

Praise, Monuments Cannot Cover Cullens' "Good Will To Men"

Editorial

If all the stories and articles which have been written and published in praise of the charitable deeds and the philanthropies performed by Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Cullen were spread out, they would not by any means cover the "good will toward men" in the hearts of these two Texans whom Houston and the University of Houston are proud to call their own.

And so, even in the light of all that has been said publicly, spread upon scrolls of honor, printed in beautiful booklets, published in newspapers, magazines and books, and engraved in marble to document and laud the achievements of the Cullens, it cannot be amiss for the Ex-Students Association in this their first Homecoming publication, to add a sincere word of appreciation.

It is in the democratic tradition that an occasional man may, with energy, imagination, and daring, wrest great fortune from the treasures of earth. It is a rarer thing, but also in the tradition of the truest principles of our American system and of the human race, that this man and his wife choose to employ that wealth voluntarily toward the betterment of mankind through all the ages to come.

Hugh Roy and Lillie Cranz Cullen have given freely not only of their material resources but of their time, their influence, and their mental and spiritual energies toward the causes of human health, welfare and advancement by training and education. Vast as the recently established Cullen Foundation is, perhaps the influence of its example to others through the years ahead may reach similar proportions.

Dr. W. W. Kemmerer, speaking on behalf of the faculty at commencement exercises last May, paid this tribute to Mrs. Cullen: "She is a living example of the philosophy, 'The greatest possible satisfaction from life is secured by making the greatest contribution to society.'"

President Oberholtzer added the tribute that she has "sought and found joy and beauty in her achievements."

In the presentation of the honorary doctor's degree to Mr. Cullen a few minutes later, Doctor Kemmerer made this significant statement:

"His energies in recent years have been directed toward preserving our American way of life at its very foundation, the education of youth."

It is with pride that we dedicate this issue, the Homecoming exercises, and our organization to Hugh Roy and Lillie Cranz Cullen.

EXES TO HONOR CULLENS AT HOMECOMING

Homecomers to See Cougars, Bobcats Tangle Saturday

By BOB WEATHERLY

The Southwest Texas Bobcats come to Houston to meet the University Cougars Saturday at 2:30 p.m. in Public School stadium.

More than 2000 University of Houston ex-students are expected to attend the second annual homecoming game. The first homecoming game was lost to North Texas last year 7-3.

Coach George Vest brings a heavy squad, boasting 22 lettermen, to oppose the Cougars in their fifth conference game of the year. The Bobcats, who run from a "T" formation, are sparked by George Carlisle, 180-pound quarterback.

The Southwesterners have won four games this season, including a 20-7 upset over an undefeated East Texas powerhouse.

Among the Bobcats' backs is Jeff Curbo, 170-pound seatback. It was Curbo who showed his heels to the East Texas defense in scoring two touchdowns.

Other backs who merit watching are co-captain Jack Crawley and Billy Randolph, former Arkansas and TCU letterman.

The big Southwest Texas line is led by end Wallace Dockall, unanimous all-conference selection last year. He is also noted for his pass-snatching ability.

Coach Jewell Wallace will be without the services of Valton Green. The hard-charging fullback was carried off the field with a twisted knee in the Stephen F. Austin game. Bill Moeller, big guard who is still favoring a knee injured in the McMurry game, probably will not see action against the Bobcats.

The Cougars have had two rough scrimmages this week in preparation for the Bobcat game. Passing, with Boyd Tingle and Aubrey Baker doing the chunking, has dominated the practices. This points to a game of aeriels as Southwest Texas is adept in passing the oval.

Up to date the Cougars are winless in conference play. A victory before the homecoming crowd would taste sweet to the two year old squad.

The President's Message

Dear Exes,

"U. of Houston Regents

Appropriate $5000 to Exes"

was the headline we welcomed on Thursday morning, October 9. At a regular meeting the Regents indorsed your Association with a $5000 pat on the back and thus culminated more than two years of intensive work and planning by your Board of Directors and officers.

