Collegians To Sponsor Dance On May 15 If Approved

Cougar Collegians will honor the girls basketball team with a formal banquet Saturday, March 28, at 6:30 p. m., as voted by the Collegians at a meeting Monday. Plans for various other activities, including a dance, were also discussed.

Cougar Collegians will have a special meeting Monday, March 23, at 3:15 to settle all details concerning the basketball banquet and the dance.

In as much as the Cougar Collegians was once a pep club, the group decided to entertain the girl basketball team. Reservations for the banquet must be made with Marion Brown. Margaret Ames was appointed to investigate the matters of place and price for the affair.

Senior and Junior Graduating Classes Hold Joint Sermon

"The baccalaureate sermon for the University seniors and Junior College graduating classes of 1936 will be held at the St. Paul's Methodist Church on Sunday, May 31, at 10:45 a. m.," announced Dean N. K. Dupre. "Bishop A. Frank Smith, assisted by Rev. Stephen S. McKenney, will give the sermon."

The commencement exercises will be held at Miller Memorial Theatre at Hermann Park on Tuesday, June 2. The speaker for this program has not yet been selected.

"At an official meeting of the senior class the members voted to hold the graduating exercises at the open air theatre. This site was chosen to be the location for all future graduating exercises until the new University is built," said Pat Foley, president of the senior class.

Junior College Grads Will Meet Tonight

"All students who have completed two years of work and wish to graduate with a Junior College Diploma meet me in room 108 at 7:30 tonight," said Dean N. K. Dupre.

Students will be excused from their classes for the meeting. This is an official meeting at which the class will be organized and specific plans will be made for graduation.

"Students who are eligible for this diploma should take it whether or not they plan to go on and receive a degree because it marks the completion of a two year college program. Most students find it invaluable to have this official document at various times during their careers," said Mr. Dupre.

ANNOUNCEMENT

The Senior Class night banquet has been postponed from April 2 until sometime in May, announces Pat Foley, president of the class.

Gentlemen Victors In Basketball Game With College Ladies

The boys were gentlemen and the girls were something to write a story about in the basketball game played last Friday night.

The boys team was victorious by a score of 2 to 1 (ratio.) And the girls won the moral victory with the aid of the referee, Hoga Walters, the time keeper, and various boy stars.

You may ask what is meant by the aid of stars from the boys team. Well, the full girls team failed to show up. And the boys acted as substitutes; one boy playing one quarter with the girls.

The fray lasted only three quarters because by that time most of the boys had left the game via the personal route. Not that the boys got very personal with the girls, but the referee saw to it that the game did not become too tiring . . . to the spectators.

The girl stars were Winnie Allen, Ida Mehr, Lumajoe Weiner, Mazie Lyle, and Margaret Lang.

The boy satellites were "Nookie" Mahaffey, Harry Lewis, "AlleyOop" Edwards, Roy Much, Willard Wittmer, and Jim Fahey.

Houstonian Club Plans Bay Party, Luncheon, Dance

Houstonians, at a recent meeting, outlined plans which included a stationary sale, Monday, March 23, a bridge luncheon, a bay party, and a cotton leap year dance.

Maurine Durst, Mary Jo Emmert, and Marguerite Robbins are in charge of the stationary and pennant sale. University pennants may be purchased from the Houstonians who will be stationed in the halls, Monday, for $1.00 and $1.50 and ten sheets of writing paper and five envelopes for ten cents.

Tickets for the bridge party for April 1, will be sold for twenty-five cents and cakes will be raffled on this occasion for five cents a chance.

Ellen Schuhmann is making arrangements for the club bay party which will be held May 2-3, at Casa Del Mar. The club may sponsor a cotton leap year dance.

Elizabeth Gready Hostess at Krupp's

Elizabeth Gready, together with the five senior high schools and Rice Institute popularity winners, will be hostess at the opening of Krupp and Tuffly's "Miss Fashionette" shoe salon from 10 a. m. to 12 noon Saturday.

A luncheon will be held at the Houston Club following the opening of the new shoe department. The seven popularity winners will be honored and awarded three pair of shoes by the management of Krupp and Tuffly.

Pictures of the group were taken by the Eidson Studio Wednesday and will appear in the local newspapers soon.

