Robert W. Talley, guest speaker, will discuss "The Current Stage Production in London as Compared With Recent American Productions." Special emphasis will be placed on scenery. Mr. Talley will also discuss Noel Coward's "Tonight at 8:30," Lyn Thorndike's "Kind Lady," John Gielgud's "The Sea Gull," and one of St. John Ervine's productions.

The guild was founded two years ago by Harvey W. Harris, who will act as sponsor again this year. The purpose of the club is to present several noted speakers at its monthly meeting during the year.

All students who wish to become members of the guild must make application with the sponsor. Only ten freshmen will be admitted each year. Prospective members are invited to attend the meeting Saturday.

Reservations must be made by Friday night with Miriam Smith or Mr. Harris.

University of Houston Society of Engineers, UHSE, held their initial meeting of the year in the auditorium Friday at 8:30 p. m. Election of officers and a discussion of the tentative schedule of speakers was the business handled at this gathering.

Al Gardner was elected president of the organization which is entering its second year of existence. The vice president of the organization is T. G. Whiddon. Other officers elected were F. W. Montgomery, secretary-treasurer, and W. J. Meier, Chief Engineer.

"The purpose of the organization is to stimulate interest in engineering and kindred subjects," said Mr. Gardner. "We hope to disseminate the knowledge of the members for mutual benefit."

All students of the sciences, mathematics or some phase of engineering are eligible to become members. Over seventy students attended the first meeting Friday.

L. B. Fields is sponsor and it was through his efforts that the society was first organized.

Debate

Students interested in intercollegiate debating are urged to attend the first meeting tonight at 9:30 in room 203. Officers will be elected and plans made for the coming year.

French Theatre Changes Policies For New Season

Changes in administrative policies and enlargement of executive personnel are recent acts of the French Theater members, according to a bulletin issued by the organization October 8.

The affairs of the Theater are now under the exclusive control of an Administrative Council composed of the following members:

A. W. Larkin, chairman, in charge of membership; V. G. Gillingham, treasurer; G. P. F. Jouine, secretary; E. G. Leonardon, in charge of dinner meetings; Armon E. Mabry, in charge of stage settings; Marcel Meraud, and Roy D. Wilson.

There is a consulting committee of twenty-five members, composed of the above seven Councilors, and eighteen additional members whose advice and recommendation will be sought as representative of the desires and opinions of the Theater's membership.

The production of plays will be under the general direction of Jules A. Vern, supported by a competent staff of assistants. A complete program for the season now beginning has already been prepared.

Tickets for the season are now available for students at $2.00.

Students Urged To Have Photos Made For Annual

Individual pictures for the Houstonian, annual of the University of Houston, will be taken by Henry Stern, photographer, second floor, Rusk building, beginning tomorrow.

All students are urged to have photographs made, regardless of classification. A special plea has been issued that all boys wear coats and ties.

The first official staff meeting will be held Wednesday, October 21, at 6 p. m., in room 205.

Prices for the photographs have been set at seventy-five cents for two poses.

Judge W. H. Ward asking President Roosevelt and Secretary Ickes to give special attention to the needs of the University of Houston. This resolution passed and was followed with a telegram to the President and copies to Secretary Ickes, Jesse Jones, and congressmen from this district.

Heads Discuss University

President E. E. Oberholtzer and Vice President W. W. Kemmerer were called upon to explain what the University has accomplished and make statements as to how far the proposed expansion program had been carried out.

It was learned that the deed for the 110 acres of land in MacGregor Park is about ready for presentation to the school board. Also, application for a grant from the federal government for landscaping and buildings has passed all of the government boards and now is before the directing officers and president in Washington for an allocation of funds.

At present, there are three distinct branches of the University, the College of Arts and Sciences, the General College, and the School of Community Service. While though the first branch mentioned is actually the mother institution, it is considered a branch of the school, usually referred to as the evening division.

General Education

The General College or Day School is set up separately, planned to give two years of general education of a type that the student may use in actual everyday life. According to this plan, if a student is unable to complete four years of college, the knowledge he has gained will be of a nature akin to his daily life, and of real value to him. Whereas if he wishes to continue his study, these two years of the General College will be equal to two years preparatory work in almost any professional field he might choose.

All types of extension work are included in the program of the school of Community Service. While though classes have been set-up in various localities, the growth of this department is most especially limited until such time as the University is located in its own buildings. The purpose of this department is to develop a type of college work that will help the working man advance in his occupation and at the same time furnish the business firm with more proficient and reliable employees.

