CAMPAIGN FOR ROGERS MEMENTO ON OVER NATION

Nation-Wide Drive For Funds Will End On Thanksgiving

Beginning November 1 and continuing through Thanksgiving, a drive will be sponsored to raise a fund to create a memorial to the memory of America's most beloved character, Will Rogers.

Twenty-five thousand daily newspapers and fifteen thousand weekly newspapers are supporting the cause. Hundreds of friends of Will Rogers all over the country are lending their aid. To raise money for the fund, Captain Frank Hawks, with whom Will made his famous charity tour for the benefit of the flood sufferers in 1931, is flying the sixteen thousand miles covered by the pair at that time. Will Hayes, czar of the movies, spends half of his days phoning prominent persons of the country to solicit their support. Joan Buck is staging a gigantic benefit show in New York. The operations committee has as its head, Eddie Rickenbacker, famous war ace.

Although the nature of the memorial is yet undecided, contributors are invited to make suggestions. So far it is indicated that the general See CAMPAIGN page 2

Speakers Club Holds Debate On Italian Ethiopian Question

"Ladies and gentlemen, I repeat, that England has nothing to do with the present conflict existing in Ethiopia"—and so went the heated discussion over the justification of Italy attempting to annex Ethiopia. Jimmie Marshburn and George Brownlee having the affirmative side, and Tula Boozalis and Graham Malet taking the negative side, gave the members of the University Speakers Club a splendid argument of the Italo-Ethiopian question, at the meeting of the club on November 18.

Another feature of the program was a radio broadcast on Parliamentary Practice. A real microphone and an interesting skit with announcers, Bert Brumby and Arthur Dimney, and Mabel McGuire and Jimmie Sims, amateur stars that didn't get the gong because they kept their listeners tuned in until the finish, gave the members some valuable tips on parliamentary procedure and a good program also.

Maybe there is something to the old adage that the third time is a charm because this program was excellent both in make-up, thanks to Mrs. Edna Birath, and in performance as given by the members.

"It was an excellent program—as perfect a program as could be put on," commented Professor H. W. Harris when the bell rang to adjourn the meeting.

The University Speakers Club is made up of the members of Mr. Harris's 7:30-8:30 class and meets every two weeks. The next meeting on December 2 promises to be equally as good as the last. A one-act play will be presented by the members under the direction of Bert Brumby, Jimmie Marshburn and W. D. Magness. Visitors are welcome.

Houstonian Forum Discloses Capable Dramatis Personae

The Houstonian Forum met last Friday at 5 p. m. for the purpose of showing what happens when a combination of freshmen and upper-classmen try to be funny in a freshman class.

Mary Fink, acting as program chairman, decided to have a play, so she presented four members with a copy of "The Eligible Mr. Bangs" and told them to act. They did. (Too bad Mr. Mitchell didn't see it.)

Betty Martin was the happy wife of Clarence Bland. She felt that she must share her happiness with her unmarried girl friend, Sally Powers. Her play was to marry Sally off to an eligible friend, Keith Hancock, who pretended to hate single girls.

Now Keith and Sally had adored each other for a whole year, but he, the brute, preferred fifty grand he would inherit to Sally. So they suffered in silence until Betty and See HOUSTONIAN FORUM page 3

"The Howling Dog" Nearing Completion Says L. S. Mitchell

"The Howling Dog," the Red Masque Players' production which will be presented December 18, is taking form rapidly according to Director L. Standlee Mitchell.

Despite the fact that the cast is made up entirely of those who have not taken part in previous productions of the club, it has shown unusual talent.

The play is built on the efforts of Dorothy Goodwin to obtain the home she has inherited, provided she lives in it for six months. Her housekeeper, Mrs. Daniels, and Mat Wiggins attempt to make her leave by producing many strange happenings.

The young lady is almost distracted when Milton Rogers, who makes a specialty of taming ghosts, appears to help her over the difficulties.

Beside the outstanding quality of the play, a vast amount of lighting and stage effects will be brought into use.

A new set of scenery will be built for the play under the guidance of Professor Robert Talley, assistant director.

