NEW YORK — The National March on Washington for Lesbian and Gay Rights has announced a national transportation plan for the Oct. 14 march. They expect it to be run from a logistics office in Washington.

The plan calls for a 24-hour, toll-free information line. News releases and posters publicizing the information line will be distributed throughout the U.S. in early July, a news release from the New York office stated.

A support staff will monitor the march transportation arrangements of over fifty U.S. locales, keeping the information line up to date. Additionally, a computer system at the disposal of the information center operators will help in arranging rides for march enthusiasts who prefer carpools to train, air, and bus carriers. Transportation space on commercial services is already "booked solid" in many local areas by travel agencies and local transportation committees.

Agencies and other persons interested in helping to organize march transportation on the local level should contact the national office in New York which will temporarily coordinate transportation until the transportation office in Washington is established around the first week in July, organizers said in their news release.

The phone number in New York is (212) 924-2970.

March organizers are now turning their attention to a national conference in Houston, July 6-8, aimed at wrapping up march plans.

According to Ray Hill, co-chairperson of the national logistics committee, delegates from all regions of the U.S., representing the ethnic composition of their home area, will convene in Houston. Says Hill, "Such a nationally representative body can guarantee the March on Washington speaks from the heart of the American lesbian and gay population."

Hill also said he has received an indication that the National Gay Task Force may do an about-face and announce wholehearted approval of the march. ●

Gay Pride Week to be biggest ever in most cities

All major cities throughout the South are planning special Gay Pride Week events. Following are brief reports on New Orleans and Dallas events and an in-depth report on Houston. Next week the Montrose Star will have more in-depth reports on other cities.

DALLAS — The "Stonewall Celebration" will spread from June 23 to July 1. First event on Saturday, June 23, will be a "Razzle Dazzle Dallas" cocktail party at the Hall of States in State Fair Park. This starts 9:00 p.m.

A bookfair will be held the next day, Sunday, from noon until dusk.

On Monday, June 25, Crews Inn, 3220 N. Fitzhugh Avenue, will host a Gay Pride party starting 9:00 p.m.

Sundance Kids, 4025 Maple, will host a weight-lifting contest starting 10:00 p.m. on June 27, Wednesday.

The following night, Thursday, June 28, the Old Plantation, 1807 N. Harwood, will stage a Macho Man contest at 10:00 p.m.

The Wild Crowd Saloon, 2515 N. Fitzhugh Avenue, will have a free beer bust and crawfish cookout from 6:00 to 9:00 p.m. on Friday, June 29.

On Saturday, June 30, Gay Pride Week organizers will hold a "sportsathon" in Cole Park, 1:00 p.m. That evening has a candlelight march scheduled, to start 8:30 p.m. in the 4000 block of Cedar Springs and proceed down Cedar Springs to Lee Park.

The Dallas Alliance for Individual Rights will celebrate with a picnic in Exall Park on the corner of Live Oak and Hall from 1:00 to 5:00 p.m.

Late information on Dallas Gay Pride Week events can be obtained from Phil Johnson at 692-2554 or 821-1653.

—o—

NEW ORLEANS — A "Gay-Fest" celebration is planned for New Orleans, running from June 29 to July 1.

Most clubs will be having special events. Among them include a concert by gay activists and recording artists Charlie Murphy and Chris Tanner at the Off the Wall Restaurant, 903 St. Peter. This will occur Saturday, June 30, 8:00 p.m.

The Mr. and Miss Apollo contests will be held Saturday and Sunday during the GayFest. Information on this is available from any Apollo krewe member.

More information next week in the Montrose Star on events planned by other gay bars and carnival krewes.

—o—

HOUSTON — The highlights of a ten-day Gay Pride Week celebration will be a parade down Westheimer Road, a fireworks display, and festivities featuring noted national pro-gay figures such as former White House aide Midge Costanza.

