. Debs preached from his soap box in the slums of New York has become the "law of the land" either through executive decree, legislative enactment or judicial ruling.

First we laughed at his depraved theories of government and held them up to scorn but finally we embraced them lock, stock and barrel and now this once free Republic is as much a Welfare State as early-day Socialists ever envisioned in their wildest dream of a Marxian Paradise.

What we have ignored or forgotten is that the men who set up the American Republic were capable, foresighted and understanding patriots who had well defined ideas of principles, policies and theories of government which, if followed, would keep this nation from going on the rocks.

Their conception of representative government was one in which the power of its rulers was held to the minimum, where the rights of private property and freedoms of the individual were of foremost consideration and where the authority of the sovereign States over the central governing body was supreme.

This shining ideal of a perfect system of government has been rudely shattered by men of Lilliputian intellect who have predominated in Con-

(Continued on Page 2)

Millions of Americans Think It—The Southern Conservative Says It

REPUBLICANS DECIDE CIVIL RIGHTS NOT SUCH A HOT CAMPAIGN ISSUE AFTER ALL

The right-about-face of the President, the Vice President and other leading Republicans on the Civil Rights issue and the decision to write a "moderate" plank on the subject at the Chicago convention is reported to have resulted from some down-to-earth conferences between party leaders recently.

At these conferences, those who shape policy are said to have faced up to the fact that ambitious partisans of Civil Rights may have gone too far in their scramble for votes and have contributed to Negro uprisings not only in the United States but in Africa where the alarming situation threatens to boomerang against extremist integrationists in the United States.

Even the Attorney General whose rabid championship of Negro rights and his total disregard of equal rights for members of the White race has been evident in all his pronouncements, is claimed to have softened his attitude and to have agreed that a toning down of formerly vigorous demands made by party leaders for concessions to Negro voters was necessary for success at the polls this Fall. He is quoted in an Associated Press article on May 3rd as having advised the Vice President to retreat from the position in which Nixon favored Civil Rights injunctions in other than voting rights cases, a demand which it was planned to include in the Chicago Convention platform.

This alleged reversal of position may or may not have come too late, not necessarily in connection with Republican victory in the United States, but in the world picture where a conflagration on racial hatred has been started which will not be easily extinguished and where millions of Negroes are on the warpath against Whites who are greatly in the minority in the world's population.

The fountain-head of all this agitation and discontent was the Congress of the United States where hot-headed partisans of presidential aspirants went so far overboard in their mad race for the colored vote that they not only were willing to rip the Constitution to shreds but did not hesitate to down-grade and discredit millions of White Southerners whom they pictured to the blacks all over the world as deadly enemies of colored people determined to suppress all their human rights and crush them to earth.

Having watched these evil manipulations of short-sighted demagogues with alarmed apprehension, we are glad to see them now forced to consume hearty dishes of crow.

Open Rebellion Against Law And Order Aided And Abetted By Television Network

On Sunday, April 10, American television viewers witnessed one of the most amazing and unbelievable spectacles ever presented in the short history of that industry.

It was the Chet Huntley program where Mr. Huntley, without comment, reproduced the proceedings at Kentucky State College for Negroes in which a Negro teacher, Len Holt, and obviously a trained revolutionary, instructed the pupils in that institution step by step in taking over private property by force although warning them to refrain from violence. He drilled them carefully on going into segregated lunch rooms and taking over. It was a cold-blooded example of defiance of law and order and open inciting of rebellion against established law of the Sovereign States and of the Constitutional guarantee of the right of the people to be secure against unreasonable search and seizure.

Not only did this Negro man openly advocate and instruct his pupils in violation of law but the National Broadcasting Company lent dignity to his defiance of recognized authority by giving nation-wide publicity to his instructions to his pupils in civil disobedience.

Outraged citizens throughout the country have protested, we understand, to many officials including members of the United States Senate and House, the Governor and Attorney General of Kentucky and local officials at Frankfort, without avail.

We wrote to the Chief of Police in the Kentucky capital to inquire if any arrests were made in connection with the matter and enclosed postage for reply but received no answer.

Once again, we make the point that such open rebellion against law and order would only be tolerated in the case of those whose skin is black. If a white teacher boldly and openly incited students to violate the law in the interest of maintaining segregation, not only would he have been arrested but Federal officials in Washington would no doubt have swooped down on the area to investigate the Civil Rights angle of the affair.

The American people face the prospect of having a Negro, William Clayton Powell of New York as Chairman of the Labor Committee of Congress in 1961, because of seniority. Powell has threatened that there will be "some changes made" when he assumes this position.

In Houston irate housewives rebelled against a Negro census taker who was sent into a white neighborhood (according to the Houston Chronicle) and refused to answer the questionnaires. One woman chased him off her front porch with an axe and order was restored only after the census supervisor withdrew the Negro and apologized for the indignity.

THE MORE MONEY WE GIVE THEM THE MORE THEY DESPISE US

Since the end of World War II, the United States has given away an amount variously estimated at from $45,000,000,000.00 to $75,000,000,000.00 in the attempt to "contain Communism" and buy friends for this country. There is no way to pinpoint the exact amount for such information is not furnished to taxpayers. They're just supposed to furnish the money and not ask questions.

At any rate, how successfully this program to purchase friends has turned out is revealed in headlines of newspapers which proclaim to the world that the United States was blasted in both hemispheres on May Day and on both sides of the Iron Curtain including countries into which Washington politicians have poured a stream of American money.

Every American adult, except those in the executive and legislative branches of the Federal government, knows that friendship cannot be bought with money but until, and unless, the White House and the Congress are swept clean of One-Worlders and Internationalists, this criminal squandering of the people's substance will not be halted.

Meantime, anti-American sentiment is on the increase around over the globe and the friendship

Believe it or not, this is an excerpt from the President's recent message to Congress: "We must resist the temptation, this year or any year, to over-spend the taxpayer's hard-earned dollars and over-centralize responsibilities in the federal government. If we fail this, we will weaken our hope of ever controlling federal extravagance and will indefinitely postpone debt retirement and tax relief. At the same time we will debase our currency, invite the resurgence of inflationary forces, undermine local and state responsibility, and thus erode away America's strength at home and in the world." Ye gods! How could he say that with a straight face?

From a woman subscriber in Florida: "I still can't think of your column on census questions in the April edition without going into hysterics. It is the cleverest take-off on Federal meddling that I have ever read."

which we purport to have purchased with billions of dollars turns out to be contempt and scorn for our weakness in robbing our own people for the benefit of alien countries who would not turn a hand in our behalf in a showdown.

Washington Has Swapped—

(Continued from Page 1)

gress since 1933 and who, in spite of their scornful jeers about "horse and buggy days" have set real progress of the American Republic back fifty years through the adoption of policies of government which all thinking Americans rejected when Debs proclaimed them a half century ago.

Accordingly, from a nation where laws were once framed and policies laid down which put a premium on initiative, ambition and thrift, we have sunk to the low status of a Welfare State committed not to the encouragement of the strong but to the protection of the weak. We have made the Federal government a haven of refuge for the incompetent, lazy and shiftless in this country and have thrown open the doors of the Treasury to beggars from all over the world.