Standlee Mitchell Elected President Men's Faculty Club

Professor L. Standlee Mitchell was elected president of the Men's Faculty Club Friday at a luncheon meeting of the organization at the Plaza Hotel.

Professor S. W. Henderson presided over the meeting until the election was held.

Dr. C. F. Hiller was made vice-president and Professor Robert Talley, secretary.

Following the election, Mr. Mitchell appointed a steering committee consisting of Professors Charles S. Meek, chairman, Howard J. Holt and Alva L. Kerbow.

The club planned to meet the second and fourth Fridays of each month in order to accommodate the general College faculty.

Book Review Given In Mothers' Honor By Collegian Club

Cougar Collegians honored their Mothers at a book review given at the home of Jane Jennings Wednesday afternoon.

Miss Ruth Pennybacker reviewed "The Wind Blew West" by Lanham, a native Texan. Weatherford furnishes the background of this historical and entertaining novel of a period vital to the development of Texas. The coming Centennial makes a story of this type doubly interesting inasmuch as it focuses the attention of the nation on Texas.

Grace Dustin offered several piano selections.

Mrs. Pearl C. Bender and Mrs. Bessie M. Ebaugh, sponsors of the club were present.

Those assisting Miss Jennings and her mother, Mrs. H. H. Jennings, in hostess duties were Algerine Allen, Huberta Wilson, Evelyn Nicoll, Margaret Lang and Isabel Ackerman.

Among those mothers present were Mesdames Wilson, Hedrick, Leffevre, Raymond, Wood and Williford.

University Singers Given Piano As Gift

The University Singers yesterday received a studio upright piano as a gift from the University.

The Singers, who meet each Saturday from 5 to 7 p. m., have been assigned a music room apart from that of San Jacinto high school. They will meet in the shack next to the office.

All students interested in joining the University Singers are urged to do so by Saturday, at which time the membership will be closed.

COLLEGE RECEIVES GRANT OF $250 FOR STUDENT YEAR BOOK

FRESHMEN PLAN ANNUAL DANCE DECEMBER 13

The veil of mystery which has surrounded plans for the Annual Freshman Dance was removed today by Freshmen President Billie Miller and Richard Edwards when they announced definitely that the event will occur Friday evening, December 13, at the University Club.

Following in the wake of the recent Sophomore dance, which was given at the same hall, the Freshmen will have something really good at which to shoot and should provide an evening's entertainment which will be the apex of the University's social life of the year.

Sale of tickets for the event will be begun the latter part of next week.

Music for the occasion will be furnished by Boots Randell and his popular 12-piece orchestra.

Women's Faculty Club Plans Annual Christmas Party

The Faculty Woman's Club held its regular monthly meeting Saturday, November 16, at the Plaza Hotel.

Plans for the annual Christmas party to be given at the Plaza Hotel in honor of the men of the faculty, were discussed in a short business session.

A delightful social hour followed with bridge for diversion. Cut prizes of individual pumpkin pies were awarded the lucky winners at each table.

After the games, the members gathered for refreshments around the table, festive with pumpkin, fruit and nuts and heaped high on a silver platter. Yellow candles burned softly at each end of the lace draped table. Assisting in serving were Mrs. C. F. Hiller and Mrs. L. S. Mitchell.

Hostesses for the occasion were Mrs. Pearl McMullin, Mrs. Louis Kestenburg, Mrs. E. W. Schuhmann, Mrs. Harvey Harris, Mrs. Lyle Hooker, Mrs. N. K. Dupre, Mrs. L. C. McDonald.

Debates To Be Held By University of Houston Students

Two debates involving University of Houston students are scheduled with teams from the American Institute of Banking and South Texas School of Law, December 18 and 19.

Tommy Cooksey, veteran debater, and his freshman colleague, James Marshburn, will represent the University in the debates. They will debate the question involving the Supreme Court's authority over Congress. It is not known which side of the argument will be taken.

The bankers will be met on the former date at Sam Houston High School, with the law students being debated December 19 in room 120 at the University. This debate will start at 7:15 p. m.

Committee Will Decide Eligibility Rules For Staff

Plans for the publication of The Houstonian, yearbook of the University of Houston, were discussed by the Student Council, at their regular meeting held Monday, November 18.

