Miss M. Eleanor Brackenridge, Hon. President,
Texas Equal Suffrage Association,
Washington Heights,
San Antonio, Texas.

Dear Miss Brackenridge:

Please accept my loving sympathy for your loss. I did not know until yesterday, or I should have expressed it sooner. Also I am deeply distressed to hear of your illness. Please take good care of yourself and get well soon for all of our sakes. We need you to help celebrate our victories, which are coming thick and fast, as well as to buoy up our courage with your unflinching strength to lead us through darkness as well as light.

The Board met yesterday, in Austin, and all express their love for you and wished for your presence and regretting your illness. They refused to accept my resignation, which I had felt in duty bound to offer, and I am very happy that I am to be able to go forward in the work which I am most interested in.

Lovingly yours,

MPC-EHL

President.