The only hope for a transition from a Welfare State back to Constitutional Government lies in the elemental force of public opinion backed by determined action on the part of taxpayers who are called on to meet the insatiable and never-ending financial demands of a depraved and corrupt Socialist government.

And the people can't put much dependence on the election of a President as a relief measure because the cards are stacked against them in that deal. As the matter now stands, we will have another Socialist in the White House unless a political miracle is brought about by the South which has a remote chance to throw the election in the House of Representatives.

Otherwise, with a Modern Republican Socialist or a Fair Deal Socialist as President, the same old routine of bleeding the taxpayers white to perpetuate the same old Socialist projects will be continued, and any citizen who believes otherwise has all the earmarks of a full fledged congenital idiot.

One-third of the Senate and all Congressmen are elected every two years and if every taxpaying citizen in this country who is fed up with Socialism would get tough enough with his representatives, there would be some changes made.

In other words, Congress is the Court of Last Resort and since the taxpayers are the masters of their public servants, it's up to them.

The time has come for responsible American voters to put up or shut up.

Tell your Congressman (and your Senator if he's up for re-election) that so far as Socialism is concerned, you've had it and that if he votes for any more Marxian projects, you will personally get out and work against him at the next election.

He may not be very bright about the fundamental principles of government but this is language he will understand.

When Put To The Test 'Brotherhood' Blows Up Like A Punctured Balloon

Several years ago when the "brotherhood" racket was being set up and national councils of this, that and the other were being formed, preachers, priests and rabbis were constantly breaking into print with their arms around each other proclaiming eternal unity and the end of intolerance and bigotry in religious matters.

With characteristic pessimism, we wrote several editorials on the subject at the time in none of which we displayed any confidence in or respect for the project, because we recognized the whole movement as propaganda and knew that there was not an ounce of sincerity involved in the proceeding. We realized that it was just another angle of extreme "liberalism" invented for the purpose of advancing left-wing and pro-Communist causes.

If there had been any genuine interest or concern in actually promoting "human brotherhood" between three different religious groups, the promoters of such objective would have left each other alone and merely been content to respect each other's views without feeling called upon to get together in one organization, and make a Federal case out of "Brotherly Love."

We predicted at the time that this unnatural alliance would probably last until some Catholic became a serious contender for the office of President of the United States at which time the whole thing would blow up and "brotherhood" would be knocked into a cocked hat.

That is just exactly what is happening now and we don't see any more pictures demonstrating the closely knit ties between differing religious leaders. Instead, there is scarcely a day that passes when some Protestant group does not break out with a warning of the danger to the security of the United States if a Catholic should be elected President. They have forgotten all about their solemn promise concerning the end of "intolerance and bigotry in religious matters."

We are not for Kennedy either and we would not vote for him if he were the only man in the race but our opposition has nothing to do with his religion. That is his personal business. We are opposed to him because he is a one-worlder, a Socialist, an integrationist and just an all-around undesirable so far as the Presidency is concerned, as are all others now mentioned for the office.

So, therefore, our reference to the matter of a "brotherhood" movement which broke down at the first test of its strength, is not in any way involved in a defense of a Catholic candidate but is merely intended to prove that we were not fooled by all the protestations of devotion between three groups who had nothing in common except a desire to promote the Marxist cause.

Put another way, we are perhaps unable to resist the temptation, woman-like, to say "I told you so."

The vote in West Virginia is a refreshing exception but underground attacks on Kennedy because of his religion have not abated in the least. "Human Brotherhood" is still for propaganda purposes only.

THE LESS THEY KNOW THE MORE THEY TALK

The infighting and dissension within the Fair Deal Party continues with unabated force and perhaps it is just as well. When it has clobbered itself out of existence, perhaps the Party of Jefferson and Jackson will emerge again and the principles abandoned during the Roosevelt regime be restored.

Out in Seattle, Washington, recently more than six hundred of the more ferocious type of party leaders got together and declared war on Southern Democrats, the only respectable and responsible element still left in that embattled clan.

They wrote an amendment to their County platform "disavowing — politically, organizationally and otherwise — those members of Congress who have prevented the enforcement of the 14th and 15th amendments to the United States Constitution."

According to press reports the amendment was put through by a cocky little character named Calvin Harris who, when asked by newsmen if the amendment was aimed at Southern Democrats, replied: "That is right. And it also is aimed at all other elements which have fought to hold back effective civil rights legislation."

Conditions in the State of Washington are typical of those in all areas where politicians attempt to settle a problem they know nothing about and which does not concern them.

The population of Washington State is, or was at the last census, 2,378,680 of which only 30,691 are Negroes.

And so, with a colored population of less than 1.3%, these insufferable egotists feel themselves thoroughly qualified to dictate to the people of Mississippi, for instance, where the Negro population is almost fifty per cent.

We've only a few anti-Communist dictators left in the world including Trujillo of the Dominican Republic, Franco of Spain and Salazar of Portugal whom American Liberals will have to get rid of before they've cleared the deck. It will be interesting to watch for the next student uprising in those countries since half-baked, wet-behind-the-ears adolescents seem to be running things.

The racial violence all over the world and especially the unprecedented crime wave in the United States by Negroes including murder, rape and robbery of unprotected White people has apparently slowed down integration activity to such an extent that even the Methodists, of all people, took a "moderate" attitude on the subject at their annual gathering in Denver.

SERIOUS CHARGES WHICH DEMAND IMMEDIATE AND FORTHRIGHT ACTION

Scandal Is Routine And Has Lost Its Power To Shock

If all American citizens knew all there is to know about the foreign aid program in which the government of the United States is engaged, there would be a scandal that would shake the nation, in the opinion of Judge M. T. Phelps, member of the Arizona State Supreme Court.

In speeches to civic groups in Arizona and surrounding States, Judge Phelps, who has had 38 years of distinguished service as a jurist, bitterly criticizes the policies which we have adopted with regard to the support of other nations and which he declares are clearly unconstitutional.

Judge Phelps describes the United Nations as a direct result of a Communist conspiracy against this country and charges that it was formed to bring the United States into the orbit of One-World government.

The eminent jurist is one hundred per cent right in his conclusions but we think he errs in believing that full information about foreign aid could cause a national scandal.

A large segment of the American people have been so thoroughly brainwashed for the past twenty-five years that they wouldn't know a scandal if they met it head-on. The fact is that an amazing amount of proceedings by our elected officials in Washington constitute scandal as it was once known. The foreign aid program is only one instance of the scandalous projects which are prosecuted in the name of "peace" and the "containment of Communism."

If these Americans were given documented and factual data on the thievery, graft and corruption which attends foreign aid, they would probably just yawn, turn over and go back to sleep.

In fact, there is reason to believe that if Washington politicians decided to remove the Capitol from its foundations and make a present of it to Khrushchev and deliver it with all transportation charges paid to Moscow, many taxpaying suckers would accept it without a murmur.

The Fifth Column in the United States has done its job thoroughly and well.

From a retired business executive in Burbank, California: "Your method of expression is without equal."