The University has set aside a grant of $250.00 to be used for the publication of the annual. This exceeds last year's fund by about $150.00, so a more elaborate and complete annual will be planned.

The Houstonian will be sponsored by the student council and all students intending to work on the annual must meet with the qualifications set up by that group.

A committee composed of Professor Robert Talley, chairman, James Julian, Al Gardner, Fred Jones and Douglas Carter was appointed by Dean N. K. Dupre to set up a list of qualifications for the offices of editor and business manager. This list will be passed upon at the Student Council meeting tonight and published in The Cougar next week.

The annual this year will be the second published by the University and will probably be much larger than the last issue which was put out in about six weeks under great handicaps.

Election of officers will be held immediately after Thanksgiving.

Parents Honored At Banquet Given By General College

General College of the University of Houston honored the parents of the students in an informal reception held in the basement of the South Main Baptist Church Thursday, November 21.

The purpose of the meeting was to explain the system of grading to be adopted by the day branch of the university. Its newness might cause some misunderstanding among the parents and it was hoped that the system was satisfactorily explained.

The welcoming address was given by Travis Miller, who in turn introduced Dr. W. W. Kemmerer, the speaker of the evening.

Red Masque Meeting Scheduled Monday

The Red Masque Players will meet Monday night at 9:30 in room 202.

All members are urged to be present to assist in making plans for the presentation of "The Howling Dog."

Tickets for the play will be issued for sale and there will be a roll call of the membership.

Guild To Meet

Officers of the Harris Literary Guild will meet Sunday afternoon at the home of Miriam Smith to plan a party for the guild.

The party will be held December 7 at the home of one of the members.

THE HOUSTONIAN

The Houstonian is about to become two years old. Not finding itself beset by the many hardships, encountered in the past the annual, this year will be a decided improvement over the last.

Incidentally, last year's yearbook was put out in about six weeks and limited finances severely handicapped its publication. Not likely to have the same financial difficulty this year and given plenty of time in which to complete it, a truly representative year book should be the result.

Unhampered this year by the former lack of spirit that at times threatened to stop publication of the annual, the Student Association feels that it can give to the student body a yearbook of which it might be justly proud. No trouble will be spared in trying to make it as representative as possible.

The editorial and business staff will be selected by the student body. They should have had some previous experience on an annual so that no time will be lost by lack of training. It is imperative that representative men be chosen on this staff.

The Houstonian staff will be comprised of students from the various classes and representatives of the General College. All who wish to try for places on the staff will be welcome and their efforts appreciated.

MAKING THE BEST OF IT—

Few people realize the great wealth stored in our library. During the past year alone we have taken into our library 3000 new books, written by the greatest and most modern authors.

During the past eight years there has been gradually growing under the auspices of the Houston Junior College and now the University of Houston a library which we should be duly proud. It contains not only the latest in the best literature but also that recognized throughout the ages as some of the great-classics.

Most students are quick to criticize but remarkably slow to acknowledge their errors. We believe there is no college or university library that has grown as rapidly and as completely under circumstances such as our school has been compelled to and in so short a period as has ours. The time is not far distant when our library will be as complete as that of any institution of long standing.

The librarian and her assistants are able guides for your research work. Co-operate with them and make the best of that which we have for at this time we have more material than you can possibly use during the years you will be in our University.

- Drawings must be submitted before 9:30 p. m. Friday, December 14th.

The selected drawing will be used for making a cut to head the column, "Engineering Items," which will appear weekly in The Cougar.

Judges for the contest are Mr. W. B. Fields, Parr Krumb, Clarence Bland, Al Gardner and three faculty members to be selected by this group. All decisions will be final and are to be governed by the above rules. Final selection will be made Monday, December 17th, and the result announced during the meeting of the society.

When asked of the school's participation in the drive Dr. E. E. Oberholtzer stated, "I hope that every school child in Houston will contribute to the fund even if he is only able to give a penny."

SECRET SOCIETY!

A system by which students of the University of Houston have attempted to untangle their affairs of heart was revealed in a statement made today by the ex-president of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Hearts, Colonel I. Snoop. "I was relieved," stated Snoop, "of my office for no particular reason and therefore I intend to use my knowledge in breaking up the society. It is not only unfavorable to the natural friendships which might develop between the students of our University, but it tends to favor unnecessarily, the members of the society."

