Student Assmblly Holds First Meet

CLASS REPRESENTATIVES MEET TO ORGANIZE NEW BODY

The new Student Assembly of the University of Houston held its first meeting Wednesday night in the Cullen Auditorium at 9:30. Originally scheduled to convene at 9, the opening was held up about thirty minutes when the film being shown by the Institute of Latin American Affairs ran over its time.

The complete Enabling Resolution will be found on page 2.

Weed Peterson, vice-president of the Student Association, and by the provisions of the enabling resolution presiding officer of the Assembly, opened the meeting by calling the roll of clubs. He then explained the function of the assembly, by saying that the body has the power to propose bills and resolutions and send them to the student council for consideration, and will serve as a cross section of student opinion. The chairman then called for remarks from members of the council who were present to assist in conducting the first meeting of the Assembly.

Foster Montgomery said that the council has created the Assembly in the hope that in the future it will grow to be one of the outstanding student legislative bodies in the state.

Officers of the Assembly were

Prots Speak

HARRIS

Mr. Harvey Harris spoke before Albert Sidney Johnston students of the eighth grade Monday on "Why Go to College?" Robert Botts, a student of the debate class, spoke on the University of Houston. Mr. Harris stressed the fact that college broadens a person's possibilities and stated that the longer a student attends school, the better social and professional outlook on life that student will have.

HALDEN

Mr. Leon G. Halden spoke before three organizations last week on the "Present International Situation." The clubs were the Topa Club, Business Professional Women's Club, and the Houston Club.

WERLIN

Dr. Joseph S. Werlin's criminology class visited the county jail last Tuesday. Special interest was shown in the psychopathic ward, and many unusual facts were uncovered.

These trips to public institutions are to continue through the remainder of the term. The next trip will probably be to Huntsville, where both the women's and the men's penitentiaries will be visited.

Latin-American Group Shows Film

The Latin-American Institute Wednesday night sponsored a sound and color film in the Cullen Auditorium. Mr. Porter Norris of the Pan-American Airways, who loaned the film for the purpose, was introduced by Mr. Alec Murrelle, president of the Institute.

The film portrayed the manner of living and the social customs in the Latin-Americas, and gave a view of the political and economic foundations upon which those nations rest.

According to Mr. Murrelle, the countries below the isthmus are on a parity with, if not above, many of the countries of the world in facilities for air transportation.

The officers of the newly organized group were introduced immediately preceding the showing of the picture. They are, besides, Mr. Murrelle, Mary Trone, first vice-president; Jose Cruz Lopez, second vice-president; W. F. Gisler, secretary-treasurer, and Henry Taub, Director of Publicity. Mr. James Manfredini of the Latin-American Department of the University is the sponsor.

Consuls of the Latin-Americas present were Dr. Clarence Miller of Peru, Senor Del Costillo of Colombia.

Seniors Requested To Pay Class Dues

Harry Montgomery, president of the senior class, Wednesday reported that the list of seniors who have paid their senior dues is very small.

The amount of the dues is $2.50. This will include the Final Banquet, which will be held on the Rice Roof, and the admission to the Senior Ball, to be held after the banquet at the same location.

At a recent meeting of the class it was voted to discontinue taking reservations for the banquet a short time before the date set, in order to better plan the arrangements.

Seniors and their dates will be the only guests at the dinner, but the entire University will be welcomed at the Ball.

FIESTA TO BE LARGEST EVENT IN HISTORY OF UNIVERSITY

A pageantry of color to surpass even the expectations of some 100 university students who have been working the past month on the Frontier Fiesta, will make a striking impression on Houstonians on April 25 when the city turns out to attend the largest of all University extra-curricular activities.

More than 40 booths will be occupied by University clubs and high school groups, each booth an individual expression of personal ideas relating to the frontier days in the West and Mexico.