Following is a day-by-day calendar:

SUNDAY, JUNE 17, 3:00-8:00 P.M.: Inside/Outside will host a beer bust on their patio. $1 donation goes to help cover expenses of Gay Pride Week.

MONDAY, JUNE 18, 8:00 P.M.-2:00 A.M.: Beer bust at Brazos River Bottom with the $1 charge again going to help cover Gay Pride Week expenses.

FRIDAY, JUNE 22, 10:00 P.M.: Opening ceremonies for the start of Gay Pride Week will be held at Mary's, followed by a production of Gayplay, a series of theatrical sketches directed by Roger Gorton.

SATURDAY, JUNE 23-SUNDAY, JULY 1: Midtowne Spa will donate 25¢ to the Gay Pride Week expenses for every customer through the door.

SATURDAY, JUNE 23, "GAY MALE DAY": The second annual "Thank You Miss Ima for Memorial Park" gay community picnic, 10:00 a.m. to 2:00 p.m., in Memorial Park. The Houston police department will field a team against the Montrose Sports Association in the first-ever baseball game between Houston policemen and a gay team. The game will start 11:30 a.m. on South Picnic Lane.

Integrity/Houston will that evening host a Bikini Weenie Dance at the Montrose Activity

Victim of anti-gay bias still wants to serve Methodists

DALLAS — She offered to get out. Church officials agreed, saying she should go. Then they decided to keep her. However, shifting again, they asked her to renew her offer to get out. She declined. So they put her out anyway.

But some insist she still should be in, reports Associated Press religion writer George Cornell.

Such have been the multiple switches in the off-again-on-again case of Joan Clark of Dallas, who had been field officer for the southwestern states for the women's division of the United Methodist Board of Global Ministries.

The issue still is smoldering and it has stirred rising controversy over homosexuality in the nation's second largest Protestant denomination of nearly ten million members.

It's "a spark," Clark told AP. "It has provided action to get people to talk about homophobia (fear of homosexuality) and begin to deal with it openly."

Clark, 32, is a lesbian, and her open affirmation of it, along with her offer to resign, was submitted in March to a personnel committee, which voted to accept her resignation, so recommending to the full women's division.

But the 75-member divisional council, at a meeting in Cincinnati, voted not to accept the resignation, despite the committee's recommendation, and to keep Clark at her post.

This generated a hue and cry of protest in Methodism. A barrage of messages from New Mexico and Texas, including one from Bishop W. McFerrin Stowe of Dallas, hit the Cincinnati meeting, insisting it reconsider.

Joan Clark

Retaining Clark "runs counter" to church teachings, protested an unofficial Dallas-based group of women, the Esther Action Council, citing the church's Book of Discipline, which says:

"We do not condone the practice of homosexuality and consider this practice incompatible with Christian teaching."

The Cincinnati meeting, after what was described as an "agonizing" session, reversed itself, asking Clark, who had withdrawn her resignation, to re-submit it. She refused.

Thereupon, the division voted in a closed session to dismiss her, effective May 1, as field executive for women's work in Texas, Arkansas, Oklahoma and New Mexico. She had held the post six years.

Officials also said the dismissal was "our mandate" based on the Book of Discipline. However, the action provoked continuing repercussions. Two division directors promptly said they were resigning in protest.

Clark, a member of First United Methodist Church of Dallas, says she still wants involvement in church work.

Thorpe trial may end soon

LONDON — In a surprise move June 7, former Liberal Party leader Jeremy Thorpe and two codefendants declined to testify in their own defense on charges of conspiracy to murder.

Thorpe's decision came in the 21st day of the sex scandal trial. Once one of Britain's most prominent politicians, Thorpe is accused of hiring a killer to murder Norman Scott, a model who claims to have been Thorpe's jilted ex-lover.

Also declining to testify were David Holmes, another former Liberal Party politician, and John Le Mesurier.

Their decision came shortly after the fourth defendant, Andrew Deakin, denied the conspiracy charges from the witness box.