Because of continued requests in the matter, we want to say again that, because of the nature of our publication, we do not accept advertising of any kind or under any condition. We appreciate the fact that many of our readers desire space in the paper but we think it inadvisable to accept their offer of advertising.

When Defense Secretary Gates cowered in fear before National Council of Churches officials in the matter of the Air Force manual which charged that Communists had infiltrated NCC and ordered that publication re-written, it was not the first time Gates had offered aid and comfort to the Communist conspiracy.

This was the claim of Captain Robert A. Winston, United States Navy, retired, author of "The Pentagon Case", a book which afforded readers some shocking disclosures about what goes on in the five-pointed edifice along the banks of the Potomac.

Captain Winston made public a letter he had written Senator James O. Eastland, chairman of a sub-committee to investigate Communist infiltration of the Pentagon.

In this letter he told the sub-committee chairman that following his disclosures of Communist infiltration of the national defense set-up he was fired by an assistant secretary of Defense on Gates' orders.

"As you know I refused to resign and requested an opportunity to hear the charges against me, directly from my accusers," Captain Winston wrote. "As I later testified, my request was disregarded; and after an official report on Communist infiltration in the Pentagon prepared by me in line of duty was handed back to me by the Navy's Inspector General, I submitted a copy of this report to your Committee."

Captain Winston asserted that, as a result of his testimony before the Eastland Committee, Secretary Gates attempted unsuccessfully to railroad him into the mental ward of Bethesda Naval hospital.

The Naval Captain now asks, as a matter of justice that Senator Eastland make his testimony before the subcommittee public in order that all evidence in the case be brought out into the open and either confirmed or disproved.

This is certainly a reasonable and fair request and one which would definitely seem to be in the public interest and certainly the least Senator Eastland can do is to honor it and bring the whole matter out into the light of day.

Washington is reputed to be the locale of many suppressed scandals which would make those of the Harding administration fade into insignificance and a good way to scotch these rumors of scandals and misdeeds is to act on them at once and not wait until bigger ones build up.

All over the world, the "student" movement is taking hold and adolescents are overthrowing governments right and left. Surely no one is so stupid that he does not see the significance in these mass demonstrations. There is a central head directing this agitation and that central head is World Communism. Korea, Turkey and the sit-in strikers in the South are examples of Communist strategy.

The Southern Conservative

A MONTHLY PUBLICATION OF EDITORIAL OPINION WITH NATIONAL CIRCULATION

IDA M. DARDEN, Editor

Editorial Offices Flatiron Building
Fort Worth, Texas Phone ED 2-2089

Price $5.00 Per Year

(Every paid subscriber is entitled to one free subscription to be sent to any person of his choosing.)

Sent without cost to members of Congress, members of State Legislatures, Governors, and other public officials.

A helpless sparrow can drift with the wind but it takes an eagle to fly against the storm.

THE TENTH AMENDMENT TO THE CONSTITUTION OF THE UNITED STATES:

The powers not delegated to the United States by the Constitution, nor prohibited by it to the States are reserved to the States respectively, or to the people.

THE PUNITIVE POWER OF OUR TAXING SYSTEM

Here is just one small insignificant instance of how the Federal taxing policies of this country are instrumental in putting small concerns out of business.

This particular "business" is a night club but that is a legitimate activity operating under a license and complying with the law and the principle involved is the same as if it were engaged in the manufacture of tooth paste.

The club is located in a small city in a Western State and the following letter received by us from a man who operated it (and who, incidentally, is a good citizen and a sound Conservative) explains the situation:

"I was half owner of a prosperous night club until the Internal Revenue Service, after a lapse of eight years, put a tax lien on the place for 'back cabaret taxes' (a wartime excise tax) for $17,000. So I have made up my mind that if I am going to work for the Federal government, I am going to get on the payroll. I never complained about the Income Tax or any other tax so long as it was reasonable. But now I've had it and I've given my interest to my partner."

And so another victory is scored for the Marxists who are out to put all American Free Enterprise projects, from night clubs to textile manufacturers, out of business through the medium of confiscatory tax legislation.

In Nashville, Tennessee, three thousands Negroes marched on the City Hall following the wrecking of a colored council man's home by a bomb.

Chessman To Be The 'Hero' In Proposed Motion Picture

It was a pretty sorry sight when movie and television stars, college students, professors, psychiatrists and other queer remnants of human society huddled around the gates of San Quentin on the night before the execution of Caryl Chessman. They were chanting, singing hymns and demanding clemency for the 'criminal although there was no record that any of them had expressed any concern whatever for the pitiable plight of Chessman's victims.

The incident points up the perverted morals of a large segment of American society, a segment which is unfortunately in position to wield powerful influence on the youth of the nation through their professional activities.

In the press release telling of this psychotic behavior, it was announced that one of Hollywood's odd characters who was present, Marlon Brando, then and there declared his intention of making a movie of the Chessman case in which he, himself, will appear.

Obviously Chessman will be portrayed as a hero of the movie production which means that, following such abnormal and distorted reasoning, the victims of this vicious sex criminal will be depicted as the villains.

This is the type of thinking which permeates an industry which is charged with the responsibility of providing the entertainment, relaxation and—if you please—the "education" of the normal American public.

'IS IT TRUE WHAT THEY SAY ABOUT DIXIE?'

The Montana Constitutional Conservative Movement with headquarters in Billings, an aggressive patriotic group of alert Americans, is optimistic over recent suggestions from authoritative sources that the South may be able to throw the Presidential election into the House of Representatives thereby electing the nation's next Chief Executive.

"If it's true what they say about Dixie, every Northern Conservative is with you," says Kay Hines, executive secretary of the organization.

"Up here we feel the tide is turning. The Socialist experiments of the government have proved costly failures and the patience of grass roots Americans is running out.

"If the South is successful in carrying out their great plan, it will restore our original representative form of government as a Republic."

Mr. E. H. Conrad of the West Central Minnesota Disabled American Veterans, Inc., thinks that there are some questions omitted from the census questionnaire which should have been included. Such as, Where were you born? Did you or your parents kill Christians in Russia? Did you enter this country illegally? If so, do you vote in our elections? If you were called for service to defend this nation would you want to serve in a combat unit or in a unit where there would be no danger to you?

San Antonio Citizen Brings Up Subject Many Texans Would Prefer To Forget

Possibly on the theory that all's fair in love, war — and politics — a San Antonio citizen has published a copyrighted brochure titled "The Story of Ballot Box No. 13."

The author is a Mr. Clyde Wantland of the Alamo city, who without frills or furbelows, tells the simple, miserable and sordid story of the first election of the Honorable Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas to the United States Senate.

Reprints from newspapers of the time and photostats of official documents involved are reproduced and while there is little comment by the author, nothing much in the way of documentary evidence seems to have been omitted.

We do not know what purpose is to be served by the publication of the gruesome facts at this late date unless, as is rumored, the publication is to be widely distributed at the National Democratic Convention in Los Angeles in July, in which event it can possibly serve as background information on a candidate for President and about whom those in doubt may want additional data.

