TO ALL EMPLOYEES

OPERATION AMIGOS--They came, they saw, they dined...

Last Thursday was Operation Amigos Day at the Houston Refinery as 48 visiting Venezuelan high school students were with us for a tour of the refinery and a luncheon in the cafeteria that featured a menu of Venezuelan dishes. The pictures above tell the story. Top left, Guide H. D. Smith reviews the tour route with Interpreters Joe Casas, E. F. Roque, C. F. Stebbins, and Vicki Torres. Top center, Refinery Manager L. T. Wilson visits with a group of the students who have relatives employed by Shell in Venezuela. Top right, Refinery Adm. Supt. J. C. Kelbaugh shows a Houston Refinery Souvenir Guide to Herbert Pinilla, who accompanied the group, and one of the students. Middle Left, D. W. Lanning talks "Catalytic Cracking" with the students. the group got a surprise when Shell Oil Company President Monroe E. Spaght visited them during lunch. Right, students see the "big picture" from atop a unit. Left, Operation Amigos bus winds way down docks road. And at lower left, another surprise - gifts for the guests, a bracelet charm for the girls and a "Texas" tie tack for the boys, presented by Vicki Torres.

UF MOVIE BEING SHOWN TO ALL SHIFTS

The East Research Building Meeting Room has become the scene of some "round-the-clock" movie going here this week... Well, not quite... But for employees viewing the 1964 UF movie, "As These Eyes See", the showings have been scheduled on all shifts so every employee will have the opportunity of attending.

For instance, employees on the 12-8 AM shift may see the movie at 12:01 AM on the dates indicated, employees on the 4-12 PM shift may view the movie at 4:00 PM. Various showings have been scheduled during the mornings and afternoons this week for employees on days or the 8-4 shift. Copies of the movie schedule are available in all departments, so if you haven't seen the movie yet, check the schedule and make arrangements with your foreman so you can attend. The movie is not long but is well prepared and gives you in words and pictures the story of what our contributions must do in our community. A brief discussion period at which time employees may ask questions is held at each showing.

LEWIS B. HUBBELL DIES

It is with regret we report the recent death of Lewis B. Hubbell, 72. Mr. Hubbell died Friday, September 27, and was buried yesterday. A long-time resident of Houston, Mr. Hubbell retired from Shell's Houston Refinery in April 1951 after completing more than 26 years with the Company.

At the time of his retirement he held the position of Senior Inspector in the Engineering Office. He is survived by his wife, Marie, and two daughters. An expression of sympathy is extended this family by their many Shell friends.

LET THE BALL ROLL...

"Let the ball roll" - whether in tune or not - this must have been A. H. Loughridge's theme song last Saturday morning at the Hughes Club golf course. Playing in a foursome with L. N. Mancuso, J. D. Wood, and C. E. Cassidy, A. H. sighted in on the No. 11 hole some 172 yards in the distance and let swing with his iron. The ball hit in front of the green some 50 feet from the cup, then began a tantalizing trip toward the cup that finally ended with Loughridge scoring his first "hole-in-one".....And with witnesses to prove it.