The four are accused of hiring Andrew Newton to kill Scott in October 1975 because Scott was threatening Thorpe's political career with his allegations of an affair with Thorpe.

Newton testified earlier that he was paid $10,000 to kill Scott, but did not go through with the slaying.

Scott subsequently brought charges against the four.

The trial was expected to last for months. With the three defendants' decision not to testify, the trial is expected to be completed within a few days.

Closing statements were scheduled June 11. ●

Here's our "Prom Boy"

Paul Guilbert, center, 17, denied permission to attend his high school prom with a male date, was invited to celebrate a "prom" at a Boston gay bar recently. (See last week's Montrose Star for the full story.) Guilbert's date, 22-year-old Eddie Miskovich, is on the left. Charles Noice of the Rhode Island Gay Task Force is on the right. The club where the "prom" was held is called "The Bar." It's a disco, naturally. This photo by Michael Thompson of Boston's Gay Community News.

Cops to take mental tests

AUSTIN — Law enforcement officers in Texas will have to undergo psychological testing before being certified under provisions of a bill signed June 12 by Gov. William Clements.

The law enforcement measure was sponsored by Rep. Frank Tejeda, D-San Antonio.

Tejeda said the bill was needed to determine violent tendencies in individuals desiring to become police officers. He said the psychological testing could prevent incidents of police brutality if persons with violent emotions could be screened before they were certified to serve as law enforcement officers. ●

Church group to hold campout

HOUSTON — The Church of Christian Faith, a group with a strong gay outreach program, is planning a camping and canoe trip for July 7 and 8.

Church officials say it will be held at Camp Beans on River Road near New Braunfels.

The group will be holding their regular Sunday service at the campsite that week instead of at their Houston Sanctuary and it'll be a Baptismal service, they said.

Houston bar struck by arson

HOUSTON — One of Houston's most popular gay bars suffered moderate damage June 9 due to fire. Co-owner Tim Timmons said it was definitely a case of arson.

"There were actually two fires. One started at 10:30 (p.m.), which we put out with little trouble. Then another about half an hour later heavily damaged the garage," he said.

The main portion of the large club suffered no damage.

The Silver Phoenix, the successor to the Silver Bullet Bar, has had a history of fires. The Silver Bullet at 1005 California was completely destroyed by fire about two years ago.

Timmons said the club plans to tear down the burned garage and build a sundeck in its place.

The club opened for business the next day as usual. Security guards are posted at the club and other security measures have been taken, Timmons said.

Horoscope

Strange behavior for the Bull

GEMINI: Distant plans are out of focus. Puzzle will be solved in next quarter. Fight your natural tendency to tackle confusion head-on. Lay back.

MOONBABY: Reevaluation of self results in positive change. Accept honest criticism. The uncut, unpolished stone is not a gem. On last day, friend acts as lapidary and brings out your inner beauty. You sparkle.

LEO: The Dance (so stately) continues. You circle alternatives. One "alternative" drops out of the circle and then there are three. Battle may ensue as others observe. As weekend draws to a close, play it safe. Stay home in your "frying pan" for a move now could send you straight "to blazes."

VIRGO: Trouble tends to come in threes, and you are two down and one to go. Battle is with power or lover. When smokes clears, your talent for turning shoddy into shiny yields crucible filled with gold. Despite ultimate victory, week ends in A-flat. Take hot toddy and go to bed.

LIBRA: Bread which you have cast upon the water comes back to you, and not just as soggy bread. Your cup spilloth all over the place. Your emotions run the gamut from A to Z. Week ends with an Xtra, a Yippe and a Zowl.

SCORPIO: Energy drain is on as planets shift. Health is number one concern. Everything seems to be acting up: old war wounds, football knees, the bathroom scales. You feel underappreciated and overwhelmed.

On last day, you come out of the fog and into the sunshine. Finally.

