Potter, Kelly, Grant On Ticket; Advisory Group Is Named

Officers for the coming year will be elected by the University of Houston Society of Engineers at 9:30 p. m. Wednesday in Room 114.

Nominations for the offices were made at a meeting this week. Heading the list are presidential candidates, Joe Potter, Vernon Kelly, James Grant. Candidates for vice president are Gayle Whiddon and John Boling. Marvin Dixon, Clapton West and Edwin Stockwell are nominees for the position of secretary-treasurer; Eddy De Young and Vernon Plager are chief engineer nominee.

Honorary officers which will be added this year are a board of advisers composed of past officers of the society.

It was announced that the office of secretary would be filled from the Freshman class, but no freshmen attended the nomination meeting. Nominees were selected from upperclassmen.

Squires Re-Elect Pearson President For Fall Term

T. W. Pearson was re-elected president of the University of Houston Squires by acclamation Monday night at the regular meeting of the club in Room 210.

A number of new members were welcomed into the club and Mr. Valjean McCoy accepted the club's invitation to act as sponsor. The aims and purposes of the Squires were explained to the prospective members, and the constitution was read.

The election of the other club officers will be held at the next regular meeting, October 17. All new members who have paid the initiation fee will be eligible to vote in this election.

Suggestion was made that an honor pin be awarded each year to the club member contributing outstanding service for that year. A committee was appointed to study the proposal and report at the next meeting. Two dances are being planned by the club for the fall term.

Ethel Crow Heads Les Mousquetaires

Electing officers at their first meeting Wednesday, Les Mousquetaires chose Ethel Ruth Crow, president; Gabriel Fransee, vice president; Mary Joyce Frank, secretary; Elsie Scully, treasurer; and Walter Babic, sergeant-at-arms.

La Feuille de Chou, the French paper, will be edited by Joel Noyd. The club will meet on the first and third Wednesdays of each month. All French students are invited to attend.

First All-Student Assembly Will Be Held Tonight In New San Jacinto Auditorium

Lorine Butler Named Student Association Secretary-Treasurer

Lorine Butler, senior, was elected secretary-treasurer of the Student Association Wednesday night.

She defeated Edythe Reddick and Elmo Burke for the office. Betty Hayes, who had entered the race, withdrew before balloting began.

Miss Butler is president of the Cougar Collegian and is an official of the Red Masque Dramatic Club.

The election was called by the Student Council when Grace Dustin, who was elected to the office last year, failed to return to school due to ill health. The post will be for the remainder of the year.

Other Student Association officers are: Roy Much, president, and Vernon Kelly, vice president.

The election was a forerunner of the class election to be held Monday night.

Methodist Union To Hold First Meet Of Class Year Today

Methodist Student Union will hold its first regular meeting of the year at 6:10 p. m. today in the right balcony of the auditorium, according to Madeleine Durr, acting chairman. The meeting is open to anyone interested in the organization.

The club will be reorganized completely this year. A committee composed of Robert Sutton, Gladys Burrows, Madeleine Durr, Mary Frances Jones, Luke Wade, Harvey Gabler, directed by the faculty advisor, Dr. C. F. Hiller, and Dr. B. P. Murphy of the ministerial group, is now working on general plans for the year. Meetings are being held to set up programs of the year.

The programs will be of interest to the entire student body. Plans are being made, not only for the usual social activities, but also for observation tours and retreats.

IS BEAUTY SKIN DEEP?

Student Opinion Agrees That Frosh Paint Job on Slop Is Better Than Their Own

Whether or not beauty was skin deep was the topic discussed by the roving reported with several unbiased men students in an oral questionnaire. The question revolved about the natural beauty of a slop girl before and after treatment at the hands of her more privileged sisters.

Several boys were asked whether they thought the painting-up of the freshmen girls showed any improvement over the jobs they do themselves.

Jack Palmer, one of the first to be interviewed, decided that the up-

Italian Class Forms Newest Group

Organization of the newest student organization began last night following the semi-weekly meeting of the Italian 131 class.

Initial plans for Il Circolo Italiano began Thursday under the sponsorship of James E. Manfredini, instructor, will be announced when completed next week.