During that period Director Foster Montgomery visited numerous former student associations throughout the Southwest and brought back a wealth of information and advice which was molded into a plan calculated to put our more than 20,000 member Association in the big league.

Our greatest need has been a full time executive secretary to actively manage the affairs of the Association. The $5000 grant enabled us to

The crowning of a Homecoming Queen will again highlight the half-time ceremonies of the football game Saturday afternoon when the U. of H. Cougars meet the Southwest Texas State Bobcats. The queen will again be awarded a solid gold bracelet given by Corrigan Jewelry company.

An added feature at the half-time will be the presentation of the winning high school bands in a competition which will have been waging since 8:00 that morning between 39 bands from all over Texas. FLOOD OF MEMORIES

When the Exes get together for Homecoming there will be a flood of memories of happy days gone by—glimpses of old friends, a happy smile, that time the gang was nearly kicked out of school. Many a mellow memory will be revived as the old-timers stroll over the Cougar campus November 22.

We oldsters had no tradition when we attended the U. of H. We made that tradition ourselves. Now that the decades have passed by, our years are the valued memories of today.

The memories, the traditions the joys and sorrows of the past, these are the stuff of which a rich college heritage is made.

So when we gather on Homecoming day, we should congratulate ourselves on our achievements, for we are the originators of tradition that will be revered in the future.

The greatness of a university is measured by its rich past as in its active present and promising future. We have shared thus, in a vital epoch—the creation of a university.

MESSAGE

employ such an executive secretary, and, accordingly, on November 3, we secured the most able man in these parts—John W. Goyen, Jr., Class of '47.

It is the sincere hope of the Association that you will support the University and especially its football team. Support your Association in every activity it undertakes. Visit the new office, Room 114, Recreation building. Get acquainted with Johnny Goyen, and plan to attend the Homecoming events which promise to make Homecoming, 1947, the greatest gathering of the U. of H. Exes ever to assemble.

With kindest regards, I remain

Respectfully,

Pres., Ex-Students Ass'n.

Remember When--

By ODEAN SPEARS

(1934) - - James "Red" Coulson is taking leave of the University this year after several years service in student government. Mary Elizabeth Horan will certainly be missed around the Cougar Office where she has been diligently at work for quite some time, editing the paper this spring.

The Cougar Collegians have been in a whirl this season with a tea, a vice-versa dance and a banquet for the girls basketball team. Our hats are off to president Lou Gaines and treasurer Lucy Grady.

Ed Chernosky, captain of the ice hockey team deserves a pat on the back for the fine record the boys set this winter. The high point "boys" on the unbeaten team include; Bill Irwin, Paul Franks, Chernosky, and John Burns.

The graduates banquet at the Carolina Pines. Some got lost in the woods. Prof. Henderson led with many humorous anecdotes.

Ellen Newman and Marjorie Walker were elected most beautiful and most popular respectively.

(1935) - - The Red Masque Dramatic Society had an active year presenting three plays. Romeo and Juliet gained national recognition for the organization. Vernon Scott, president, Marjorie Wilke, secretary and Wilbur Smith business manager were the "brains" of the group.

Cougar Collegians Katherine Berry and Evelyn Nicoll are still dizzy from the busy year of teas, picnics, and candy sales.

Carol Vance was elected president of the newest and largest organization on the campus. The Harris Literary Guild. The membership list includes the names of: Lynn Davis, Elamey Fisher, June Hardy, Joe Wolfe, Harvey Gabler and James Willett.

June Learned, Elizabeth Greedy, and Marjorie McKean, are elected most beautiful this season. James Willett, Walter Lewis are most popular and Edwin Patterson is considered most representative.

(1937) - - The Houstonian made its debut this spring sporting a bright red corduroy cover with a white leatherette banner across the front. Douglas E. Carter, editor, and his staff, including Algerine Allen, assistant editor, Wilbur J. Smith business manager, and Algerine Bentley business assistant, can now stand and take a bow.

Prominent members of this season's graduating class include Richard Faussett, president of the senior class, Charlotte Andreason, secretary, Lamar Harlan student council representative, and John C. Cutler an outstanding senior speech major.