SAGITTARIUS: "Money, money, money." That's all you hear this week. What's more, your purse is flat. Lower your tastes for the very best and take care of necessities. Love peeps around the corner. Indulge. Oh, go ahead. It's free.

CAPRICORN: An elusive butterfly has finally landed on your flower, but please bring the net down slowly. You usually make all the right moves, but this week you may have tendency to move too quickly. This is one race that won't go to the swiftest.

AQUARIUS: Your capacity for business/love increases ten times ten. Past investments pay big dividends. Try a long shot. Week ends on key of B for bars and boogie.

PISCES: Lady Luck pursues you on rare occasions and this is one of them. You have lucky week. Leave avenues open for the Lady to travel. Also doors, windows and transoms. Week ends with a giggle.

ARIES: You meet yourself coming and going and always with someone different. Keep it light. Important project needs full attention midweek. Old friends with old money are your best bet. Save diversions for time when position is more solid.

TAURUS: Your strange behavior puzzles all but you. But then, this is part of your "master" plan. Mysteries come out in the open only at your discretion. By end of week you discover that tried and true outstrips "flash in the pan." You grow. ●

SATURDAY, JUNE 30, "WOMEN'S DAY": The University of Houston's Gay Resource Services will host a "Lesbain Workshop" at the University Center, 9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. The workshop will include these sessions: [1] women in small business administration and women in non-traditional roles (9:00 a.m.); [2] blue collar lesbians and lesbians in mental health (10:45 a.m.); [3] lesbians in literature, lesbian mothers and lesbian rights (1:30 p.m.); [4] a consciousness-raising session (3:15 p.m.).

That evening there will be a concert by Lee McCormick at Marion's Too. It will run 6:30 to 8:00 p.m.

SUNDAY, JULY 1, "PARADE AND RALLY DAY": The parade down Westheimer will start near Shepherd and end near Bagby. It starts 3:00 p.m.

The GPC will then present "An Evening in the Park" at Spots Park (corner Waugh and Memorial), starting 6:30 p.m. Entertainment begins 7:30 p.m. and the speakers start 9:00 p.m.

Speakers scheduled include Midge Constanza (former White House aide), U.S. Rep. Mickey Leland (D-Houston), Jean O'Leary (former co-executive director of the National Gay Task Force), and Harry Britt (gay member of the San Francisco Board of Supervisors).

There will also be a huge fireworks display. •

The Star reviews the new disco LPs and twelve-inchers

REVIEWED BY
Ram Rocha

NIGHTLIFE UNLIMITED by Night-life Unlimited on Casablanca, #NBLP-7139

Casablanca Records has done it again, this time with a new group accompanied by some familiar vocalists: Barbara Ingram, Carla Benson and Yvette Benton known to many as the Philadelphia Sweethearts.

They're now going as Night-life Unlimited.

This high energy disco package will surely be one of the biggest attractions this summer.

The album is composed of "Disco Choo Choo" (my favorite), "Dance Freak" and "Boogie" on side one and "Love Is You" and "Precious Moments" on side two.

Producers Peter Dimilo and George Cucuzzella have put together this exciting LP with all the necessary for of a highly intense disco party.

This album offers some traces of D.C. Larue's Let Them Dance and even Beautiful Bend's successful LP.

COME INTO MY LIFE by Carol Douglas on Midsong, #MS-1007

Carol Douglas has not yet regained that enormous success she had since Doctors' Orders and Midnight Love Affair.

And I don't believe that she can do it again with Come Into My Life, her latest LP.

Of all the cuts here, "I Got the Answer" is the one that comes closest to her style.

This new production involves a lot of new names, including the producers. Most of the material is up-tempo but it all lacks motivation. At times the songs seem to get a bit boring.

Oh well. Go back into the studio, girl, and give us your best. I believe you can do better than this. And get John Davis back on that train with you.