DOLLARS AND SENSE

Robert Maynard Hutchins, president of the University of Chicago, writing in the current issue of Harper's condemns the entire system of higher education in America as affiliated with embroglio.

Lashing out with acrimonious language, Mr. Hutchins declares the love of money determines the controlling interest in an institution of learning. The perfunctory fancies of wealthy men and public idiosyncracies dictate what shall be included in the curriculum of any university and what shall be suspended. Our people, he continues, as the last few years have shown, will strike out blindly under economic pressure. They will ignore the best and lavish the worst unless the distinction between the two is made somewhat clearer to them.

Mr. Hutchins is obvious of the superior aspects while he emphasizes only the poignant defects in the American mode of education.

Contrasted with any other educational setup the world over, the American procedure continues to produce the greatest minds, in the greatest numbers, and in a greater variety of sciences and professional fields.

Public kleptomaniacs should dictate what the colleges should teach because after all stately buildings that are the gifts of millionaires, and beautiful campuses that are maintained by the state become only tangible extravagances in architecture when the public does not react with verve to the curriculum offered.

Mr. Hutchins evidently is a better college president than he is a journalist because he is definitely vague when he says our people will destroy the best and preserve the worst unless the distinction is shown them. That is beautiful jargon. We constantly seek a more perfect civilization. So long as money will buy yachts, penthouses and post toasties, the love for it shall remain universally instinctive.

HEALTH VS FIFTEEN MINUTES

Last Wednesday in assembly the students of the University voted vehemently against the proposal to increase the time of the lunch period from thirty to forty five minutes. The speed with which this proposition was rejected was a definite indication that the matter was not given proper consideration by the student body.

A thirty minute lunch period does not give us time enough to be served in the lunch room, much less to have the time to eat our meal properly. To students who come in at a late period this is not a handicap. They have not considered the health hazard involved those of us who come early and stay late night after night, without ever having time to eat a leisurely evening meal.

Recent trends in education have stressed the importance of health study. Yet of what importance is this study if we willfully violate one of the first principles—that of correct assimilation of food. Let us reconsider this problem, viewing it in the light of a health question. Think of the value of fifteen minutes each day given to the proper care of our health. Contrast it with fifteen minutes given to idleness, loitering in the halls or spent in conversation with classmates. After all, if our education is not accompanied by a healthy body, what have we gained. Shall we re-consider this problem—viewing it, not with the idea of the present time, but thinking of it in terms of our future.

Editor's Note—Students may submit letters in answer to this question for next week's student opinion column. Leave your letters in The Cougar box in the University office by 9:30 Wednesday night, October 21.

In everything one must consider the end.—La Fontaine.

Socrates being asked whether it was better to marry or not, he replied, "Whichever you do, you will repent it."—Laertius.

Diligence is the mother of good fortune.—Cervantes.

The appearance of things to the mind is the standard of every action to man.—Epictetus.

Enrollment Figures Above Expectations of College Officials

Expectations of the Administrative officials were far surpassed when registrations in the University of Houston totaled more than 1300 Monday, October 13.

Two foreign universities are represented in the University of Houston by the enrollment of Camille Bonnami, a graduate of University of Brussels, Belgium, and David C. La-Touche, formerly of the University of Ireland, Dublin. These two students are taking special work in the university.

The geology classes are filled to such a great capacity, it is the belief of the officials that more classes will have to be formed to take care of the demand.

"A number of students are taking non-credit courses for the practical value they will receive, which is quite substantial evidence that we are serving the public in the manner for which our school was originally organized," Mrs. Bender, registrar announced.

Richard Faussett Names Committees For Senior Class

Senior committees were appointed by President Richard Faussett at a called meeting of the class Wednesday night.

Algerine Allen will serve as chairman of the social committee. Assisting her will be Isabel Ackerman, Miriam Smith, and Ruie Lawrence.

The spring committee will consist of John Cutler, chairman, Lamar Harlan, Helen Grum Perry, and Winnie Allen. James Julian will head the committee for invitations assisted by Jean Whitbread, Gus Japhet and Richard Etter.

The class voted to assess the members two dollars dues for the year.

Murray Hostess For French Club Sunday Evening

Les Carbeaux, the French Club, will meet Sunday night at 8 p. m. at the home of Ann Murray, 1224 Barkdull.