Betty Martin, a campus lovely, was chosen one of the Favorites along with Geraldine Bentley, and Louise Campbell, who are equally as lovely.

(1938) - - The Big Apple and Trucking are the last word in dance steps this year. Henry Taub, Joe Camp, Arthur Dimney and C. B. Doolan seem to be the last word in student government since each was elected president of his respective class.

U. of H. FM STATION TO BE NAMED KUHF

A frequency modulation (FM) radio station has been authorized for the University of Houston by the Federal Communications Commission, in a letter received this week from the FCC by Dr. W. W. Kemmerer, assistant to the president of the University. The new station will bear the call letters KUHF.

The permit is dated August 28 and was received here November 6. It is required that KUHF be on the air within six months from the date of approval, but Doctor Kemmerer could not say whether this applies to February 28 or May 6 (six months from August 28 or from November 6).

Temporary studios have been built in the Recreation building. Permanent studios are planned in the Ezekiel Cullen administration building, soon to be built, Doctor Kemmerer stated. A three-kilowatt transmitter with a 267-foot antenna is planned. The station will be heard within a radius of 50 miles of the campus.

WALTER WALDHAUSER

Two recent University graduates, both formerly active in student affairs, now head Teen Magazine, local publication for teen agers which has an estimated 10,000 readers.

Both of the ex-students were former editors of the Cougar, and served on the staff of the Houstonian.

In campus affairs, he was a member of the student council, senior advisor of the Cougar, president of the sophomore class, a member of the Outstanding People section of the Houstonian, and "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities."

EXES SEE MOVIES AT ANNUAL MEET

Ex-Students who attended the called general meeting November 12 saw color movies of last year's Homecoming, the 1947 and 1941 Frontier Fiestas. Harold Sprawls, who made and showed the pictures, said they would go into the University's film library if the Association decides to buy them.

Plans were reviewed and pep talks for Homecoming were made by Johnny Goyen and Roger Jeffery during the meeting, conducted by President Charles Saunders.

Article 6, covering the office of executive secretary, was noted into the By-Laws of the Association.

U.H. Campus To Be One Of Country's Lovliest

by Jim Palmer

When we Exes return to the campus for a homecoming celebration a couple of seasons hence, it may look like our age-old dreams of campus development have been brought to life.

For plans for an impressive administration building and deluxe dormitories are well underway. When these buildings, a $5,000,000 project, are completed, the Cougar campus will be one of the most magnificent in the country.

The Ezekiel Cullen administration building will provide a large auditorium with a seating capacity of 1500 or more. Dr. C. P. Boner, acoustic consultant, has assured us that the spoken voice can be heard clearly from the stage throughout the entire auditorium. The building will have offices for all University administrators, including the general and registration offices. The largest building on the campus, it will be located on the large parking lot, completing the present senior college quadrangle.

Board Chairman H. R. Cullen gave assurances that the Ezekiel Cullen building, which will cost $1,850,000, will be financed. Costs are up on this 17½ per cent since estimates were made during the war.

The five dormitories, whose construction will more than double the number of buildings on the campus of Texas' second largest college, will be located in the area between the Recreation building and St. Bernard, extending back to Wheeler.

Besides providing air-conditioned, comfortable apartments, designed in most cases for two students each, these beautiful veteran dormitories will have a modern cafeteria and modern kitchen to provide meals for all students on the campus and, in the administrative and cafeteria building facing the Cullen building, will have adequate library facilities. This wing is so designed that when the Library building is finished later, it may be converted into a ballroom for students, President Oberholtzer explained.

The more than 8,000 students may appear to seriously crowd the campus, but with expanding class space and a faculty of more than 450, the University is just hitting its stride as a major center of learning.

POWELL LEAVES BOARD TO ENTER OHIO GRAD SCHOOL

The resignation of Neville Powell from the Board of Directors of the Ex-Students Association has been received by President Charles Saunders and accepted by the Board. Mr. Powell stated that he will do graduate work at the University of Ohio this year.