YOU MUST BE LOVE by Love and Kisses on Casablanca, #NBLP-7157

It might take you a while to get into You Must Be Love by Love and Kisses but perhaps it's worth trying because side two offers sixteen-minutes of a neat song, the title cut.

Remember Love and Kisses second LP, How Much, How Much I Love You? Well this is a continuation of that sound. Not bad at all.

But this is the only thing favorable that can be said about this album.

BODY SHINE by the Munich Machine on Casablanca, #NBLP-7137

Neil Bogart (president and founder of Casablanca Records & Filmworks) might not like me as much now after I tell you yet of another not-so-good LP on his label.

This Giorgio production, Body Shine by Munich Machine, is not what I expected from this group. By this I mean that there is only one semi-strong cut: "Space Warrior."

I hope Giorgio considers totally remixing the title cut, "Body Shine." It could be a successful twelve-inch.

A kind-of-funky cut called "Party Light" is fair but the rest are all cuts that were left off from the Giorgio and Chris album last year.

Many of you might know by now that Giorgio is producing other groups such as the Three Degrees, the Sparks and Japan - rock type groups.

THE TWELVE-INCH SCENE:
What a wonderful surprise. Fantasy Records has just announced it plans to rerelease Disco Heat/You Make Me Feel (Mighty Real) by Sylvester as a twelve-inch disc. The demand has been phenomenal. . . . Casablanca has issued It's Over, Don't Fall in Love by Alma

Faye on a twelve-inch. . . I recently overlooked a couple of twelve-inchers that are now impressingly gaining steam. One is on Motown: I Just Keep Thinking About You Baby by Tata Vega and another is Midnight Rendezvous/Street Fever by Tasha Thomas on Atlantic. . . Edwin Starr is back with what promises to be a big disco and radio record, appropriately titled H.A.P.P.Y. Radio. It's on 20th Century and is from his forthcoming LP. . . Deniece Williams has a hot one titled I've Got the Next Dance on Columbia. . . A&M Records has an interesting little number that was available only as an import. It's Let Me Take You Dancing by Patrick Adams. . . Vinyl junkies will be happy to hear that Ariola has released a limited blue vinyl edition of The Runner by the Three Degrees (which, incidentally, was produced by Giorgio). . . The Sorcerer by Norma Jean has been remixed and put on twelve-inch. . . Atlantic has released a couple of oldies at $4.98 list on twelve-inch. They are Le Freak by Chic and Hot Stuff/Miss You by the Stones. . . Boogie With Me and Never Gonna Say Goodbye by Poussez (pronounced Poo-Say) has been released by Vanguard on twelve-inch now.

COMING SOON:

Grace Jones' new LP, Ethel Merman's disco LP, Venus Dodson's USA-Connection LP, Candi Staton's new LP, Chic's new twelve-inch, Bette Midler's new LP, Edwin Starr's LP and Thelma Houston's Love Machine twelve-inch.

On the Houston beat: Jane Oliver is scheduled for Jones Hall sometime in the fall. Top Ticket has more info. ●

Shiflett delivers documents to Civil Rights Commission

HOUSTON - Gay Political Caucus president Steve Shiflett submitte a list of one hundred cases alleging excessive police force, perjured testimony and verbal harassment against gay people, including one alleged and murder cover-up, during the past eight months to the U.S. Civil Rights Commission June 12 at a hearing on the University of Houston campus.

The Commission is looking into allegations of police misconduct.

Houston policemen, including Police Chief Harry Cauldwell, also submitted information to the commission, as well as did representatives of Mexican-American community.

The Commission will hold a public hearing later in the year. ●

Our Houston City Councilmen are afraid

They're afraid of losing their jobs. You can see the fear by Houston City Council members by reading between the lines of the statements many have made following the latest U.S. Justice Dept. ruling that Houston should elect councilmembers by districts rather than "at large."