Miss Gready defeated sixteen other candidates for the right to represent the University for Houston in the "Miss Fashionette" pageant. She was voted the most popular girl at the University.

U OF H WILL SPONSOR PAGEANT APRIL 30 AT CITY AUDITORIUM FOR SENIOR HIGH GRADUATES

Dean N. K. Dupre

"We hope to make this reception of high school graduates not only the most outstanding event of the school year but also the most outstanding in the history of the college," stated Dean N. K. Dupre, pictured above, when he announced the plans for the University pageant.

Summer Session Schedule Available At College Office

The summer-school schedule for classes is now available in the office, announces Dean N. K. Dupre. Registration for the first term will be held June 8 and 9.

"Class sessions will meet from 7:30 a. m. until 1:30 p. m. For those students who cannot come during the day we are setting up a few special classes in the evening which will cover the following subjects: first term of freshman and sophomore English, public speaking, freshman and sophomore B. A., and a B. A. course of senior grade in Banking Principles," said Mr. Dupre.

As many students have perviously found it impossible to attend the 7 a. m. classes of former years it was thought practical to change the meeting of the first morning class to 7:30.

The demand for summer-school night classes has increased to the extent that the school officials decided to have them this year.

"Students who are interested in other courses should see Mrs. Pearl C. Bender and make their requests known," the Dean said.

L. Standlee Mitchell Judges One-Act Play

Mr. L. Standlee Mitchell acted as judge in the Harris County Interscholastic League one-act play contest, which was held in Pasadena Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday nights.

Alief won first place with "Overtones," Katy won second place with "The Finger of God," and Galena Park, third place with "The Lonely Lady."

Other judges in the contest were Mrs. Burgundy, director of the Rice See MITCHELL JUDGES page 4

Dance To Be Sponsored As Part of Gala Ceremonies; Special Assembly Announced For Tonight

Reception of prospective senior high school graduates, contrary to earlier plans, will be at the City Auditorium, April 30, in the form of a pageant followed by a dance, announced Dean N. K. Dupre.

All students are requested to be present at a special assembly tonight in the auditorium at 5:30. The purpose of this meeting is to discuss the affair with the students and their wishes for the event. Mr. Dupre will announce student committees and also faculty committees with whom the students will work.

The royalty will be introduced to the student body at this time and all of the court is asked to be present.

Originally the University made plans for a May Fete on the campus for April 24, to replace the reception of previous years. But, securing the City Auditorium has made it possible to enlarge plans so that the affair will take the form of a pageant with a dance to follow the coronation and royal proceedings.

All classes will run according to schedule tonight with the exception of the five to six o'clock class which will meet from five to five-thirty.

Houstonian Editor Urges Submission Of Annual Pictures

Snapshots will be accepted for publication in the Houstonian, according to James Julian, editor. Anyone may turn them in and if acceptable, they will be used in the annual.

No more individual pictures are being taken for the annual. The deadline set by the staff was March 14 and Henry Stern, photographer has been instructed to make no additional photos.

Club pictures will be notified and arrangements made for photographing each group.

Almost two hundred annuals have been sold. April 1 has been set as the deadline for yearbook subscriptions. The subscription price of $2.00 will be raised to $2.50 after this date. "No additional annuals will be printed," said Wilbur Smith, business manager.

Seniors Announce New Banquet Date

The Senior Banquet, scheduled to be held at Lido's, has been postponed until next month according to Pat Foley, president of the senior class. The future date has not been definitely decided upon but will be announced soon.

The banquet will be followed by a dance and will be open to the public, admission charge being $1.00. All See SENIORS ANNOUNCE page 3

NOTICE

There will be a meeting of the junior class Friday at 6:15 p. m. in room 120. Plans for the Junior Prom will be discussed. All juniors are urged to be present.

Twelve Colleges Will Compete For Dramatic Honors

Late entries from North Texas State Teachers College and Southwestern University brought the total number of schools entered in the Intercollegiate One-Act Play Tournament to twelve schools. The contest will be held in the Little Theater building during the week of April 6.

Schools that had previously entered are Trinity, Abilene Christian College, Simmons, T. C. U., Texas U., Texas Tech, Howard Payne, Steven F. Austin State Teachers, Texas School of Mines and Mary Hardin-Baylor.

Rice Institute and Baylor University have not as yet sent in their entries, but they are expected to participate. No entries will be accepted after Saturday, however.