Due to the almost disastrous outcome of the efforts of the society, the Cougar has arranged to print information obtained by Colonel Snoop. The first installment will appear in the next issue of the paper.

TORRID TOPICS

When the editor asked me "How would you like an interview with Ina Ray Hutton?" I made the first mistake by accepting. In the first place, I thought she said innervew. My second mistake was spending the entire week at the Met, but why blame me when Ina Ray has reached the ultimate in women's dress—of feeling the coolest and looking the hottest. What happened follows:

Question:

Miss Hutton, to what do you attribute your success? They call you the female Clark Gable.

Answer:

Well, I just followed the old adage. You know the one, "Be sure you're a riot, then go ahead."

Question:

As a child you must have been rather reserved. Is it not true that you were dove-like?

Answer:

Well, I was just a little pigeon-toed.

Question:

Could you tell us something about your parentage?

Answer:

Father was a gold-miner and mother was a gold-digger.

Question:

Oh, I see. Just a miner's daughter—but what natural resources. But tell me, what is the woman's opinion of the present American political situation?

Answer:

If women would say what they think they'd keep quiet.

Question:

Do you stick to the notes or play by ear?

Answer:

By ear. Those sharps and flats bother me.

Question:

You don't seem to be troubled by flats. You have several new members in your band, don't you?

Answer:

No. Just one. In Dallas one of my girls was run over by an auto. She recovered sufficiently, though, to marry the driver.

Question:

If that happened in every similar case, don't you think there'd be reckless driving?

Answer:

Indeed. How did you like my theme song?

Question:

Okay. What is the name of it?

Answer:

That's my special number. It's named, "So As Ye Show, So Shall We Peep."

that somewhere Will is listening in and is happy to think that people love him enough to wish to honor his memory.

Cheers from Princeton—the first college cheer is credited to Princeton students, who get the idea from an unknown private of the Seventh Regiment of New York, as the outfit mobilized for war in April, 1860.

A point for youth—"Too little credit is given the young for their appreciation of serious music. The talk of playing down to them because they are spoiled by being saturated with jazz, is false. Instead, from the very start, I have found that young audiences enjoy Bach, Beethoven, and the older masters," declared Dalies Frantz, distinguished young American pianist.

Wise guy—A freshman stated the other day that when he first came to Trinity he didn't know whether it was a university or a kindergarten. Naturally, everyone was in the dark as to his reasons. "Well," he said "I just couldn't understand why in a University the students should greet each other with a 'Hi, babe!' 'What cha say, kid!'"

Quite a coincident—at Colorado College is the college treasurer, William Wallace Postlethwaite, "Bill"—collector.

With Due Apologies

"The melancholy days are here,
The saddest of the year;
The grades are out—they're really low,
I won't be here next year.

The grades are out? They're down and out!
They're really quite a blow;
I've seen some bad ones in my day.
But never quite so low!

But if I do come back next year,
This year I'll repeat, I fear;
Those melancholy days are here,
The saddest of the year—O dear!"
—The University News.

Strategy, to say the least—the editor of the Blue Bonnet, Mary Hardin Baylor annual, presented a short skit at chapel with the theme emphasizing the importance of having pictures made for the book.

She was an attractive young woman. She entered the hotel lounge and seated herself next to a handsome and dashing young brute. She coughed lightly, but the stranger ignored her presence. When their eyes finally met, she shot at him a flirtatious glance that indicated plainly that she desired to make his acquaintance.

With all of this the male seemed cool and gave no answering sigh.

Finally, a handkerchief dropped to the floor, and she murmured softly, "Oh, I've dropped my handkerchief." Virgil Moore turned an eye to her and responded, "Sorry, Berry, my weakness is beer."

LAS ESTACIONES

By Spadwoxi

Season of rains and new budding plants,
When flowers and trees become once full,
You bring back the bird that all the day chants,
And warm sunny days in which we may lull.
Almost unnoticed, a change to a different hue;
Time of vacations and school holidays,
When the sun's piercing rays shine relentlessly down
On people who seek out the lakes and the bays,
And change their complexions from fair to nut brown.

