Ruth Crawford, president of the Buckaroo Riding Club, in a statement last night thanked the administration and the student body for their support of the second annual Buckaroo Round-Up, held at the Arabia Temple.

In a western atmosphere, John Sullivan and his orchestra played both folk dances and popular music.

Darold Perkins opened the floor show singing "Empty Saddles" and was followed by a trio composed of Jerry Anderson, Jenny Lee Shane and Athalie Herman singing "You Are My Sunshine." An Indian Dance, arranged by the Kotchetovsky School of Dancing, was presented by Betty Houston, and another number, "Roll Along, Prairie Moon," sung by Darold Perkins closed the show.

All members are urged to check tickets with Evelyn Ruthenbeck before the regular meeting Tuesday evening at 5:15 o'clock in Room 208-C.

Talley Lectures On Utilitarian Art

Giving the closing lecture of this season's Museum Lecture Series, Mr. Robert W. Talley spoke on "Art in Things We Use" at the Museum of Fine Arts last Wednesday evening.

In his speech Mr. Talley pointed out that in "decorating objects of use such as the automobile, electric iron or furniture, the artist should not impair the article's usefulness with its decoration." He gave as the three essentials of industrial art: simplicity, truth to material, and truth to function.

Mr. Talley illustrated his lecture with lantern slides.

Red Masque Play Casting This Week

"The Dead Sisters Secret," or "There's Gold in Them Hills" will be cast and will go into rehearsal the early part of next week.

The play will be the last production of the Red Masque Players for this season. It will be presented the last night of the Fiesta as the feature attraction of the mid-way.

Scripts are now in the library and can be read in the library by anyone interested in trying out for parts.

Tryouts will begin Monday night, according to Mr. Mitchell.

Frontier Board Names Assistants

Hal Berry has been appointed by the Frontier Board to act as assistant publicity director for the coming Fiesta.

The publicity department plans to begin an active campaign with the opening of the construction and preparation for the Fiesta. Several stunts are being worked out and a parade will be planned if possible.

Neville Powell is working with the publicity department in the capacity of radio technician and contact man. Louise Pridgen is in charge of high school newspaper publicity, and Helen Rankin is in charge of poster displays.

The campaign will begin in earnest next week, and any suggestions from the student body will be welcomed by Chairman Gene Cuny, or any of the members of the publicity staff.

Pottery and Tile Displayed by L.A.I.

An exhibit of South American pottery, collected by Mr. J. M. Manfredini and displayed in the Latin American showcase in the Cullen building, features a seventeenth century tile coat of arms of Puebla, Mexico.

Other pieces on display are examples of Talavera pottery, which was predominant in Mexico during the time of the colony because of its superior quality. Its name is derived from the name of the factory and city in Spain from which came the pottery workers.

Across the hall is a display of pictures dealing with Brazil. They portray phases of its industry, society, and education.

Juniors Plan Prom, Set Date March 22

Featuring Ed Gerlach's Houstonians, the junior prom is in the final arrangements stage. This annual social event of the junior class is scheduled for March 22, at the Rice Terrace.

General chairman, Frank Zeto, said Thursday that work was well under way and that all committees are being chosen.

Kemmerer, Dupre Return From Trip, Report Activities

Dean N. K. Dupre and Dr. W. W. Kemmerer are back on the campus after a 10-day stay in the East attending various education meets.

Dr. Kemmerer first attended the American Association of School Administrators in Atlantic City and then went to Chicago for the meetings of the American Association of Junior Colleges which based its programs on terminal education.

"This system," Dr. Kemmerer said, "is working on a program to prepare students for jobs after a two-year training course. Representatives from industrial companies were present and gave the employer's viewpoint of what they expected young employees to know. Particular emphasis was put on training young men for the defense positions."

"Previous to our stopping in Washington," he continued, "the University of Houston was not on the list for schools receiving governmental assistance in the engineering defense courses. We were put on the list, and that's one accomplishment. This will be beneficial if the proposed shipbuilding program is launched in Houston."