The Justice Dept. made this ruling because minorities in Houston are not adequately represented. The white, middle-class population of Houston, constituting just barely half of the city, controls 89% of the voting power on City Council.

Gentlemen: That's WHY the Justice Dept. made it's ruling.

Councilman Jim Westmoreland said the current system is a good one because all eight council members must be responsible to voters all over the city.

Horse radish! and you know it. What you're really saying is that all eight council members only have to be responsible to 51% of the voters and you'll get to stay in office.

What we've really got now in Houston is nine mayors since the mayor and all eight councilmembers are elected citywide. Why don't we just call them Mayor No. 1, Mayor No. 2, Mayor No. 3, etc.

Thank heaven for the Justice Dept. ruling. And listen closely to these "please let me confuse you so I can stay in office" statements from our present city councilmen.

Let's throw the bums out! Or at least let's reduce them down to the appropriate percentage for bums in Houston.

What to do if you're arrested

If a police officer (not only in Houston where certain officers are on a rampage against gay people but in other cities too) thinks you're gay, he's liable to arrest you for no reason at all. He'll think of one later. (We're very serious and we've got documented cases of this happening time and time again, especially recently).

You'll have to spend the night in jail, most likely (depending upon what time you were arrested) but you will shortly be taken before a judge in an arraignment. The judge will read the charges against you and ask you if you're guilty, not guilty, or wish to plead no contest (tantamount to pleading guilty).

The police officer will have usually charged you with two or more offenses and it'll be the police officer himself as the accuser. One of the offenses he'll charge you with may be one that it's possible that you may think, in a remote sense, that you may have committed. The other charges will be outrageously wrong and more severe.

For instance, you may be charged with "public intoxication" with a $30 or $40 fine and "assaulting a police officer" (when in fact it was him who assaulted you) with a $200 fine. So you think: Gee, if I'll plead guilty to the first one, the judge may let me off in the second one, and the first one is far cheaper than the second.

This decision must be made by you. The judge does not always let you off on the second charge. Plus the charge you pleaded guilty to goes in the police records.

Here's what the Montrose Star recommends, if you're honestly not guilty of the charges or you feel the officer provoked you into the offenses.

Plead not guilty and immediately tell the judge that you wish to be released on "personal recognizance." He'll check the records and if you've no police history or outstanding tickets, and are employed, he'll probably release you. You want have to put up any bond money, which is frequently the reason gay people stay in jail for several days rather than a few hours.

You don't have to be a bank president or corporate executive to be released on personal recognizance. All you have to be is a good citizen.

Also, tell the judge at the same time, that you wish a trial by jury. (If you don't request a trial by jury, you'll get a trial by the judge, which, my attorney tells me, is not best in cases such as this. You have to ask for the jury trial. It won't come automatically.)

Got it? 1) Plead NOT GUILTY to all charges at the arraignment, 2) Request to be released on PERSONAL RECOGNIZANCE, and 3) Tell the judge that you wish a TRIAL BY JURY.

Then, once you're out, talk to your lawyer - IF HE'S A PRO-GAY LAWYER. Don't use Dad's old family lawyer. Lawyers are just like other professionals. There's a lot of speciality these days. Dad's old corporate lawyer may not have a grasp on the current Civil Rights movement.

To find out the name of a good, pro-gay Civil Rights lawyer, at a low price (lawyers in this field are not really that expensive), contact the ACLU. Or you can contact the Montrose Star. We've names of a few that we recommend. And if money is a problem, they'll work with you. Their main interest is in having you acquitted and then, depending on your case, proceeding against the officer(s) on charges of illegal arrest, brutality, or whatever he did to you.

And don't think it won't happen to you. No fewer than a dozen gay people were probably arrested last weekend in Houston simply for no other reason than the fact that the Houston police officer had an empty space in the back of his car - and that the officer has a psychological problem in not being able to understand gay people.

We can help these officers get over their problems by beating them at their own game - in court.

Henry McClurg

Where will you be October 14?