Gold and brown leaves, like beautiful dreams,
Fall listlessly down from trees shedding fast;
Days getting cooler, and shorter it seems,
And the long rip'ning harvest is gathered at last.
Time swiftly moves on, unaware as we are;
Now come the days of frost and snow, ice, and sleet,
And occasional rains, dreary and cold,
Driven by north winds, forceful and fleet
That even the sun can make none the less bold.

LIMERICK

'Tis sweltering hot in the summer we know,
And often often we'd like for a norther to blow,
But when cold weather's here
With the chills we all fear,
How we long for the days when the pavements did glow!

SOPHS DANCE

Outside, a cold wind blew. A wind that was suggestive of a cold winter to come. A forlorn wind that whispered a melancholy note as it whistled past ones ear. A wind that bit deep at the flesh, and then hurried on. Inside, a "hot" trumpet that blared forth a joyous note of careless abandon. A trumpet that played a tune suggestive of the hours to come. The strains of "St. Louis Blues" bit deep at the spirit . . . and lingered on. In this manner the first dance of the Sophomore Class of the University of Houston made its debut to the students of the entire school. Boots Randall and his Orchestra furnished music spiced with unique and novel arrangements of the latest hits. Hats off to Boots and his Boys. They "went to town" and stayed there the entire evening.

In the way of clothes, beautiful girls, and handsome boys, our Alma Mater can boast of both quantity and quality. The evening dresses displayed were capable of sending Parisian designers into a jealous fit, and the variety of latest style suits worn by the boys would have made the pages of "Esquire" look like a magazine published by our own university. Now, let's get personal and see if we can pick out our "Who's Who" personalities.

The girl in the unique pink evening gown set off by the blue cape, was non other than Bonnie Luscher. Nice smile you have Bonnie. And by the way, who sent the corsage? . . . Betty Martin (our vamp) had on an evening dress that was really RED. Red is your color, Betty. Stick to it . . . Frances Drake was really beautiful in a white satin evening dress. Boys, "Did you ever see a dream dancing . . . well I have." "Did you ever hold heaven right in your arms" . . . not long, you didn't! Here's a tip on how to make a hit with her: promise her a ride on a fire wagon! How about it Fannie? . . . The blue dress worn by Elizabeth Greedy was very nice looking. Elizabeth knew how to wear it, too! Just who went out and killed the bear, I don't know, but the fur trimming on the cape added a touch of individuality indeed charming.

Tommy Crawford (Curly Top) wore a suit of a soft tone brown. The inverted back pleat is the latest thing . . . After a few trips to the beach this summer, he'll fill every requirement of a "Tall, Dark, and Handsome" . . . that's Ralph Pierce. Yes, girls, he's a banker, but had Alfred Daniels been present at the dance and heard his voice over the "mike" I'm sure Ralph would be greeting us every morning over "The Early Risers Club." How about it girls?

Mr. Harris looked mighty fine in formal attire. Mr. Harris, it was mighty cold over by the windows. I am sure you would have been much warmer in the middle of the floor with a girl in your arms. Ask Mr. Bishkin if I am not right. He and Margaret Lang looked nice together. Now, there's a pretty brunette for you and can she dance . . . just ask your Chem. Prof.! Virgil Moore looked like June in January with that large yellow flower in his lapel. Virgil lasted through the whole dance, but the flower wilted down the second time they played "St. Louis Blues!" James Martin looked as if he was really enjoying himself . . . James we know you can't help it if you are popular, but you shouldn't let the girls mess up your hair. Where did you go during the second intermission?

Jeraldine Nelda was another personality wearing a beautiful white dress. It was stylish from A to Q. Kitty Berthold did everything but make the piano sing Duke Ellington's Theme Song. Kitty you are a regular "Kitten on the Keys." We

SUICIDE CLUB CLAIMS VICTIM

Existence of a suicide club among students of philosophy at Sarajevo, members of which were sworn to kill themselves each year on the anniversary of the passing of the German thinker Schopenhauer, was revealed here by the death of a student named Paul Seltbauer.