"I gained a great deal from the trip from a professional point of view," Dean Dupre said of his trip.

"One of the most outstanding talks of the convention was made by Con-

Advanced Tickets On Sale April 1-21

Advanced ticket sales for the Frontier Fiesta will start April 1 and continue to April 21, Dick Schill announced Friday. Clubs will handle ticket sales, he said.

"Last year the Red Masque Players won a silver cup for selling the most tickets in the advance sale. I wonder if the other clubs will let them take the cup this year?"

Schill asked that all clubs who have not communicated with him have their ticket chairmen see him immediately.

"All clubs, large or small, will have an equal chance in selling the tickets," Schill said.

Coast Guardsman Returns From Coast, Thaws Out After Half Year in Florida

A uniform was seen floating around the campus Tuesday, and after all the girls were brushed aside close scrutiny revealed that Shirley Hayes, a student at the University last year, is now a member of the United States Coast Guard.

Shirley is on a twenty-day leave from the Coast Guard Air Station at Miami. He said that the Chamber of Commerce had misrepresented facts as to Florida weather and he had to come to sunny, warm Houston to thaw out.

While he is attached to the Miami base, Shirley is studying navigation, photography, radio and airplane machinery at the University of Miami night school, so that he

Explorer Relates Polar Experiences

Mr. L. C. Kessler, a member of Byrd's last expedition to the South Pole, spoke to the B. A. Club last Wednesday night and told of his experiences aboard a little boat buffeted by great green waves that tossed the boat up and down with the speed of a modern elevator.

The B. A. Club presented Mr. Kessler at a meeting held in the Cullen Auditorium and held a reception for the noted explorer after the lecture.

The lecture lasted for approximately an hour and a half, and the audience seemed to be hypnotized by Mr. Kessler's words as he told of the boat's leaking and experienced men sending what they thought were last messages to their homes.

Byrd's determination to reach his goal was emphasized. Also interesting tales of members of the crew and the Irishman who had a Union Jack tattooed on his heel so that he could put his foot on it seemed to delight the audience.

Of interest also was the information given about the life of the penguins at the pole.

'Faculty Take-off' Features Strip Act

Every good burlesque needs a strip tease, and that is the promise of the faculty burlesque show "No Rhyme Nor Reason." Strange as it seems, several young ladies are begging for the part which promises to be one of the big numbers in the show, managers of the burlesque said Friday.

Last minute changes in plans now indicate that the burlesque will be produced the first night of the Frontier Fiesta.

Dances and specialties will be under the direction of Betty Houston and Lee Howell. Settings and stage effects are being worked out by King Stewart and Ralph Wilson. Lela Blount has promised some unique lighting effects for the show, and Charlotte Walser is helping with casting and direction.

There are still some unfilled parts in the cast. All interested parties should contact Charlotte Walser or Gene Cuny immediately.

is getting practical and theoretical experience at the same time. Before being transferred to Miami six months ago, Shirley was at the training station at Ft. Lauderdale, Florida, for six weeks. Later he hopes to study advanced flight training at Pensacola.

As the name implies the Coast Guard fly the Neutrality Patrol around the Florida coast and guard against foreign ships. They also do rescue work such as taking a man stricken with appendicitis off a boat and flying him back to shore, or if a ship is sinking or in distress they render all possible aid.

Shirley is one of fifty-four men

Co-eds Will Shave Campus Sampsons Monday, 2:30

Modern Delilahs will cut the hair from the chins of University Sampsons Monday when the beard growing contest begins.

The contestants will all be shaved by co-eds Monday, at 2:30 and at that moment the contest will have officially begun. Some of the young lassies have borrowed dad's old straight edge and are trying to learn how to strop a blade. Others prefer the electric razor to the straight edge or the safety blade.

A committee of young ladies are now trying to make arrangements with the president of the Barbers Union to give them lessons before the event occurs.