NEW YORK - Where are you going to be on October 14, 1979? Neither the question nor your answer is a frivolous matter.

Are you going to be dancing with a herd of blissfully ignorant clones at your usual Tea Dance? Recovering from Saturday night's stupor in the tubs? Sleeping the day away alone or with some cooperative stranger? Or writing your weekly letter to Mother about the progress of your begonias and the possibility of your getting a roommate to share expenses?

Countless thousands of very concerned realists will be marching in Washington that day as a matter of conscience and the strongest possible affirmation of their refusal to slavishly accept second class citizenship as their preordained role in society.

These will not be wild-eyed visionaries or unwashed radicals (though they will certainly be welcome). These will be very practical people of every size, shape, color, religion, gender, political and ethnic persuasion.

They can be very accurately described as practical, because it is not only impractical but moronic to cooperate in the denial of your basic rights in a society which demands that you pay the same taxes as everyone else but without expecting equality.

Without equality, we have nothing. So long as there is one law, one form of discrimination, one trace of harassment or denial, nothing we own or do has much real value.

It is incredible that this should have to be pointed out so repeatedly to so many of us, but the anesthetic of deliberate blindness is the unfortunate choice of too many willing victims.

This October 14th March in Washington takes on added significance at this time. There are public reports of old-style police harassment and gay bar raids in Chicago and Houston, among other cities. There are about 20,000 people demonstrating in San Francisco against the disgraceful leniency shown to the murderer of Harvey Milk and Mayor Moscone. Imagine a jury having the classic effrontery to sentence a man to seven years for two murders?

The seeds sown by our native bigots in the last couple of years are beginning to flower, and we must get out the scythes or be strangled by their malignant vines.

For the nine years I have presided over Michael's Thing (and long before), I have never stopped urging my fellow gay citizens to remember that this battle is theirs, not just that of some strangers with nothing to lose.

We all have something to lose, but more importantly we all have something to gain. What we gain is the self-respect of a free first class citizen with all the rewards, advantages, and comforts of that status.

It is indeed a battle, and every one of you is needed.

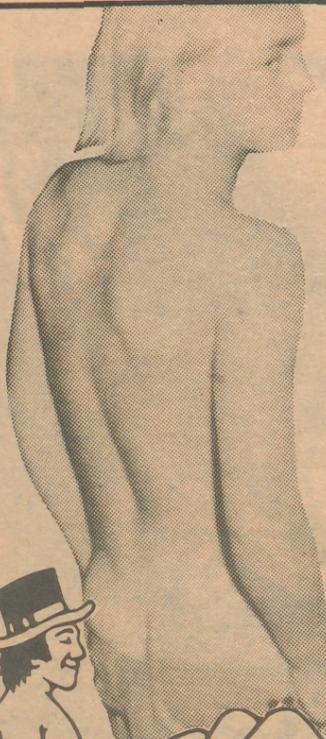

If you can't contribute your physical presence, you can certainly contribute your dollars.

This is not a sacrifice, not a token; it is a vital contribution to the attainment of your full freedom and security. Nothing can have greater priority. Think about it.

"Alien" is so scary that even this review is frightening

REVIEWED BY
Seth Cagin

Alien, though it's sleek, expensive and set on a space ship, is less a science fiction film than an old-fashioned "B" horror film. The invincible monster who who terrorizes the crew of the space tug "Nostromo" could as easily have come out of a lagoon or a jungle as from outer space.

This movie's scare tactics are absolutely rudimentary. Without exception, the film's shocks are a simple matter of an unimaginably gruesome beast jumping out at a character when he or she least expects it. The pacing is good, the monster is hideous, and, as a result, the movie is very frightening.

This is British director Ridley Scott's second feature. The first was last year's The Duellists, a movie praised above all for its classy cinematography.