This club was organized last year for the students of the University of Houston speaking or studying the French language. It is sponsored by Dr. C. F. Hiller and Professor Jules A. Vern, both instructors of French. The membership is made up from both branches of the club.

The officers of the club are: Bill Shamblin, president; Douglas Carter, vice president, and Bonnie Luscher, secretary.

Houstonian Club Plans Hallowe'en Dance and Carnival

Plans are underway for the Carnival and Hallowe'en Dance sponsored each year by the Houstonian Club. This affair promises to be one of the cleverest dances of the year.

The carnival will prevail. Barkers will have charge of the numerous booths, which will include fortunetelling, a hall of horrors, fishing ponds, penny-throwing, and Kewpie dolls. Candy and masks will be sold to the guests.

A Hallowe'en decorative scheme will be engaged to furnish the music for the dance, and a small admission charge will be made. The date and other details concerning the dance have not been announced.

UNIVERSITY LIBRARY POPULAR PLACE USES SEEN—SERIOUS AND SOCIAL

The University of Houston library is being used more seriously this year. About 10 per cent of enrollment per period use the library, but not altogether for library purposes. Aside from using it for study and reading, it is used as a waiting and social room.

A University Library in order to meet requirements should have 8000 volumes excluding public documents and bound periodicals. The University of Houston Library has 9377 volumes, an unusually good record for a beginning University library.

During the past year 1295 volumes were purchased. 189 volumes were presented as gifts. Gifts will be greatly appreciated at any time. 29,787 volumes were lent for home use last year. The average daily circulation was 138.

In calling for books at the desk please look for number of the book you want in the catalogue, and present it to one of the assistants. Don't ask for a "little blue book, about so long and so wide."

Every student should know the following rules:

You may borrow a "room use" for two hours; "home use" book circulated for a week.

A "home use" book not returned on time is subject to a fine of 5 cents a day. The fine for room use books is 25 cents for the first hour or fraction, and 5 cents an hour thereafter.

One renewal of a loan period is allowed on "home use" books or "room use" books.

In general the library does not limit the number of books loaned at one time to an individual.

Books are loaned to any student presenting a call slip at the loan desk and showing receipt. Alumni of the University of Houston and city teachers are privileged to use the library upon making a $2.00 deposit.

No fines for overdue books will be collected. Fines will be deducted from the $2.00 fine fee, not library fee, paid when student registers. If, at the end of the school year you have not had any fines your $2.00 will be refunded.

At the present time the library aside from its two full-time trained librarians has nine NYA assistants, two WPA workers.

Know and use the library to your advantage.

Minster-Schroeder Elected '36 Officers Of G. C. Junior Class

Ruth Nell Minster and Evelyn Schroeder were elected president and secretary of the General College junior class at the first meeting of the group this week.

Louise Campbell was elected vice president but after a check-up was found to be ineligible. Miss Campbell is taking but two subjects at the General College, and the University of Houston handbook requires that a candidate take three subjects to be eligible for office. Another meeting will be held shortly to elect an officer to fill that position.

Plans for the class are indefinite at the present time. Meetings will be held later to decide on the activities to be carried out by the group this year.

GIFTED YOUNG VIOLINIST LEAVES APPRECIATIVE AUDIENCE

By Mary Catherine Bruhl

An appreciative audience left the Scottish Rite Cathedral Monday evening, October 12, after hearing a former student of San Jacinto High in concert. Arnold Caplan, gifted young violinist, has gone far in his twenty-one years toward his goal of concert violinist.

He possesses an especially beautiful and sympathetic tone quality of ethereal delicacy. In his first number, Ciaccona by Vitali, there was the suggestion of the sweet tones of a bird, ever soaring to greater heights as he sings. In the Mendelssohn "Allegro Molto Appassionato" there was a remarkable clarity of intonation and a nicety of control and precision at the most difficult points.

Burch's arrangement of the beautiful Hebrew melody, "Kol Nidrei," more closely exemplified that satisfying depth and power of tone for which one hoped, but so often in vain. Doubtless this asset of the matured artist will come with the ensuing years.

The beloved "Perpetual Motion" of Paganini gave unquestionable proof of an amazingly proficient technique, but it remained for the ingratiatingly melodic and rhythmic design of Dinicu-Heifetz "Hora Staccata" to bring unceasing applause from the delighted audience and an encore from the artist.