Rodney Alsup, demanding rights for the men, has asked the committee to bring some first aid equipment just in case.

Savage at Night School Rally

Leo Daniel Boone Whiskers Savage appeared at the Night School Fiesta Pep Rally Wednesday night to give suggestions on how to grow a beard for the forthcoming Beard Contest which will begin Monday, March 10, at 2:30.

When introduced by Johnny Goyen, Activities Chairman, Whiskers told of his bread growing solution, which he said was a sure-fire cinch. "Fust," he said, "the boy must soak his face in buttermilk for ten minutes, then remove his face from the buttermilk, and dry it off two days

Are We Anti-Social?

In accordance with student regulations, social organizations such as fraternities and sororities are banned in the University of Houston. However, there are many clubs and organizations in which the student may express his interests and find encouragement in his particular field of study.

There are groups in which the student may develop whatever artistic talents he may possess; there are organizations in which he can enjoy participating in his favorite sports or pastimes with other students equally enthusiastic over that subject.

Grade or scholastic rating requirements as a prerequisite are not often set forth. Most of these organizations ask of the student only an interest in the work upon which that organization is based.

And the moral to that is, as the Duchess in "Alice in Wonderland" would say, "If you don't belong to a club, join one. Don't be a social icicle!"

Quotable Quotes

By Associated Collegiate Press

"Along with the growing demand for experienced personnel, we expect that the new graduates of 1941 in all fields, and especially in engineering, will meet with very little difficulty in securing positions. The draft and the defense program have at once taken men away from existing jobs and opened many new opportunities. Those of the 1941 class who are not too close to the draft will doubtless find, therefore, many openings awaiting them." Robert F. Moore, secretary of appointments, Columbia University, echoes the prevailing note of optimism for the soon-to-be graduates.

"There is a tremendous waste of human resources in this country because of poor health. It is estimated that we have 400,000 deaths annually which could have been avoided if proper medical care and healthful living conditions had prevailed. We do not enjoy the good health in this country that we are entitled to because millions of people are suffering from diseases that are preventable. Poor health takes its greatest toll in the families of the low income group. It is estimated that families with less than $2,500 a year income suffer a money loss of $2,500,000,000 annually because of poor health. Good health is not merely an individual matter. It is clearly a community problem and a community responsibility." Dr. O. Myking Mehus, president of Winona (Minn.) State Teachers College, sees a people of healthful mind and body as essential to safeguard our nation.

Mr. Starnes commented that teachers and students in various schools and colleges, and especially in some student organizations, were subversive in their activities. "I was very much interested in the program for entertainment given by the Quiz Kids," Dean Dupre continued; "it was remarkable to hear their brilliant answers and discussions."
"An interesting talk on art was given by our Mr. Robert W. Talley," he added. "It was one of the best speeches of the art session of the convention."

DO YOU REMEMBER?

From 1937-38 Cougar Files

This week in 1938 heralded the announcement by the Cougar that "opening day for the city-wide $1,000,000 University of Houston drive for building funds has been set for May 2, according to H. R. Cullen, general chairman of the committee in charge of the campaign.

Vera Mae Loughridge was cast in the only feminine part in "The Terrible Meek" one-act tragedy to be presented by the Red Masque Players at the Texas Intercollegiate tournament at Lubbock. In the supporting cast were George Chiasson and James Julian. Vera Mae Loughridge Turner is now playing in local amateur theatricals, while James Julian is instructor at Burbank school. George Chiasson, a former Cougar staff member, withdrew from the University at mid-term.

The University of Houston made local ticket-selling history by selling 7,000 ducats for the 1938 Fat Stock Show. This pastime has now become traditional.

Voting was held this week on nominees for the "Sweetheart of the Engineers" to be presented at the University of Houston Society of Engineers Sweetheart dance. Among the nominees were Della Belle Collier, Suzanne Larimer, and Jerry Bentley.