Back in 1948 when it happened the affair of the stuffed ballot boxes in the political domain of a notorious South Texas political boss, which enabled Johnson to take possession of an office to which his opponent was claimed to be legally elected, created statewide criticism and resentment and there was talk of legislation to prevent similar occurrences in future.

But that's been a long time ago and human memory is short. The general consensus of opinion on the subject in the State now seems to be summed up in this conclusion: "If he could get away with it, more power to him."

From "An Admiring Yankee" in Washington, D.C.: "Just been reading your April edition which seems meatier and juicier and more worth while than usual. Congratulations. May God bless, keep and strengthen you."

Dallas school authorities have called an election on integration but propose, in the event of adverse results, to begin integration of their schools in 1961 in the primary grades which will make helpless little children the victims, rather than teenagers who would be expected to resent the indignity. This cowardly procedure would make the issue of integration a contest between nine old men on the Supreme Court and millions of little children just right out of kindergarten in the South.

Press reports from London say that because of the Welfare State there which offers inducements to unwed mothers illegitimacy in the British Isles is increasing by leaps and bounds. One child in every ten born in London is illegitimate, the report states, and the number is growing each year. English females, like many in the United States, have found that an easy way to make a living is to produce babies to be supported by the State.

We have learned of a private meeting of Sam Rayburn and Lyndon Johnson in Washington recently with a group of professional men for the purpose of explaining why they are plugging for another Socialized Medicine bill to take the place of the Forand measure which is stalled in committee. They could not afford, they claimed, to let the Republicans take the ball away from the Democrats with Eisenhower's proposal for providing medical care to age groups over sixty-five, and were forced to retaliate by coming up with a similar proposal of their own. Isn't that statesmanship and what a basis for legislation for which every American must provide the finances?

"Be it resolved that the House of Delegates of the Association of American Physicians and Surgeons, Inc., in regular session assembled in Chicago, Illinois, this the 23rd day of April, 1960, expresses emphatic opposition to the proposed 'Summit' meeting with Khrushchev in May and to any other conferences of this type because Communist morality teaches that any agreement reached should be broken if by so doing the cause of International Communism will be advanced."

Discussing the large tax-exempt Foundations and their contribution to World Socialism, Hon. B. Carroll Reece, Congressman from Tennessee who headed the Committee which investigated these Foundations some years ago, takes a very charitable view concerning them, in our opinion. He deplors their activity in behalf of collectivist movements and especially since the activities have been financed out of the earnings of private enterprise as in the case of Rockefeller, Ford and Carnegie but he feels that the owners of these fortunes do not know how this money is being used. "Certainly the founders of these business fortunes had no intention of financing anti-business education nor do the present heads desire to do so." Mr. Reece stated. We definitely do not agree with him. They couldn't be that stupid and in the case of Nelson Rockefeller, he is a dedicated International Socialist and is way ahead of his Foundation officials in promoting collectivist ideology.

"We are not only plagued with the conspiracies, but with the infection of Karl Marx in both the thinking of our people and the actions of our own government."
—Herbert Hoover

According to a bulletin from the Minute Women of the U.S.A., a Yugoslav freighter recently sailed from Houston with a cargo of 87 United States jet fighter plane engines destined for the Yugoslav Air Force under the U.S. foreign aid program. At the same time, according to Minute Women, we are demanding that Trujillo of the Dominican Republic return five obsolete bombers we claim he got illegally. The answer probably lies in the fact that Yugoslav's Tito is Communist; Trujillo is anti-Communist.

No Subject More Important Than Mental Health And No Movement More Perverted

Exposure of the subversive aims of the World Mental Health movement whose announced purpose is to change the political, economic and social thinking of the human race and direct it toward a One-World Government has had reverberations throughout the country.

The result has been that many local citizens in various towns and cities have become so disgusted with the subversive angles of national and world mental health movements that they have withdrawn from all activity in connection with mental health projects.

This is unfortunate for nothing is more essential than that the mental health of citizens of a community be preserved and that scientific research looking toward this end be continued by bonafide agencies and individuals sincerely concerned in aiding the mentally ill.

The whole movement has been discredited by the vast number of psychiatric charlatans who clutter up the national and international groups allegedly devoted to alleviating mental disease.

Perhaps one of the most vicious exponents of "One-World Government" under the guise of promoting "mental health" is the notorious Dr. Brock Chisholm of Canada who has written reams on the matter of re-designing the human mind for the purpose of shaping individual thinking, but a small quote from him will give an idea of the overall plan.

In a lecture by Chisholm titled "The Reestablishment of Peacetime Society" delivered in February, 1946 and which appeared in Psychiatry, "Journal of the Biology and the Pathology of Interpersonal Relations," he said:

"It would appear that at least three requirements are basic to any hope of permanent world peace. First, security, elimination of the occasion for valid fear of aggression. This is attainable at least temporarily and as a stopgap until something better can be arranged, by legislation backed by immediately available force prepared to suppress ruthlessly any appeal to force by any peoples in the world. The administration and command of such a force is a delicate problem but can be devised if and when the great powers really want it. A less effective substitute for this method but one which may work well enough is for the great powers to assume this function themselves. To work even well enough it will be necessary that all disputes between nations be submitted to arbitration by a World Court of the highest integrity. Second, opportunity to live reasonably comfortably for all the people in the world on economic levels which do not vary too widely either geographically or by groups within a population. This is a simple matter of redistribution of material, of which there is plenty in the world for everybody, or of which plenty can easily be made . . ."

Here is one of the world's so-called great authorities on mental health writing for psychiatrists in their official journal after first having delivered the lecture from which this quotation is taken to a Psychiatric Foundation. In this short quotation he proposes One-World Government, an international police force, a world court, and redistribution of the wealth of the world, all in the name of psychiatry.

We hope that local groups throughout the country continue their bonafide activities in behalf of mental illness and that they guarantee to the public the integrity of their efforts by disassociating themselves with subversive national and international groups who have brought the whole subject of mental health into disrepute.

AMERICANS SHUDDER AT PROSPECT OF ANOTHER BETRAYAL AT PARIS

Since the Soviets boasted that they had "shot down" one of our planes, the American people had a right to feel that the "summit conference" in Paris was automatically off.

Surely, it was thought, a merciful Saviour would spare us the ignominy of seeing our leaders trudge over to a rigged meeting in which, whether the President knows it or not, the plan is already made for us to promise to disarm and mean it and the Soviets make the same promise but have no intention of keeping it.

Not that we needed any proof of the barbarism and inhumanity of the Communists but their cold-blooded and threatening behavior in regard to the plane incident again demonstrated that they are outside the pale of decent society and that any treating with them on an honest and reasonable basis is utterly impossible.

And still the President has announced his intention of going right ahead as if nothing had happened to the amazement of Americans who look to their elected leaders to exercise caution, judgment and concern for the national safety in dealing with the enemy.