After much enthusiastic applause at the completion of the program the familiar "Melody" by Gluck, and Kreisler's "Schon Rosmarin" were given. Throughout the evening, Patricio Gutierrez at the piano lent perfect support to the violin. The accompaniment of the "Hora Staccata" was particularly enchanting.

Young Caplan, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Caplan of this city, has proved himself worthy of the faith of his friends and of his first teacher, Gregor Jassel of Houston. He has gathered honors at every point of his pathway; there was the Texas Federation Music award at the age of eleven, a scholarship at Curtis Institute of Music in Philadelphia, and a fellowship at Juillard under supervision of the noted Louis Persinger.

Arnold was guest soloist with the Houston Symphony Orchestra in 1935, and with all these accomplishments in his chosen profession, his academic education has gone apace. After leaving San Jacinto High, he became a honor student in a New York High school from whence he enrolled in New York University, an institution parallel to that of the University of Houston. At present he is a student of Psychology and English Literature at Columbia University, with ample time reserved for the furtherance of his promising musical career.

Not the least pleasing quality of this young artist is the poise and natural sincerity of his stage presence. That, together with his inately lyrical poetic quality of tone, and an evident capacity for hard work, bids fair to take him far toward his goal.

N. K. D. Speakers Hear C. F. Hiller At First Meeting

"Student life in Spain" was the subject of an address given by Dr. C. F. Hiller at the first business meeting of the N.K.D. club Friday, October 9, at which time twenty-six students of the University met for organization.

The program committee, headed by Doris Kennedy and assisted by Knox Delambre and Arthur Talk, presented a vox pop and a talk by L. H. Kaminosky. Plans are being made to present some actual radio broadcasts within the University by Harvey W. Harris, sponsor.

The next meeting will be held Friday, October 23.

Credits In Music Will Be Given At University of H.

University singers will meet each Monday, Wednesday and Friday night from 9:30 to 11 p. m., it was decided at the first meeting of the group Wednesday night.

"To those who desire it, credit will they are now taking," Dean N. K. Dupre announced. "At the next meeting a director will be present."

Out of the three weekly meetings, only two attendances are necessary for credit. The next meeting of the club will be Monday night at 9:30 in the music room.

The newly elected corps of officers is headed by James Miles, president; Ruth Nell Minster is vice president; Louise Campbell, vice president; Joe Pope, treasurer; Evelyn Schroeder, librarian; and Vergie Oelrich, reporter.

eral College freshmen in regard to the class activities. Later, Eddie stopped this writer in the hall with the question: "Going to our dance?" It's good to see a group begin work so early on class activities, and better still is the enthusiasm with which they are carrying on their work. If the other classes took the freshmen as a model this year, they couldn't miss.

It has long been said that as the faculty goes, so goes the school. Believing this, the University of Houston is due to go places. Professors Miller, Talley, Halden, Werlin, et al have done much. They have lectured to thousands of people around Houston, Austin, Galveston, and other points in Texas, and have done much toward spreading the name and the influence of the University. They deserve the unanimous thanks of the entire student body. They have worked long and hard, and, speaking for all students and officials of this school, I express the most appreciation.

Joseph S. Werlin Speaks Over Radio Station KTRH

"Nationalism and Race As Factors in Modern War" was the subject for a talk given by Dr. Joseph S. Werlin, professor of sociology at the University of Houston, Tuesday morning over radio station KTRH.

The speech was one of a series of which was given this week by the Emergency Peace Campaign of Houston.

The featured speaker of the week was Dr. Robert Morss Lovett, professor of English at the University of Chicago. He addressed a gathering at a banquet held Thursday at Uptown Hall. With the exception of Dr. Lovett all speakers during the week were from Houston and vicinity.

cific utilities will result in expansion of this department. Although specific details are not available at this time, the general plan is to open new fields of study as well as to enlarge on those now offered.

Civic-Minded Men

The banquet was sponsored by the following public-spirited Houstonians: J. W. Evans, S. R. Bertran, George W. Starake, R. C. Kuldell, H. R. Cullen, W. L. Childs, J. A. Phillips, and George A. Hill.

Members of the old Houston Junior College faculty were especially invited and also all members of the present University faculty who were not holding classes. Those who were able to attend were Dean N. K. Dupre, Sam L. Bishkin, Alva L. Kerbow, C. F. Hiller, Archie W. French, C. B. Johnston, W. A. Rees, E. W. Schuhmann, C. S. Meek, M. A. Miller, L. T. Sophs Meet

The Sophomore class will meet Monday, October 19 at 9:30 p. m. in room 118 for the purpose of discussing the Sophomore dance which is scheduled for the near future, President Roy Much announced.