A Cougar editorial congratulated the Junior class on a successful Junior Prom. Campus Chatter listed these faculty facsimilies: Dr. Hiller—Fred Astaire . . . Mr. McCoy—Robert Young . . . Mr. Hutchinson—Leslie Howard.

"Bureau Central Des Idees," one-act comedy to be presented by Le Petit Theater de Houston had in its cast Bill Shamblyn, president of the University French club and Jules A. Vern, instructor of French, who was also director of the Theatre.

Jeppesen Recovering From Recent Illness

Donald Jeppesen is slowly recuperating at home from his recent serious operation.

He will not be able to return to classes this semester, but hopes to be well enough by the first of April to make up his mid-year finals.

Reading historical novels and dreaming of the night nurse he had in the hospital are the extent of Donald's activities these days.

Donald's biggest regret is that he is unable to participate in the Fiesta this year. He said that he would have to console himself by being an onlooker and a good money spender.

Speech Class Records, Auctions Off Efforts

Students of Mr. H. W. Harris' Radio Speech class made 30-second recordings of their voices Friday night.

After several students had asked for the records, it was agreed to auction them off. Robert Botts acted as auctioneer and sold the first record to Herman Earlywine for 23 cents. The second record went for 31 cents; the purchaser was Louis Ehlers.

Mr. Ted Nabors, announcer for KTRH, is assisting Mr. Harris in the radio speech class.

STARK RATIONS—A Day's Food in Belgium

The plate contains a piece of potato, a scrap of meat, and a dab of fat. On the table we see a hunk of bread and some tiny lumps of sugar.

New York (Special)—What you see above does not depict a meal. It shows what a Belgian gets to eat during an entire day.

He gets: eight ounces of bread and one-third of an ounce of fat. He gets an ounce and one-half of meat, no bigger than a third of a package of cigarettes and not even one whole potato. Then he has an ounce and three-quarters of sugar.

This photograph was taken in New York City, but is based upon authentic information from overseas, sent to the National Committee on Food for the Small Democracies, of which Mr. Herbert Hoover is honorary chairman. Three famine experts whom he ordered into Belgium reported on the true situation.

Theoretically, rations are larger. For instance, there should be five potatoes in the above picture, also a tiny heap of beans, a bit of oatmeal and some "ersatz" coffee. But food to supply even these terribly restricted rations simply does not exist. What you see in the picture is what a Belgian actually gets and must live upon—today.

What does this mean?

A human needs 2400 calories daily to exist—3600 if he works.

The food values on the plate represent only 1038 calories.

Slow starvation, this. Literally! But worse is to come!

By February's end the bread ration will disappear from the picture—because bread grain stocks will be exhausted and can be replaced only from overseas.

By early March, slow starvation in Belgium is certain to become outright famine.

In the last war, America sent a billion dollars worth of food into stricken Europe. Not a single pound was lost, or diverted into any hands other than those of the people for whom it was intended.

OFF THE BEAM

By "Cactus" Jack Valenti

Look-Alikes: Have you noticed the resemblance in face and figure between those two Vanity Fair-Ones, Gloria Powell and F. B. Paris' alter ego, lovely Della Belle Collier... and don't pass up the High School Reception during the Frontier Fiesta week... there's a lovely from Reagan who is going to make a lot of male hearts thump faster... her name is Maribel Spiller... she's a dead ringer for Elizabeth Lenoir, Reagan eye-turner who was crowned beauty queen in 1939...