Seltbauer's body was found in a wild gorge some miles from town a few days after his disappearance. He had stripped naked in a nearby cave, burned his philosophic writings, cut the veins of both wrists, thrust a knife into his chest and hurled himself into the gorge.

A note proved he had committed suicide on the exact anniversary of Schopenhauer's death 75 years ago. Police discovered that a small circle of keen philosophy students had sworn to keep silence for the whole day on each anniversary of Schopenhauer's death and to commit suicide in a certain order.

A student named Avdo Srnitch was first on the list. He killed himself last year. Seltbauer was third, but "went out of turn."

really enjoyed your numbers . . . Jerry Bentley was another personality popular among the boys. The greenish blue dress was very pretty Jerry. Boys, there's another girl with eyes that can say plenty . . . Geraldine Cole of Radio Fame and her date Vernon Scott of theatrical fame made a nice impression as they danced easily among the crowd. It's tough to have a date too popular, isn't it Vernon? By the way, you might tell Geraldine that she had the distinction of having the blackest head of hair on the floor. It was really coal black beauty, no fooling.

Carrying away top honors in individuality of appearance was the popular Sophomore Doris Kennedy. Her dark blue evening dress of a very unique design was one of the most attractive creations on the floor. The drabness of a dark dress cut along simple lines was effectively broken by a large white window-pane check. Very pretty, Doris . . . Joe Wolfe was seen everywhere at once. Without doubt, Joe enjoyed the dance more than anyone else present. Joe where did you get that black and white plaid tie? Please, hereafter, Joe confine it to the golf course!

Carrying away top honors as the most popular girl on the floor was Dorothy Cely. Dorothy wore a beautiful blue evening dress. The color, a very soft blue, is called "electric blue" and is the latest thing in the way of color shades. Plenty pretty, how about it boys? All those in favor say, Aye! Hey, not so loud, remember the classes. By actual count (from the balcony) Dorothy had her feet trod on by seven different partners to the tune of "You're All I Need."

The numbers that the crowd seemed to enjoy most were "Put On Your Old Grey Bonnet," "I'm Nobody's Sweetheart Now," "I'm in the Mood for Love" and "St. Louis Blues." If you missed this dance, you missed the time of your life. But it won't be the last one, and we'll be looking for you at the next one. I guess I had better let the keys cool off and go buy a ticket for parts unknown. I have no desire to be the main character in a lynching party movement that is liable to get under way after this article is published.

The minister met Tom, the village ne'er-do-well, and, much to the latter's surprise, shook him heartily by the hand.

"I'm so glad you have turned over a new leaf, Thomas," said the good man. "I was delighted to see you at the prayer meeting last night."

"Oh," said Tom after a moment of doubt. "So that's where I was."

SOCIAL HIGHLIGHTS OF THE WEEK

Evelyn Nicoll and Katherine Berry were the guests of Marjorie Wilke, student at the University of Texas, last week-end. They attended the Texas-T. C. U. game and the German Saturday night. They returned to Houston Sunday.

Francis Drake and Kathleen Blair left today to spend the week-end in Fort Worth. They will attend the T. C. U.-Rice game and dance Saturday night.

Isabel Ackerman will spend next week-end in Fort Worth. She will attend the Rice-T. C. U. football game and the homecoming dance Saturday night. Miss Ackerman is a former T. C. U. student.

Dorothy Waldrop, ex-student of the University of Texas, visited in Austin last week-end. She attended the T. C. U.-Texas game and the German Saturday night.

The A. & M. dances that were held Saturday night at the Auditorium, University Club and Terrace were well attended by the students of the University. Some popular young co-eds seen rushing around with A. & M. cadets were Joan Simpson, Algerine Allen, Isabel Ackerman, Margaret Lang, Dorothy Cely, Florence Hedrick, Helen Breaux, Hermione Fuqua, Maude Berry, Fae Cook, and Geraldine Bentley.

Miss Jonnie Pace, and her twin sister, Jimmie of Rice Institute, were honored with a birthday dinner party Monday evening.

A delightful buffet dinner of Italian spaghetti was served the guests the dinner, the party went to the at the home of the girls'. Following the dinner, the party went to the Terrace Ballroom of the Rice Hotel for gay evening of dancing to the music of Herman Waldman and his orchestra.