MUSIC STUDY CLUB PRODUCES ENTERTAINER

"Swanee River" Sung In Deep Bass Voice

Another entertainer was uncovered for Music Study Club audiences last Friday when Cullen Jackson, General College janitor, sang "Swanee River" in a deep bass voice.

Cullen several years ago attended Fiske College and while there was a member of the school choir. He explained Friday that he hadn't "sung in a long time," but he would "try it today." He was accompanied by Mary Catherine Bruhl.

V. G. Keller was the interrogator on a Vox-Pop program. The question pertained to different phases of the school. Those questioned included Lois Fuller, Fred Dallas, Jon Vander Henst, Ted O'Leary, Harry Johnston, and Mrs. Stafford.

Murray A. Miller, General College director, commented that the Vox Pop program should be continued as a weekly feature. "Asking different questions in regard to the enrollment, the members of the faculty and the students, should be a great aid to the student body in learning its school," he stated.

President Harry Johnston appointed an entertainment committee composed of Roger Jeffery, Gwen Hart, Eddie DeYoung, Fred Dallas, Louise Campbell, Evelyn Schroeder, and Larry Stephens. This is a permanent committee and will arrange and carry through all social functions which the club will hold during the year.

"There will be a permanent group to handle all occasions instead of a hastily-appointed committee for each event. The latter tends to poorly-organized functions," he said. The new entertainment committee met after the Music Study Club meeting to make plans for the first party, either a skating party or a weiner roast.

The remaining members of the program committee were also appointed. They include Robert Truett, Eddie Tureaud, Ruth Nell Minster and Harry Montgomery.

Margaret Miller Elected President Of Library Staff

Margaret Miller was reelected president of the Library staff at a meeting Wednesday night. Carmen Stone was elected to the offices of vice president, secretary and treasurer.

Plans were made for a weiner roast to be held Saturday, October 24, at 6:30 p. m. The committee to plan the event is composed of Margaret Miller, Carmen Stone and Mary Lewis.

The club is made up of the library assistants and has as its purpose to give one social affair each month for the membership.

New Stars Booked For Fall Season By Chesterfield

The popular Andre Kostelanetz dance programs sponsored by Chesterfield Cigarettes over the Columbia network opened their Fall season on September 30th with the return of Nino Martini as star of the Wednesday evening broadcasts.

Kay Thompson, Ray Heatherton and the Rhythm Singers will continue to hold the spotlight on Fridays, with a new broadcasting time of 8:30 E.S.T., and a re-broadcast of the entire show from New York at 11:30 for listeners in the West.

The Martini programs on Wednesday evenings will also feature a new Chesterfield chorus of 18 mixed voices which Kostelanetz has spent many weeks selecting and rehearsing. Insiders on radio row who have heard the new ensemble are lavish in their praises, and some claim that it is the finest singing aggregation Chesterfield has yet put on the air.

They plan to vary the brilliant dance arrangements of Kostelanetz with the pick of light music from musical comedies, operettas and popular movies.

With the same background of Kostelanetz dance music on Friday evenings, the Kay Thompson-Ray Heatherton combination accompanied by the Rhythm Singers will continue to present their interpretation of popular songs and vocal novelties. This program was one of the outstanding hits of the summer season, twice being honored by nationally prominent magazines in the form of medal awards as a dance program "refreshingly different."

No doubt Chesterfield's new time periods on Friday, which include the later broadcast from New York for the Columbia Stations in the Western half of the country, were arranged so that more listeners could enjoy these popular entertainments.

Spanish Club Will Hold First Meeting Sunday October 18

The Spanish Club will have its first meeting Sunday, October 18, at the home of Sadie Williford, 720 Bomar, at 3 p. m.

The purpose of the meeting is the election of officers for the year. There will also be a short program and the club will sing several Spanish songs.

Plans for the year include correspondence with students in Spanish speaking countries, the annual Christmas party, and the Pan-American Day celebration.

Mrs. Floy P. Soule is sponsor.

MURRAY MILLER SPEAKS ABOUT CREDIT CHANGES

Affiliation of Other Colleges Is Stressed

The Program for the General College assembly last Friday consisted principally of announcements by faculty members and student club officers.