Joe Potter, in charge of all carnival plans, Thursday issued de-

Spanish Club To Observe Pan-American Day

Members of the Spanish Club of the University of Houston will observe "Pan-American day—the day of the Americas—April 14. Each year the group commemorates the political, economic, and spiritual solidarity which animates the 21 republics of the American continent," Mrs. Soule, sponsor of the Spanish Club, stated.

The celebration is to take place in the garden of Mr. and Mrs. Floy P. Soule. Speakers will be Mr. T. L. Evans, Foreign Trade manager of the Chamber of Commerce and consul for several American countries; and Senor Don Jose Ignacio Burbano, career consul of Ecuador. Guests of honor are to include the consular corps.

SENIOR CHOSEN TO REIGN WITH QUEEN LOUISE AT RECEPTION

Clem Baldwin will be the King of the Annual High School Reception and May Fete, reigning with Queen Louise Kost, it was announced Wednesday. Baldwin was elected from the boys of the senior class by the queen and her Court in a meeting Wednesday afternoon.

Louise Kost was elected queen of the reception at a general election last week, as were her princesses, together with the duchesses of the classes and their maids.

Dramatic Society Casts New Play

The casting of Ibsen's "Rosmersholm" was completed Monday evening at a called meeting of the Collegiate Dramatic Society, directed by L. Standlee Mitchell.

The cast is composed entirely of C. D. S. members, and includes Bettie Hayes, George Chaisson, Joe Potter, Ray Campbell and Franklin Walker.

"Rebecca West," feminine lead, is being played by two substitutes at the present, but the final casting of this role will be made within the next week, Director Mitchell said.

The production of "Rosmersholm" will represent an unusual departure in collegiate dramatic circles, and is expected to climax fittingly one of the players' most successful seasons. This modern classic has been attempted only once in the last decade by an amateur group, and was last produced by the Civic Repertory Theater in New York City, Mr. Mitchell said.

The production date has been tentatively set for the first week in May.

University Student Wins Poetry Prize

University of Houston winner of the annual award of the Current Literature Club this year was F. N. Hand, freshman. Mr. Hand was announced winner of a cash prize of $10 at a meeting Wednesday at the Warwick Hotel.

Presiding at the meeting was Mrs. Frank Stones, president of the club.

Second award went to Mrs. Willie Mae McFarland, University senior, and honorable mention was given Miss Eileen Pholen.

Prize winning poem for Mr. Hand was "Desert." Other of his entries were "Love Song," "To Myra," and "Lost Spring."

Mrs. McFarland placed second with her poem, "Main Street Symphony," which was entered with "Texas Winter scene."

Honorable mention was paid "A Little Boy's Prayer," Miss Pholen's work.

The escorts for the girls will be selected soon by the girls themselves with no restrictions as to class standing.

The girls elected to represent the University in the Annual High School Reception April 25 chose pastel shades for their gowns, at a meeting held Wednesday.

Senior girls chose the color of pale blue while the junior maids will have a canary yellow. Sophomore maids are to have a light green. As yet the freshmen maids have not decided on a color.

The duchesses of each class will have a separate color from the maids in order to distinguish them.

Plans for the choosing of escorts and the completion of the color scheme will be decided today at a meeting of the royal court in Room 108 at 5:15.

Seniors Slow To Pay Fees

According to Mrs. Pearl MacMullin, University registrar, only about 70 per cent of the seniors who will graduate either in June or in the summer session have paid their degree and cap and gown fees.

These were due April 1, but the deadline for payment has been indefinitely extended. However, there will be a penalty attached after Saturday, April 6, of twenty-five cents for each additional week the payment is late.

THE COUNTING OF NOSES

This week several hundred census takers began the strenuous task of counting noses in the city of Houston. The successful completion of this job will mean much to the students of the University

Not only as statistical information for use in economics and sociology classes will the mass of data be valuable, but the answers given to the numerous questions will be needed by students of government in taking an inventory of the nation.