The course in Italian is being offered by the University of Houston for the first time this year. Fifteen students are enrolled.

This new high sets a record in the history of the University, and is 407 more students than were registered last year at this time.

Classes Will Elect Following Meeting Of Student Ass'n

University classes will nominate and elect officers at separate meetings tonight following the first all-student assembly at 7:30 p. m. in the new San Jacinto auditorium.

The all-student assembly will be sponsored by the Student Association to which all University students belong, and will be considered the first meeting of the Association of the current school year. Student officers already elected will be introduced by Roy Much, Association president.

Qualifications for the class officers set forth in the University of Houston student handbook are:

Junior and Sophomore classes—As above, except that only one year's previous attendance is required.

Freshman Class—(1) Must be carrying three or more courses. (2) Must have a clear discipline record in senior year of high school attended previous to attendance at University.

NYA To Aid 55 Students Here

Approximately 55 University of Houston students will earn a portion of their expenses this year from allotments by the United States government provided in the National Youth Administration.

This group assists in the office, library, and book room, and does stage work and other jobs for the University. They receive 25 cents an hour and work 40, 60, or 80 hours each month.

Patron tickets for the season went on sale this week, and can be purchased from members of the dramatic organization. For the first time in the history of the group, season tickets are available to outside patrons. Price is $1, and will admit purchasers to all Red Masque shows. Students will be admitted on activity cards.

Swimmers To Meet And Organize Team

Every man and woman student who is interested in swimming or diving is requested to meet in room 118 Wednesday at 9:30 p. m. Kitty Lou Dawson and Ben Noble will be in charge of the meeting.

Although experience will be of great value to the group, it is not absolutely necessary that the applicant know how to swim or dive. It is believed that there is enough good material in the University to make a strong team and one which will give many other groups a hard fight for championship laurels.

The facilities of the pool and showers have been placed at the disposal of the aquatic team when it is formed and every assistance will be given the new group in order to aid them in the formation of the team.

WHAT IS A UNIVERSITY FOR?

Since their inception over one thousand years ago, universities have had about three valid reasons for existence. They were first, cultivation of learning, for its own sake; second, cultivation of the liberal arts, and third, professional training.

During the Middle Ages, when the air which the early universities breathed was permeated with doctrines of a universal church, and while struggling through the Reformation in Protestant countries, a slow change was taking place. While not entirely disavowing the hideous traditions of scholastic training, it was becoming evident to instructor and pupil alike that a fourth "valid" reason for the existence of a university was making itself felt. They began to note the valuable contributions that the varied forms of student life made toward broadening the outlook of the participants.

Thus with four main "streams" that it has become the duty of these schools to nourish, it has become evident that a proper balance must be maintained between each of these divisions or the true University's perspective would become distorted. Should they harken to the utilitarian demand for specialized vocational training and the practical man's contempt for useless knowledge, the institutions of higher learning would be supplying training, not learning. The liberal arts conception of a general education would disappear and with it the institutions, most important contribution to the world.

When universities cease to be concerned with things of the spirit, they cease to perform their most important function.

It is a fact that the University of Houston does not have a southwest conference football club at this time, but this is not grounds for anyone to assume that we will not have one.

Gridiron spirit has been in the hearts of students of the University since the beginning of the institution. Even as a delicate Junior College an attempt was made to form a football club, but the students had little time to devote to its interest. At this time a more important objective lay in our path, and that was the task of raising funds with which to build a new building.

Two years ago the efforts of building a football club were resumed. We were no longer a junior college, but a university with several hundred more students. However, this did not remove all difficulties from choosing gridiron players. Because of the fact that the student body of the university is composed of mostly business and professional men and women, whose time is taken up in working at school and elsewhere. Even though this handicap still exists, we will not cease striving for a team. This year more students than ever have been taking an interest in a greater university football club.

DEMOCRACY

For the benefit of the new students, who have been inquiring about sororities and fraternities in the university—here is your answer.

These organizations create an inferiority complex among students who aren't asked to join, and a spirit of democracy certainly does not prevail in such surroundings. Since we are fighting for the cause of democracy in our government, why not use the same tactics in our educational and social lives as well? The school forbids them, yes—but so do the principles of true democracy.

Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalism fraternity, will hold its twenty-third national convention at the University of Wisconsin, Nov. 10 to 13 inclusive. The Wisconsin chapter of the fraternity, the Madison alumni, and the two Madison newspapers, the Capital Times and the Wisconsin State Journal will be hosts.

Ralph L. Peters, roto editor of the Detroit News, and national president of the fraternity, is in charge of the program. A series of round-table discussions covering all phases of the profession and led by nationally known authorities will be the basis of the program, according to President Peters.

WAR!

The war still continues in Spain. Also a few million students return to the wars on arithmetic and calculus, reading and Greek literature.

CAMPUS CHATTER

First today is news from the "political editor" which is timely, what with class elections tonight. Following is probable line-up of candidates whose nominations are certain.

The senior class has two outstanding candidates, namely Arthur Dimney, junior president, and Guy Hamilton.

Ted O'Leary and Vernon Kelly are ranking candidates in the junior run-off.

Ray Campbell and Henry Taub, last year's outstanding freshmen, will be probable opponents in the sophomore competitions.

Bill Roberts and Ed Davis, newcomers to the school, are vying for freshman presidency but the field is wide open in the slop classification. Since there are many new freshmen the full lineup for the race can't be given.

General assembly will be held and then classes will be sent to different rooms for the elections.

The Freshman Reception was a great success and much credit is due to the sophomores for their work. It appeared that the frosh did not mind the painting, etc. they suffered at the hands of the sophs but objected to the upperclassmen interfering with reference to the mobbing of one Ted O'Leary . . . The pre-reception antics were as good as the performance with Talley and Mitchell suffering under the embraces of numerous well-painted frosh . . . Kitty Lou Dawson made a frosh girl carry her books and Billy Roberts pray for rain—which is news of a kind. It was noted that Randolph Dyer was at the reception with Mickey Sloan and not with his most recent love, namely Mary Ellen Speck . . .

Frances Russ suggests that those in the bookroom on hot days be allowed to wear bathing suits—we wonder if the temperature is the cause of that desire—incidentally she and Arthur Dimney are falling for each other for some reason—its funny how these frosh girls go for the "big shots" . . . It appears that the regulation concerning High School Children in the book room needs a few teeth—the babies are taking the place—perhaps if the teeth can't be had Mr. House will lay in a line of infant supplies.

It has been noised around that Dick Hager is after one Dot Hohl, but he'd better work fast, for someone is chumping off—Dot is going to both L. S. U. and the Tulane games . . . Jerry Bently had a date with her Jimmy Julian the other night—could it be reconciliation, or is Roy Much still the "best man"? Arthur Dimney did a bit of loitering around the polls at the student assoc. election; he must want something . . . Christine Martin goes almost steady with one George Schultz of Rice Ins.—that should be remedied; the University must never play second fiddle . . . Gwen Hart and Louis Girard have had a parting of the ways during the summer and Gwen is making the most of her freedom . . . Ethyl Barrington was asked if she was married—she commented not yet but Jack Gaden is a very nice boy . . . Jack Kearns and Dorothy Lawrence are having quite a romance at this point but there probably is an opening for a good man . . . J. Q. Baldrige seems to have removed one Punky Spencer from the scene of operations as far as Virginia Christianson is concerned—what has happened to your nurse friend J. Q.—or was that just for a day or rather a night? . . .

For lack of information on the subject Roy Much thinks that the above named Virginia Christianson is the sweetest freshman in the university . . . It is rumored that Frank Monaghan is an expert at swing on the piano—you might be interested Gerald . . . Suzanne Larimer is probably very much in the dumps today as her spark, Austin Arlla is on his vacation . . . Eddy DeYoung will probably have more time to spend on studies this year as he does not have to keep track of Ferne Flaig, an ex-student . . .

