

Postrop July 20th 1853

Mrs Miller

As Augustus goes home in the morning I write you a few words.

It will no doubt please you to learn that he has behaved himself quite well, industriously, and has made himself useful in many respects.

You has made considerable improvement in his studies. Mr Morris called on me this morning and promised to pay his board in a few days which will be satisfactory. He said he should advise you to send him back again, I hope you will find it your interest to do so, I think I can make a man of him. If you conclude to do so, please inform me by letter, as I can take but a few boys, and my room will soon be filled, I will reserve a place for him if you wish me to do so.