Consequently, the Cougar would like to request that all students of the university cooperate wholeheartedly with the Census Bureau, and receive the agents of the bureau courteously and willingly.

ONE MAN'S POWER

The power within a man that moves him to action is the power that will carry him further than any other instinct he possesses.

Students on the University of Houston campus are in ratio to the power of the school. As big as the man, as big as the school.

Every man can be a leader—perhaps not in everything, but leadership is more than the presidency of the highest club on the campus. Leadership is one man's ability to take up his issue and see it through.

Many men see many issues through; others have a great capacity for one phase of existence. Many students on this campus are working, and are concerned chiefly with problems relating to their immediate welfare. But these are the people the school needs to take up current issues and help put across the importance of one man's ability.

Serious concentration on the business of maintaining one's livelihood deepens the character, and provides food for thought, so that the mind need never be idle. But everyone needs more than one interest. There should be a principal work for each, then a secondary interest that diverts the mind from serious, complicated problems of every day life.

The college man who has a job is better for it, but if he neglects to become an enthusiast in college affairs he misses a bit of the spirit that others have found wholesome and diverting.

Some people on this campus, although they have families to support, enjoy collegiate activities in the sense that they are able to lead the younger students gracefully into the difficult stages of adult development that are essentially experienced in college.

Younger students usually don't need much encouragement in realizing their duty toward the school; but in this school, unique in so many different details, the older students must be made to realize in greater proportion the school's need for their activity, and their need for the school's influence.

One of the best opportunities of the year for students to become interested in University activities is pen now. The plans for the Frontier Fiesta are being made, and ready and able hands are needed to complete the final stages of the work.

Organization of University students is essential for the promotion of these ideas for the show, but organization cannot be successfully obtained through mass appeal. It must be made through individuals. Each man has an essential part in organization, and upon that individual power depends the success or failure of all ideas and ideals original with this school.

The individual on this campus must realize his importance—he must recognize one man's power!

Politics

By Johnny Goyen

For the past four months The Red Flower Brigade has been just a thing for conversation. In fact, no action has come of it since the Freshman Dance late in October, when a group of thoughtful and alert boys organized it on the spur of the moment.

Men students, not knowing its real purpose, have referred to it as a club organized to boycott certain conceited girls. That is positively NOT its purpose, although such a club might serve to awaken some swell girls who find it hard to get out of that self-centered rut. Its purpose, as has been explained in an earlier edition of The Cougar, is to see that ALL girls who go to dances have a good time.

This past week witnessed a revival of the unorganized club, when prominent students on the campus, led by Weed Peterson, discussed having a stag get-together for the purpose of furthering The Red Flower Brigade. In an interview with Peterson, he said, "We hope to make it possible for those boys who enjoy dancing with ALL the girls, to be able to do so. There are several ways to rotate at a dance. It is hoped that at the proposed stag affair these details will be worked out.

"There should not be any embarrassment to the boys or girls on an exchange of partners or designated tagging, if they are generally participating. It is sincerely hoped that complete cooperation from the boys will be forthcoming."

As the name implies, it will be a get-together for boys only, but not for just boys who go to dances stag. We do not want to confuse any one on that. ALL boys are urged to come for their own good, as well as for the good of their dates. This is the only way anything definite can be worked out. It is hoped that this idea will not cease at the end of this year, but will go on indefinitely. The affair will take place Wednesday night at 9:30 at old Heidelberg on Main Street. There will not be any charge other than the food one buys.

Look out, girls, those men are here again, and The Red Flower Brigade rides again!

TENNIS TOURNAMENT MATCHES START

The tennis tournament got under way last Saturday with four matches played.

Billy Bender, '36 champion of the University, won over Carroll Cagle by 6-3, 6-1. Bender is expected to give plenty of trouble to the boys with his powerful drive and never reclining net game. In 1936, Bender won the University of Houston tennis tournament, over a field entry never before exceeded. Bender also played in the Invitation Tournament at River Oaks and several City Tournaments.