BEAR WITH US By Bruin

With the gloomy year ahead of us, here is a feeble attempt to convert despondency into humor:

AFTER SUMMER'S END
 Back to earth and dull routine
 (Climb down from those stars!)
 You're no longer on vacation
 (You're behind the bars!)
 It was lovely while it lasted
 (Don't think back so soon)
 Try to get the right perspective
 (Life without a moon)
 You are in your proper orbit
 (Wonder where he's now?)
 Things were once so gay and sparkling
 (Smooth your furrowed brow)
 Seasons change and so do people
 (Longing is in vain)
 Dammit, put down that timetable
 (You can't take that train!)

LINES SCRATCHED ON AN EMPTY BOTTLE

If we pursue our French and Math
 And follow close the narrow path
 We'll find success, I'm sure, at length;
 Provided we can muster strength.

To dodge the pitfalls that we meet
 And not trip down the wider street
 That beckons with its shining lights,
 Its flow of wine and joy-filled nights

But, woe is me, I lack the steel
 To keep me on an even keel
 A rank transgressor, pleasure-seeker,
 I'm awfully weak — and getting weaker.

Amateur Boxers Invited To Meet And Form Team

Gene Tunney once said: "Prize fighters are born and cannot be made." When making this statement Tunney, doubtless, did not take into consideration the amateur fighters who train well and eventually become great boxers.

All men students who are interested in forming a boxing team and class, whether or not they have had experience are requested to meet with Ben Noble and Jack Lentz, in room 118, at 9:30 p. m. Monday night. The plans of the new group will be explained by the organizers.

A series of bouts have been tentatively scheduled and they will be fought as soon as the group becomes well organized. It is hoped that many students turn out for the first meeting so that a good boxing team can be assured.

DRAMA

The Freshman Reception By I. Witness

The setting—one of chaos,
Slops lined against the wall,
The atmosphere expectancy,
The place—THE FRESHMAN BALL.

Just one word S-L-O-P

Describes the leading roles
And right before my very eyes
This drama did unfold.

"Come over here you boys and girls"

The upper classmen said,
"And see the pretty colors
The blacks, the blues, the reds.
And try a little on your noses,
The red one, if you please,
And then some black around your eyes,
And have some snuff — don't sneeze!"

"Now, girls, pin up your curly locks"

Put on your blousy dress
And roll this moth ball with your nose,
For exercise—we stress.

"And boys, take off your shirts and ties"

And shoes and socks and hats,
And praise to Allah on your knees
You surely don't mind that!

"And if you're bored we'll have a show,"

This "sloppy" here will prance
And we shall see, Weell-whattdoya know,
A slop snake-charmer do a dance!

"The final act completes the play"

The dancing is begun
The initiation sign is down
And the freshmen have the fun.

So here's a toast to the Sophs and Grads,

(We really didn't mind)
Cause we'll be upperclassmen too
In 1939!

All students interested in swimming or diving team will meet at 9:30 p. m. Wednesday, Room 118.

Meeting of students interested in boxing, 9:30 p. m. Monday, Room 118.

SCENES AT DANCE HONORING FRESHMEN

Seen here are views of the initiation rites of the University of Houston class of '42. Above, Ray Campbell passes out the nathalene for the mothball rolling contest among feminine "slops." Get Friendly With The Office Force; They Can Help You

Any and all questions can be answered at the University of Houston office. Anyone requiring advice on any subject might inquire for any of the following:

Mr. N. K. Dupree, dean and college adviser, is always willing to help the student with his problems—arithmetic or otherwise. (Joking aside, get acquainted with Mr. Dupree.)

It might be a wise idea to become acquainted with Mrs. Pearl C. Bender, dean of women, for she can be a friend indeed. Just remember that Mrs. Bender knows all and tells all—and you must account to her for all absences.

If you enter the office, say around the first or fifteenth you will hardly be able to miss the hubdub and congestion in the right hand corner. The person who causes this wrangle and stew, is Dr. C. F. Hiller, bursar and registrar. What a friend! Money means nothing to him.

Mrs. Pearl McMullin, assistant registrar is waiting now to assist you with your credits. Don't pass her by.

And none could be found better than Mrs. Merlyne Lassiter, secretary of the University.

Mrs. L. Schedler, night secretary, is always willing to help you.

