

From: Thomas Childs, Colonel of the Army of the United States and Military Governor

To: The Mexican Army

Date: April 26, 1847

[Page 1]

All of those officials of the Mexican army that have not pledged their word of honor not to seize arms, and soldiers, for whom said promise has not been carried out, that will be in this fortified town or near it, will present themselves to this office, under penalty of being considered to be a spy.

Thomas Childs,
Colonel of the Army of the United States and Military Governor