Boothe won over Robert Gaustad 6-2, 6-2.

Hope took McClendon, 6-1, 6-2.

The girls are slow in entries but it is hoped they will respond soon, so that at least ten names can be received before the tournament starts. Those names received are Jane Reese, Ilse Lekebusch, and Alice David.

The schedule for the following week is:

Rigillio vs. Brigance.
 Gleuch vs. Bratten.

Student Assembly Resolution

The resolution as presented is herewith published in full:

Whereas the need for arousing school spirit is at the moment of paramount importance; and whereas the Student Council is vested with power to create and set in motion plans designed for the purpose of pursuing this end;

And whereas it is believed that this will be accomplished by making the student an integral part in his own government as well as in the government of the University of Houston;

And whereas the existing state laws require each student to include in his program (6) six hours of American government, it is the aim of this resolution to further the use of the practice of the principles of government in student objectives at this university.

Therefore be it resolved:

I. That the Student Council create and set in motion a bi-cameral legislative body.

II. That this body shall consist of two members from each class and two members from each club.

III. That the Student Council may increase the proportion or total with increase in student body.

The smile that greets you pleasantly, and a friendly "Hi There" is the preview of the usual greeting given you by one Norma Jean Kluever.

While strolling across the newly landscaped campus with this sprightly young "Miss," it was learned that the Alma Mammie—U. of H. is maturing by gradual strides into one of the finest universities in the South, and that this institution is unusually democratic in its dealings with students.

From way down in the deep South now I reach to bring you Richard Avent, the blonde haired chap from down South Carolina way, and so I hear via the vine he has caused a rise in, etc.

Anyway he is typical of Southern gentlemen—a real fellow—. U. of H. is a striking example of the school of tomorrow that has arrived today.

Gotta rush now—time's up.

RETRACTION

Through error, the word "University" was used instead of the word "Institute" in last week's story on Page 3 of the Cougar announcing details of the observance of Pan-American Day by the Latin-American Institute. The editor expresses his regret for the error and wishes to correct the impression that the Institute celebration was the official school observance. It was not intended that this event detract in any manner from the celebration by the Spanish Club of the University under the direction of Mrs. Floy P. Soule, which will be on April 14.

XI. The president of the Student Association may go before the legislature to discuss any plan he may have for the benefit of the student body.

XIII. The legislature is further empowered to investigate actions of the President of the Student Association and to bring impeachment charges.

XIV. The Student Council shall be required to act as a court and hear the case of impeachment and its decision may not be appealed or again brought up except by written request signed by the President and Dean of the University. Each member of the Student Council shall submit a written opinion of his decision.

XV. Upon ratification of this resolution the several classes shall hold elections for legislative members within thirty days after adoption of this resolution.

1. Any vacancy that may occur shall be filled by the respective classes within thirty days after vacancy occurs.

2. Any member of the student legislature may be expelled from that body if absent for more than three consecutive regular meetings.

3. The Legislature shall be required to meet and dispatch business before them on the second and fourth Wednesdays of the school calendar year.

4. The President of the Student Association shall upon passage of this resolution appoint a committee to draw up plans for procedure to be followed by the legislature.

VIA THE VINE

By Guy Hamilton, Jr.

As a result of a couple of bugs deciding to take a front seat in both of our eyes, your obt. svt. has been unable to get about for the past week, and consequently is slightly short on stuff this week—our apologies and all that sort of stuff . . .

Buddy Griffith has at last fallen in love—he has taken the same girl to a picture show four times of late—the Great Griffith who has never deigned to waste time in the cinema palaces heretofore.

Flo Stallings and Frank Walker are going strong again, or is it still . . . Lois Sheehan and good-looking Guy Holton have had a slight difference of opinion—enough to quit going around together, and that is another good man on the loose again . . . Dorice Carr has lately lost her grip on Wallace Campbell, too . . . Louise Kost and Henry Taub seem to have all the makings of quite a little affair nowadays . . . And ain't Ray Campbell's new spring outfit fetching, though?