No doubt by now, you have all become acquainted with the office force in the shack around the corner—if you haven't, go by.

Art Instructor Returns From Trip to France

By Josephine Hightower

Most instructors returned to classes this fall from vacation trips, but Frederick Brown probably holds the record for coming from the farthest point.

Mr. Brown left June 3 from New Orleans on a boat which took him to Havre, France. From Havre, he went directly to Paris where he stayed for two weeks. From Paris, Mr. Brown went to Orange, which city he used as his headquarters for the rest of his stay in France.

In looking for old houses and scenes, Mr. Brown visited Avignon, Orles, Nemes and the surrounding country.

While in France Mr. Brown made about fifty sketches of street scenes and two paintings. He was looking for beauty and he found it in abundance.

Some of the main points of interest were the Roman remains at Orange; St. Trophme Church, one of the masterpieces of Roman architecture, which was built in the 11th century; La Fontaine Vo Clue, where Petrarch lived; Last, but not least, one of the most imposing works of art seen by Mr. Brown was the outdoor theater in Orange.

During Mr. Brown's visit in Orange, the people were celebrating a three day holiday. At this time, in the Roman theater, which was built in 50 B. C., they had several entertainments. They brought artists from the Paris Grand Opera, ballet dancers, and an orchestra.

On Sunday night, the president of France visited the theater. At this time the play, "Ante Dore," and the opera "Fall of Troy" by Glute, were given.

Mr. Brown returned to America shortly thereafter.

Baptist Student Union Announces New Plans

Cougars Open Schedule Sunday Against Cherryhurst

Large Turnout of Student Players and Spectators due at 2:30 Clash

Tickets went on sale today for the opening game of the University of Houston gridsters against the Cherryhurst Tigers, to be played at San Jacinto field Sunday afternoon at 2:30 p. m.

The Cougars, home club in the tilt, have been holding practice workouts for the past two weeks and promise to make a good showing against the stronger Tigers.

Bolstering the backfield of the University club is the addition of Fred Dupont, all city footballer for Reagan in 1933. Dupont's excellent line backing and his natural aggressiveness has sent the Cougar's chances soaring.

Other university players due to get in the starting lineup include: Stewart Germany of Dallas; Charlie Brigance and Mike Boudreaux, half backs.

Jimmy Fahey will be at center, with Bob Holberg and Carl Newman at ends.

Bennett Anderson will team with Henry Taub at tackle and Joe Carp will handle safety.

The chances of the team in the first game are probably slight but allowances must be made for the irregular training schedule the players have had to abide.

Slops Lose Again To Upperclassmen By Unlucky Score

Smarting under a 13-0 loss to the upperclassmen Sunday, the slops still haven't been convinced that they are the inferior team. The contest, avowedly for revenge after their first loss, provided no more comforting than their initial rout.

The first touchdown came by virtue of an aerial to Joe Camp, who scampered across the goal line, unmolested. He failed to kick the extra point after touchdown. Joe Brigance was on the receiving end of a pass that was also good for six points. Joe Camp converted and the score stood 13-0 until the game ended.

Obviously outclassed, the slops did not make a serious scoring threat. They have recharged the Sophs, who will play them after they have disposed of their first league rival, Cherryhurst Park.

SPORT BRIEFS

By Ralph Disque

Results of last Saturday's important football battles were exceptionally true to prediction. There were less upsets on last week's card than on any weekend for several seasons. Form followers boosted their "guessing" averages, as nearly all the pregame favorites were victorious.

Harvard, which lost to Brown, and Rice, the local hopeful, were the only two teams to suffer unexpected setbacks. Rice's bubble, blown too full of hot air, was punctured by fighting Oklahoma University, 7 to 6.

The remainder of the country's grid powers bowled over their opponents, and have been drilling for tougher competition this week. The Southwest Conference members have not been very successful against non-conference foes so far this season, but tomorrow they have a chance to regain their prestige, as each meets a strong inter-sectional opponent.

Elmer Twitchell says he remembers way back when a man had to take drugs to get as crazy a picture of the world as is presented by actual facts today.

Oh, carve him up—
Each limb dismember:
The guy who says,
"I love September."