L. Standlee Mitchell, sponsor of the Red Masque Players, was instrumental in bringing the play contest to the University of Houston. This will be the first event of this nature that the school has sponsored and many organizations have pledged their support.

The largest number of colleges to participate in the one-act play tournament have signed up and a few more will probably enter before the deadline Saturday.

Omnibus Sponsored By Cougar Staff

Each school has its quota of outstanding or eccentric students. The Cougar staff has decided to again sponsor its annual Omnibus Ballot to determine the personalities on its campus.

On page two of this issue there appears a ballot which lists the various divisions in which selections are to be made. Write the name of the person whom you believe best suited for the title opposite the particular division.

There is to be no campaigning and each selection should be the personal choice of each voter.

A ballot box will be found in the conservatory or in front of the building. The Cougar has appointed various people to be custodians of these boxes and every effort will be made to insure against "stuffing the ballot box."

All votes must be in by Wednesday, March 25. Winners will be announced in The Cougar the following Friday. Everyone is urged to vote and to select the candidates which he believes most aptly fits each division.

UNIVERSITY OF HOUSTON

After several years of operation under crushing handicaps, the University of Houston is assured a permanent home in its own quarters. Agreement of the city council to deed a site for the university in Memorial Park to the school board has cleared the way for erection of buildings within the next year in which the institution's classes will be housed.

This is an important bit of news for all friends of higher education in Houston. It means the city will have another splendid university, that its educational facilities will be made equal to those of any city of its class in the country.

The agreement brings to fruition an ambitious dream of Dr. E. E. Oberholtzer, superintendent of schools, and members of the board of education, who launched the university in the midst of the depression, because they believed such an institution would fill a definite place in the educational set-up of the city. Their faith in the city and their belief that the university would pay its own way have been fully justified.

The university has shown remarkable growth, even under conditions that would have discouraged less stalwart champions of education than Dr. Oberholtzer and his associates. Enrollment has increased steadily, despite the fact that the university was forced to use makeshift quarters and to hold most of its sessions at night.

The university will continue to grow and prosper, because it is based upon sound principles. It was established for the benefit of Houstonians who cannot afford to attend college or universities in other cities, for working men and women who must complete their education after working hours, and for young people who need vocational and technical training along with the so-called fine arts studies. In this important field, the University of Houston has made a truly notable record.

All Houston joins with Dr. Oberholtzer, members of the board of education, the university student body and faculty in rejoicing over the acquisition of a site for its permanent home.

AT LAST! A HOME

By James Julian

Who has not felt how sadly sweet
The dream of home, the dream of home,
Steal o'er the heart . . .

—Moore.

That finally the University of Houston is to have a home of its own is the realization of dreams long hoped for. It is a crowning achievement of the founders of the institution.

There is a bit of regret, no doubt, in some of our hearts that we will never enter the portals of our alma mater's own home. There will be many of us who will have completed our work here before the buildings are ready for occupancy. But the fact that we did not know the school when it had even a building that could be called its own should not lessen our admiration for the institution that has so-well served our needs.

Rather we should feel that we have been privileged in being the pioneers in the great intellectual movement that the University of Houston represents. It is difficult not to imagine that we have helped lay the foundation and done our bit to make the journey more pleasant for those who are to follow in our footsteps. We believe that all alumni are as happy to bequeath the legacy of a home as the newer students will be to receive the heritage.

THEY SATISFY

There is nothing that can create the feeling of complete satisfaction as the act of expressing thanks by reciprocation. To return a kindness with a kindness is a manifestation of gratitude in the strictest sense.

If you enjoy reading the record of the happenings on the campus as comes to you in the columns of The Cougar you should feel the debt and sense of obligation that we owe to one of our advertisers. The Liggett Meyers Tobacco Co., makers of Chesterfield cigarettes, has largely been responsible for making this a weekly paper. It is through the medium of advertising that a great portion of any newspaper's revenue is derived. And without that source of revenue the paper finds itself handicapped. So it is with The Cougar.

In business we find that a happy medium is struck in exchanging benefits when there is a mutual giving and returning of favors. Then in purchasing your cigarettes why not offer patronage to one who has served us. And bear in mind the slogan "They Satisfy."

