

Congratulations Class of 1968

The SHELLEGRAPH is proud to salute "The Class of 1968" in this special issue. To the bright-eyed young folks pictured here, you can be assured that you have some very proud mothers and fathers too, just in case they haven't mentioned it. Sage advice at a magic moment like graduation is all too often buried in the excitement--and rightfully so. Someday though, when you catch your breath, it might give you a good feeling to know that the best wishes of some 1700 Shell Houston Refiners are with you. Of course, an education means a different thing to different people, but the following thought may make you more aware of the value of your accomplishment: "For every man the world is as fresh as it was at the first, and as full of untold novelties for him who has the eyes to see them." (From A Liberal Education, 1868.)

The SHELLEGRAPH would like to be kept informed about the future progress and achievements of the Houston Refinery employees' youngsters. A short letter or even just a telephone call to the paper's office will be sufficient.

All of us at the Refinery are truly proud of the sons and daughters of Shell employees who have graduated from high school and college in the year 1968. It is a pleasure to take this opportunity to congratulate each graduate for achieving this mark of distinction and give due recognition to the fine accomplishments attained by each individual.