He served as chairman of the publicity committee since his election to the Board at the annual meeting April 9, 1947. Mr. Powell's office was filled temporarily by Gene Cuny. A member to fill his position on the Board of Directors has not yet been appointed by the Directors.

Ex-Athlete Graduates Follow Varied Professions

By EVAN WEAVER

Ex-Students of the athletic field are few, but such outstanding stars as Guy Lewis, Willie Wells, Jim Pressly and Bill Swanson are still in contact with the University.

Lewis, the basketball player who brought fame to Coach Alden Pasche's quintet, is now working with the Magnolia Oil company in Troupe, Texas. He attended the Stephen F. Austin-Cougar grid conflict last week, and plans to attend the Homecoming activities.

Wells, former cager and set-shot artist, hasn't given up his basketball career as yet. He has been performing with the Houston Mavericks, a newly organized professional team from the south, that will soon disorganize. Wells has shown signs of being a good passer as well as a dead shot at the hoop.

Not following an athletic career, Bill Swanson, former president of the Lettermen's association, is working here in town with his father's plumbing company. Swanson is plugging up bathtubs instead of plugging the hoop with two-pointers in basketball.

James Pressly, the first athlete to graduate, is a salesman for the Texas company. Jimmy, as he was known to his many friends on the campus, was a track star for the Cougars and took an active part in student government.

The ex-athletes are few in number this year, but are planning to help promote the homecoming celebration this year.

The Baptist on the campus enjoyed a Thanksgiving breakfast at Ye Olde College Inn. We do not have the statistics on just who ate the most, but you can be sure that president Bill Crump was in a position to get a head start closely followed by members Jean Ray, Mary Fink, and Charles McLeroy.

This year's Houstonian was dedicated to our generous benefactors Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Cullen.

(1939) - - - Jean Cleverder the "Amelia Earhart" of the University received her B. A. in History this spring, when Guy Hamilton receives his B. S. in Business Administration, and Billy Miller walked away with his B. S. in Chemistry. Congratulations . . .

Speaking of congratulations, Ted O'Leary was elected president of the junior class. Congratulations are also in order for Jacqueline Hart, Carmelita Lansford, and Betty Lou Maddox, all chosen for Vanity Fair by King Vidor.

(1940) - - - The Buckaroos have been a busy bunch of cow hands this season. The Round Up, a dance that is pardner, was one howlin' good time. The gals sold tickets for the fat stock show and I reckon carried all the hay off with 'em 'cause they had a hayride soon afterward. Mary Jo Emmert was the chief rangler, Dorothy Daily, assisted and Alice David took care of publicity.

Ice Hockey made a good showing in the league with the help of Jack Busby, Harry Girard, Gordon Reese and Ed Cotton.

John Harris and his boys got a lot of good exercise, and good results from the basketball season. Some of the boys being John Ellis, Bill Sparr, and Harry Hope.

(1941) - - - Betty Yates was elected president of the newly organized Psychology club, sharing the honors were Harold Mobley, vice president, Dorothy Howard, secretary and Robert Duff, treasurer.

Vanity Fair was unusually fortunate this year. The abundance of extremely beautiful co-eds included Pattye Jane Wadley, Athalie Herman, Beverly Baldrige, Vivian Brinkman and Gloria Powell.

Outstanding People included Jack

Valenti, Student Government, Tom Brigrance, Activities, Ray Campbell, Student Government.

(1942) - - - Everyone went overboard for school spirit this year. The Cougar sponsored Varsity Varieties at the "Met" theatre, and the all-school picnic did its part too.

Presenting monthly concerts, programs in army camps and local radio shows the Choral club did its bit, thanks to Jane Prescott, Frances Trowbridge, Pat Kietzman, Jackie Baggett, and Geraldine Cox. Jack Valenti, and Charles Conroy were busy keeping the Cougar operating night and day, respectively.

The 1942 Houstonian's Outstanding People section found such names as Sherwood Crane, Gene Cuny, Velma Galny, and Rosemary Summers.