Murray A. Miller, day school director, spoke briefly on the subject of transferring credits after one or two years at the University of Houston. "One of the primary factors in the consideration of a student's acceptance into another school," said Mr. Miller, "is the confidential report that the deans and registrars of many other institutions ask us to make upon that individual."

Not the least among the points mentioned in his report was the element of leadership possibility and participation in school activities. In connection with this, Harry Montgomery made a few remarks upon the activities and interests of the Music Study Club. He emphasized the fact that the organization is not merely of a musical nature. It is one of the leading social organizations of the General College. The only requirement for membership is regular attendance at meetings.

Mrs. Edith Stafford, who is in charge of the General College office, reminded students that all class and schedule changes must come through the office if they are to be recognized.

Daily Newspaper Publishes Articles By U. Instructor

Using as a basis his summer of study in Europe, Robert W. Talley, University of Houston instructor, will write a series of articles for The Houston Post. They will appear October 25 and the two ensuing Sundays.

The first article will be concerned with art in England, the second, in France, and the third in Italy.

Mr. Talley spoke to the Arts and Science Club in the Rusk building October 9 on "The Tools of the Historians." Thursday, October 15, "Greek and Roman Sculpture and Architecture" was the subject of a lecture to the Art Division of the Woman's Club. In both lectures Mr. Talley used slides he secured in Europe for the University of Houston.

Frosh Seek Game With Sophomores For Revenge

Taking the cue from other sports writers, I am going to do some prognosticating (borrowed from Dick Freeman) this week. Of all the games being played this week Rice versus Georgia and the U. of H. Frosh versus Sophs. Rice should win their game handily, as Georgia showed less than nothing against LSU last week. The score should be about 20-0.

Now for the big game! The Frosh weren't satisfied with the outcome of their battle with the Sophs, and are seeking revenge. They should get it. If they both stick to the line-up they used in the first game, which the Sophs won 3-0, the Freshmen should win by about 6 points, so I'll guess about 12-6.

Now just to make the fall a little softer when someone cuts off the limb I'm on, I better repeat that my guess is made thinking both teams

Ping Pong

A ping-pong tournament will begin Monday in the gym. The contest will be limited to boys singles. Those wishing to participate must register in the gym by Friday night.

will lineup just as they did last week. So if someone disagrees with me, I've got 2 cents to bet on Rice and 1 cent to bet on the Frosh.

Fred Jones Presides At Speakers Meeting

Members of the 7:30 Public speaking club met Friday, in room 316 for its second meeting with Fred Jones, vice president of the club, presiding.

Printed pages were distributed, giving points on the subject of how football should be played in colleges. The question "Is football a reason for going to college or just an extra-curricular activity," was discussed.

No definite decision was reached on the subject.

Bystanders Are Awe-Struck By Ping Pong Play

One of the most popular spots in the University of Houston is the gym. From 4 until 9:30 p. m. it is used by those who take their relaxation from studies in the form of ping-pong basketball or bull. Here great minds like those of Billy Bender and Dan Miller, while resting from their scholastic labours, think up sure fire money-making schemes.