In this connection the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee has just released an exhaustive study concerning Khrushchev's strategy of alleged "peaceful co-existence" between Russia and the United States which says in part:

"As recently as December, 1959, — three months after Khrushchev's trip to the United States — the World Marxist Review carried a synopsis of a new Communist textbook titled 'Foundations of Marxism and Leninism.' Referring to advance of the World Revolution, the textbook declares 'There can be no doubt that in a number of capitalist countries the overthrow of the bourgeois by armed class struggle will be inevitable' . . . As long as the West has sufficient armed might to withstand the Communist

OREGON SENATOR FEELS HIS DUTY IS TO 'EDUCATE' THE AMERICAN PEOPLE

The ultimate in conceit on the part of an elected representative of the American people was reached, we believe, by Senator Wayne Morse of Oregon on his recent appearance on the television program "Meet the Press."

Under discussion was the practice of members of Congress making speeches to various groups for pay which enables many of them to add ten or fifteen thousand dollars per year to their already adequate salaries and expense accounts.

When asked by one of the newsmen if he considered this practice ethical, Morse replied that it was not only ethical but necessary as the American people "needed educating," and implied that it was the responsibility of members of the Senate to do this "educational" job.

Morse is a victim of the absurd idea that was given birth during the Roosevelt administration to the effect that elected public officials are the masters and the people are the servants when just the reverse is true. As their "masters" it is his conviction that he and his colleagues should speak periodically to their servant constituents and tell them what to think and all the while being paid big money for this "educational" chore.

It is true that vast numbers of the American people have been brainwashed and need to have their minds directed back into sound channels of thought but God help those who permit this instruction in Americanism to be administered by worn-out and moth-eaten old windbags in the Senate whose sorry records attest to their own abysmal ignorance of the basic principles of the Republic.

We can visualize Morse in many roles — principally as the Wild Jackass of the Senate — but to picture him as an educator of the American electorate is stretching the imagination to the breaking point.

From a business executive in San Antonio: "I am a constant reader of your editorials. I also read Sokolsky, Hearst, Bishop, Pegler and others but in none of them do I find the message so cleverly, engrossingly and emphatically conveyed. Reading you is like finding an oasis in the desert. It is very gratifying that one who has the ability and courage to write as you do is getting their message to thousands—it should be millions."

world, revolution cannot be achieved. The study reasons that the only way for Red leaders to overcome this 'balance of terror' is to put over the propaganda line that the Soviet Union has abandoned its reliance on violent revolution for peaceful achievement of its aims . . ."

That is just what the Soviets mean to do at Paris — to convince gullible Western leaders that the Communists want peace and are willing to disarm after wringing from us a promise to scrap all our weapons of defense.

And if the past is any criterion in judging the future, they will do just that.

RECONSTRUCTION DAYS ARE BACK AGAIN!

Just as every sensible American expected, the Federal government didn't wait for the ink to dry on the Civil Rights bill before its agents started their un-Constitutional prying into the election machinery of the South.

William P. Rogers, South-hating Attorney General, claimed to be in possession of information showing denial of voting rights to Negroes in Louisiana, Georgia, South Carolina and Alabama and demanded the voting records in certain counties of those four States.

Officials in the counties involved retorted that there had been no denial of voting rights to Negroes and, according to the Associated Press, county attorney J. Fred Buzhardt of McCormick County, South Carolina, paid his respects to Rogers by calling him a "liar" and added "To my knowledge no Negro has ever been refused registration if they applied. None has ever applied before."

Of course the Attorney General must do his duty and election time is drawing near, so big headlines may be expected as a result of Rogers' meddling around in Southern court houses just like in Reconstruction Days.

WEST COAST GROUP IS COMBATting APATHY OF AMERICAN TAXPAYERS

A West Coast organization which is rendering invaluable service to the nation and in behalf of restoration of Constitutional Government is the Network of Patriotic Letter Writers with headquarters at 2003 D, Pasadena, California.

It is claimed by friends of the organization that this group of which Mrs. Gertrude Derby Bale is chairman, has been responsible for more than 50,000 letters being sent to members of Congress in Washington.

Bulk does not mean anything in a case like this and the mere influencing of this amount of mail would not be important but the fact that these letters have been written voluntarily after being supplied with information on legislation by Patriotic Letter Writers does indicate a very definite public service to the citizens of the Republic.

Apathy, ignorance and indifference on the part of taxpayers about what is going on in Washington are the triple perils which are pushing us further into Socialism and any individual, or group of individuals, who do sentinel duty and wake up the American people deserve the approval and cooperation of all good citizens.

"Apparently there are many, many more insane people now in Washington than there are in the insane asylums."—Clayton Rand.

Declaration of Principles of The Southern Conservative

Back in January of 1950 when the first edition of the Southern Conservative made its appearance we carried on its front page a sort of Declaration of Principles which set forth the aims and purposes of our new publication. This is what we said and in the intervening years, we have seen no occasion to make any changes or alterations:

The Southern Conservative is being launched to fill the need for a medium of expression for those citizens of Texas and the South who definitely oppose the current trend toward Socialism which is rapidly bringing us to the end of the road as a Constitutional Republic.

In introducing this new publication for approval, we plead guilty to the charge of being hopelessly old-fashioned as we love our own country with a blind and passionate devotion, above all others on earth..

We find ourself without the slightest desire to change our form of government to conform to foreign ideologies or to attempt to reshape it in the Soviet mold.

We are convinced that those who founded this Republic fashioned the greatest instrument for the government of men ever devised by human mind.

We wish to deny, before it is made, the charge that we are subsidized by any special interests or that our undertaking is just another scheme dreamed up to attract the support of big business.

In our discussions of State and National issues, we shall show no more partiality to the Tycoons of Industry than we shall to the Czars of Labor.

In fact, we seem to remember that some of the biggest business men in the nation teamed up with labor union racketeers in playing ball with the New Deal when that economic atrocity was riding the crest and they have currently continued to string along with its more vicious counterpart currently administering the government in Washington.

The courage, integrity and patriotism which must be commanded if the Republic is to survive will not be found exclusively among the representatives of big business any more than among leaders of labor unions.

It must be drawn from that vast group of average Americans who ask nothing of government except that it secure them in their inalienable right to work, to save and to keep a reasonable share of the fruits of their toil.

We are against the domination of government either by big business or big labor and we maintain that favoritism to either group on the part of a State or National administration is un-American, immoral and a flagrant abuse of power.

As to political affiliation, we acknowledge allegiance to neither of the two major parties.

As presently constituted, both are so shot through with Socialism as to render them incapable of resolving the serious problems confronting the Republic.

We acknowledge our indebtedness to the courageous and patriotic Coalition Bloc of sound-thinking Democrats and Republicans in both Houses of Congress which has prevented Communist influences from complete domination of our Federal government.

We are opposed to the reckless squandering of the taxpayers' money by incompetent, irresponsible and improvident public officials and we contend that taxes should be levied for purposes of revenue only and not to punish the rich, reward the poor or redistribute the wealth.

We are firmly committed to the principle of States Rights and we hold that the people of any part of the United States are entitled to maintain their own social customs and traditions without interference from politicians seeking votes to perpetuate themselves in power.

We are unequivocally in favor of Free Enterprise as opposed to government ownership of business and insist on the responsibility of every American to seek to improve his social and economic condition through initiative, energy and thrift rather than leaning on the arm of the Federal government for support.