The Pre-Law Club had a chummy little steak fry out in Memorial Park last Saddy nite—with Elmo Burke and Dorothy Spates, Alice David and Sam Snead Berry, janizarian Alec Murrelle with his so-oo pretty wife, Lyda, and Weed Peterson and Billy Miller, just birdogging.

Engineering instructor Edwin L. Green is passing out the twofors these days, he being the very proud father of a baby boy . . . we'd like for somebody to explain to us why it is that luscious little Freshman Duchess Joan Robertson, doesn't show up at more of the dances—you shouldn't keep her home so closely, Johnny Goyen—the Univoi-sity boys don't bite, much.

Plenty of social life coming up twixt now and the end of school—the Engineers' annual ball the 12th promises to be plenty good—the boys are working hard to make it so . . . the carnival and reception the 25th will, of course, be the biggest thing of its sort you've ever seen . . . and then the Senior Dance May 18th will be an affair to end all affairs—Harry Montgomery, Dot Hohl, Tom Calvert, Mary Ellis Bolling, J. Q. Baldrige, and Arthur Parker already have it all planned, and you can take our word for it—it'll be the best dance this school has ever had.

All you record collectors better be sure to pick up Tommy Dorsey's "Lonesome Road"—two sides—and one of Mr. T's very best to date . . . another of the better new ones is one Glenn Miller bowed in last week—"I'll Never Smile Again"—with a vocal by Ray Eberle that makes all your old flames flash into

Geology Majors Organize Society

The University of Houston Geology Society was organized Monday night by members of the geology classes who are majoring in this subject.

Phillip Allin was elected president of the society, and E. J. Murdock was selected for vice-president. Russell Casey will be treasurer, and John Kelly will be secretary for the remainder of the term. Mr. Fred Smith and Mr. R. C. Woods will be the faculty advisers of the group.

The constitution of the society provides that all members must have a "B" average in at least 12 hours of geology to be eligible for membership. There are 16 charter members, but according to the secretary, Mr. Kelly, the membership is expected to increase rapidly.

The first speaker to address the new group will be Mr. Paul Weaver, chief geo-physicist of the Gulf Oil Corporation.

His subject will be "Origin of Large Salt Deposits, Including those in Salt Domes." The talk will be made Wednesday night, April 10, in room 118-S, starting at 8 o'clock.

Mr. Kelly urges that all engineering and geology students show their appreciation to Mr. Weaver by coming to hear him speak. "It will be worth your while to attend this talk, and will benefit the society also through your demonstration of interest," said Mr. Kelly.

THEATERS

By Howard Skelton
Majestic

Coming to the Majestic this week is the widely acclaimed Walt Disney second full-length production, "Pinocchio."

Briefly the story of "Pinocchio" concerns the old woodcarver, Geppetto, who fashions a puppet of pine wood. Because kindly Geppetto has always loved children and had none of his own, the Blue Fairy brings Pinocchio to life, to be a son to the old man and promises to make him come to life when he proves himself worthy.

Realizing that Pinocchio may get into trouble, the fairy appoints Jiminy Cricket to act as the marionette's conscience and accompany him wherever he goes. From that time on Pinocchio is continually in hot water.

Some of the gay, rollicking songs for the production are "When You Wish Upon a Star," "Little Woodenhead," "Give A Little Whistle," "Hiddle-dee-dee," "An Actor's Life For Me," "Got No Strings," and "Turn on the Old Music Box." The hit is expected to go over big at its Houston showing.

Metropolitan

The desperate efforts of a lonely girl to break the ties which bind her to her shameful family and to find a better life for herself, motivate the poignant, dramatic action of "Primrose Path" starting at the Metropolitan today, starring Ginger Rogers and Joel McCrea.