STUDENT OPINION

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The opinions expressed in this column are the personal views of the writers and are not necessarily the policy of THE COUGAR. Students are invited to write to STUDENT OPINION. Letters of more than 250 words are not accepted.

Dear Editor:

Wherever you go you will run on to students discussing and sometimes cussing theoretical courses. "There is too much theory in our courses and too little practical knowledge" they say.

I admit they are right to a certain extent, because I have experienced the same feeling. Some courses such as Psychology, Office Management, and Economics must be taught by the theory method for these courses are theory, purely and simply.

Now don't misunderstand me. I am not mentioning these subjects for the purpose of argument. I merely use them as examples. There are numerous other courses that can come under the same "Theory" category.

But there are so many courses in this university that are practical. For instance — Accounting, Chemistry, Journalism, and Typing. These practical courses are beneficial to we students who are seeking practical training for future life.

The other courses are good from a cultural viewpoint and probably good from an intellectual developing viewpoint, but they hold little interest to me. I want more practical and less theoretical knowledge.

Yours truly,

A. R.

Are You Well Educated?

Dr. Wm. Allen, while Dean of Baylor University, gave these questions in a chapel talk to the student body on the subject of well-educated man.

Have you learned to think through a problem? You may forget some Latin or Greek conjugations, some formulas in Chemistry, and how to find partial and multiple correlations. You will always have to meet problems and solve them.

Have you learned how to make friends and keep them? Do you have one real friend?

Do you know what it is to be a friend to yourself—how to make yourself the noblest self?

Can you look an honest man or pure woman in the eyes knowing you are as good as either but no better?

Do you see anything to love in a little child?

Will a lonely dog follow you? Can you be high-minded in the meaner drudgeries of life?

Can you carry change in your pocket, pass a drug-store and not spend it foolishly?

Do you consider washing dishes, and hoeing corn just as compatible with high things as piano playing and golf?

Can you be happy alone? Are you good for anything to yourself? "I agree with Goethe that solitude is fundamental to growth and progress, a few minutes alone every day."

Can you look into a mud puddle and see anything but mud?

Have you learned to enjoy a good book or a magazine article or a musical program or a great painting?

Harry Lewis: "What cause those marks on your nose?"

Mr. Birney: "Glasses."

H. Lewis: "Glasses of what?"

Mob Spirit Is Better—

Than no spirit at all—at least it's spectacular and evinces co-operation and unity of purpose, according to an editorial in The Pine Log of Stephen F. Austin College of Nacogdoches. This article was treating the subject of non-co-operation, lack of interest, selfishness, and apathy.

Graduates Offered Scholarships—

Many scholarships, fellowships, and assistants are now available in all fields of graduate study, according to the Trinitonian. These offers are valuable, some amounting to as much as $1,000 each. Students desirous of obtaining these should write to the deans of the various colleges offering them, for information.

From Little Acorns—

Central YMCA College student succeeded in so arousing the interest of club members with his talk on Parliamentary Procedure that he was asked to conduct a series of classes on the subject.

Spooks—Organized—

"Ownooch," girls spook club at University of Texas, was organized by 20 co-eds. This exclusive club meets on the thirteenth of every month to discuss Mummified business, although the activities are clothed in a veil of mystery. New members are taken in once a year, on April Fool's Day.

You Can Tell—

A college man in college and after graduation by the way he signs his name, says the Colorado Tiger. For example:

- Freshman—Bill Smith.
- Sophomore—William Smith.
- Junior—W. Algernon Smith.
- Senior—William A. Smith.
- Graduate W. A. Smith.

T' AINT Necessarily So!

A personal column usually contains many names. But as every one objects to personal comment, no names will be used this week.

The irony of it all. If we could use names, we would tell of Joan Simpson and her heart trouble. Once she was very much interested in A & M and now Rice holds her attention.

Then could be mentioned — Mrs. Denison who bores so many of the students in B. A. classes. She can't even be called a good "prof-baiter."

A pan could be thrown Walter Peine's way for his incessant popping-off. And a welcome could be extended to Norman Pollard and Evelyn Nicoll. They have both been missed.

Robert Howard insists that Gus Japhet has beat his time with Charlotte Andreason, and Gussie denies it. Maybe both have to make up their collective minds.