Those attending the affair were the honorees Jane Jennings, and Ralph Pierce, from the University and Arthur Hughes, Jackie Schuekle, Mary Jane Hale, Hazle Pace, Earl Weaver, Frank Smith, Jane Stockton, and Everett Collier, all of Rice Institute.

No. 1 Gentleman Must Smoke Pipe

Specifications for yet another in the endless list of model college youths have been drawn up by University of Wisconsin co-eds, and here they are:

The No. 1 gentleman friend smokes a pipe, uses no conscious line, dances well, drinks only in moderation, doesn't try to get a date at the last minute, and restrains his rampant emotions.

Most frowned on were two rare species: the collegiate type and the cigar-smoker.

Houstonian Forum

At last he felt free to be nice to her.

At the crucial minute, when Keith was about to succumb to a broken heart, thoughtful little Betty produced a telegram divorcing Sally's fictitious husband.

Right then and there, before the whole forum, and Keith, the chump, decided to give up the fifty grand for Sally.

It was a good play and everyone lived happily ever after.

For the next number on the program, the University Quartet, which turned out to be a trio, came in to sing. C. B. Doolan, Jimmy Willett, and Alfred Butler put to music all the dirty remarks everyone had been afraid to make about everyone else.

Following the musical numbers, Professor Harris and Clarence Bland, both from East Texas, had a discussion to determine which had outgrown the most traits of the locality. As a result, it was proved that Mr. Harris so delighted in making catty cracks at Clarence because he was born just exactly three blades of grass closer to Houston than Clarence.

And so ended the program. What a program!

GAME MONDAY

The University Basketball team will play the Regal Beer squad Monday evening at 9:30 in the boys' gym. Give 'em some support.

Icemen Meet Rice Owls In First Tilt

Members of the University of Houston hockey team will enter their last sessions of practice before they meet the Rice Owls in the first game of the season.

Coach C. F. McElhinney is teaching the squad the fundamentals of passing, stressing this point over individual expertness. Coach McElhinney is faced with the problem this year of taking green material and moulding it into a group of first class puck pushers.

No definite date has been set for the Rice game, according to Frank Miller, captain, but it will be within the next three weeks. After the Rice game comes several grueling contests with high school and industrial teams.

Along with every other profession the profession of being a college student is over crowded, says no less an authority than the New York Times, after a survey of 67 colleges and universities.

The surveyor makes the assertion that 30 per cent of young college men and women are capable of thinking for themselves, which means that the other 70 per cent are just being "carried along."

Mitchell Threatened

L. Standlee Mitchell's state of connubial bliss suffered a severe strain the other night at Louie's place. It seems that someone dared Betty Martin to affix a kiss upon Mr. Mitchell's beaming countenance. Nothing ventured, nothing gained, thinks Betty, so she complied. Mr. Mitchell took it sittin' down so he wouldn't have so far to fall.

Quote Lois Ehlers:

I'm eighteen years old.

Never been kissed(?)

But open for engagement.

Was that a three-point landing or a tail-skid that Wilbur Smith took at the Sophomore Dance last Friday. Kinda hard on his er - dignity. It seems that Mr. Smith left the dance in Ralph Pierce's car and forgot to return until about an hour after the dance was finis. Out in the cold again, eh, Pierce.

Existence of Ghosts Not Yet Disproved

There may be ghosts.

Perhaps there aren't, maybe it's all superstition, but Dr. Alexis Carrel, the Nobel prize biologist who has kept a chicken's heart in a bottle since 1912, says that he at least is unwilling to deny it.

Thought transference, intuition and clairvoyance are logically provable phenomena, says Dr. Carrel, and maybe, after all, there are ghosts, and maybe little people in the trees in the full of the moon.

"The existence of telegraphic phenomena, as well as other metaphysical phenomena, is not accepted by most biologists and physicians. They are hidden in the enormous mass of superstitions, lies and illusions accumulated for centuries by mankind . . . it is nevertheless a fact that they are a normal, although rare, activity of the human being."

Only persistent laboratory experimentation can tell us, Dr. Carrel believes, whether there are ghosts and "little people-in the trees," or not.