Jeune Jottings: Some of the things that Billy (Call Me Cob Cause I'm So Corny) Miller writes shouldn't happen to a dog... ask burly John Sargent how he acquired the nickname of "Pile Driver"... quite an interesting tale... affable Raymond Reed at this writing is unattached (I think)... if there is any change in his status please let us know... slim Eddie Fitzgerald, rugged Scott Metha and sleek Frank Groves have joined up with Naval Militia... They now constitute America's third line of defense... let us now all pray that the second line holds... that peerless promoter Dick Schill is whipping the Fiesta advance ticket sales into shape... his goal is 5000 ducats... Schill also has his weather eye cocked on the Councilman position in the spring elections... he'll probably oppose Johnny Goyen, night soph prexy... that ought to be some race... blond Bernard "Bunny" DeGeorge, ex-T-Longhorn is here... Bunny, an expert swimmer, was also lightweight boxing champ at T. U... A mighty man with the flailing fists... Also from Texas is a pretty-as-a-picture lass, Betty Carnes... And I'm still wondering who that beauty was that Louis Ehlers squired to the Pre-Law dance... and speaking of dances, the Junior Prom is bidding fair to be the greatest hop this school has ever sponsored... those twin dynamos of action (sic) Frank Walker and Frank Zeto with Hal Berry and Walter Van Allen have brought in one of the classiest college crews in the country to keep time with the dancers, Ed Gerlach and his boys... this is definitely a "must" affair... "Princess" Alice David is looking Vogueish these days... but then Princess Alice is always chic-attired... a swell girl, really...

Tribute: Just praise is long overdue for Weed Peterson, able Prexy of the Students Association... It has been fellows like Peterson who have used the hypodermic on us before, so maybe we need more Weed Petersons in this school... the University Ernest Hemingway, tireless Gene Cuny, has created a juicy comedy in his Faculty bur-lee-gew... a rib-tickler from all advance notices...

"Yours For Success" Is Market For Writers

Parsons, Kan., March 8—Designed like the amateur radio hour to uncover new talent, a new type of magazine is budding into publication here in the spring months.
 Called "Yours, For Success," the magazine will be published monthly, containing the best material submitted by amateur writers, principally college students. Idea behind it is to place such material in a publication before editors of well known magazines so that new work might be more carefully scrutinized as to its merits.
 And behind the idea is Mark Griggs, graduate of Baker University, Baldwin, Kans., who is editor of the publication, and plans to have his first issue off the press by April 15. Griggs is inviting college students all over the Middle West to submit material now for the first issue.
 The editor said material for the new publication may have a wide range of subjects. It will include short stories, essays, fashion and household articles, drawings, cartoons, comic strips, photographs, cover sketches, and so on.—"Yours, for Success," Box 74, Parsons, Kans.

 Election of the University of Houston representative will be held Wednesday.
 Any girl who wishes her name on the ballot must turn in a petition carrying 10 signatures by Tuesday night to the General Office.

Cougar Reviews

By Pat Keep

In M-G-M's "Come Live With Me," which opens at Loew's this week, James Stewart is a struggling young author who marries a refugee from Vienna (Hedy Lamarr) to save her from deportation. The main complication in this whimsical comedy is that the man Hedy really wants to marry is the publisher (Ian Hunter) of Husband Stewart's book. No one is really surprised when Husband Stewart, after making off with Hedy, persuades her to change her mind.

The fadeout of "Come Live With Me" closely parallels the sly last scene of "It Happened One Night" (when the walls of Jericho came down). Because the female firefly gets lit up to show she likes the male, Hedy imitates a firefly with a flashlight.

The Metropolitan this week shows "Buck Privates," with the Andrews sisters and Alan Curtis. Those who appreciate such a combination will, perhaps, enjoy this picture.

The swan song performance of "She Stoops to Conquer," Oliver Goldsmith's capricious comedy, attracted a near-capacity crowd to the Little Theater Wednesday night. A receptive audience was entertained by an animated cast, mellowed by previous performances.

So noted is Director Paul Stephenson for his outstanding work in the theater that he was recommended to the Houston Little Theater not only by Eva LeGallienne but also by Orson Welles. "She Stoops to Conquer" is his third production.

From the spirited, coy Kate Hardcastle, admirably done by Virginia King, to the lowly servant Diggory, the cast was at its best. Irl Mowery, looking surprisingly like Laurence Olivier, played the diffident Mr. Marlow well. In private life Mr. Mowery is a senior student at Rice Institute.