We concede to every man the right to work and the opportunity of profitable employment regardless of whether he does or does not belong to a labor union.

On the other hand, we claim for the employer the irrevocable right to hire and fire his employees without instructions from any governmental agency or intimidation by Federal police.

We feel that at this crucial time in history, it is imperative that newspapers and other groups seeking to influence public opinion should exert every effort within their power to help preserve our Constitutional form of government, our Free Enterprise system and the American Way of Life. We shall exert all our energies to that end.

These are the sentiments of the Southern Conservative and although ours may be only one small voice crying in the wilderness, we will fight for fundamental American principles as we understand them, without apology to any man or set of men.

With this frank and forthright declaration of purposes, we ask the active cooperation of every citizen in Texas and the South who believes in the policies for which we stand.

PUBLIC IS ENTITLED TO KNOW THE TRUTH ABOUT NATIONAL COUNCIL OF CHURCHES

It has been announced that the Committee on Un-American Activities of the House of Representatives does not plan to hold further hearings in connection with the Air Force Training manual controversy in which it was charged that Communists had infiltrated the National Council of Churches.

When officials of the NCC denied such affiliation and strongly denounced the Air Force personnel for writing it, Air Force Secretary Dudley C. Sharp informed the church group that the Air Force did not condone the publication, and that it was being withdrawn.

Much of the material in the manual was from the files of the Un-American Activities Committee and feeling that Sharp's action tended to discredit the Committee, Chairman Walter immediately invited officials of the Council to appear before it for a full-fledged discussion and investigation of the charges. This the Council officials refused to do.

Later Secretary Sharp appeared before Walter's committee and testified that in withdrawing the manual he had no intention of questioning the validity of the material in that document which was taken from the Committee's files and that to the best of his knowledge, this material was completely factual.

This satisfied the Chairman and members of the Un-American Activities Committee and the matter was dropped.

This procedure is all right so far as vindication for the Committee is concerned but there is more to it than that and somewhere along the line, the interest of the American public comes in.

After all, the National Council of Churches boasts that it has "38,000,000 members" which takes in a large segment of our population and while perhaps 75 per cent of the individual church members don't know they are members of NCC, those who do know it are entitled to information about whether or not the National Council has been infiltrated by World Communism.

We would not think of suggesting that some committee of Congress make a thorough investigation of this political-religious group before the national election because such a suggestion would be futile and silly.

But surely the subject of infiltration of the nation's largest so-called religious organization is of sufficient importance to justify an official investigation at the next session of Congress after the election is all over and the ballots counted.

To leave the matter as it is is a reflection on the good church people who, whether they know it or not, are on the roster of the National Council of Churches. They are entitled to the facts in order that they may act accordingly.

ANOTHER PROPOSED RAID ON TREASURY FOR REPUBLICAN CAMPAIGN EXPENSES

Another strong pitch to garner votes for the Republicans in the presidential election this fall has been made by the President and Vice President in separate appeals for a Federal-State subsidy to take care of medical expenses of persons over sixty five years of age.

The administration opposed the Forand bill, a Socialized Medicine measure, which was unsuccessfully urged by Democrats in Congress recently apparently on the grounds that their own Socialized Medicine proposal was more meritorious.

Under it, American taxpayers would have to put up $1200 million dollars per year, $600,000,000.00 through the Federal part of the program and $600,000,000.00 as the State's part of the venture.

As might be expected the Marxist Secretary of Health Education and Welfare, Arthur S. Fleming, who seldom opens his mouth without proposing a raid on the treasury, is the author of the measure.

It is fortunate that the presidential campaign only has a few more months to go as the determination of candidates on both the Fair Deal and Modern Republican factions of the Socialist Party to compel the taxpayers to finance their races, would smash the treasury to smithereens.

Personally, we have always said and we repeat that we are willing to skip any benefits the Federal government may have in store for us such as Social Security, Old Age Pensions, Medical Care and what have you and are willing to settle for just one thing.

They can give us a pink Cadillac

In Cincinnati a nationally-known Negro singing group, the Platters, is reported in the press to have been cleared of a morals charge just before leaving for Berlin for a good will tour. The four singers were charged with "aiding and abetting prostitution, lewdness or assignation." Acquitted with them were four females, three white and one colored girl. The group was acquitted by a Judge Gilbert Bettman on the ground that no money changed hands in the transactions.

In Nashville, Tennessee, three thousand Negroes marched on the City Hall following the wrecking of a colored council man's home by a bomb.

From a woman subscriber in Atlanta: "Not long ago a 'Yankee' here remarked that the South always claimed any Confederate could whip ten Yankees before breakfast any day but that he'd never believed it until he began reading the Southern Conservative. 'Now I've found out that they only meant the men,' he said. 'That 10-man limit does not apply to the women — not if the editor of that paper is a sample'."

and we will call it even.

They have just as much legal and moral right to give us that as they do to pay our personal living expenses and take care of our medical bills.

There is not an iota of Constitutional authority for the Federal government to do either.

WE DON'T OBJECT TO DICTATORS UNLESS THEY'RE ANTI-COMMUNIST

The long and tragic record of State Department psychology and reasoning which almost invariably causes that agency to land in the corner of pro-Communist dictators and the part played by our national leaders in the surrender of various nations into Soviet slavery has been clearly set forth by an informed and aggressive Fort Worth patriot.

She is Mrs. T. B. Hart who works at the job practically every waking hour and who seldom misses a bet in her appraisal of the methods and motive of politicians, National, State or Local. Mrs. Hart's recent discourse on the subject follows:

We have just witnessed the death of the courageous little anti-Communist nation of Korea brought about by Communist mob violence under the guise of "student" demonstrations, aided and abetted by the State Department of our own government.

Just as surely as there is retribution for individuals for the sins of both omission and commission, there will be certain retribution for nations for the same sins. It behooves us even at this late date to examine the part our nation has played in the surrender of other peoples and nations to Communist dictatorship for we, the citizens of these United States, share the responsibility for deeds committed by our policy makers whether we approve of them or not, or whether we are even conscious of what has been done.

Witness the surrender of the famous mines of Czechoslovakia to the Russian forces when the crack 3rd Armored Division of General Patton and the 7th Army Group of General Patch were pulled back and held three weeks while the exhausted Russian Mongol armies moved in to occupy the mines. Witness the halted armies of these same generals when they were forced to stop at the Elbe, thus allowing the Russians the honor of entering and capturing Berlin and the subsequent surrender of half of Germany to the Communists. The General of our Army stood by in Eastern Germany, Poland and elsewhere to watch the most ruthless robbery, carnage, enslavement and cruelty in conquered territory that modern history has ever recorded.

Witness the surrender of China to the Communists when we were told by our State Department that the advancing Communist armies were only "agrarian reformers" attempting to protect themselves from a "corrupt" government, but subsequent events reveal the Communist revolution in China was aided by those high in diplomatic and military service in our government.

Witness the Communists being permitted to win the war in Korea because General MacArthur was denied the right to attack the enemy beyond the Yalu or even to pursue enemy planes across the line. It was at the Malta Summit meeting that the little nations of Central Europe were surrendered to Communist Russia.