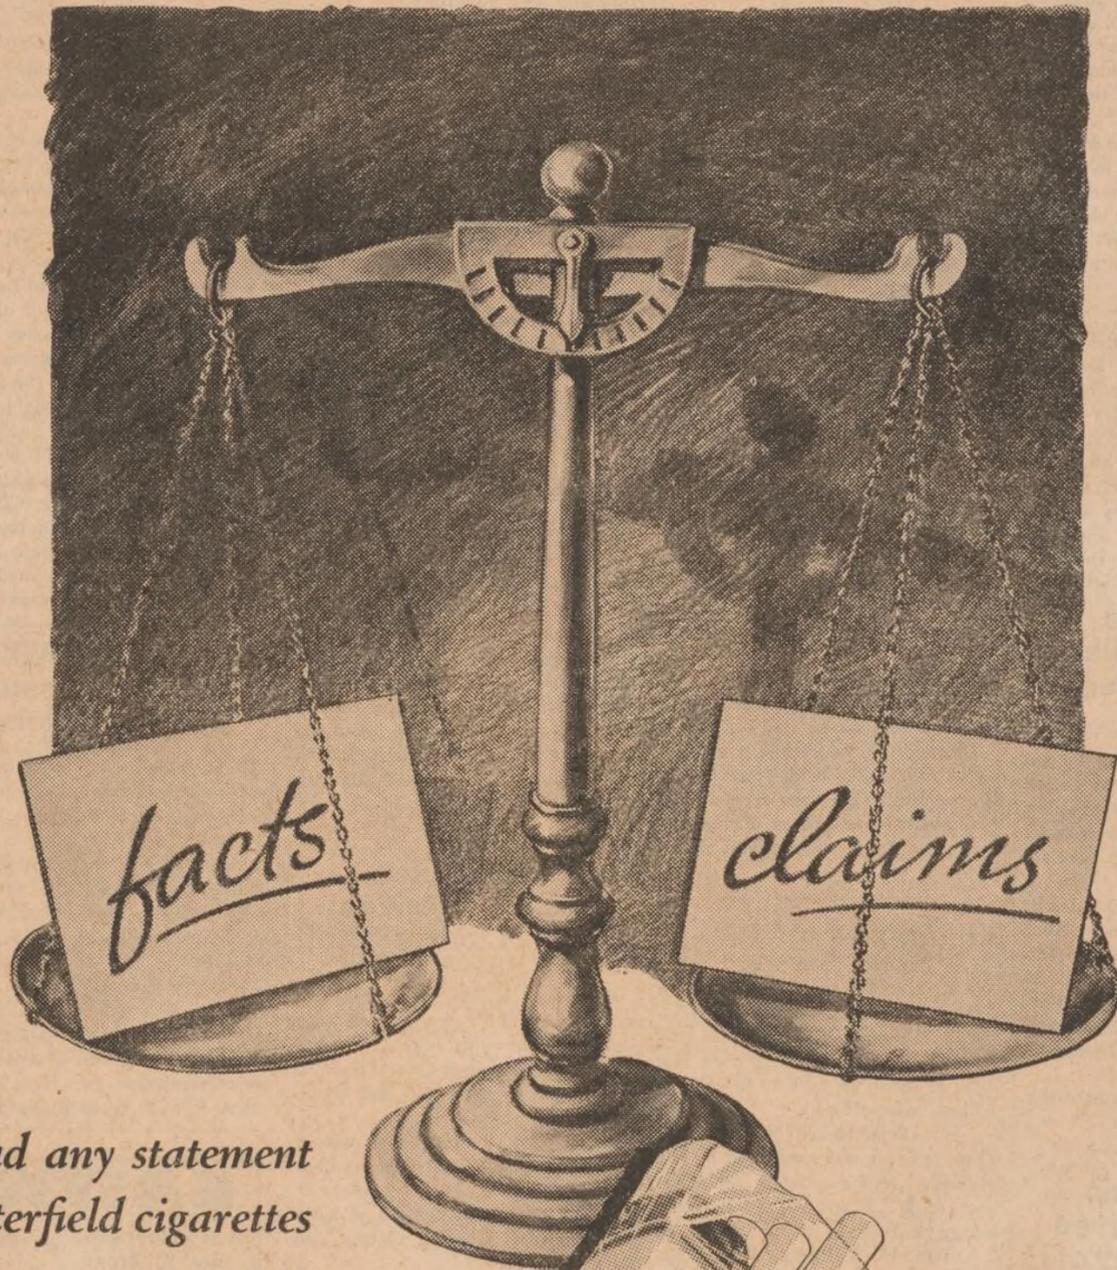

At almost any given time, Bill Urick can be seen amazing awe-stricken bystanders with his smooth, polished game of ping-pong, while Joe (Tarzan) Camp demonstrates his remarkable ability as a basketball player. Emmy Craddy satisfies the aesthetic cravings by pounding out tingling tunes on the piano, and if you enter the gym at the right moment you may see Miss Clampitte and a bevy of beautiful belles engaged in terpsicorian fantasies. (Sometimes they dance too.)

But the most awe inspiring sight is encountered when a basketball game (three on a side, one goal) is going at full tilt. At any of these functions one can satisfy his savage craving for bloody battle and can also see how the game is played minus the Marquis of Queensbury rules.

As for the last item mentioned at the beginning of this enlightening opus, the "bull" is always flowing freely. The gym has become the center for tall tales, rivalled by no other place in the school, except maybe for the public speaking classes, and five will get you ten if you think your tallest story cannot be topped by some of the athletes(?)

So when time hangs heavy on your hands, remember you will always find something happening in the gym and that there's continuous performance from 4 'til 9:30.