Del Pepin's Tony Lumpkin came as near to being Goldsmith's creation in the flesh as could be hoped. Mr. and Mrs. Hardcastle were delightfully portrayed by Louis Quoyeser and Virginia Roser, respectively. Others in the cast were Ray Larsen, Joe Finkelstein, Rowena John, Ruth Calvert, and James McCormack.

MUSIC and SUCH

By Jack Daly

If there is a competition between the classes for the best class dance, the Juniors will win in a walk. They will hold their prom on the Rice Terrace and are importing one of the best bands your truly has heard in many a day. I can't say too much in favor of Ed Gerlach and his band—the fifteen-piece combo really kicks, and the vocals by lovely Verna Phears should bring crowds to the bandstand. Fifteen musicians competing against each other can make a terrible racket, but these fellows practically breathe in unison. Trumpeter Don Cannon would grace almost any name band, as would Dinkle Webb on alto sax and Hap Fulghan, who knocks himself out on the hides. Gerlach, who fronts, makes up the fifth man in the sax section and does an occasional vocal. He is a fine musician and is sure to make a hit with Houston dancers.

Sounds like I have become publicity man for that band, but I just like to pass the good news around when I hear of a good band coming to own. It's to seldom nowadays. In the flickers out Glamorwood way, we find: Casa Loma has drawn a big part in the Columbia Pic "Show Business" and Kay Kyser and Glenn Miller are back to make a picture, in different studios. Bob Crosby and crew may soon be seen in "Sis Hopkins."

Say, cousins, we really should take a little more interest in this Frontier Fiesta. Some of these boys worked all during the holidays last week and would have starved if it hadn't been for four kind-hearted girls, and I think we ought to name them. As far as I know, only Christine Wilson, Mitzie Sawtelle, June Tenney, and Grace Keller, complied with the request for food for those who spent Saturday, Sunday and Monday hauling lumber and working around the campus.

That Faculty Burlesque, soon to be presented by Gene Cuny, should provide a lotta fun at the profs' expense. I haven't been able to see much of it, but I did catch a quickey of Dick Schill and a young cutie doing a jitterbug routine—now, who in the faculty could that be?

Well, cousins, I've gotta go now, so,

Notes to you,

Yes, it's "Fiesta Time," with spring in the air and Joe Koppel spreading the gospel of showmanship. With the clamor of bonfires, dances and what have you—sports in the University takes a backseat for the time-being to allow the merriment of the moment to cool down. The basketball and hockey enterprises will wind up their season's playing next Sunday after the Rice-University of Houston game.

Work Delayed

Because of rain and generally bad weather, work on the recreation field and activity building has been delayed for a short time but will be resumed as soon as possible.

Dirty Game

The University cagers went down in glory as they lost their second game with the S.B.U. team. The game as a whole seemed to be rough and dirty; but had there been two referees, there may have been cleaner playing. Coach Snapp declared: "It's pretty dirty playing. I don't like that stuff."

Because of Mr. Snapp's opinion, Harry Hope, valuable and aggressive star of University of Houston cager, refused an offer to play ball for the Business University in Dallas this Saturday.

Stop and Reconsider

Think what it will mean to you should the United States go to war and you already have military training. The possibilities of becoming an officer should encourage any one to join the Naval R.O.T.C. that is taking hold here at the University. The recruiting staff reports that nearly eighty men have already announced their intention to enlist. They are now after more to boost their total to a possible 100.

The total-score ice hockey games that start tomorrow are due to bring an estimated crowd of 700 to see the Cougars tangle the Owls for the last two games of the season. The Rice team is figured to be the victor in the tilt, but the Cougars will deal the feathered creatures plenty of misery and expect to make the game a very close affair.

Bad Weather

It's been no-dice, for the fencers since the seemingly warm climate turned into northern wind and rain. The foil club has been minus its members on account of the weather, and so fencing has been at a standstill for the past week.

"This is the beginning of the end," cause "There I Go" looking for inside info about sports and things that you and I want to read. So until again—amigos mio, adios.