In an intensely gripping role, Miss Rogers plays a young member of a sordid family residing in the branded part of town. Taunted almost beyond endurance by more fortunate youngsters, she is a lonely, pitiable figure. Then love comes into her life, an emotional torrent that floods her soul.

Joel McCrea, portraying a happy-go-lucky operator of a hamburger emporium, is the boy, but he is unaware of the girl's disgraceful family. A dramatic pursuit for happiness leads the couple into many adventures. Finally married, she tells her husband of her family. The couple's estrangement lends a gripping climax, but their reunion leaves a calm and satisfied impression on the movie-goer.

Loew's

Beginning at the Loew's today is "My Son, My Son" from the novel written by Howard Spring. It is said to be one of the best sellers of the season.

The story is that of a father who tries to live for his son and finally realizes that he has wasted a great deal of his own life. The boy, played by Louis Hayward, repays his father only with heart-break and disappointment. In the end he redeems himself to a certain extent on the battlefield.

Brian Aherne plays the role of the father, a struggling British author, and Madeline Carrol is the beautiful artist. Both the father and son fall in love with her, but the father cheats his desire for her, not wanting his son to know his feelings.

The result of this sacrifice should cause the picture to come to a strong and questioning climax.

Medical Society, Mary Turner; Engineers' Society, Joe Homer and Cela Stafford; Cougar Collegians, Louise Butler; Business Administration Club, Boyd Shinn and Will Gay; Fencing Club, John Taub and George Hogwood; Institute of Public Affairs, Elmo Burke and Jack Gaden.

Every club in the school that is officially recognized by the University is entitled to two representatives on the Assembly. Those clubs not listed above were not represented either because they have not elected members or because their members were not present.

LIBRARY NEWS

A valuable set of books was recently donated by the Jewish Community Council of Metropolitan Houston to the library.

The gift comprises a ten-volume set of "The Universal Jewish Encyclopedia" which is an authoritative and popular presentation of Jews and Judaism since the earliest times. The editor-in-chief is Rabbi Isaac Landman of Congregation Beth Elohim, Brooklyn, New York. The board of editors and contributors represents a group of outstanding Jewish scholars, both here and abroad.

This gift will enlarge the college library encyclopedia collection and will give much information on Jewish earning not available elsewhere, it is believed. Students will find the new encyclopedia shelved in the reference alcove marked with a gift book plate bearing the name of the donors.

Hi-Hat Appoints Wellington Abbey Publicity Agent

The Hi-Hat Nite Club, well-known to the University of Houston night-lifers, announced through owner George Kalleen this week the appointment of Wellington Abbey, University student and former Cougar editor, as director of publicity for the night club.

Abbey is planning a special University of Houston night with door prizes being given. Along with his publicity duties, he is to handle the night club's advertising.

Owner Kalleen said present plans were to remodel the policy of the Hi-Hat to cater to the college-age crowd more and he hoped through the acquisition of Abbey to institute truly a collegiate atmosphere. The club is located on South Main and Bellaire and has no cover charge, with the exception of Saturday night when a small fee prevails.

"Desert," the prize winning poem, is printed below:
The desert is a misanthropic old woman
Who, being barren in her dry old age,
Hates men because she will not let herself
Believe she is not fruitful.

Daily glowering,
Beneath the critical eye of an insolent sun,
She throws the bitter sand into his face.

tailed descriptions of the first booths planned.

The "Casino Review," a show to be produced by Jack McHenry, will feature the most colorful of traditional Mexican costumes. Marie Murphy and the three "Harmony Sisters," Jack McHenry and Jack Daley will all take part in the renditions of typical Mexican songs.

"El Gaucho," by McHenry, light Latin classics by Marie Murphy, Mexican harmony numbers by the Harmony Sisters, and hot jazz music in the Mexican way by Daley—all will add a native note to the Casino. The booth has been decorated in brilliant colors, suggestive of Mexican entertainment.