ALien, rated R. Released by Twentieth Century-Fox. Executive producer Ronald Shusett. Produced by Gordon Carroll, David Giler and Water Hill. Directed by Ridley Scott. Screenplay by Dan O'Bannon from a story by O'Bannon and Shusett. Starring Tom Skerritt, Sigourney Weaver, Veronica Cartwright, Harry Dean Stanton, John Hurt, Ian Holm and Yaphet Kotto.

Alien, too, seems to place design above all its other values (excepting, of course, its desire to frighten). The camera work, highly reminiscent of Kubrick's 2001, is perfectly fluid. The special effects are entirely convincing. The computer terminals, colored flashing lights and spaceware are neatly integrated into the film's icy texture. And the monster itself, as well as the planet on which it is discovered, has been imaginably, horribly conceived.

The problem is that this most elaborately designed movie, as striking as it is, is strictly functional, and its function is nothing more than to scare the living daylights out of an audience.

Alien goes after its objective as single-mindedly as its titular anti-hero goes after his victims: without a glimmer of humor or mercy. The monster in Alien is said to be an advanced life form, perfectly evolved to survive, as invincible as it is hostile.

In truth, the movie is the monster — it, too, is a highly advanced scare-machine, invincible and hostile — and it's out to get you! Well, there's nothing wrong with that, if your idea of fun is to be gobbled alive by a movie this summer.

Though it's impossible to dispute Alien's success as a shocker, it's a shame Ridley Scott and company (four writers are credited with having worked on the film) didn't design their movie to perform a few additional functions.

Considering the movie's science fiction pretensions, it's surprising that no hint of intellectual curiosity interrupts the proceedings. The alien isn't given even as much of a rational motivation for his rampage as the shark in Jaws. He changes form at the filmmakers' whim — larger, smaller, slimier, more reptilian — simply to maximize his scare power; no explanations are offered.

The intention may have been to create a movie of unprecedented, no-nonsense, bone-crunching terror, but there isn't nearly as much playfulness in the film's suspense mechanisms as in Jaws or The Exorcist.

The result is that Alien is less effective than either of those films, less memorable, and far grimmer.

The characters, too, are saddled with joylessness, as if they knew that their sole function was to serve as monster feed. The astronauts are unconventional, in that they're depicted as bored workers rather than adventurers.

The "Nostromo" is a commercial vehicle, and there is considerable bickering over money between the seven crew members, whose arrangement is to share in the profits of their venture. Such squabbles may be "realistic," but they certainly aren't much fun.

The cast is composed of very fine actors who turn in deadly sober performances — but wasn't this supposed to be a fun movie?

Though the ship's computer is casually referred to as "Mother," the promise that it will become an eighth personality in the film is never fulfilled.

Perhaps the "fun" of Alien comes with the attempt to sort out the conflicting feelings it engenders. For, as repellent as this movie's icy inhumanity may be, its no-nonsense willingness to elicit the most primitive of human responses is intriguing.

As much as any movie could, Alien forces its audience to stare directly into the jaws of death. ●

TO PLACE A WANT AD BY MAIL:

On a plain sheet of paper, write out your ad. Add up the words and enclose 20¢ for each word for each week the ad is to run. We will run 4 words in all CAPS in your ad and the rest in regular upper/lower case. If you wish a Blind Box Number, enclose an extra $1 for each week your ad is to run. Minimum rate per want ad is $3.00.

Sign the ad and also print out your name and address. Mail to Montrose Star, P.O.B. 70282, Houston, TX 77007.

TO PLACE A WANT AD BY PHONE:

Call our Houston office any weekday between noon and 7:00 p.m., central time (1:00-8:00 p.m. eastern time). (713) 529-8188. We'll take your information and let you know how much it will cost. Your ad will then appear in the next issue of the paper, without having to wait for possible mail delays.

Want Ads received by 7:00 p.m. Tuesday will appear in the paper that is released Friday in Houston and the following Monday in other cities.

THANK YOU.