Recreation Program Delayed By Weather

By Jo Kathryn Schmidt

With the ushering in of spring and warmer weather, work about the campus takes a new start. Work has been greatly delayed during the past few weeks due to the inclement weather, and as the Cougar went to press the weather man was showing no leniency.

"Grading of the tennis courts will be started as soon as the weather permits," was about all anyone would say Friday. Grading of the area across from the Cullen building will be completed to St. Bernard in the near future and grass will be planted in this area at a later date. The irrigation system is still under construction, and the retaining wall is being completed from the drive to Wheeler street.

Work on the walk through the woods across from the Cullen building will be started soon, and a bridge will be built over the ditch. Special care has been exercised in laying out the walk to leave as many trees as possible along the walk.

Nandina and Firethorn shrubs have been planted around the Cullen and Science buildings, and honeysuckle was planted in these flower beds Friday. Bridal wreath has been planted around the Science building, and dwarf crepe myrtle was set out around the Cullen building.

Mr. Sakach is planning to place tables and seats under the shade trees east of the library for the benefit of students who wish to study out-of-doors during the warm spring and summer months. He is also negotiating for 200 live oaks, one of which is estimated to be 1200 years old.

Well Known Geologist Speaks to Classes

On Wednesday evening, March 5, Mr. Paul Weaver, chief geophysicist of the Gulf Oil Corporation, spoke to the geology classes concerning the present position and the possible development of the salt domes of the oil area with special reference to the Gulf Coast.

Robert Nieven, a former student, illustrated the possible formation of the salt domes by means of a model.

These speakers were presented through the courtesy of the Gulf Oil Corporation.

Engineering Students Invited to ASME Meet

The Rice branch of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers has extended an invitation to the University of Houston engineering students to attend the technical sessions of the seventh annual meeting of the Southwest student branches of the A.S.M.E., which will be held at the Rice Institute.

The two technical sessions will be on the afternoon of Friday, March 28, and Saturday morning, March 29.

Student members from seven other colleges are expected to attend. The schools represented will be Texas A. and M., University of Texas, Texas Tech, S.M.U., University of Oklahoma, Oklahoma A. and M., and University of Arkansas.

Owen Williams, Negro cook at a women's dormitory of North Texas State Teachers college, speaks French and commits Shakespeare to memory.

Gravel-voiced Andy Devine, Hollywood comedian, was once a football player at the University of Santa Clara.

University Team Plays Rice Owls

The University of Houston hockey team plays its last two games of the season when it meets the Rice Institute in a two-game total score exhibition at the Polar Wave Ice Palace. The first game will be tomorrow; the final and deciding game is to be on the 16th. These two games are expected to draw the largest crowds of the season as the winner will become the City Amateur champion. Any University student will be admitted free with his activity ticket plus four cents tax.

Because of the rivalry of the teams, rough, speedy play will be expected from both sides. The players of both teams will be reinforced with other players that do not play regularly on the varsity squad of either team.

The Institute team downed the Cougars 7 to 5 at their last game tying the two teams for first place with 4 wins and 2 losses. The University quintet will be the underdog by virtue of a loss to the Owls, but the Cougars are ready to give the Blue and Grays plenty of all the fire they have, and that's plenty.

Masten Attends Regional Meeting

Mr. Ples C. Masten, member of the business administration department, who joined the faculty in the fall of this school year, took a prominent part at a regional meeting of business administration instructors and department heads at Sam Houston State Teachers College last Saturday.

Mr. Masten was the first speaker on the program, discussing what is being done in the University of Houston department of business administration toward developing "proper business personality."

The theme of the Huntsville program was "Business Behavior."

Representatives were present at this meeting from colleges and schools all over this region.

Mr. Masten did his graduate work at the University of Texas, having secured his master's degree from that institution. He came to Houston from San Antonio.

Morningside college Seniors Fred Davenport and Garry Wallman, who were tied in the all-campus election, are serving in a dual role as class president.