"No one can say there aren't. No one can say anything until he can prove it."

WITTMER WILL MEET WALTERS IN BADMINTON

Willard Wittmer and Hoga Walters entered the finals of the badminton tournament by defeating Al Gardner and Parr Krumb respectively. Walters defeated Krumb, 15-12, 15-17, 17-15, in the closest match played to date.

In other singles encounter, Wittmer scored a mild upset in defeating Gardner, 15-9, 15-9, after having previously won by default from Ralph Pierce.

The doubles matches went off according to schedule. Wittmer and Collins defeated Wolfe and Stern, 15-19; 15-4, Lewis and Goff won by default from Herbert and Turner, Walters and Gardner defeated Martin and Kihnel 9-15; 15-4; 15-6. Burns and Martin drew a bye and advanced into the semi-final round.

No other matches have been played in the girls' division, but some exciting games are scheduled for next week in all brackets.

In the earlier singles matches Walters defeated Stern, 15-8, 15-5, and Krumb defeated Kihnel, 9-15, 15-2, 15-2, after getting off to a very slow start.

A ladder tournament will be held immediately upon the completion of all matches and after the winners in the different divisions are determined. A player can, in this way, improve his ranking by defeating the player immediately above him.

Cougars Relinquish First Half Lead To Woodleigh Tossers

The fast moving University of Houston eagers moved slowly in the second half of their game with the Woodleigh Drug basketball team Monday night and as a result bowed to the druggists 38-45, in a thrilling, rough exhibition of basketball.

The Cougars went into the second half with 19-5 lead over the Woodleigh boys but the combined playing of Albrecht and Hays for the visitors was too much for the local aggregation. The two scored 126 points between them.

A total of 18 fouls were chalked up against the two teams, the Woodleigh aggregation committing 13 and the University boys accounting for five. The visitors scored a better percentage from their gratis shots, sinking three out of five while the locals sunk five of their thirteen attempts.

High scoring honors of the night went to Edwards, flashing center for the Cougars, who scored eight field goals; his play at the tip-off position was one of the best performances of the evening.

Fans who have witnessed the game are of the opinion that should the Cougars be able to play the last half of games as they do first halves, the team should be a formidable competitor in any league in the city.

UNIVERSITY QUINTET DEFEATS JAX BEER BASKETEERS 45-23

Dick Edwards and "Nookey" Mahaffey High Point Men In Game Against Brewers Wednesday Night

Flashing a dazzling attack of high grade basketball and led by Dick Edwards, center, the University of Houston Cougars defeated the Jax Beer quintet Wednesday night by a score of 45-23.

The game was a different spectacle from the tilt played Monday night by the University boys. Much less rough play and better refereeing was evident on the floor.

The Jax Beer team is composed of high school students from Sam Houston, San Jacinto and Milby, and boasts some of the best eagers in the city. Young Bussey, star of the San Jac Bruins, and Hal Weidemeyer, Sam Houston ace, were among the players on the Jax team. Bussey, high scorer in the high school race last year, was held scoreless for the short time he was in the game.

Nine girls have been working out for the team regularly. They are Johnnie Pace, Mavis Anderson, Ida Mehr, Juanita Donovan, Maizie Lyle, Margaret Lang, Lumajo Weiner, and Winnie Allen.

Practice sessions are held Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays, from 8:30-9:30 p. m. in the girls' gym. The team is open to any girl who can practice at these hours. If enough want to practice at another time, arrangements can be made, according to Miss Spiess.

Edwards was high point man for the Cougars, scoring 17 points; he was closely followed by "Nookey" Mahaffey, with a tally of 12. Willie Goff, forward, and Parr Krumb and "Red" Lewis, guards, completed the line-up for the Cougars, all playing heads-up defensive basketball. Jim Fahey and Willard Wittmer, reserves, kept up the fine play of the regulars.

Only nine fouls marred the game with the University committing four of them.

Jax used fourteen players during the game. Byrne, Munger, Bevins, Hutchins, and Gatlin formed the starting line-up with Bussey, Weidemeyer, Finnegan, Petey, Menton, Dewey, and Coleman furnishing the substitution.