Charro hats, roulette wheels, painted cards, dice and dominoes, tapestries and Mexican hats will be used for stage and wall decorations, McHenry said.

The country store to be managed by Donald Jeppesen will be typical of the early frontier "General Merchandise" trading posts. Jeppesen will have all his groceries sold through unique plans.

His store will be furnished with two long counters on each side of the room. These will run the entire length of the building. The "clerks" will be University co-eds costumed in long gingham dresses, with high-topped buttoned shoes, long sleeves, high necks, and calico bonnets. The men will wear cowboy boots and hats, red handkerchiefs, and other cowboy regalia.

Judge Roy Bean's famous "Law West of the Pecos" will be re-enacted in the saloon courtroom that the Pre-Law Club will set up under the management of Dick Schill. Impersonating the famous old judge who had very few scruples against any form of lawlessness, will be Alec Murrelle, president of the pre-law group. Chairs will be arranged in rows down the middle of the saloon that Schill will set up, and court will be held to decide the cases of all accused. Court will be recessed at regular 10-minute intervals for drinks at the bar to be set up at the side of the room, just as was the custom in the old Judge's court.

Karol Taylor's Pioneer Palace will entertain everyone. A Western cafe and saloon will be opened. Patrons will be entertained between drinks by gay dancing co-eds dressed as Flora-Dora girls of the frontier days. Bearded ladies in ruffled gowns will sing operatic ballads, and quartettes of rough, tobacco-chewing cowhands will add a humorous note to the program featuring a bicycle-built-for-two act by handle-bar mustache performers.

In keeping with the Western atmosphere of the Fiesta there will be featured a bank of the old pioneer train-robbing days. President of the Frontier Bank will be John Taub, bookkeeper and chief accountant for the Fiesta. Through the bank will be sold Fiesta money, 5-cent pieces. This banking system is to avoid the exchange of money over 30 or 40 concession counters. Dick Schill has been in charge of ticket sales.

Among the 40 or more concessions will be a booth operated by the Book Exchange (no books bought or sold) selling University of Houston pennants, car stickers and transfers, cocktail glasses and ash trays with the University seal, as well as other Bookstore merchandise.

The advance sale of tickets begins Monday, April 8. A loving cup will be awarded to the club selling the most tickets. Second and third attractive prizes will be given the runners-up.

All clubs will handle the advanced sale to be promoted on downtown street corners. A direct appeal to the student body to build up the ticket sale was made by Joe Potter, chairman, who says, "Each student must work wholeheartedly on the ticket sale to make the carnival go over with any degree of success."

The advance sale will be promoted through the various clubs by the following people: Choral Club, George Hogwood; Cougar Collegians, Kitty Lou Dawson; Red Masque Players, Charles Saunders; Pre-Law Club, Jack Valenti; Pre-Medical Society, Carl Hoeflich; French Club, Ethel Ruth Crow; Engineers Society, Jack Montgomery; Fencing Club, Patsie Soule; Latin-American Club, Mary Trone; Buckaroos, Dorothy Dailey; Squires, Buster May; Business Administration Club, Weed Peterson.

Dick Schill, in charge of the advance sale, urged the Spanish Club, the Tennis Club and the Public Speaking Society to nominate representatives to promote the sale through their respective groups.

Schill announced that a special called committee meeting of the heads of these groups working on the advance sale has been set for Friday night, 9 p. m., room 110-C.

Talent is being sought for a special show being produced by Tommy Scoggins for the novelty program he will present. Those interested may meet with Scoggins on either Monday or Wednesday at 9 p. m. in room 118-C, or on Tuesday and Thursday, from 5 to 8 p. m. in the same room.

PUCCIO WINS TOURNAMENT

Kivlin, the defending champion.

The match was a long, five-game event with the defending champion turning in exceptional defensive play. Scores were 17-21, 21-15, 21-16, 18-21 and 21-18.

Mrs. Kivlin held the state championship for the past five years until defeated by Miss Puccio, who