Witness the recent take-over of Cuba by Pro-Communist Fidel Castro, with the sanction of our State

EXTREME LEFT-WING LAWMAKERS PROMOTE DANGEROUS LEGISLATION

It is not news when bills which are dangerous to the security of the United States are proposed and attempts made to push them through Congress but we would like to call attention to two measures before that body which represent special peril to the safety of the Republic.

These are Senate Concurrent Resolution 83 by extreme left-wing Senator Joseph S. Clark of Pennsylvania and companion bill House Concurrent Resolution 531 by equally left-wing Congressman Charles O. Porter of Oregon.

These two measures would confer on the President the personal power to commit the United States to total disarmament and a proposed Police Force of the United Nations to enforce it.

We are fearful that the President will do this any way at Paris but if legislation authorizing this step is passed, it commits the people of the United States to this foolhardy action also and leaves no way to escape One-World government when foreign troops are quartered on our soil.

The New York Times, strong internationalist organ and exponent of One-World, put the plan in these words: "The ultimate solution as envisioned by Secretary Herter and others must lie in total disarmament which will . . . create a world of peaceful change under law administered by a World Court and enforced by an International Police Force . . . Secretary Herter's vision means, in effect, World Government."

It looks like the American people must be constantly on guard and keep protesting to their elected representatives in Washington against the country's betrayal.

Just as heavy protests from constituents killed off (temporarily) the resolution to repeal the Connally amendment to the World Court agreement, so can they stop this proposal by Clark and Porter to betray the American Republic into alignment with a One World Slave State.

Department, from Anti-Communist Batista, who was a staunch friend of the United States and a strong enemy of Communist Russia. The action of our State Department implies that to be a dictator is quite acceptable — just so long as one is not an anti-Communist dictator.

The record is a long and tragic one — and yet we continue to heap praise upon those elected officials who played such a big part in these betrayals and accept without protest the continued appointments of bureaucrats whose records have been that of continued appeasement and even assistance to the Communist enemy.

As a nation our day of reckoning must be near at hand. There could be time to return to the path of honor and integrity, but will we? I fear not.

THE DAY IS COMING WHEN PEOPLE CAN'T WAIT TO BE SIXTY-FIVE YEARS OF AGE

From a folder published by the Cowles Magazine in New York titled "The Insiders Newsletter" we have learned of a movement to end all movements.

This Newsletter is dedicated to "Busy women who need to know what's going on."

As one busy woman who already knows too well what's going on and who as a result of that knowledge is ready to sit down on the curb and cry, we were shocked at some of the things this Newsletter felt that women needed to know.

However, we won't go into that but will merely mention their reference to a new movement intended to give persons over sixty-five another break evidently on the theory that Washington politicians can't be trusted with the job.

The name of this new movement or organization is "Over 65, Inc." which it is claimed now takes in 15.4 million of the country's population.

Briefly, the big idea is that merchants may join the outfit who agree to give a discount to all persons over 65. These merchants will in turn be furnished with a list of "senior citizens" in their area. The "senior citizens" will be advised by letter the name of the merchants who have agreed to give them these discounts. The arrangement must remain in effect by parties on both sides for a year and the oldest must trade with these merchants.

We would not say that this smells like a polite form of boycott of other merchants, but we do rise to ask why persons over 65 should get a discount not offered to all others? Isn't this discrimination against certain groups who are not over 65 and isn't New York against discrimination of any kind. (Certainly its Mr. Keating and Mr. Javits in the U.S. Senate have managed to convey this impression.)

Also what is the big idea in allowing discounts to any one because of age any more than extending the same discounts to all red headed women with knock knees and bow legs?

Matter Might As Well Be Decided By Flip Of Coin

Our opinion on the subject is of no particular value, of course, but many subscribers write us to ask who we think will be the next President of the United States.

Our reply is invariably that we think, judging from the past twenty-five years, that it will be the worst possible man for the job.

Any way, if we can only draw from those who are now mentioned as candidates, Nixon, Rockefeller, Kennedy, Symington, Johnson, and Stevenson, it doesn't make any difference which one is elected.

The selection of any one of them to head the nation for the next four years will only mean a continuation of Socialism as our national policy and the same drain on the taxpayers to pay for Socialist projects which have been inflicted on the Republic since 1933.

Edna Bell Seward of Oakland, California, and a devoted patriot, points out that the Federal government has an odd way of collecting foreign debts. She referred to the fact that Washington recently announced in one breath that it had collected $40,000,000 from Poland which had owed it to us since World War II and in the next breath announced that because of a severe drought in Poland, we had just made them a loan of $40,000,000.

Congressman Jim Wright of Fort Worth stated recently on the floor of Congress that neighbors are informing on each other to the Internal Revenue Service and that they are collecting fat fees from the government for snooping. Congressman Wright indicated that he was ashamed of such practices and expressed the opinion that it should be stopped. What we are ashamed of, and what the Congressman should be ashamed of, is the Sixteenth Amendment authorizing the income tax in the first place which is nothing more than a license for Congress to engage in a vast tax racket which is more vicious than any underworld racket because it has the sanction of government.

Everybody Knows What's Going On Except Taxpayers

There is no doubt that there is much information in connection with the administration of the government that must, in the interest of national safety, be kept secret. But there is a growing belief in this country that most of this "secret" information is known to the Soviets and that American taxpayers are the only ones being kept in the dark.

We understand that there is a bill before Congress whose purpose is to compel heads of departments of government to keep the American public informed on such matters as do not endanger the nation's security.

For some unexplained reason these agency heads seem to delight in withholding information to which every American is entitled, possibly because they are afraid to stir the taxpayers up. Like Earl Wilson's farmer who put a silencer on his shotgun because he wanted his daughter to have a quiet wedding, these bureaucrats want to keep the taxpaying suckers quiet so they put a silencer on information by marking their files "top secret."

If a propaganda campaign ever was called for, it is one which would educate elected and appointed officials in the nation's capital concerning their true status and which would sell them on the fact that the taxpayers are their employers and are entitled to look at the ledger any time they want to and to see how their public servants are spending their money.

What We Don't Need Is Any More Phony 'Intellectuals'

Out in Hollywood Steve Allen is regarded as a fairly entertaining comedian but nothing he has ever done or said on television was as amusing as his performance on the program of Paul Coates recently. He didn't mean to be funny on this occasion, however, as his discussion was pitched in what he intended to be a serious vein.

In that interview, he pictured himself as a frustrated intellectual who yearns to switch to a program which will make men think but is constantly thwarted by officials of the network which sponsors him and who insist that he stick to his comedy line.

It didn't take him long to prove that he has the usual misconception of the term "intellectual" and that he has it confused with "egg-head," since he let it be known that his "thinking" program would advocate such things as racial mixing, abolishment of capital punishment and other subjects easily identified as part and parcel of party line propaganda.

A true intellectual is one who seeks to preserve, rather than tear down, the stable order of society and who holds in respect those principles and precepts which have been tested in the crucible of time and proved indispensable to the steady advance of man in groping toward higher moral, spiritual and ideological levels.