Special attention could be called to Elmer Hamilton's individual style of walking. He is always trying to out-step himself, and he ends up by over-stepping himself.

And we can't forget Vivian Kroll's new head of hair. It is rumored that she purchased it instead of growing it in traditional fashion.

Elmer Coleman, erstwhile editorial writer, apparently has what it takes when it comes to studying.

And speaking of budding journalists, Margaret Lang, Isabel Ackerman, and Helen Thompson attempted to be columnists this week. When they turned in their copy, it was only blank pieces of paper.

Well, we can't use any names, so we'd better stop fore we wax vernacular.

"Red" McCulloch: "May I kiss you?"

Ethel Finklestein: "Heavens. Another amateur."

Dear Teller of Facts:

How can I get more men? I want to acquire "it."

Mournfully yours,
Sad Girl.

Answer: Probably you leave the impression of being too worldly. You must affect some sort of maidenly modesty. Even if you must employ artificial aides. First, try developing a good blush. This may be done several ways.

The so-called "rope blush" is a lulu once you get it down. You simply tie a hangman's noose in a rope and slip it around your neck. When you feel like it is the proper and appropriate time to blush (like after hearing about Little Audrey in the pool room) give the rope a vigorous tug. In just a few minutes (usually) your face will get red and you have produced a most delightful blush. However, you should guard against leaving the rope on too long as you may get purple in the face. And unless you have on a purple dress, the color scheme won't be so hot.

The "red-ink-bottle" blush is also a bear-cat. It's worked in this manner:

You take a bottle of red ink (which you have previously concealed in your cuff — if you have on short sleeves a hiccup will do.) Upon hearing about the traveling salesman, you should turn your head and smear on the ink. Then when you turn back to this teller of nathy tales you will have all the indications of a shy, modest, and innocent maiden. People will think you are too innocent to catch the joke—or too dumb.

This isn't quite as good as the rope gag as you do run the risk of getting a red nose—and you know how people talk about red noses.

Dear No-it-all:

With the basketball season me-thinks it appropriate for you to select an All-American basket ball team. What is your choice?

Anxiously,
Sport Fann.

Answer: My idea of the strongest possible team in the country would be something like this. For forwards I would use Julian and Julian. At the center post I would use that great star from Julian University, Julian. For the guard positions it would be a three-way tie between the 3 greatest basket ball court stars in the country. Namely Julian, Julian and Julian. For the coach there is one who has stood out year after year above all others. Referring to Julian.

I hope you will not think me prejudiced in this selection, but having seen all the great stars of the past season that selection is in my opinion the best.

Dear Adviser:

Is Al Gardner really conceited?

Curiously,
Gene Snapp.

Answer: Can't say, but yesterday he bought a book entitled "What Every Woman Wants" just to see if they had spelled his name correctly.

Dear Tell me Quickly:

What was that difference again now between the stuff we drink and the stuff that Rip Van Winkle guzzled.

I gotta go (I mean know),
Miriam Smith.

Answer: Rip woke up.

Dear Me: Our prof says that a sharp nose indicates curiosity. What would you say a flat nose indicates.

Would like to know,
George Rembert.

Answer: Probably too much curiosity.

Schlieff, Gardner In Tennis Semi-Finals

Gerald Schlieff joined Al Gardner in the semi-final round of the tennis tournament when Willard Wittmer failed to show up for his match yesterday. Gardner had previously advanced to the semi-finals when Al Aron and Jack Grieves were unable to play their match on schedule.

In the quarter-finals Billy Bender plays Elmer Coleman who defeated Jack O'Banion in an earlier match. Parr Krumb and Charles Goodson will also play a quarter-final round match early next week.

The tournament, which should be completed before April 1, attracted thirty-two players.

A round robin will be staged after the tournament. This will give players a chance to improve their positions on the team and will sustain interest in the game the year round.

Matches have been tentatively scheduled with the senior high schools and a few of the universities in the vicinity.

Electric Pipe Organ Studied By Sophs

When is a pipe organ a pipe organ? The answer is when it is an electric organ. The sophomore class of the General College learned the answer last Wednesday afternoon when Mrs. Carlton took them to the studio of the Hammond Electric Organ Company to see and hear this newest and most miraculous of instruments.

The organ consists of a console and a power cabinet. There are no pipes. The console is smaller and lighter than an upright piano. It may be carried from room to room and installation is made by connecting to any convenient light socket.

Sound is produced by a series of 91 tone wheels which are about the size of a dollar and have a convoluted edge passing a coil to produce a number of vibrations. 400 of these vibrations give the pitch of Concert A. It is possible to produce 253,000,000 tone colors on the instrument. Since the tone wheels are geared to a synchronous motor it is impossible for the organ to get out of tune, although its pitch may be raised or lowered if desired. Temperature changes do not affect the organ.

The studio is located at 3403 S. Main. Mr. Albert Wiggins of the Hammond Company discussed the mechanics of the organ and demonstrated its tone qualities. He also played several popular numbers at the request of the class. Mrs. Harry

Spanish Club Skit Proves Successful At First Showing

"Love in the Leap Year" or "El Ano Bisiesto," enacted by members of El Foro Espanol at the regular monthly meeting Sunday at the home of Lolita Wood, was such a success that it will be repeated by popular demand. The occasion will be the special Pan-American Day celebration by club members April 19 at the home of Mrs. Floy P. Soule, sponsor.

Characters in the play were enacted by Frank Summers, Wilma Humphrey, and Lolita Wood. Frank McWhorter was stage manager. Officers of the club again decline to state what parts the above members play. This is for the benefit of those who have not seen the play.

Pan-American Day, in honor of which the Spanish Club will celebrate April 19 with a fitting program, is the day set aside by the Pan-American union in commemoration of the friendly feeling among republics of the north and south American continents. The consul of Mexico, the consul of Ecuador, and the special consul of Pan-American countries will be special guests.

"We will have a ceremony of flags," said Miss Sadie Williford, president, "during which national anthems of all countries represented will be sung. Miss Grayce Ebdon is in charge of the flag ceremony. We invite all persons interested to attend."

seniors who wish to attend the event are requested to pay this amount.

Senior rings and invitations will be here next week. The prices of the invitations have not yet been fixed but will be announced next Monday. Orders will be taken at the office now.

All seniors who have not yet paid their senior dues which are $1.00 are requested to do so as soon as possible.

R. McLean played the Doxology and Handel's Hallelujah Chorus, while Mrs. Willard M. Wood reproduced the tones of various instruments of the orchestra and played several classical numbers including the famous Largo by Handel.

The inspection of the electric organ was made as a regular seminar field trip. The sophomores, under the direction of Mrs. Carlton, are now studying "The Beginnings of Modern Music" as a unit in the Language and Fine Arts division.

Brrrrrrrrr— Water Cold!

The Day College threw a picnic at Galveston last Sunday and some of the greats of the Night College muscled-in. All got their tootsies wet.

Brrrr that water was cold. Cold enough to freeze Dug Carter's emotions.

A glimpse at the roll will show many important Whos of the "Who's Who."

For instance—P. S. Reed, Nat Davis, Dug Carter, James Julian, Bill Lancaster, Freddie Jones, and Wilbur Smith, held the torch for June Taylor, Jerry Bentley, Miriam Smith, Fay Cook, and Bill's date.

And in another fort Betty Martin, Parr Krumb, Clara Orloff, Lois Fuller, and Al Gardner defied the elements and the head waiter at a West Beach honky-tonk.

Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell, Mr. and Mrs. Halden, Mr. and Mrs. Greulich, and Mr. Talley (the bachelor) served as restraining influences among the unrestrained dignitaries.

Those who behaved themselves were Jackson Palmer, George Lord, Arthur Parker, Nathan Gordon, Claude Mathews, Sarah Alsup, Lorraine Butler, Ed "Mussolini" Cushing, Mary Ellen Rider, Stillman Taylor, Harry Johnson, and Evelyn Schroder.

On large projects with millions of dollars invested, nightfall cannot be permitted to interfere with construction work. To flood with light many acres, a large number of simple, rugged, inexpensive floodlights are needed. New ones have been developed for this purpose. The body of the floodlight is so shaped and finished that it can also serve as the reflector. A new process applied to the inner surface gives a high and lasting reflector factor.

What to do with the cord of a vacuum cleaner has long been a problem. The slack has forever been getting tangled around furniture legs or milady's feet. This nuisance has been eliminated on a new cleaner that has a cord reel on which excess cord is kept wound. The cord is pulled out of the handle as it is needed. To take up slack, one has but to press a button on the handle and the cord is automatically drawn back into the reel.