An egghead, on the other hand, is one who holds that everything that has ever been tried before is without merit and should be discarded and who sincerely believes that any change, good or bad, means progress. It is this species of the human breed which has all but wrecked Constitutional government in the United States and we need more of them like we need the seven year itch.

Some good friend of Allen's should whisper in his ear and inform him that he is not an intellectual who is bursting with a "message" for mankind, but just a tired comedian who needs some new jokes.

The woods are already full of phony intellectuals.

From a business executive in Boston: "Your original and forceful editorials amaze and thrill me. Each edition seems better than the previous one."

Fulton Lewis, Jr., broadcast the charge that an agency of the National Council of Churches had suggested certain obscene books as recommended reading for their members, including children. We and other editors have carried editorials on the subject which have been read all over the country. Aren't some of the "38,000,000 members" which the Council claims going to do anything about it? Do they approve of obscene books and wish their children to read them? Or are they just so brain-washed that they can't summon enough energy to do anything about the matter?

From a physician in Roswell, New Mexico: "I wish that one-twentieth of the men I know had half your guts and you can quote me."

WHAT HAS BECOME OF THE SPIRIT OF AMERICANISM WHICH WAS ONCE OUR MOST PRICELESS POSSESSION?

Whatever happened to that glorious era in the history of this country when the people were solidly united in their determination to preserve and defend it against its enemies at home and abroad?

When loyalty to country, its institutions, principles and traditions came as naturally to every responsible American as the very air he breathed?

When serious doubt of university students' allegiance which made necessary the inclusion of a "loyalty oath" in documents submitted for their signature, would have caused them to hang their heads in sorrow and shame?

When the spectacle of an investigating committee of the Congress of the United States probing into the treasonable activities of thousands appearing before it, would have been as alarming to the general public as an armed attack by an enemy country?

When national pride was as much an American attribute as love of family and reverence for God and when the suggestion that we swap our national sovereignty for citizenship in a One-World State would have been universally regarded as an insult past all forgiving?

When Socialism was held as the perverted dream of diseased minds in the lowest depths of human society and any lawmaker enlisting under its depraved banner and proposing its evil tenets as the basis for legislative action would have been hounded out of office by outraged public opinion?

When the accepted concept of Constitutional Government meant limited power of Federal officials and a system of checks and balances to enforce such limitation; supreme authority of the several States over that of the central body; strict separation of the functions of the three branches of the Federal government; unquestioned acknowledgement of the Constitutional rights of the individual and of private property and fair and just tax levies laid for the purpose of economically administering the specified functions of the government in the sole interest of the American people and where violation of this concept or the distortion of the operations of government to include foreign nations would have resulted in justified charges of treason against the United States?

When the teaching of collectivist ideology in schools, colleges and universities of the nation by subversive instructors would have resulted in their immediate dismissal and public disgrace and when an ordained minister who blasphemed the pulpit by substituting Marxian doctrine for the Gospel of Jesus Christ would have been driven from the clergy and unfrocked?

When the proposal that a decent American citizen accept a dole from Washington or sidestep the responsibility of supporting his aged parents by dumping them on the charity of the Federal government would have stamped him as a tramp and a stumblebum and caused him to burn with resentment and fury.

When members of the Supreme Court of the United States who abased and degraded their high office by usurping authority belonging to the Congress and employed judicial rulings to enact social legislation, would have been divested of their black robes and subjected to impeachment charges?

When an organized world conspiracy against the United States and the Christian principles on which it is founded, instead of attracting the support of powerful political, intellectual and religious leaders, would have sparked a rebellion on the part of rank and file Americans rivaling the bitterness and intensity of the uprising at Lexington and Concord which set off the Revolutionary War?

In brief, when the United States was a powerful, respected and influential factor among nations of the world with vast and far-reaching prestige which rested on the solid foundation of Constitutional Government and a citizenship with undivided loyalty to the American Flag and the matchless Republic for which it stands, and when our national leaders were of such gigantic stature that no puny dictator dared taunt, insult or threaten them?

In Moscow, the Porgy and Bess Company, an aggregation of American Negro entertainers, promoted "cultural relations" between the Soviet Union and the United States by portraying sex life along Catfish Row on the Charleston, South Carolina, waterfront. The Bolsheviks are reported to have been somewhat shocked at the picture of life in the raw among American Negroes but applauded the black performers enthusiastically.

In Hollywood at a Beverly Hills night spot a Negro woman entertainer whose name is Lena Horne, hurled a table lamp and a brace of ashtrays at a customer of the club causing a gash over his left eye. Police called in said that the woman's fit of temper was caused by remarks the customer made concerning her race.

Excerpt from letter from Washington, D. C., newspaper man: "Scores of white women are attacked here, brutally beaten or knocked down and horribly mistreated on streets or in their own homes after midnight as Negroes slash screens and windows. Instead of fighting back the Whites are moving to Maryland and Virginia suburbs."

The small East Texas city of Marshall was the scene recently of a demonstration by 700 Negroes from a colored college there which was only quelled after Texas Rangers were called in. An alleged Negro Communist professor in the Negro college was dismissed after being charged with collaborating with the rioters.

'Flush Toilets' Important But What About National Debt?

Now that the Federal government has established the fact about how many flush toilets there are in American homes, perhaps some consideration will be given to the unimportant but persistently recurring little matter of how deep this nation is in debt.

In his recent message to Congress the President touched on the subject casually by remarking that we are now paying $9,000,000,000 per year, not on the principal, but for interest. After disposing of that he took up the matter of "Civil Rights."

As well as any one in government can estimate, the national debt is now close to $300,000,000,000 and is practically increasing by the hour.

We confess to being old-fashioned, but it seems to us that any head of a government who had run the nation that far into debt would be more concerned over it than he would about how many toilets the people have.

We shuddered at the extravagance of the Roosevelt administration, but when Mr. Truman came along he made Roosevelt look like a piker in spending the taxpayers' money.

The fact that Eisenhower is making bums out of both of them and that no particular protest is made by the people is probably a tribute to the ability of those whose responsibility it is to brain-wash the people and hypnotize them into accepting the squandering of their money as a strong gesture toward maintaining peace and the "containment" of Communism.

It's a great world if we don't weaken.

With the resurgence of Ku Klux Klan activity in various States of the South, the professional hate-rousing organization responsible for reviving the hooded order, the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, appealed to the Attorney General of Georgia to take cognizance of the alarming increase in fiery crosses in Southern areas. In an ironic communication this organization which specializes in defiance of law and order by sponsoring student groups engaged in organized assaults on private property wrote this to the Georgia official: "Such demonstrations are a breach of the peace, unlawfully incite tensions, elicit trouble and are intended to interfere with the lawful exercise of prerogatives which every citizen should enjoy."

The Chicago Board of Education has been asked to make monetary reimbursement to twenty-nine teachers in the public schools there because of mental stress, cuts and bruises suffered by the instructors through attacks by pupils. One woman teacher was injured while fighting off an attempted rape and another was seriously hurt while trying to rout a sex fiend from a lavatory. According to the Chicago News this is all in the day's work and payments for injuries "is expected to be as routine as the occurrences."