Having provided police cars with radio receivers—one of the most effective crime deterrents—radio engineers have gone on to the larger problem of making it possible for roving police cars to radio information back to headquarters. This has required building for an automobile a portable broadcasting station comparable to fixed-station equipment in performance, frequency, stability, and power output, but with greatly reduced size and weight and the ability to withstand shock and continuous use.

A new course in engineering seems evident—that of social engineering. Science and engineering practices have enabled man to talk around the world; to send that power of waterfalls long distances over slender wire. Man can travel under the sea, and sail through the air at tremendous speed.

With all these accomplishments, humanity flounders about in sociological semi-darkness. People almost starving in a land of plenty, and wealth centered in the hands of a few. Some social engineers need to be trained and placed upon the job.

president of the tournament and Sally Powers, secretary. They will handle business pertaining to the tournament and will work with all committees appointed.

"I have not definitely appointed any committees," stated Mr. Mitchell, "but, I'm sure that I will need all available help. We plan to make this the most successful tournament that has been staged thus far, and all plans are being worked out to that end.

"Three shows will be held nightly beginning Monday, April 6. The three best plays will be selected by the judges and plans call for an additional showing Saturday at which time the final selection will be made. Awards will also be given for individual performances."

Two new trophies will be presented winners this year. The Red Masque Players Trophy will be given to the school winning second place. The Sam W. Becker Trophy will be awarded the school coming in third. These trophies must be won three years before they become the permanent property of the school winning them.

The Waxahachie Daily Light trophy, which is awarded the winning collegiate dramatic group annually was one of the first awards made. It was first presented when the Texas Interscholastic One-Act Play Tournament was about two years old.

Billy Bender: "Are you doing anything this evening?"

Pat Hooper: (eagerly): "No. Nothing at all."

B. B.: "What a waste of time."

Houstonian Forum Hears Emmett Fore

Emmett Fore, member of the All-American baseball team spoke to the Houstonian Forum Friday about his trip to Japan with the team.

The team sailed from the United States on October 15, and stopped in Honolulu, Mr. Fore said. They found that the only grass skirts to be seen were on the thatched homes in the Hawaiian village.

The boat then took them to Japan, where they played eight games, losing only three. He recounted many interesting facts about the country and its people.

The Forum will meet at 5 p. m. today in room 203. An amateur hour will headline the program that has been planned.

the decorations and the program committee, including Nelda Eaves, Lin Neill Cathey, and Grace Dustin, will provide the evenings entertainment. Invitations and place cards are being prepared by the membership committee, Jane Jennings and Elizabeth Murray.

Plans are in the making for a Cougar Collegians dance for May 15, if officially approved. Admission price has been set at $1.00 per couple or stag. Committees appointed by Algerine Allen, president, are Charlotte Andreason, orchestra, Jane Jennings, hall, and Jane Rogers, tickets.

In addition to the banquet and dance, the club will probably have a bay party during the latter part of May at the bayshore home of Isabel

The Vacant Block

Mr. Brewer is just plain fickle. He is seen at the drug store (free adv.) with first one, then another girl. He should know he couldn't make any headway like that.

Joe Wolfe says:

Last night I saw a man on the stairs. But he wasn't even there.

He wasn't there again today,

Gosh! I wish he'd go away.

He should draw the line on shoe polish.

Yours truly is—good and tired of writing about the same people all the time. Why don't some of you other mugs crash through with broken conventions? (No Little Audrey, not necks.)

And speaking of broken necks. Little Miss Martin flaunted a disregard for Friday the 13th when she went to "Little Africa." Hope there were no casualties.

Ackerman. The exact date will be decided at a later meeting of the club. Those on the food committee are Miriam Smith, Dorothy Golden, and La Faye Wadsworth. The entertainment committee includes Huberta Wilson, Florence Hedrick, and Lois Ehlers. Transportation arrangements will be made by Joan Simpson.

As it is the custom of the organization, new members of the Collegians will entertain the old members with a party, soon. As yet, no plans have been made for this affair.

I know Miss Hepplewhite but I venture to say that by 1937 all the girls will be smoking them . . .

They're mild, you see and yet They Satisfy . . .
